Good Braided Cable for Your Type C Device,Good quality product from ambrane,Super cable,As,Good quality,Good product,its good,Good quality for the price but one issue with my unit","I ordered this cable to connect my phone to Android Auto of car. The cable is really strong and the connection ports are really well made. I already has a Micro USB cable from Ambrane and it's still in good shape. I connected my phone to the car using the cable and it got connected well and no issues. I also connected it to the charging port and yes it has Fast Charging support.,It quality is good at this price and the main thing is that i didn't ever thought that this cable will be so long it's good one and charging power is too good and also supports fast charging,Value for money, with extra length\x0f\x9f\x91\x8d,Good, working fine,Product quality is good,Good,very good,Bought for my daughter's old phone.Brand new cable it was not charging, I already repacked and requested for replacement.I checked again, and there was some green colour paste/fungus inside the micro USB connector. I cleaned with an alcoholic and starts working again.Checked the ampere of charging speed got around 1400ma-1500ma - not bad, came with braided 1.5m long cable, pretty impressive for the price.Can't blame the manufacturer.But quality issues by the distributor, they might have stored in very humid

UPDATE-----pin has stopped charging from one side, now i have to slip the pin to charge from other side, but i will update and let know for how long does it work,, It\xe2\x80\x99s good. Not sure about durability as the pin area feels a bit fragile, Does not support apple carplay So was little disappointed about that Other than that cable is made up of very good quality, Best to buy, 100% NOT FATHFUL, Writing this review post 10 months and 3 orders of the same product. Honestly Portronics Konnect L lightning cable works like magic with the original Apple charging brick. Seeing the price of the cable I initially hesitated buying as it was as low as \xe2\x82\x9999/- with the offers and so I wasn't sure if it would work well with my iPhone 12 or whether it would impact my iPhone\xe2\x80\x99s battery health because all the other lightning cable brands were costing over \xe2\x82\x99350/- like Wayona, Amazon Basics, etc. Earlier I was using Wayona Brand lightning cable with eventually frayed and stopped working. Charging Speed: Charges my iPhone fast enough almost similar compared to the original cable level when used with 12W Original Apple power adapter. Quality and Durability: Great quality braided cable and doesn't tangle easily and can withstand day-to-day usage. L-Shaped pin: This is very innovative by Portronics and it makes sure the cable doesn't get damaged even if used while charging. CarPlay and Data Sync: Works smoothly with CarPlay and syncs data effortlessly. PS: I have used this cable only with the Original Apple Charging Brick and extremely satisfied with its performance., Better than I expect the product I like that Quality and I plan to buy same type cable come with usb C to Lighting cable for emergency purpose that much I love this cable. Buy for this cable only emergency uses only since Good one, Good product and value for money", https://m.media-amazon.com/images/W/WEBP_402378-T2/images/I/31VzNhhqifL. Still, I use it for my work., Product is quite good and is fast charging. Loved it., I like it . Looks last long., The sturdiness will depend on the manner of its use. Via HDMI cable About the Amazon installation service – Awful-----1. The technician brought a cheap hanging hook that had MRP INR116 on it and asked for INR499 for it without any receipt. He kept telling that it was not for sale and company had sent this specially. However, it clearly had MRP mentioned on it2. I went to market and bought a much better cabinet for just INR200 and for installation of that as well, technician was really adamant to drill the two required holes on top. He just drilled one on top and one on bottom and kept all the other spare screws (which I had bought) with him. After about half an hour of arguments, he finally drilled the other required holes. And for all this,

ne kept cussing me that I wasted his time. There was no assistance from the person who represented the service agency as well. This whole process took me two hours to complete that too with lots of arguments. This was the worst installation experience in my life so far. Bottomline – Please do not avail the 'so called free' installation service from Amazon. It is just a scam. Instead call the acer support. They will do the job much better. After using it for 2 months, here are its pros and cons: Pros : 1. Great picture quality. It's awesome. 2. Blacks are very good and is adjustable. 3. Sound with 30db is very good. 4. Looks great with thin bezel. 5. Remote comes with favorite OTT buttons. 6. Content upscaling is very good. Cons: 1. Remote could have been better. Can't use DTH remote to turn on both television and set top box. 2. Remote operation is bit complex. 3. Motion technology not great. There is a noticeable blur when watching moving balls on OTT, but it decreases when you switch to DTH. Overall, it's a nice buy at this price point. I think I am getting fairly better picture quality and sound. I am satisfied with the product. Product has good picture quality. Good product at that price with 25w sound. Applications running smoothly. 3 months older & no issues yet. It's running smoothly. You get decent features for the price you pay. Screen resolution might be. Set back as you may find pixilation. Overall it's good, I am amazed with the picture quality of this 720p (HD Ready) TV. It is truly an amazing panel. I found it suitable for a viewing distance of between 6 to 10 feet. Any nearer it may not look very crisp and any farther, it will feel like a very small size. The speakers are also very good for the price and can get very loud without any distortions. However, since the speaker is downward firing, the experience will vary based on whether the TV is wall mounted or kept on a stand. The remote is good, voice search works well for me. TV start up takes a long time in my opinion, but I have not compared it against any other 32 inch TV and hence do not know where it stands among peers. 5 GHz Wifi works very well even across walls. Only negative aspect I faced is w.r.t the experience of using my bluetooth headphones/earphones. Firstly, the connection sometimes doesn't happen automatically after a restart – which means I have to remove and re-discover the device thru the menu which is not simple. Secondly, the signal itself seems to be very weak and even at a distance of 8 feet in front of the TV, the signal breaks even if you move your head by 2-3 inches. However, I am still super happy with this TV. I got it for 8k during the launch offer and it is totally worth it and is recommended from my side. At this price range (₹11,499/-) it is good quality product on this market. Acer only should work with Sound quality improvement otherwise all ok. Picture quality really impressive, wifi connectivity good, easy to install, borderless screen design is premium and also google voice support is good (sometimes lagging). No major issues found on this TV. Just go for it. Vellu for money. Good product. Very nice product. Save money", <https://m.media-amazon.com/images/I/41gikeSuhAL. Go for this if you want to experiment with HDMI as I wasn't sure it would work for me or not. Otherwise go for a good quality braided cable. Good product, The cable did not come in a box. There is no box. If this was to be shipped without any packaging or branding, same should have been mentioned. When we pay for hi quality products, we expect a certain quality! I still have no idea if this is a hi speed 4k cable or not. Good, Bought to connect my CP monitor (CCTV) to MI android TV. . . OK quality at this price, I give it a 5 on 5, reasons as below.. 1. Amazon delivery – Super fast, same day delivery within 4-5 Hours. 2. The delivery person was good. 3. Robust Built Quality, looks & feels premium. 4. It is working excellent, I'm using for laptop to big screen TV connectivity, and could see the undistorted picture and sound, nicely doing its work. A few words of cons.. 1. No complaints regarding the charging power. At a price of Rs. 199/-, it is worth every buck. Value for money., Value for money, Improvements Needed, Everything thing good except the installation experience, Overall taking all aspects TV is good within the price point, Tv installation services, One among the good TVs in the market., Picture", "I am posting this after a few weeks of using the product. Usage: Continuous, OTT only, no Cable/Dish operator. Average daily usage: 6-8 hours. The TV is a great value-for-money product. Installation: The installation was simple and Amazon assisted installation was smooth, timely and hassle-free. Picture: The picture quality is not great when compared with the smoothness of a Sony, LG and Samsung with these kind of specs. Movies and especially hi-res TV series experience was somewhat diluted as most of the times, the output, while in hi-res , wouldn't look like a movie quality which we are used to of watching in the likes of Sony, Samsung LG etc however, with time, you get used to it and only realize the difference when you see the same movie at someone else's better TV. Sound: Sound output is decent. You wouldn't need additional support to enhance the volume as such. Remote: Sleek, sensitive and user-friendly. It's exactly like Amazon's remote. OS: Same as any smart Android TV. Works smoothly without much lags or hiccups. Switching apps from one to another takes a couple of seconds more than Sony but unless you have used to of those performances, it looks just fine. Standalone and as your first smart TV, you wouldn't find any reasons to not like the quality and it would like hi-res from the beginning. It is a great value for money product without a doubt. However, if you are considering this as an alternative or second TV after owning the better ones in the past, you will have a hard time adjusting with it., Picture quality is good for this price, didn't faced any lag on UI and browsing other apps. Only negative will be audio, definitely need a sound bar if u are a frequent movie watcher. Overall worth for money u spend. But the installation process is just awful, Amazon claiming that a trained professional will visit for installation but neither they are trained nor professionals , just read the installation manuals and installed the wall mount which took 4 hours for them to buy the wall mount after charging money. No demo given on Tv as they have no idea about the product, these things making to think twice or thrice to buy a tv through online., Screen looks amazing but problem is with processor I believe. If 4k content is getting streamed on device then we can observe the green screen flickers(not so often but problem exists), even remote control is not good as it take at least 2 sec to react for the user action. Reason why I believe processor is bad because I do 4k gaming using PS5 and never encountered problem with the screen., If you buy TV in a small town shop, it will be delivered and installed immediately within couple of hours. When you want to buy a TV from Amazon, you need to wait for it to be delivered for couple of days and it is understandable. The problem is with the installation, they take so much time to install that you end up regretting buying the product. It \xe2\x80\x93 like you are hungry and food is in front of you but you can't eat. So I ordered my TV on Monday. it not delivered on Friday and it will be installed on Monday because of weekend where as there is no concept of weekend in small towns. If we had the technician details, we could reach out & get it installed but that also will be shared 4 hours before. Regarding product, it's good quality and very good for an average user. Heavy duty like games and continuous usage on some store will be challenging, I guess. This TV gives good results within the budget, should definitely buy if the budget is 30k but most important point like to mention is after sales service and also the installation part. 1) The installation guy didn't arrive at very first day that was scheduled, even after rescheduling he didn't come for installation purpose. So strictly be aware of this point. 2) The TV I got in offer with 3k discount on ICICI card but although the product came out defective, it had dead pixel on the display which is very bad after period of time. 3) Even after the fault was from seller as it was defective piece I didn't get the replacement for the product and it's totally unfair deal by Amazon and the seller too. Final verdict is the TV quality and feature are good but the service from seller and Amazon that is got was very poor inspite I was prime member. The seller DAWNTECH ELECTRONICS PRIVATE LIMITED gives very poor service and feel bad that in such cases Amazon will not help you. Thankyou, Team, Also to be added TV installation services with product while delivering and unboxing. NO need to other sub-vendor to getting installation and demo. Also dependency on third-party involvement should be less. Bad experience with TV installation stuff. Pls look into this. Picture quality good. Sound quality not upto my expectations. Not able to find the real Dolby stereo effect. Remote not upto the mark. 4) For picture quality, 3x for both sound and remote quality, Good quality picture but it hangs on home screen", https://m.media-amazon.com/images/I/51h0fTroMzL_SX300_SY300_QL70_FMwebp_.jpg, https://www.amazon.in/OnePlus-50-inches-Android-Pro/dp/B0B3MMYHYW/ref=sr_1_42?qid=1672909125&s=electronics&sr=1-42&nB09C6HWG18, "Duracell Type C To Type C 5A (100W) Braided Sync & Fast Charging Cable, 3.9 Feet (1.2M). yourself, to avoid any hassle in case replacement is needed. @ Amazon Prime and Netflix are not inbuilt, but can be Side-loaded !!! @ To use your Set top box with android interface, you need to buy MI IR cable and set it up.* OR else directly connect the set up box via AV or HDMI port, to use it conventionally. @ Out of 8GB memory, you only get around 4.7GB free to use (check the image attached) There are Hundreds of review on this TV here as well as on youtube, but NONE explains the TV's potential completely and what its actual flaws are. Here's a quick Fact for the User's complaining about the LESS cost to benefits ratio, guys if you buy a Android TV box alone which has processing capacity similar to this tv, then it would alone cost you more than 5K rupees & here you get this TV with that android setup with various other feature under 15K. So just check once, what options you have before complaining. Eventually I bought this TV, since I was already using 4A 43 version for months and wanted smaller version for bedroom. Now after using this TV for over 3 weeks, I am stating my DETAILED user experience. Its a detailed & huge review, but do read it, if you want to invest this much amount.

Firstly its budget friendly & ONLY Smart TV under 15k in the current market.

Has Most number of Output port (1*AV, 3*HDMI, 2*USB).

Has Android 8.1 out of the box along with inbuilt Bluetooth

Has Dual interface – MI Patchwall & Android TV (I mostly prefer android TV interface)

Remote has Bluetooth & Voice Search with sleek profile.

Has better processor compared to predecessor along with 1GB RAM + 8GB storage (4.7GB actual)

Speaker Output is low.

Need IR cable for using set top box with android interface.

Amazon prime & Netflix is NOT preloaded, but can be side loaded.

Native Display is ONLY HD, though 1080p & even 4K videos from youtube works well (check images attached).

Can install & play tons of High quality games like RR3, etc (check images attached).

Finally smartphone mirroring works fine most of the time.

FULL DETAILED REVIEW :---

BUILT QUALITY :-----

Has combination of plastic and aluminium for the main body. Its not great, but above average.

The screws which are provided in the box, DOES NOT fits the tv perfectly, so I bought new from local store.

It has averagely slim profile, not the slimmest in the market.

Speaker Placement is inconvenient. Since they are placed at the bottom, so when you keep it on table top, the sound tends to dampen and bulge.

Has good ventilation for electronics and it hardly heats up.

Overall built quality is above average.

DISPLAY QUALITY :---

It has very Thin bezels, which looks great.

Video resolution is 1366x768p, but 1080p videos works fine on it.*

4K videos on youtube runs smoothly as well.

Viewing angle are good compared to price. (Check the images attached)

Contrast is above average, Brightness is good and colours are quite vivid.

Display quality is also above average, not very great.

REMOTE CONTROL :-----

Its very sleek and compact.

Has only 7 buttons and is easy to operate.

Fortunately it has Volume buttons, which is handy. (I have couple of android TV boxes without volume button on remote, so I know the pain of using mouse to adjust the volume :P)

Placement of Voice search button is improper. Its just below Power button, and I end up pressing power button a lot.

Finally its bluetooth, so no need to point it towards tv for operation.

OTHER FEATURES :-----

It has Dual interface, i.e. Patchwall and android TV. Has tons of content.

Many games can be installed (till you have memory left), including multiplayer games.

Google voice search is very useful, if you don't want to use keyboard.

Processing speed is fast and I haven't detected any lags yet. (Lags in streaming can be due to slow internet speed, not due to hardware)

Bluetooth and wifi connectivity works perfectly.

CONS :-----

Speaker output though rated 20W, is NOT upto the mark. My 16W JBL speakers has better and louder sound.

Placement of speaker is inconvenient, as in table top position, speakers face the table and sound dampens.

Internal Memory is very LESS.

NO Netflix and amazon prime pre loaded, though you can side load them.

Miracast not supported. Even normal smartphone mirroring lags sometimes.

Native resolution is just 720p HD, though the 1080p videos works on usb & 4K on youtube.

Screen is Slightly reflective, its similar to almost all the other LED tv's.

Mixed experiences of after sales service.

CUSTOMER CARE :-----

Firstly the installation is a Joke. My installation was scheduled 16 days after my product Delivery and the fun part is, there's ONLY 10 days replacement window for this product :P

Company only takes replacement if the product is opened by their Representative, so there's NO point of return window time frame.

MI has mixed reviews for repairs and services. Though I have not encountered any problem with any MI tv yet, I have had issues with other mi products and service center near me is always very helpful.

VERDICT :-----

Considering all the facts, if you are fine with above average Display quality, want a Smart tv and if you have tight budget, then this the TV you should certainly go for. Trust me, you won't get any better deal than this least for coming couple of months. If you have higher budget, then certainly explore brands like sony, samsung, etc.

This is NOT a perfect smart TV, but for the given price and 2 Years of warranty, its NO brainer to choose this, its certainly worth the investment., This television is definitely a perfect balance between price and performance especially during flash sale at an exceptional price of ₹12500.

Performance

The processor in this Smart TV is powerful enough to play 4K 10bit HEVC videos right out of the box. VLC or MX player can be installed for enhanced media support.

Picture Quality

Many people complain about the overbright screen. But it can be compensated by adjusting the display settings.

These are my preferred settings.

Backlight :1 to 20

During night even the lowest value of 1 is bright enough and can watch content without hurting eyes.

During day time adjust it as per your requirement depending on your ambient lighting conditions. A maximum of 20 would be enough.

Setting backlight to minimum improves black levels, reduces power consumption, increases LED life and reduces eye strain especially during night.

Brightness :48

Brightness setting controls black level. Increasing brightness reduces black levels and hence reduces contrast.

Brightness at 50, pictures looks washed out with poor blacks and color saturation.

At 45 black looks deep but lots of details at dark areas are lost while watching movies.

48 is an optimal setting to my eyes with good blacks and not so lack of details.

Contrast : 40 to 45

Contrast setting controls white level. Contrast can be set anywhere between 40 and 45. Increasing contrast too much may cause highlight areas in a picture, like bright skies or shiny objects might look overexposed. As the screen itself is very bright, increasing contrast further makes whites look over bright. Also colors gets washed out while increasing contrast.

Saturation: 45 to 50

Color saturation can be set anywhere between 45 to 50. At 45 colors look more natural. At 50 colors looks a bit punchy. But still its a personal preference.

At the above settings, the black levels and colors were pleasing while watching demo videos of OLED TVs on YouTube at 1080p .

The following Youtube videos help you to check the black level quality of the TV.

LG 4K OLED Beauty Of Black Demo

LG OLED Eclipse 2 Demo

LG HD Demo Art Nouveau

Full HD and 4K videos looks sharp in this TV.

Downloaded a sample 4K HEVC video named 'Life Untouched' and also a 4K HEVC sample of the movie Elysium. Both of them played smoothly on the TV with very good details.

Screen Quality

I think this is a VA panel , the quality of which sits right in between TN and IPS panels. The screen is glossy and hence reflective. This might be a problem if the TV is placed in a room with windows facing it. Like all other LCD panels, this also has also got uneven screen uniformity but that's only noticed in plain dark grey backgrounds. While watching movies or other content it's not at all a problem. Screen non uniformity is a common issue even with high end TVs of big brands like LG Samsung etc. Luckily there's no backlight bleeding in the unit I received.

Viewing angles are average with some loss of contrast even at low angles but that's a common VA panel characteristic. IPS panels with good viewing angles can't be expected at this price point.

All LCD panel technologies have their strengths and weaknesses. IPS panels have good viewing angles but has poor black levels. VA panels excels in black depth despite it's average viewing angles and this TV has got very impressive black levels. Sound Quality

\xe2\xad\x90\xe2\xad\x90\xe2\xad\x90\xe2\xad\x90\xe2\xad\x90\xe2\xad\x90-----Bass is a bit weak (I think bass is improved following some updates. So giving 5 stars from 4.) It's very loud even at low volume. Midrange and treble are very good. Even minute high pitched click and tick sounds in movies can be heard very clearly. Edit: In a previous review I have mentioned these EQ settings sounds good. But it isn't. 100Hz : 7300Hz : 81000Hz : 43500 Hz : 61000 Hz : 5A high value of 8 for 300 Hz actually make the sound muddy and muffled. The following settings sounds much better and here's the reason. 100 Hz : 8 - Bass Frequency setting for deep bass male vocals and instruments like Kick Drum, Toms, Snare etc. 300 Hz : 4 - Low Midrange Enhances bass and depth of male vocals. Increasing 300Hz too much makes sounds muddy and muffled reducing clarity of high frequency sounds. 1000 Hz : 3 - Midrange Imparts a metallic tone. Increasing makes sound tinny and unpleasant. 3500 Hz : 5 - Upper Midrange Vocals especially female sounds best at this frequency. A value of 5 enhances vocal quality. Increasing too much makes vocals harsh. 10000 Hz : 7 - Treble Adds crispiness and sparkle to vocals and instruments. Enhances tinkling sounds of metallic instruments. Human ear is sensitive to midrange and upper midrange frequencies Here it's 1000 and 3500 Hz. Setting these values too high can cause listening fatigue. Even increasing 300Hz is disturbing. Great sound performance especially bass is not even expected from a television in this budget. But considering its midrange frequency, clear treble and loudness, it deserves 4 stars. Remote Control \xe2\xad\x90\xe2\xad\x90\xe2\xad\x90\xe2\xad\x90\xe2\xad\x90-----Minimalism is great. But minimalism with less functionality is not so great. Addition of Mute, TV Settings and Video input selection buttons would've made the remote more functional. App support

\xe2\xad\x90\xe2\xad\x90\xe2\xad\x90\xe2\xad\x90\xe2\xad\x90\xe2\xad\x90\xe2\xad\x90(Update)-----When the TV was released there was no support for Netflix and Amazon Prime. But now with Pie update it supports both Netflix and Amazon Prime. Now the TV deserves 5 stars for app support. Pros and Cons-----Pros: 1. Powerful processor for 4K media playback. 2. App installation via USB3. Built in Chromecast. 4. Bluetooth remote. 5. Voice Command Cons: (Update) Previously the main issues with the TV were the lack of Autoplay function and Standby option. But in the latest update both these issues are solved. Now when the TV is turned on it will automatically go to the previous Input source. To enable it, go to Settings > Inputs > Enable 'Stay on the previous source' option. Screen off feature is also added in the new update. Long pressing Power button will show Screen Off option. The only disadvantage left on the TV was lack of Miracast. But on a latest update build PI.4316 miracast is included and now it's perfect. To sum up:-----Overall considering the picture quality, powerful hardware and the price, the TV definitely deserve 5 stars devoid of it's average audio quality and the glossy screen because there are no other TVs in market with such features at this price point. Also Xiaomi now has got very strong service support across India. New brands like iFalcon, Blaupunkt, Thomson etc might provide better options at a competitive price. But when it comes to service centres, it's a dead end. I am very much satisfied with the purchase. It's good product, Good, if you like a best tv on your budget I'll recommend you this stunning picture quality and DTS surround is osm but there was a few lagging problem and Miracast is not good \xf0\x9f\x99\x81, Build quality good. sound and bass excellent. Product is very good. Sound quality is crisp. Worth buying. I brought it 2 years back. Still working fine, Good quality", <https://m.media-amazon.com/images/I/41nsy8kxWUL>. Will comment on durability after using it for a few months.,Nice product,Channel button doesn't work,Compatible with every smart tv,functionality at a budget,Number keys not working,It's good to go ahead with this, for Samsung 6 series", "Overall replacement of original samsung remote.its compatible easily with my samsung uhd tv.but there is no voice command in the remote.,Works well. Will comment on durability after using it for a few months.,It uses two AA battery.Seems durable.,Product quality of good. But the channel button doesn't work. I did return and replaced the same product, but it's th same result, channel button doesn't work,Good to go with this rather than purchasing a original one from samsung,we have an expensive samsung TV.TV is great but original remote started draining battery and we had to put in new battery every 5 days which was not ideal.replacing with original remote is a costly affair (4k ?)this is a good cheap replacement- has all the functionalities except voice (which we rarely use),Everything works fine except number keys which is very important to change channels , what a waste of money had to buy another remote,Like the design",https://m.media-amazon.com/images/W/WEBP_402378-T1/images/I/21rBnbHkWL9L_SX300_SX300_QL70_FMwebp_.jpg,https://www.amazon.in/7SEVENTM-Compatible-Replacement-Original-BN59-01259E/dp/B09L8DSSFH/ref=sr_1_52?qid=1672909126&s=electronics&sr=1-52&nB07232M876, "Amazonbasics Micro Usb Fast Charging Cable For Android Smartphone,Personal Computer,Printer With Gold Plated Connectors (6 Feet, Black)",Computers&Accessories|Accessories&Peripherals|Cables&Accessories|Cables|USBCables,\xc2\x82\xb9199,\xc2\x82\x99 Length: 6 Feet (1. 82 Meters)|Gold-Plated Connectors Resist Corrosion For Signal Purity|Smaller Connector Designed To Fit Smaller Spaces|1 Year Limited Warranty|Supports Up To 480 Mbps Data Transmission Speed|Micro Usb Charging Cable For Android Phones|Ideal For Charging Android Phones And Tablets Or Connecting Pc Peripherals Such As Hard Drives, Printers, And More", "AF7IXQKBUL6NEIQG4R53LMJJUGXQ, AFODI4XXHXHBFUHK7N5LVKWEXTQ, AGNONTMQDE5KLLDEEB57Z3C5WAEA, AFW6NV5N3FUXV3CNU: Vishwakarma,Siddharth,SD1908,Mukundha2good,manjunath h,Vidhi Nigam,Amazon Customer,Tarun Gupta", "R22EUJ1B1AM00U,R2K89RVGN8N9M0,R177X9L6ND60A7,R2YU5RDRT44DE6,R1K5FLRLAUZLKf,R1HAZS2PLM3RRQ,R3EX1BCG3VPANI it with my QC 3 Charger .So far- So good.A Quality cable with a sturdy construction & troublefree performance.,Awesome product go for buy it \xc2\x82\x99x9f\x91\x8d,Excellent,Sturdy micro USB cable for Old phones,Super,Product description says 3 feet it's hardly a foot length wire.,Good,Excellent quality cable", "ABOUT AMAZONBASICS:xxxxxxxxxxxxxxxxxxxxxxxxxxxxxxxxAmazon Basics was launched in 2009 & is Amazon's own inhouse brand for fast moving small electronic consumer goods.Here amazon uses its massive collection of sales data to launch products that are in huge demand & already exist in the market- but at lower prices. Simply put up a similar replica for something successful but at much affordable prices.If something isn't an immediate hit, Amazon pulls it and moves on.Amazon otherwise is like an online marketplace where it provides a portal for various sellers to sell their product BUT with amazonbasics - Amazon is selling its own product at its own marketplace .Here it derives the benefit of eliminating any intermediate distributors or retailers & hence amazonbasics branded products are available for a lower price attracting bulk customers online.As an additional benefit, Amazonbasics products are delivered free to prime members & are covered under amazon warranty for all and hence any claim or replacement procedures are highly streamlined & immediately taken care of.ABOUT OUR PRODUCT (REQUIREMENT vs ACTUAL):xxI recently purchased a new Qualcomm 3 Qbix car charger & was looking for a cable with USB A to Micro B connector. I listed my priorities under various heads to come up with a conclusion and let us compare the actual product based upon my initial requirements:1.) DATA EXCHANGE:Since it was to be primarily used for fast mobile devices charging in car, Data exchange capability was not much of my concern. Preference though would surely have been a USB 3 but it didn't bother me if I could only get a USB 2.0 too.ACTUAL PRODUCT: I did try to copy a movie file just for the sake of testing data exchange and I found it to be pretty well. I did not capture any speed data but then we all know speed of data transfer also varies with the type of data being transferred. The more variety of data being transferred simultaneously the lower will be the speed.2.) LENGTH OF THE CABLE :Again since I could not afford to have a lengthy loop of cable bunched around my gear knob, I preferred to keep it short & simple hence my only lookout was upto around a meter or below.ACTUAL PRODUCT: The cable came nicely packed in a paper packet and was precisely 0.9 meters or approximately 3 feet long. The length was sufficient for me to plug-in any of the mobile devices to my car charger at the drivers or the side passenger's seat.3.) TANGLE FREE/ FLEXIBILITY/ STRENGTH STANDARDS:I am not particularly a fan of those stubborn braided wires which are so hard that they retain the shape in which they are bent. I wanted something that was thick yet flexible enough to acquire a circular shape when bunched.ACTUAL PRODUCT: The cable received looked exactly as shown over the site with good flexibility , reasonable thickness & a sturdy intermediate cable. The whole construction of the cable due to its cable size & flexibility is almost tangle-free.The associated cable was not exactly thick but can't be termed as thin or delicate too. It's not the thickest I've seen but then thickest doesn't always means most durable. Given my application it's more than just suitable.The overall built & quality of the cable & insulation looks promising enough to last few years. Even if used for other than car charging it looks durable enough to last long.I had further shortlisted mansaa & an amkette cable for the same purpose but they were too long for my requirement.4.) COMPACT MOULDED CONNECTORS:Had an inclination towards moulded connectors to avoid any issues where the connectors break open exposing the terminal PCBs.ACTUAL PRODUCT : There are no complaints regarding the connectors of the actual cable. The connectors are perfectly moulded without any joints or risks of splitting open. The connector casings are further quite compact at terminals to fit in comfortably at scarce spaces. The connector ports are sturdy enough both at USB A & micro B ports. The micro B port pins lock securely onto the charging mobile devices which is quite good. No signs of loose construction. Being Gold-plated is more of a misleading & fancy term (in this case) as most of the metal ports designed today already have a corrosion resistance & nobody is going to use them in saline sea water anyways. 5.) AVAILABILITY OF TIES/VELCRO STRAPS :As per my intended use in a car where compactness was of paramount importance, I expected an included cable tie or a Velcro strap would be a nice add-on to properly adjust & arrange the cable as per requirement. ACTUAL PRODUCT: This I miss the most in the provided actual cable, there is no provision of an included strap or cable tie through which I could adjust my required cable length easily. 6.) DECENT CURRENT HANDLING CAPABILITY:On the newest QC 3.0 certified chargers the current transmission can go up to 3.4 amps in certain cases hence the cable needed to have a decent current handling ability. ACTUAL PRODUCT : The actual cable has a nameplate rating of handling up to 2.1 amps against demands at new QC 3.0 chargers that could go up to 3.4 amps. Here, let me clear out that the latest QC chargers vary voltage to current ratios to achieve desired fast charging & thus it is not like a continuous flow of 3.4 amps is there, it keeps on reducing hence cable ratings designed for a continuous current handling of anything above 2.0 amps would sufficiently work with QC 3.0 chargers. Have tried it safely multiple times charging my Samsung S7 from 10 % without the cable getting hot. 7.) WARRANTY:Comes with a 1 year warranty as expected. Not the best in the industry but reasonable. OTHER OBSERVATIONS:Apart from the above listed features, the other details of the actual product received worth mentioning are: 8.) The cable is manufactured in China & imported by amazon warehouse dealers under the brand name & philosophy of amazonbasics. 9.) The cable has a manufacturing date of Oct 2017 & it was imported to India in Dec 2017. 10.) The cable has a MRP tag of 495 bucks however I purchased it online for 269 bucks, being a prime member shipping was free. 11.) A customer care toll free number & email is also printed over the label for registration of any consumer grievances. FINAL VERDICT:xxxxxxxxxxxxxIt has been few days since I have received & been using this product. So far everything from construction to performance seems to be convincing enough to recommend it and for a price of around 260 I suppose, its worth it. Will surely update if any malfunction is observed. Worth for buy! The quality that amazon basics at times give at cheap prices is beyond imagination. simply superb, government shouldnt hinder amazon products , amazon products rather gives competition to local qualityless products which consumers are forced to buy because they have no quality competition. Make in india is good, but if the make in india products are simple cheap copies of branded products without any investment in R and D, without R and D make in india would never be successful and ousting companies like amazon will only lead to loss for consumers , govt should infact encourage such competition. Amazon basics provides one of the best cables available for charging your phone or connecting devices. As a past customer of many cables from Amazon this cable doesn't also disappoint, Supports fast charging for all my Samsung phones. I use Samsung a9pro 2016, Samsung s8plus 2017, which this cable is compatible with. Very sturdy, thick and very long. 6 ft Very affordable pricing. Thanks Amazon I also use a USB c cable for my Samsung s20fe, Super, Product charging is ok.. however it's mere 1 foot in length.. the vendor could have mentioned correct product description.. there is no need to mislead.. too early to say performance as I have received it today. Good, I have bought many cheap chinese micro usb cable in Rs 50 and Rs 100 of ubon and of many other chinese local companies, and none of them worked properly. Finally i decided to go for this. And it is charging as well transferring data, without any issue and i am very happy with my purchase. My advice : Dont buy, cheap chinese local cables of. Do not read another review. Nice product, From 0 to 70 \x2\x80\x94a6, Good External Wifi Signal Provider, Superb, Awesome and easy to use, Good product", "I am using this on an old Mac Mini, since the Broadcom proprietary drivers aren't available and the replacement B43 drivers don't allow for sufficient download speeds, at least in my experience. I got this device up and running with Ubuntu 22.04 with Linux 5.15.0-56-generic. Google search for ""morrownr/8821au-20210708"" and use the driver on Github. I'm using the product ""TP-Link AC600"" btw. If you are using the other variant sold on Amazon, use lsusb and find out which network interface you are going to have to install drivers for. GIYF. I will admit, this is probably going to be hard for someone who is not generally comfortable with a shell, bash for example. But even though I had never used dkms or iw before, the Github repo along with the build tools available in the jammy repo made it easy enough to get the device working (read the GitHub Readme). To be sure I first got the drivers working in a local Ubuntu VM using Guest Additions to connect to the USB device directly from the guest OS, which also worked. Ultimately, I installed the OS on the host and setup the drivers using USB tethering. I then got the same download speed using this device I was previously getting on my other network interfaces on Windows and Mac, but now on Ubuntu. The device itself is a bit sensitive to the antenna direction when it comes to the impact on download speed. Have been using for about a month now without complaints. Do not go for reviews that say that it do not support kali. Me and some of my friends all are using it for Wi-Fi hacking and it works really well, it also supports monitor mode. If you are having issues in connecting it to your Kali machine then just go through the web surf a bit and you will find relevant articles on how to connect this TP link adapter to your kali machine. There is also a driver of realtek which you might need to install to make it work in your kali machine. I have given it 4 stars just because the performance is not good as the Alpha adapters which is reasonable for this range of price but in this range and for as a beginner it is the best adapter you can buy. Nice product. Working fine. My PC is now 5G Price is too high so giving 4 star, Got the Wi-Fi in one of the rooms from 0 to 70%. Has been working well since a month now. Good alternative to a repeater if only a single device needs to access the Wi-Fi from a corner. The product is very nice and have good Wifi signal. Using this for over a month now, no complain. But when it for the first time you need to install the driver on your desktop/laptop from the TP link website to make it operational.

At this price point, I believe the TV provides decent quality. You shouldn't expect amazing quality anyway from a 1366x768 screen resolution. The audio is also okay. Beyond 50 the audio starts cracking. From a viewing distance of 6-8ft the quality looks good. PLEASE NOTE: you will STRUGGLE quite a bit to directly add a firestick to the HDMI port. They have given some other ports right next to the HDMI ports because of which the firestick doesn't have proper space to fit properly unless you really shove it in there. My suggestion is to get an HDMI extender for it. Overall, I'd say, for a small room, it's a 7/10. Don't pay installation guy you can do it yourself, I will give it 4 stars out of 5. I bought this 32 inch VW at 6150 after discounts. Picture quality and sound quality is good. I added firestick to it and it voila became smart tv. The connections to attach these usbs are at the bottom part of the tv which is slightly different from other tvs. So far, working as it should. Revising this after 9 days, the tv is not responding to switch off button. This is happening more when I watch the tv for a few hours and then when I switch off the tv with the firestick remote, the yellow colour indicator down below does not turn red, instead it remains yellow. As far as screen is concerned, the tv's screen changes to black whitish, seems to me that the tv goes into hibernation or sleep mode. This is a fault of the tv as a normal tv should switch off completely and the indicator should turn red. I have called technician tomorrow and if he checks and if he agrees, then I should get a replacement as I got still 2 days time to replace it. Just a helping note for people buying this tv: if you are going to connect firestick to it, as it asks for the brand name of the tv, you can select VU and it will perfectly work on your firestick. far except the linux non-compatibility issue, I found no other flaws with this product. So overall its a great product. Warranty: Its 3 years so I am assured that atleast for 3 years I am tension-free and not just 1 year, contrary to most electronic items today that only provide 1 year warranty with their items., Best adapter I have bought ever. I got it in the offer and it was totally worth it. Pros:-1. Sound is awesome - 100% satisfied with the quality of sound. Dolby Audio 20W speakers are really great for sure affordable TV.2. Size and slim - It is slim and looks stylish. Very light weight and handy to install.3. Easy to install and mount to wall.4. Tye software installation and set up is very easy and anyone can do it at home.5. It gets integrated with mobile apps, remote, WiFi networks very quickly and easily.6. The overall sign up process and app installations are quick and automatic.7. It supports all the smart features like Netflix, Prime and YouTube. It is easily installable and sign-in to start using quickly.8. It is also easy to scan the Setup box channels and start viewing them. Cons:-1. Picture quality is 776p. It's average and not very clear. But it is worth the price range. I'll not complaint as the cost of TV is very affordable and this quality is justified.2. Bluetooth and WiFi connection can disconnect sometimes and cause some issues. I encountered this disconnect issue and had to reset complete device and do the complete sign up again. Rest all is very good and loved this product. I feel it was worth ordering. If you are looking something is medium range and only need it for your old parents and don't have extensive smart use then 100% go for this. If you want to use a lot of smart features and OTT platforms and watch movies, and sports then go for better version with full HD and 4K quality. This TV will not give good experience for sports due to less picture quality but it's very good for daily family shows and TV channels. One last thing I want to express and I'm ver disappointed about is this. I got my order delivered on Friday and I scheduled my installation for Saturday. But nobody turned up that day and I had to reschedule it for Tuesday morning, and even today nobody turned up. I got a call from Amazon to reschedule it for Tuesday evening and still, nobody turned up. This is very very bad and irresponsible service by OnePlus and Amazon. I'm very disappointed with the service and highly criticize this behavior. A company should always take care of its customer satisfaction and you have failed in doing this. What do you guys expect us to do? Wait for 5 to 6 days to get my TV installed even when it's been delivered and wait for you guys to come after so many days. Even when I'm having my smart TV delivered to my home, I have to wait and not enjoy it because you guys have not done your job properly. At least keep some decency and respect the customers who are paying a big amount and ordering a big item from your company. You should take care that the money I spent has been worth it and not facing any issues. Highly disappointed with this behavior and service., Good product, Connectivity is faster, But performance is little bit slower., The biggest problem I face is it don't have a aux cable so I'm not able to connect my sound bar.....the HDMI port is useless it won't work .so, i connect it via bluetooth but the problem is that it won't connect automatically, everytime I on the tv i need to connect it manually it's a basic feature which is not provided in this tv then another drawback is that it was fast at the beginning now it's been 4 months and it's super laggyeven after the update its just the same....yea but in this price range the picture quality is outstanding.....that's all, Good quality in picture and volume is little bit low other than that product is nice. Budget friendly, I'm happy with this ., After a few days, the TV will perform slowly and the remote is very very sentence, thank you amazon and oneplus, 1. Sound is good 2. Easy installation 3. very Slim and less weight 4. Voice recognition is good, Like Budget-friendly Dislike WiFi connectivity range is poor. Many times gets disconnected. Samsung is always good, Value for money product", "Before finalizing the AUE60 55", I visited Croma and Vijay Sales to check for the same TV or similar models for their features and picture quality. I was told AUE60 & AUE70 (the models listed here as Crystal 4K and 4K Pro) are E-commerce exclusive models, not available offline. I was shown AU7700 which has the same processor, panel and features, but was listed at 65K for the 55" version. I liked the picture quality, and decided I'll get the AUE60 since it shares so much with AU7700, and save ~20k. Why I went for AUE60 vs. AUE70 - I knew I wouldn't be needing a voice assistant, and wanted to save 3k. I knew even if I wanted a voice assistant, I could plug in Fire TV/Mi TV box and get those features later on. Delivery was pretty hassle free, the delivery executive unloaded the TV in the room I asked for, and opened the box to inspect the TV for any physical damages. Samsung technicians came in a few hours later, installed and gave a demo. Sound: Per other reviews - sound from speakers is apparently bad, but in my case, I found it satisfactory. I have it wall mounted in a 10X12ft room, and the TV's speakers sound better compared to Bose Soundlink Speakers that I connected it to via Bluetooth. Picture: The Panel's great, but nothing worth raving about. Gray uniformity isn't great (i.e. gray tones won't be perfectly uniform across the whole panel, there'll be darker zones towards the edges/corners based on backlight placement). Blacks aren't perfectly black - and they're brighter than you'd expect from a VA panel, but this isn't noticeable at all when the room is lit. No backlight bleed. Colors are as good as I'd like them to be, and the panel does get noticeably bright for my taste, even when brightness is turned down to 40%. 720p content is watchable from >8ft, 1080p is good (I'd say better than I expected), and 4K is well, 4K. Connectivity: I have a 35 Mb/s broadband connection and all content streams in 4K when available, without stutters. The TV has Bluetooth 5.0, and works with TWS and Neckband earphones fine (I use Oppo Enco W51 and Boat Rockerz 330) - there's no noticeable latency, and volume can be controlled through the remote itself. Apps & Features: Has all the standard slew of streaming apps I needed - Netflix, Hotstar, Prime, Apple TV+ & YouTube. All of them stream 4k content, except for Hotstar - which only streamed 4K a few times. 1080p is still very watchable, and not really a deal breaker. No Dolby Vision support - which I made my peace with considering the fact that 99% of budget TVs in the market can't produce the contrast you'd expect out of DV content anyways, so why care. You get HDR, and HDR content is definitely better looking than non-HDR ones in terms of colors and vibrancy. I planned to use the TV without cable, but the TV does come with some channels like Republic TV, Bloomberg, 9XM, etc., these stream in 1080p, so a great bonus to have. Remote: Very basic RF remote, unlike Bluetooth ones on most new TVs. The remote's looks pretty sleek and stylish, but that's about it. Biggest gripe - typing to search for things within apps is a pain in the behind, you'll need to use the D-pad to navigate on an on-screen keyboard. You can control the TV using Samsung's SmartThings App, but guess what – you can't even use your phone's keyboard to type in when controlling through the app – this is something that can be added through an update, but it's not there yet. Attached pictures are all of 4K content. Resolution might get scaled down after I submit the review, but you can still get an idea of the TV's design/looks, Panel colors and contrast, etc. I'd say I'm really happy – and given the chance, wouldn't change my decision. It's a Samsung TV, so end of the day, if it produces a decent picture, and lasts a couple of years more than I expect, I can overlook all other cons. I'd highly recommend the TV if you have the same expectations from your next TV.,,Placed order on 18th Dec\22 received Defective product, updated to Amazon service they replaced with new product today(27/12/22) will post long term review. Pros: Picture Quality, Design (thin n Bezel less) Cons: Sound (bit okay), upsaciling of SD channels Over all Satisfied., Have been using it since month now. –Picture quality is amazing. 4.5/5–As always installation service from Samsung was seamless. 5/5–smart features are good this model don't have voice recognition. I don't require it so its fine. 4/5–Audio quality is not good. It's clear but loudness is not sufficient if installing in big hall. It also lacks base. Purchase a sound bar separately if buying this model., But the picture quality is ok-ok., Best tv product in given price range, Value for money. manufacturing Computer Monitor and are best in quality. So that, I prefer this company in buying TV, Its been 1 and half month using this product and have no complaint regarding the product some of its plus points are.1. Picture quality is good with clear sound quality2. We can easily connect any pan drive or ota to this Tv and access your content in tv.And Points in which it need improvement:1. Its does not support some audio format that.2. If we connect smartphone through OTG to TV it doesn't support the same3. Also we always have to use TV remote to start the TV. It doesn't start automatically when we on the swith, we have to press power button on remote each time to start this TV.Overall a very good product.,Picture quality is very good

SY88.jpg>,Good,Good Build Quality. Nice Product & Highly Recommended.,Good quality and looks beautiful... I will surely recommend,(After using it for 3 weeks). I use Samsung M51, few months back my USB Cable was torn, so I wasn't able to fast charge. It took a decade to charge from 20-90%. Samsung original cable was too pricey and too flimsy, so I was searching for something durable. While browsing through the product page I was skeptical to place an order, as the company claimed too many features in such a low price. Keeping the negative thoughts aside I ordered it anyhow. The product was delivered well in advance, which made me happy.I unboxed and plugged in the cable, to my surprise the cable delivered everything that the company claimed. The ends have aluminum casing which makes it durable and away from regular wear and tear, it has LED indicator on both ends which turns on when the charger is plugged to the phone. Also, the box that it comes with has a secret code that you need to scratch to reveal which helps to check its authenticity.It easily fast charges my phone in an hour. I use the local cable providers set up. With my previous tv (Samsung) I was not facing this problem. The only problem I am facing is each time I turn off the tv from the mains, I have to go to the settings and turn the settings on to tv speaker settings despite no other speaker or WiFi or blue tooth or cell phone being in the proximity. As a result I have stopped turning the tv off from the mains. I just use remote control to put it on stand by. BUT THIS IS A PROBLEM IN THE LONG RUN,, Display is very good. Sound is average iam using soundbar so no issues for me. Don't know how long it will last due to my previous mi 55 4 pro panel gone in 2.5 years. Bought this tv with 2 year warranty on panel., improve the software response and improve the picture quality. worth for money for this budget (4K)., I have used 2-4 days. Accurate to my usb apparatus., Good value, Till now i had purchased about 20 cables both micro and c type for myself and my family in this last one year. Its all because this brand wins my trust by providing great quality with reasonable price, na, tested with 2.4 amps charger and phone. gives full 2.4 amps power to phone. the cable LOOKS thick and it has nice texture. despite that, i am sure it is not very durable. the usb connectors are extremely sturdy and they dont bend or flex. the wire will break before the connector does!! warning: usb micro connector has a strong hook. be careful while plugging and unplugging, or you may damage your device. very cheap and usable cable for 120 rs, Super power, Nice product., In this price this is the best one", <https://m.media-amazon.com/images/I/41qFqSHngYL. For me personally I tested out at multiple occassion using it for a month or two I never got speed above 38 watt and i tested it with the cable that I received from the box and it also gave me the same speed so buy carefully if you're conditions are good and you get speed more tha 50watts then only you should buy it or you should go with 3A/4A cables as they are cheaper and more durable braided cables,The cable supports fast charging (I'm using a OnePlus 65W charger) as advertised. If it could have been round and braided instead of flat ribbon cable, that would make it more durable. In my experience, braided cables are easy to wrap and store when not in use and they dont get frayed easily. My cable stopped fast charging after two months of usage but warranty support was excellent, I submitted the cable at a nearby centre and a new cable was shipped within 3 days. I've been using Boat Cables for about 6 years now (a cable from a Moto G4 phone is still with me and in use) and will stick to them.,Got the original one, but there are fake cables being sold, so beware.It warp charges as it supports 6A power supply. The cable is long and sturdy compared to the typical OnePlus cable in the box. The price of original OnePlus cable is 890 mrp but this i got for 400 and is not unlike other third party wires. Definitely worth it. \xf0\x9f\x91\x8d\xfb\x9f\x8f\xbb,Best in price segment and durable material tangle free alsi,Amazon send me a used product but the cable is super and support fast charging and the quality is also good but they sent me a used product by others if not it's super product and 3 year's of warranty on it just buy it,Very good quality fast charging cable, getting good quick charging through laptop also.Flat cable design makes it more durable.,I have a OnePlus 7t with 30 Watts charge,My original wire had been destroyed few years ago and was searching for a cable with 6v-5a for fast charging, I had bought many wires but the phone was not charging as fast as 5he original one. I love it because it's supported in micro usb , or type c . Over all good .Pros / advantage :- -1) 1.5 meter wire 2) more durable3) supported dual mode type c , micro usbCons / disadvantages:- normal charging , not fast charging,Though it is braided, but it is not strong like boAt. But it's okay to use it. Supports turbocharging.,Working well after months of use. Only thing is that if there is slight pressure, the C -type adapter will come off from the micro usb head. So better to see that the cable is not stretched when using the C type adapter. Otherwise working fine and very convenient for me since i usually have a phone with C type charging and a small Tab with micro USB charging when i travel. I need to carry only one cable now with my powerbank. Will recommend.,Best cable,good,Both Micro USB & Type C mobile connector's are getting charge.Good Decision to purchase this product.,Cable is a good fibre braided with good length.The connector also has a tight fit, sometimes you have to apply a bit force to remove(ig it'll wear off after usage).In comparison, boat has a better quality i would say if u get that in offer as it has metal braided cable and better quality microusb pin,I like the product bcuz it's help me to charge both phone Type C & Micro Cabel",<https://m.media-amazon.com/images/I/31x3IUfMnL. Braided, visibly high quality cable, unlike the flimsy and highly overpriced OEM cables from Apple and Samsung. I have been using my iPhone cable from Wayona for more than 1 1/2 years and still going strong. Hope this C cable will give a similar performance, I like Wayona chords and especially the long ones. But I get a slight shock - like a static discharge - when I touch my phone while charging with these two cords. Other cords with same charger are okay., Ok, Cable looks solid and length is also good. Little bit fast charging I observed for phones like Redmi. It also looks solid so I am expecting it to work for atleast 1 year, build quality and fast charging feature, Unbreakable, good quality, Cable a Nice Product", https://m.media-amazon.com/images/W/WEBP_402378-T1/images/I/41J6oG08w5L_SX300_SY300_QL70_FMwebp_.jpg, from seller and Amazon that is got was very poor inspite I was prime member. The seller DAWNTECH ELECTRONICS PRIVATE LIMITED gives very poor service and feel bad that in such cases Amazon will not help you. Thankyou,Team,Also to be added TV installation services with product while delivering and unboxing. NO need to other sub-vendor to getting installation and demo. The technician brought a cheap hanging hook that had MRP INR116 on it and asked for INR499 for it without any receipt. He kept telling that it was not for sale and company had sent this specially. However, it clearly had MRP mentioned on it2. I went to market and bought a much better cabinet for just INR200 and for installation of that as well, technician was really adamant to drill the two required holes on top. He just drilled one on top and one on bottom and kept all the other spare screws (which I had bought) with him. After about half an hour of arguments, he finally drilled the other required holes. And for all this, he kept cussing me that I wasted his time. There was no assistance from the person who represented the service agency as well.This whole process took me two hours to complete that too with lots of arguments. This was the worst installation experience in my life so far.Bottomline - Please do not avail the 'so called free' installation service from Amazon. It is just a scam. Instead call the acer support. They will do the job much better.,After using it for 2 months, here are it's pros and cons:Pros :1. Great picture quality. It's awesome.2. Blacks are very good and is adjustable.3. Sound with 30db is very good4. Looks great with thin besel5. Remote comes with favorite OTT buttons.6. Content upscaling is very good.Cons:1. Remote could have been better. Can't use DTH remote to turn on both television and set top box.2. Remote operation is bit complex.3. Motion technology not great. There is a noticeable blur when watching moving ballson OTT, but it decreases when you switch to DTH.Overall, it's a nice buy at this price point. I think I am getting fairly better picture quality and sound. I am satisfied with the product.,Product has good picture quality. Good product at that price with 25w sound. Applications running smoothly. 3 months older & no issues yet. It's running smoothly.,You get decent features for the price you pay. Screen resolution might be. Set back as you may find pixilation. Overall it's good,I am amazed with the picture quality of this 720p (HD Ready) TV. It is truly an amazing panel. I found it suitable for a viewing distance of between 6 to 10 feet. Any nearer it may not look very crisp and any farther, it will feel like a very small size. The speakers are also very good for the price and can get very loud without any distortions. However, since the speaker is downward firing, the experience will vary based on whether the TV is wall mounted or kept on a stand.The remote is good, voice search works well for me. TV start up takes a long time in my opinion, but I have not compared it against any other 32 inch TV and hence do not know where it stands among peers.5 GHz Wifi works very well even across walls. Only negative aspect I faced is w.r.t the experience of using my bluetooth headphones/earphones. Firstly, the connection sometimes doesn't happen automatically after a restart - which means I have to remove and re-discover the device thru the menu which is not simple. Secondly, the signal itself seems to be very weak and even at a distance of 8 feet in front of the TV, the signal breaks even if you move your head by 2-3 inches.However, I am still super happy with this TV. I got it for 8k during the launch offer and it is totally worth it and is recommended from my side.,At this price range(\xe2\x82\x92,999)it is good quality product on this market..acer only should work with Sound quality improvement otherwise all ok.Picture quality really impressive,wifi connectivity good,easy to install,borderless screen design is premium and also google voice support is good(sometimes lagging).No major issues found on this TV.Just go for it.,Vellu for money. Samsung is always good, Value for money product", "Before finalizing the AUE60 55", I visited Croma and Vijay Sales to check for the same TV or similar models for their features and picture quality. I was told AUE60 & AUE70 (the models listed here as Crystal 4K and 4K Pro) are E-commerce exclusive models, not available offline. I was shown AU7700 which has the same processor, panel and features, but was listed at 65K for the 55" version. I liked the picture quality, and decided I'll get the AUE60 since it shares so much with AU7700, and save ~20k. Why I went for AUE60 vs. AUE70 - I knew I wouldn't be needing a voice assistant, and wanted to save 3k. I knew even if I wanted a voice assistant, I could plug in Fire TV/Mi TV box and get those features later on. Delivery was pretty hassle free, the delivery executive unloaded the TV in the room I asked for, and opened the box to inspect the TV for any physical damages. Samsung technicians came in a few hours later, installed and gave a demo. Sound: Per other reviews - sound from speakers is apparently bad, but in my case, I found it satisfactory. I have it wall mounted in a 10x12ft room, and the TV's speakers sound better compared to Bose Soundlink Speakers that I connected it to via Bluetooth. Picture: The Panel's great, but nothing worth raving about. Gray uniformity isn't great (i.e. gray tones won't be perfectly uniform across the whole panel, there'll be darker zones towards the edges/corners based on backlight placement). Blacks aren't perfectly black - and they're brighter than you'd expect from a VA panel, but this isn't noticeable at all when the room is lit. No backlight bleed. Colors are as good as I'd like them to be, and the panel does get noticeably bright for my taste, even when brightness is turned down to 40%. 720p content is watchable from >8ft, 1080p is good (I'd say better than I expected), and 4K is well, 4K. Connectivity: I have a 35 Mb/s broadband connection and all content streams in 4K when available, without stutters. The TV has Bluetooth 5.0, and works with TWS and Neckband earphones fine (I use Oppo Enco W51 and Boat Rockerz 330) - there's no noticeable latency, and volume can be controlled through the remote itself. Apps & Features: Has all the standard slew of streaming apps I needed - Netflix, Hotstar, Prime, Apple TV+ & YouTube. All of them stream 4k content, except for Hotstar - which only streamed 4K a few times. 1080p is still very watchable, and not really a deal breaker. No Dolby Vision support - which I made my peace with considering the fact that 99% of budget TVs in the market can't produce the contrast you'd expect out of DV content anyways, so why care. You get HDR, and HDR content is definitely better looking than non-HDR ones in terms of colors and vibrancy. I planned to use the TV without cable, but the TV does come with some channels like Republic TV, Bloomberg, 9XM, etc., these stream in 1080p, so a great bonus to have. Remote: Very basic RF remote, unlike Bluetooth ones on most new TVs. The remote's looks pretty sleek and stylish, but that's about it. Biggest gripe - typing to search for things within apps is a pain in the behind, you'll need to use the D-pad to navigate on an on-screen keyboard. You can control the TV using Samsung's SmartThings App, but guess what - you can't even use your phone's keyboard to type in when controlling through the app - this is something that can be added through an update, but it's not there yet. Attached pictures are all of 4K content. Resolution might get scaled down after I submit the review, but you can still get an idea of the TV's design/looks, Panel colors and contrast, etc. I'd say I'm really happy - and given the chance, wouldn't change my decision. It's a Samsung TV, so end of the day, if it produces a decent picture, and lasts a couple of years more than I expect, I can overlook all other cons. I'd highly recommend the TV if you have the same expectations from your next TV. Placed order on 18th Dec '22 received Defective product, updated to Amazon service they replaced with new product today (27/12/22). will post long term review. Pros: Picture Quality, Design (thin bezel) Cons: Sound (bit okay), upsampling of SD channels Over all Satisfied. Have been using it since month now. Picture quality is amazing. 4.5/5 - As always installation service from Samsung was seamless. 5/5 - smart features are good this model don't have voice recognition. I don't require it so it's fine. 4/5 - Audio quality is not good. It's clear but loudness is not sufficient if installing in big hall. It also lacks base. Purchase a sound bar separately if buying this model. But the picture quality is ok-ok. Best tv product in given price range, Value for money. I got it in the offer and it was totally worth it. Pros:-1. Sound is awesome - 100% satisfied with the quality of sound. Dolby Audio 20W speakers are really great for sure affordable TV.2. Size and slim - It is slim and looks stylish. Very light weight and handy to install.3. Easy to install and mount to wall.4. Tye software installation and set up is very easy and anyone can do it at home.5. It gets integrated with mobile apps, remote, WiFi networks very quickly and easily.6. The overall sign up process and app installations are quick and automatic.7. It supports all the smart features like Netflix, Prime and YouTube. It is easily installable and sign-in to start using quickly.8. It is also easy to scan the Setup box channels and start viewing them.Cons:-1. Picture quality is 776p. It's average and not very clear. But it is worth the price range. I'll not complaint as the cost of TV is very affordable and this quality is justified.2. Bluetooth and WiFi connection can disconnect sometimes and cause some issues. I encountered this disconnect issue and had to reset complete device and do the complete sign up again. Rest all is very good and loved this product. I feel it was worth ordering. If you are looking something is medium range and only need it for your old parents and don't have extensive smart use then 100% go for this. If you want to use a lot of smart features and OTT platforms and watch movies, and sports then go for better version with full HD and 4K quality. This TV will not give good experience for sports due to less picture quality but it's very good for daily family shows and TV channels. One last thing I want to express and I'm ver disappointed about is this. I got my order delivered on Friday and I scheduled my installation for Saturday. But nobody turned up that day and I had to reschedule it for Tuesday morning, and even today nobody turned up. I got a call from Amazon to reschedule it for Tuesday evening and still, nobody turned up. This is very very bad and irresponsible service by OnePlus and Amazon. I'm very disappointed with the service and highly criticize this behavior. A company should always take care of its customer satisfaction and you have failed in doing this. What do you guys expect us to do? Wait for 5 to 6 days to get my TV installed even when it's been delivered and wait for you guys to come after so many days. Even when I'm having my smart TV delivered to my home, I have to wait and not enjoy it because you guys have not done your job properly. At least keep some decency and respect the customers who are paying a big amount and ordering a big item from your company. You should take care that the money I spent has been worth it and not facing any issues. Highly disappointed with this behavior and service., Good product, Connectivity is faster, But performance is little bit slower., The biggest problem I face is it don't have a aux cable so I'm not able to connect my sound bar.....the HDMI port is useless it won't work .so, i connect it via bluetooth but the problem is that it won't connect automatically, everytime I on the tv i need to connect it manually. It's a basic feature which is not provided in this tv. than another drawback is that it to connect it manually it's a basic feature which is not provided in this tv then another drawback is that it was fast at the beginning now it's been 4 months and it's super laggyeven after the update its just the same....yeaa but in this price range the picture quality is outstanding.....that's all,Good quality in picture and volume is little bit low other than that product is nice. Budget friendly, I'm happy with this .,After a few days, the TV will perform slowly and the remote is very very sentence,thank you amazon and oneplus,1. Sound is good2. Easy installation3. very Slim and less weight4. Voice recognition is good,LikeBudget-friendlyDislikeWiFi connectivity range is poor.Many times gets disconnected.Color depth not that good.",<https://m.media-amazon.com/images/I/51F6FCLq10L. Quick Response:- After the TV is delivered call the customer care for the installation and within 2 hour technician arrive and installed the TV. After that received call back from the customer care to gather the experience and pinged on whatsapp so that if in future encountered any issue quick help will be provided.2. Quality:- Quality of TV is good and can watch all the contents from the apps in max resolution supported by TV i.e., 1080p.3. Steal deal, during the GIF sale received the TV in 13299 which is just wow price.4. Sound Quality is good.5. Android 11 is good and the extra feature which I find beneficial when compared to my old android 9 tv is the voice search feature which now search the content from another apps also after giving permission which is not working on android 9 tv.6. Bluetooth remote with some extra feature. Bought the TV as already have the TCL s6500 32 inch model back in 2018 when it is launched and tv is working flawlessly and since did not encountered any issue so bought this brand tv again when required second TV.Improvement :-1. Bluetooth remote should have the all apps button on remote instead of TCL menu which my previous android s6500 tv have, due to which have to move with some extra click which is annoying for my parents to use.2. in Bluetooth remote they provide some extra button to move directly to youtube, netflix, tcl channel, prime, guard and media, instead of this some customization be provided so that we can configure the buttons to some others apps as per our personal use. out of these button guard, media and tcl channel are most useless button.3. android tv should come with atleast 1.5gb as with 1 GB variant the tv is little slow and already have many preinstalled tcl apps which we cannot remove so tv experience in little bit slow, however buy for connectivity of my wireless mouse and one port for external hard-disk. This continuously gave me problems with connectivity of the mouse or the HDD. I got errors like USB device not detected etc. Till a point, where it refused to detect my mouse. At home, I used the hub for connecting only to my external HDDs (two numbers) and it is working fine. For a moment, I was trying to return the product, but since I got this delivered in Mumbai at my Office and then I had returned home to Karnataka, it refused to process return in a different city. Right now, it is working fine, since I do not need ethernet at home. Speed is more than wireless. I am not used since it is restricted in my system. I have used it with HP and Dell Laptop. It's compatible with all. It's plug and play and easy to use. Good product. It works perfectly. A trusted and a reliable brand with a convenient design having a slot for folding the cable. It works and works well every time. However, they made 2 strange design decisions that take some points off the satisfaction of using the product: 1) There is a bright white light on the product which keeps flashing when the connection is active. It is a huge annoyance when it's working at night. 2) The cable is flat, which is like a double-edged sword. On one hand, it comes in handy when folding it on itself and redacting into the body. But when it's not hidden and used with a laptop, with the adapter being visible, the flat cable folded sideways looks ugly. The product would've been a perfect 5/5 if TP Link didn't make these strange design decisions. Hope this helps. Speedy and customer friendly approach from vu", "Screen quality is good. It's been a month I bought it still working fine. Two main negatives are 1) It doesn't have default option to directly start on tata sky tv, we have to select hdmi option from input menu to select tata sky which one is plugged in. 2) It doesn't allow us to command/choose volume up or down from set-top box remote (mine tata sky) We have use tv remote to change the volume setting. Other than that great tv, mine ps4 works fine with it great graphics. Conclusion: If someone ask's me to if they Can buy it or not Mine answer will be nor yes nor no. If we you want kinda cheap but decent quality tv and taking the risk on unknown tv brand on their reliability (just like me) then go for it. Better than Samsung or Sony ??? Definitely no!!., I always buy and recommend Samsung Sony or LG for TV. But, I had a hard budget this time and chose Vu because my friends have been using it for at least 4-5 years without much issues. While the delivery and installation were excellent, and TV on the whole is a decent package which gives good clarity than the rival Chinese TVs and Sound, smart features are poor here. You can connect Bluetooth headphones but no option to disconnect them. I had to pair and unpair everytime. There is no voice command button on remote. Even while using the screen button for voice input, nothing gets recognised. My 3k Fire stick voice recognition was tooo good., I purchased VU gloed 55 inches TV after suggestion from my techie friends and online study. Technician from amazon came to my home for installation in drunken mode. But I compromised with him due to busy schedule of work. He installed tv with his small screws instead of VU standard wall screws. He did whatever he want. Proper installation was not performed. I just calm down then later i gave a complaint to amazon and VU Customer services. Amazon was not properly responded till now. But from VU side i got a huge response of problem solving. Min 3 to 4 customer care executives spoke with me, finally VU's vice President mr prashanth phoned me and apologized me for inconvenience happened to me. He told drunken technician is not from VU. I feel good for VU's Top level executives have interaction with me. From bottom to top level VUs Team in touch with me for a month to resolve my issue due to i stayed away from home. Before few days back technician came to my home again from vu. He reinstalled my tv in perfect position with dedication. Package was in good condition, thanks amazon. Was installed within a day. Writing this review after using the tv for more than a week.1. picture quality is good.2. Sound could be better. Dosnt' mean its bad.3. connectivity is good.4. No issues with software or hardware till now. Overall a good product in this budget. Once again thanks Amazon and LG., This is good smart tv, I wanted to get display for my PS4. I was contemplating between a monitor and TV. Since, there is no need to get display with high resolution, I opted for this TV. I have been using this TV for 3 months now. Below are my observations when using this TV as a secondary TV or gaming TV. Pros:1. This TV comes with the software from the bigger OLED TV of LG meaning, to some extent better upscaling.2. Since I am using primarily as a gaming TV, I love the Game mode. You can truly see the difference when you play with and without Game mode. Pic and responses are shaper and faster with Game mode active.3. You can connect Bluetooth headset to TV. Great when watching movies as a secondary option.4. LG service is the best!!! The come probably the next day, install the TV (wall mount) for free - Really quick and clean. Cons:1. No headphone Jack on the TV2. You can connect a Bluetooth headphones to the TV. However, for gamers, the game mode is disabled when TV sound output is through headphones. However, there is a work around for this., It is a good product from LG in range of 15K. Pros:1. Bluetooth support for my wireless earphone2. Audio output is enough for room size of 12\xc3\x9712.3. Wall mount installation is free of cost from LG.4. Smart remote in this range is really appreciable from LG. Doubt samsung provide smart remote this in this range.5. Picture quality is decent.,, I love LG product and happy to buy this product with 15.5K. It's very good smart TV with amazing features consist of Good processor, Smart Remote, Good LCD screen and sound quality is also good. Cable and pins quality looks good. Since i couldnt find original cable for 65w charger of realme i was searching for long time for a good one..., Charging speed depends on number of factors and only in best condition it will go above 50 watts and the brand only claims that 65 watts fast charge if only you use the brand's inbox charger . For me personally I tested out at multiple occassion using it for a month or two I never got speed above 38 watt and i tested it with the cable that I received from the box and it also gave me the same speed so buy carefully if you're conditions are good and you get speed more tha 50watss then only you should buy it or you should go with 3A/4A cables as they are cheaper and more durable braided cables, The cable supports fast charging (I'm using a OnePlus 65W charger) as advertised. If it could have been round and braided instead of flat ribbon cable, that would make it more durable. In my experience, braided cables are easy to wrap and store when not in use and they don't get frayed easily. My cable stopped fast charging after two months of usage but warranty support was excellent, I submitted the cable at a nearby centre and a new cable was shipped within 3 days. I've been using Boat Cables for about 6 years now (a cable from a Moto G4 phone is still with me and in use) and will stick to them. Got the original one, but there are fake cables being sold, so beware. It warps charges as it supports 6A power supply. The cable is long and sturdy compared to the typical OnePlus cable in the box. The price of original OnePlus cable is 890 mrp but this I got for 400 and is not unlike other third party wires. Definitely worth it. \xf0\x9f\x91\x8d\xf0\x9f\x8f\xbb, Best in price segment and durable material tangle free also, Amazon send me a used product but the cable is super and support fast charging and the quality is also good but they sent me a used product by others if not it's super product and 3 year's of warranty on it just buy it, Very good quality fast charging cable, getting good quick charging through laptop also. Flat cable design makes it more durable., I have a OnePlus 7t with 30 Watts charge, My original wire had been destroyed few years ago and was searching for a cable with 6v-5a for fast charging, I had bought many wires but the phone was not charging as fast as the original one. This wire has a good build quality and can do 65 watts (6.5a).", https://m.media-amazon.com/images/W/WEBP_402378-T1/images/I/41+3EsgcpzL_SX300_SX300_.jpg, https://www.amazon.in/boAt-A750-Resistant-Tangle-free-Transmission/dp/B09RX1FK54/ref=sr_1_126?qid=1672909130&s=electronics&sr=1-126&nB09TT6BFDX_Cotbolt Silicone Protective Case Cover for LG AN-MR21GA Magic Remote Shockproof for LG Smart TV Remote 2021 Protective Skin Waterproof Anti Lost (Black) (Remote Not Included), "Electronics|HomeTheater,TV&Video|Accessories|RemoteControls", \xe2\x82\xb9399, "\xe2\x82\xb91,999", 80%, protective cover is specially designed for LG Smart TV magic remotes of LG AN-MR21GA / LG AN-MR21GC \xe3\x80\x90NOTE: REMOTE CONTROL NOT INCLUDED\xe3\x80\x913 Meters Shockproof:Thicken layer silicone case protects against 3 meters high drops accidental and adds grip to the remote. Quality is average and micro type B end does sit very tight. Otherwise, it's all good. But keep checking price of amazon basics cable of this type, price drops many times. That's better quality. This is one of the good product in this price range. Quality is okay, Using it for my laptop cooling pad. Overall build looks sturdy, but longevity cannot confirm. Also, YOU CANNOT CONNECT 2 PCs USING A MALE TO MALE USB. THAT IS NOT HOW IT WORKS. Stop writing negative reviews after using this cable for something that it was NOT intended for. Can confirm that it is ~1.2m as most other products and not 1.5m as the seller claims both in title and on stickers on the product. No review mentions this. But I needed a 1.5m length for perfect use. So disappointed as I have to rotate the cooling pad and use it (cable falls short by around 15cm)., It works well. The cable is soft and flexible. Secondary, I am a big fan of Sony and LG brands., Thirdly,as I have 4 year old kid at home I was so scared to spend money beyond 15k. Ofcourse at the first day sale for prime members when the Amazon great Indian festival started, I saw one Plus and Hisense A6H were priced at under 20k including bank offers and my favourite Sony 43inch was priced at 35k. But discarded Sony just bcz of expensive and scared if my kid whilst playing will break it. So I was continuously searching for budget friendly TVs like TCL, Redmi Nokia and Iffalcon but didn't like the 32 inch TV. Suddenly out of the blue on Thursday that is on 20 October I saw this blowing offer on Hisense Vivid 4K TV but scared to buy, but I felt offer was tempting so took the risk and bought it for 15,740/- (deal price 20,990... ICICI Bank credit card instant discount 5,250/-) so technically bought it for 15740/- so I felt worth the risk and bought it. On 22nd October TV was delivered to me and immediately I raised installation request and technician came on 23October and installed the TV.That's my journey from searching to installation.Now coming to initial impressions.1- Picture - I'd say being a VA Panel, I can clearly see blacks are not so deep they are bit of greyish kind, however, colours are not over saturated, I felt they are normal and when I looked at TV from sides I can clearly say it doesn't come near to IPS panel display. But, yeah for an average user like me it's sufficient.2- Remote- It's simple, major apps hotkeys are given. YT, Amazon prime video, Hotstar which is good. voice assistant is enabled. Simple and user friendly experience. It lacks hands free Google assistant.3- Sound- I personally felt if 30 Watts audio given in the TV it would have been great, but only 24watts given which is crisp and clear though I increased volume upto 70 to chk, but no distortions nothing it's clear dialogues and Bass, but if a soundbar is added it will be added advantage.4- UI- It comes with Android 9 it doesn't matter to me as I'm a very average user so runs the show for me, I hope Hisense sends the OTA update5-Now to the main point as u can see my pictures, I see specially in Amazon prime video app, on the blue screen there are some lines which I don't know whether it's problem with panel or application. Need to chk with Amazon customer service for the reason. If any user can help or enlighten me on this issue that would be super.6- Conclusion - Frankly speaking i bought this TV only bcz I got it almost under 15000(bought for 17520/- including extended warranty for 2+2 years) bcz even if some mishap happens when the kids playing it won't pinch me . So from my perspective i felt it's okay with some minor issues like sound. i just need to get clarity on that prime video issue. If that is sorted i will be happy.Happy Diwali to team.,I have bought this tv at 18,990.00 and at this price tag its a great purchase.picture quality is good not at par with sony or lg 4k tv but better than its rivals like mi redmi VU etc. VA Pannel works fine and gives good amount of blacks.Pros:Android TVSoundColourCons:Remote,Loved the picture quality,Average picture quality but ok for this price,Worth for the cost. Nice quality and clarity,Good,Good product,Good support team as unit reached within 11 hours installation done within time of installer called. Demo properly given. And company call also received in 3 days for confirmation of material delivery and installation done proper way .",<https://m.media-amazon.com/images/I/51Pu9zNUbtL. Searching in google did not help as this issue seem to be common with Samsung TVs but with no possible solution. So wanted to check if the firestick works in my computer monitor but the HDMI slot in the monitor was unreachable for a direct connection and hence bought this cable. The firestick worked well with monitor. What's even weirder is the firestick works fine when connected to the same Samsung TV using this cable. Problem solved, although no clue how the hell it got fixed :),The quality of this cable is quite good. Been using it for a couple of months now, to connect a laptop or a desktop to a Dell monitor. Picture quality for Full HD works fine along with sound output, not sure about 4K though since I don't have a 4K monitor. Price should be less than Rs. 250 which I paid. should be in the Rs. 100/- to Rs. 150/- considering the quality and other alternative products available in the brick and mortar stores. If you are willing to pay a bit extra then this is just fine.",https://m.media-amazon.com/images/I/41Rg-JkRGgL_SX300_SX300_QL70_FMwebp.jpg,https://www.amazon.in/AmazonBasics-Speed-Female-Extension-Cable/dp/B01D5H8ZT8/ref=sr_1_141?gclid=1672909130&s=electronics&sr=1-141&nB09X1M3DHX,iFFALCON 80 cm (32 inches) HD Ready Smart LED TV\xc2\xa032F53 (Black),"Electronics|HomeTheater,TV&Video|Televisions|SmartTelevisions", "\xe2\x82\xba99,999", "\xe2\x82\xba927,990" HD Ready (1366 x 768) | Refresh Rate: 60 hertz|Connectivity: 2 HDMI Ports to connect set top box | 1 USB ports to connect hard drives or other USB devices | IR Port to control connected devices like DVD / STB Players|Sound: 16 Watts Output | Powerful Speakers with Dolby Audio|Smart TV Features : Android R 11 |1 GB RAM | 8 GB ROM | Packed with amazing smart features such as Google Voice Search, Google App Store and Built-in Chromecast. Besides the air mouse and motion gestures everything else works absolutely fine.Also the lightweight remote and its form factor feels really nice and cozy in hands. However the buttons have no dots or rivets over its buttons which sometimes makes you forget which key you are pressing.Other than that its a great remote controller.,This product is good for work from my box TV,https://m.media-amazon.com/images/I/61XuQNA3jRL_SX88.jpg,After having my original magic remote go kaput, I was not sure if this remote would work on my 55inch LG smart TV. However, a huge relief, it works and works like a smooth operator using the keys. No need of any set up etc. It doesn't have voice or scroll button, but I anyways was not using that feature in my original magic remote, since that consumes batteries to a great extent forcing you to change batteries every 4 days. Don't waste money buying expensive ones, go for this.,Functionally very good, and it is a good replacement for the original remote, on which the power switch had stopped working. I haven't had to use most of the other functions.,Good performance,Cheap and best alternative for your lg remote. Magic mouse option is not there but works fine with my lg tv,Works as expected. With a flick of hand it might get bent as my last charging cord got to be so i had to buy this one. Something must be done about that., Very good worth the money, I had to replace the cable that I had recieved with my laptop. I opted Zoul and am highly satisfied by the cable. It's durable and works seamlessly., This is an amazing product from Zoul. I bought many other cables before from other brands but they didn't work that well. But this, I must say is the Best of all in terms of charging power, durability and sturdiness. Much Recommend!!, I've been using this cable for over 6 months with my Galaxy S22 it's been working flawlessly. Fast charging works as expected and the 2m length makes it convenient to use it in bed. Do not read another review., Nice product, From 0 to 70 \x02\x80\x92\x03\x80\x94 Good External Wifi Signal Provider, Superb, Awesome and easy to use, Good product", "I am using this on an old Mac Mini, since the Broadcom proprietary drivers aren't available and the replacement B43 drivers don't allow for sufficient download speeds, at least in my experience. I got this device up and running with Ubuntu 22.04 with Linux 5.15.0-56-generic. Google search for "morrownr/8821au-20210708" and use the driver on Github. I'm using the product "TP-Link AC600" btw. If you are using the other variant sold on Amazon, use lsusb and find out which network interface you are going to have to install drivers for. GIYF. I will admit, this is probably going to be hard for someone who is not generally comfortable with a shell, bash for example. But even though I had never used dkms or iw before, the Github repo along with the build tools available in the jammy repo made it easy enough to get the device working (read the Github Readme). To be sure I first got the drivers working in a local Ubuntu VM using Guest Additions to connect to the USB device directly from the guest OS, which also worked. Ultimately, I installed the OS on the host and setup the drivers using USB tethering. I then got the same download speed using this device I was previously getting on my other network interfaces on Windows and Mac, but now on Ubuntu. The device itself is a bit sensitive to the antenna direction when it comes to the impact on download speed. Have been using for about a month now without complaints., Do not go for reviews that say that it do not support kali. Me and some of my friends all are using it for Wi-Fi hacking and it works really well, it also supports monitor mode. If you are having issues in connecting it to your Kali machine then just go through the web surf a bit and you will find relevant articles on how to connect this TP link adapter to your kali machine. There is also a driver of realtek which you might need to install to make it work in your kali machine. I have given it 4 stars just because the performance is not good as the Alpha adapters which is reasonable for this range of price but in this range and for as a beginner it is the best adapter you can buy., Nice product. Working fine. My PC is now 5G Price is too high so giving 4 star, Got the Wi-Fi in one of the rooms from 0 to 70%. Has been working well since a month now. Good alternative to a repeater if only a single device needs to access the Wi-Fi from a corner., The product is very nice and have good Wifi signal. Using this for over a month now, no complain. But when it for the first time, you need to install the driver on your desktop/laptop from the TP link website to make it operational, which is not very well explained in the manual., This product is very good, I have buy this product because my laptop don't\x02\x80\x92\x03\x80\x94 support wifi 5ghz band, in 2.5 ghz I receive 30-40Mbps speed only but my broadband plan is 150Mbps. 1. Easy to use plug and play windows 102. Good signal i am using another room from router no signal drop , I receive full signal. 3. Little bit expensive but go with this because of good signal. 4. I receive 170Mbps + download and 110Mbps upload speed on 5ghz and my broadband plan is 150Mbps. I highly recommend this product., i purchase this product for company use and this is a very good product.", https://m.media-amazon.com/images/W/WEBP_402378-T1/images/I/21jLkYGoSEL_SX300_SY300_QL70_FMwebp_.jpg, https://www.amazon.in/TP-LINK-T3U-Wireless-MU-MIMO-Supports/dp/B0859M539M/ref=sr_1_160?qid=1672909131&s=electronics&sr=1-160&nB08RX8G496, "LRIPL Mi Remote Control with Netflix & Prime Video Button Compatible for Mi 4X LED Android

When held, it doesn't give off that cheap and flimsy product-like feeling. It is good sturdy with its build quality.Packaging:This part is also a big plus as the item was well cushioned and packaged with all the necessary items that ensured that no damage could have been caused to the product during transportation. This ensures that I as a customer have received something not damaged internally already.Software:This is actually good but not great part with the product.The good part is that a CD has been provided with it along with a manual.The not great part is that NO LINUX SUPPORT has been given from Version 2 onwards. This is bad, really.Speed:It easily supports net speeds upto 300 Mbps. Practically speaking, I have tested it at my home and it easily supports net speed of over 100-150 Mbps without a sigh.On testing I found that it did connect to 5GHz network, without any issue.Connectivity:Please mark its not feet its metres. Multiply metres x 3 to get the distance in feet.It easily connects to my laptop or phone from 7 metres across one room. So thats 21 feet. I mean even our old bluetooth used to connect to about 15 ft.So 20-25 feet is not at all an issue with this. This is the big plus I found with the product.Experience:From this point of view, so far except the linux non-compatibility issue, I found no other flaws with this product.So overall its a great product.Warranty:Its 3 years so I am assured that atleast for 3 years I am tension-free and not just 1 year, contrary to most electronic items today that only provide 1 year warranty with their items.,Best adapter I have bought ever. Works nicely seamless connectivity", <https://m.media-amazon.com/images/T/31Wh+A3VVdl. SY300 SX300 .img>, <https://www.amazon.in/TP-Link-TL-WN722N-150Mbps-Wireless->

The picture quality is good and the streaming capabilities are convenient. The user interface is easy to navigate, although it did take me a little bit of time to get used to it.However, I do have a few issues with the TV. The sound quality is not the best and I have noticed some lag when switching between apps. These issues do not significantly impact my viewing experience, but they are worth mentioning.Despite these issues, I would still give the Kodak TV 3 stars out of 5. It is a decent TV for the price, but there are certainly better options out there. I was offered an additional 3 months of warranty if I wrote a review, but I am not particularly interested in extending the warranty at this time.It is not appropriate or ethical to write a false or misleading review in exchange for incentives, such as an extended warranty or other perks. Doing so goes against Amazon\'s guidelines and can lead to consequences for both the customer and the company.It is important to be honest and transparent in your reviews and to only write about your genuine experiences with a product. This helps other customers make informed decisions about their purchases and ensures that the review system remains fair and trustworthy.If you are not satisfied with the Kodak TV or do not feel comfortable giving it a high rating, it is perfectly okay to give it a lower rating or to not write a review at all. It is always better to be honest and genuine in your reviews, rather than attempting to manipulate the system for personal gain.,Issues with chrome casting,I did not believe such a good feature would be available at this price. I liked the feature of supporting the Ethernet port and earphone jack.,Kodak tv,For the amount being charged, this is a acceptable TV.The Kodak 7XPRO model is same as Thomson 9A series.Despite being 32"" big, this was lighter than my previous Bravia 18"" TV and easily mounted to the previous wall-mount. Note: The wall mount holes are plastic and dont have any metal insert.The remote sensor is separate module projecting from the underside of the TV and does not look integrated with the main body.The two USB ports are side by side which dont interfere with each other.The Audio out port is a good feature if one wants to watch TV without disturbing others.When i first connected the TV to my set-top box over HDMI, there was only picture and no sound.The person at the service center whose number is listed on the TV\'s warranty card said that they dont support this and i need to call the TV manufacturer. so much for printing a service center number on warranty card.This was fixed after changing the HDMI CEC settings in the set-top box (not TV\'s fault).There is no user-manual given with the TV. most people, based on their experience with phone should be able to ultimately figure out the connections. The only included leaflet-book (whose pages were all stuck together) talks about the Android menu, There is no info on the TV\'s input jacks (like what the HDMI ARC stands for).I got multiple calls after the purchase to enquire about delivery and if i needed installation.As i already had a previous wall mount on which this could get attached with no hassles, I opted out of installation service.,All is wellllll,Good tv,Picture quality is very good",https://m.media-amazon.com/images/I/41ZptRPWCPL_SY300_SX300_QL70_FMwebp.jpg,https://www.amazon.in/Kodak-Inches-Certified-Android-32HDX7XPRO/dp/B08CS3BT4L/ref=sr_1_163?qid=1672909131&s=electronics&sr=1-163&nB00RFWNJMC,Airtel DigitalTV DTH Remote SD/HD/HD Recording Compatible for Television (Shining Black),"Electronics|HomeTheater,TV&Video|Accessories|RemoteControls", "\x2\x82\xB9195, \x2\x82\xB9499,61%,3.7, "1,383" with SD and HD Recording,"AGD2H2SMDLQK62MH7BFWQ2INBP2A,AELIUKITTHS3MSGTSB3B3YCAUMQO,AHPYAYHROR03DMJ7DSUHSGBLDBQ,AENIRZYQ7D6LI SINGH,kapil,Amazon Customer,M.V.SUBBA RAJU,A.KANAKAYYA,Divyaj,Sachin Tiwari, Samriti garg", "R2RV2M8NMHN3R6,R39R9NAW42YGZ7,R1P3SC4CEA50V1,R3KY61SBMDJ6HG,R1BGEH7KGHJ9CN,RDTNEEMI8KL00, RMYMTG7HATYTR,R: product,Not bad,WORKING WITH Airtel DTH,Good,Ok not bad,This was so old,Not bad !,Worst product","Value of money,Usually gd,Good Product,Good,Quality is poor and response is late,This it what you\'ve been looking for I guess,Quality is okk , not bad it all but it\'s body is not proper tight or fixed.,The product is of poor quality and seems like duplicate. Tested on the Samsung 45watt charger and it worked fine for the phone, tried the same on charger on laptop for PD charging, though it charged the laptop but the cable point does heat up quite a bit. So there are chances that if a 100 watt charger is used, it may heat up a lot. Overall the cord is well make, very sturdy and the materials indicate that this cord will be very very durable. The price would could have been on the lower side due to heating otherwise its a good buy., Good for buy, Like it, I got this for my samsung s10 lite and it is compatible with super fast charger and charged my phone in Super fast charge mode. The TV uses WebOS. its snappy. its so so feature rich. The magic remote is amazing. It supports Samsung Smartview and DEX out of the box which means without any internet and wifi etc you can directly cast your screen. Super handy. The sound quality is just so so great for the price. The Remote gets synced with the Airtel DTH and there is dual band support. The HDR gets detected and auto upscaled for Full HD contents in the Hotstar and Netflix. The only cons I find is the power usage which is 100Watt and the smart assistant is pretty useless. The WebOS btw has all essential apps. About VU: Installation is done same day. i cant comment on the durability and future support now. Yes, it is a native 1080p led projector. Connected this to my desktop computer and tested also. Dont bother trying to play videos from USB. Quality is bad. But when connected to right streaming or display source thru hdmi, it is actually quite good. I mean picture quality, colours, brightness etc for a sub 10k projector. In this department this projector can easily compete with many projectors in sub 15k ranges. Sound is also pretty much okay, loud enough more like boat 5w speakers, may be a bit more louder not good quality wise. Quitr workable as portable solution, but not for a permanent setup. Audio output to my studio headphones are pretty decent quality wise and loud also. Meaning 2.1 speakers can be connected to it, for a higher setup, person has to figure out to separate the audio at the source itself. From 9ft and 3-4 inches distance of lens to wall, we can get exactly 100 inch (87 inch x 49 inch) projection. So, it can be called as short throw projector, albiet may be border level. There is an option to reduce the screen size upto 75% of original size electronically once connected to HDMI. Keystone correction is not usable at all. That wheel has to be exatly in middle position to get a good focus on whole screen. That means one has to setup the projector or screen at a fixed location. Can not lilt the projector to move screen up or down and then adjust with keystone correction. I. e if you want to keep the projector screen at lower levels, projector also has to fixed at lower levels only. Best focus can be get, when projecting exactly oppsite to the projector probably 5 to 6 inch above, so if we flip the projector upside down, we get best focus opposite to center a few inches down. For my setup, where projecting only 1.5 feet above from the floor, going to use a wall mount to setup the projector upside down, this way i can fix the projector a bit more above/behind the sofa. I will post the pics later, once it is setup properly. Now the verdict - this projector with a combination of reflective projector screen(look it up on amazon electron or minago brand) is one of most vfm combo for approx 11k for experiencing a very bright 100 inch screen experience of good quality for 1 or 2 person. But now that im considering buying one of those expensive fixed frame alr projector screens costing upward of 15k to 30k, im thinkg it would have been better if i could have invested a bit more on a brighter projector(look only ANSI value). This buy was more of an impulse purchase, but it is more then good enough for me now to make me consider much costlier projector screens and then later upgrade to a high end projector. Edit: the biggest drawback of this projector is that dust gets inside on lcd panel, which impacts the clarity also after a few days. I had to clean the panel myself just after 1.5 month. New lesson learnt, apart from high ansi lumen projector, this is also an important factor for future purchase. Planning to get a custom cloth cover made, so that i dont have to clean it often. Though, Lcd cleaning can be done pretty easily without much opening and its easier compared to youtube videos i have seen for previous model. Somehow lens did not get any dust inside yet. Only the lcd has very very fine dust particles inside., Quality is good, value for Money. Bluetooth Connectivity is smooth and fast. The sound quality of the Projector is not so great but that we had already considered before. Hotstar App really works nicely with great quality, and so does Youtube. Netflix & Prime video doesn't give the same quality initially, but that must be wifi connection. Some apps however don't get installed, or just close on their own. The good point is the Bluetooth connection, and even we have added a Bluetooth soundbar, so moving it and putting it in any room has become a really good option. This is indeed a fantastic product in this price range. it is non android so you need to add an amazon fire stick or some other source device through HDMI. Needless to say the brightness is pretty good for dark environments and is also watchable during day i.e. if you can cover up your windows and other light sources. Screen spread is Almost up to 120 inch at a throw distance of 13 to 1 feet with the sharpness more or less intact. Converts 4K to 1080P. Will recommend a tripod mount or a custom made mount like mine. ensure that the walls are white for best image / video reproduction. Definitely recommended at this price point. Cons Only vertical Keystone correction available, Projector is good so far as it used for last 3 days. May revisit the feedback after a couple of months., I bought this projector for my classroom and it's very helpful for their studies. Now students connect themselves more to the world. I feel it's a value for money product as I have already used it for last two months., If u r looking for a home entertainer projector look no further..... THIS IS IT.....!! BEST IN PRICE, GOOD PICTURE QUALITY, BRIGHTNESS AND A DECENT REMOTE WITH GOOD FUNCTIONALITY... As always premium buyers avoid as these r for normal home with normal needs... Very good for family get together, movie nights and kids will be awe struck at its enormity... I've canceled my dth connection Coz AMAZON PRIME TV STICK WITH THIS PROJECTOR IS ALL I NEED... THAT'S ALL THE TIME I HAVE FOR WATCHING TV AMIDST MY WORK AND THEY DO THE JOB WELL... An entertaining night after a busy day n you will be done satisfied... Any queries ping me I'll help u as much as i can... Don't worry abt specs and other details takeit from a family man, it will satisfy all ur needs, be it surfing, movies or gaming and with fire tv stick mirroring is possible too... Hope it helps... UPDATE AFTER 4 MONTHS - 4HRS/DAY USAGE : The pic uploaded was by noon 1pm with dark screens... HI, THIS WAS A REPLY TO A CUSTOMER TO HELP CHOOSE BETWEEN EGATE I9 N UC 68 & 46, BUT I THOUGHT IF THIS WAS PUT UP IN UPDATE SECTION A LOT WOULD BENEFIT SO HERE IT GOES... First u need to be clear on ur purpose for this projector like if it's for offic use or home entertainment, also u didn't mention its source like dth or fire tv stick etc... since u have not i'll go with a general review for purposes... IT'S GOING TO BE A VERY DETAILED REVIEW SO GUYS WITH OUT PATIENCE CAN RUN TO THE END AT ONCE...!! I too had a similar confusion based on competition for egate i9 from uc 68 & 46... Let me tell u what helped me decide... First n foremost egate is an Indian company unlike uc which is a common Chinese product with a namesake brand UC (confirmed it with my friend in China)... Hence service n general trust is more on egate than competition... Secondly, from fellow customers, I've learnt that egate is brighter than the rest two... Thirdly, the images are sharp and there's no blur on text on egate compared to the other two... Just learn to adjust the keystone properly... Fourth, the length of the power cord is longer in egate... Fifth, it's got a lens cover to close the lens when not in use... The others don't have it... Now in general I've not used the other two but the input of data for the other two are from their users, so I'm gonna tell u wat I've done n wat else u can do with egate... I've placed it at a length of 15 feet from the screen n it gives awesome display... Connect a 2.1 /5.1 home speaker system if u r trying for home theatre effect but the inbuilt speaker is good enuf at 2/3 feet projection from the end of ur bed with kids sleeping around...I\ve connected my SECOND FIRE TV Stick, with it so it connects to Wi-Fi for movies n serials n mirroring is done by it for playing from mobiles n game too like cod n pubg n FF... Also u have connectivity for laptop n pendrive etc...U get a remote which functions well along with it...MOST IMPORTANTLY, U CAN CEILING MOUNT IT OR TRIPOD IT TOO WHICH THE OTHER TWO CANT... BUT remember if u r ceiling mounting it u need to flip the display by 180° in the settings coz u would mountbit upside down as the option is provided under the projector but for tripod it\ s not necessary...Also u can place the projector behind the screen LIKE AN ACTUAL THEATRE IF U R USING A CLOTH SCREEN LIKE ME N CONSTRAINT OF SPACE, BUT REMEMBER TO FLIP THE IMAGE FROM RIGHT TO LEFT IN SETTINGS AS THE PROJECTOR IS BEHIND THE SCREEN N U NEED TO GET A 90° FLIPPED IMAGE FROM BEHIND...so I guess it\ s the 3d part that made ur decision murky, wat I would love to say for that is I\ve a Samsung 3d enabled smart tv n I\ve seen the output of these kind of cheap 3d devices too, since its a low cost projector 3d effects are going to give u a headache coz of pixelation better to opt for a TV if 3d is a priority, as in TV the 3d effects r awesome... But nowadays u can install an APP IN ANY DEVICE to watch 3d movies or better download a 3d movie in pendrive n play it n watch it with ur 3d glasses... My friends do it but I DON\ T...VERDICT : ""BEST PROJECTOR IN MARKET IN MY OPINION FOR THE PRICE AND HOME ENTERTAINMENT PURPOSE""NOTE : FOR AMAZON PRIME N NETFLIX USERS, IF U R USING A 2.1 AUDIO OUTPUT SOMETIMES U MIGHT NOT GET AUDIO SO DONT GET WORRIED N ITS NOTHING WRONG WITH THE PROJECTOR ITS JUST THAT THE LATEST MOVIES ARE MADE WITH DOLBY 5.1 SOUND SO JUST USE THE ON SCREEN SETTING IN THE VIDEO TO NAVIGATE TO SOUND N CHOOSE STEREO FROM THE DEFAULT DOLBY OPTION & VOILA U R DONE...!!HOPE IT HELPS, PING ME FOR ANY DOUBTS...HIT LIKE, IF MY REVIEW WAS USEFUL...!!!,As per money it\ s bestBut if you are fan of pictures qualityThink about budget",https://m.media-amazon.com/images/W/WEBP_402378-T1/images/I/51DhRNTyo0L_SX300_SX300_QL70_FMwebp.jpg,https://www.amazon.in/Support-Display-Projector-Connectivity-E03i31/dp/B08821YWBC/ref=sr_1_176?qid=1672909133&s=electronics&sr=1-176\nB07VSG5SXZ,"ZEBRONICS HAA2021 HDMI version 2.1 cable with 8K @ 60Hz, 4K @ 120Hz, eARC & CEC support, 3D compatible, 2 meters length, 48Gbps max and Gold-plated connectors", "Electronics|HomeTheater,TV&Video|Accessories|Cables|HDMICables",\xe2\x82\x9637,\xe2\x82\x9691,499' quality HDMI (Male - Male) cable with 2-meter length and gold plated connectors for durable and rust-free usage|Supporting 8K video resolution with 60Hz refresh rate and 4K video resolution with 120Hz refresh rate.|Latest HDMI version 2.1 with 48Gbps data transfer rate support for the most efficient & lossless data transfer.|Suitable for various input devices such as Smart TV, Computers, Laptops, PlayStation, Gaming console, HD TV boxes, etc|Compatible with Soundbars, Speakers, Audio systems, etc., with the HDMI eARC & HDMI ARC connectivity. Have been using it since and it works neat. The cable is tough due to its braided nature., Overall good for usage, not faced any quality issues. C point section is also good to fit properly in mobile. You can go for it., Most expensive cable I have ever purchased. Probably the best cable too. Giving 1 star less for the premium pricing. I bought this as the long cables don't work well with Android Car. This works very well. Go for it if you have to connect with Android Auto., Short review: This eliminates a need to wrap long cables around the handlebar when the phone is mounted on it for navigation. Compact and powerful. Best suited for motorcycle mobile mounts and powerbanks. [Price bought at: \x2\x82\x9309]

Long review: I used to wrap long charging cables around the handle bar so that it won't come in the way while turning. After being fed up of wrapping cables to handlebars, I wanted something short just to sit there and charge device and clear the clutter on motorcycle handle. This is just what I wanted. I have a Mobile mount that looks like BOBO gears jaw grip mount from local stores and that delivers 5v ~2.4A. Tried few cables from local stores and they either die or doesn't charge the device enough when it is in use. Even when the device is not in use, the charging rate used to be low. That is when I have decided to give this one a try as I was always hesitant that \x2\x82\x9300+ for a short cable is too high. Now I am pretty happy with the purchase that it can fetch the complete charging capacity of the mobile charger and deliver it to the device. I did a 400kms roundtrip and this has been a saviour. I am yet to check if the claimed QC3.0 is true but at least it serves the purpose on my motorcycle handlebar so I have no complaints. I will update when I get a chance to test that. Coming to the design and quality, the braided cable looks rugged and the metal connectors feel solid. As I am going to use it only on the motorcycle, I am sure I will put it through some abuse and I can comment on the same when I revisit this review for updates. Durability: I will have to use it more and update this review on the durability perspective, as my first Wayona dash charge cable I used for Oneplus 6 died in 3 months. But thankfully it was replaced under warranty. That shows how good the support is from Wayona team. I only had to record that the cable died and doesn't charge any more and they too that video as evidence to replace the product. Verdict: If you are looking for a short cable for mobiles on or for charging devices from powerbanks, I would definitely recommend this cable., Data transfer is quite fast, and also, compatible with my QC adapter., Good, Excellent... Accurate to my use apparatus., Good value, Till now i had purchased about 20 cables both micro and c type for myself and my family in this last one year. Its all because this brand wins my trust by providing great quality with reasonable price, na, tested with 2.4 amps charger and phone. gives full 2.4 amps power to phone. the cable LOOKS thick and it has nice texture. despite that, i am sure it is not very durable. the usb connectors are extremely sturdy and they don't bend or flex. the wire will break before the connector does!! warning: usb micro connector has a strong hook. be careful while plugging and unplugging, or you may damage your device. very cheap and usable cable for 120 rs, Super power, Nice product., In this price this is the best one", <https://m.media-amazon.com/images/I/41agXfr4tqL. quality despite being a long cable which is a good feature of it, nice product for rough user. I have been using this in my car since day one & it has taken all the weathering. Good product, zero hassles, zero complaint. Go for it! Nice product. Good and convenient product for those who don't want long dangling wires from their power banks. But if we maintain minimum distance picture looks so sharp and black levels look great. And other thing TV's colour reproduction is not that great compared to IPS screens. But in this price it is a good deal. There is definitely lag in tv software and remote control. In the start i have bluetooth connection issue but after formatting tv problem was solved. This tv have sound bar and it's sounds great compared to other tv brands especially in this price range. I will recommend this tv if you want to buy this 32 inch S series tv., Writing review after 1.5 month use overall good but it become little slow when we install apps rest everything is fine. I liked it and i think you also love it if your budget is in this range., First fall I was take as buy a acer tv, then I have fear because acer tv is new brand and if any problem with tv serving. But after purchased and using my fear was goes. Because tv functions is good. And warranty also available., Overall its a good product, some times it lags and once it got auto restarted. but company has lied to customers with that there is 16 gb of space in the TV which is not there still i like the picture and sound quality, I am very happy when I order this tv. I have purchased it on Diwali. When we start to use this tv, we found that to use the cromeecast feature I need to install a third party app which is not support to my mobile phone (samsung M21). I am very disappointed now for this feature but what can i do now. It has good and loud sound system. My overall experience is not meet to my expectations., I regret not having gotten a larger size. So i have ordered this from amazon. This is an amazing product which is working totally fine till now.Only problem is they do not instruct that you have to plug this in usb 3.0 port to receive 5g speed. It will receive only 4g on usb 2.0.. over all best product and nice range,Good,I am using this product for the last couple of months now. It was really easy to install and easy to use. My laptop is an old one and is not compatible with 5Ghz bandwidth, hence I had to look for a Wifi adapter and I stumbled upon this and I don't regret buying it. It is working as per my expectation and I am able to utilize the 5Ghz network on my laptop now. A must-buy for anyone having an issue with 5Ghz bandwidth. It's a lifesaver.,I used to have wifi6 on my laptop, now I\\xe2\\x80\\x99m using this dongle with wifi5 and frankly, I did not notice a difference.,I just connect with my iPhone hotspot to pc nd it\\xe2\\x80\\x99s so nice very fast,Hello guys I bought this product from Amazon and it was a very fast delivery as It was easy installation less than two Minutes it gives the best signal of 5G and 4G so it won\\xe2\\x80\\x99t be hassle to install it\\xe2\\x80\\x99s the product for guys who don\\xe2\\x80\\x99t have Wi-Fi adapters in the systems. The technician brought a cheap hanging hook that had MRP INR116 on it and asked for INR499 for it without any receipt. He kept telling that it was not for sale and company had sent this specially. However, it clearly had MRP mentioned on it2. I went to market and bought a much better cabinet for just INR200 and for installation of that as well, technician was really adamant to drill the two required holes on top. He just drilled one on top and one on bottom and kept all the other spare screws (which I had bought) with him. After about half an hour of arguments, he finally drilled the other required holes. And for all this, he kept cussing me that I wasted his time. There was no assistance from the person who represented the service agency as well.This whole process took me two hours to complete that too with lots of arguments. This was the worst installation experience in my life so far.Bottomline – Please do not avail the 'so called free' installation service from Amazon. It is just a scam. Instead call the acer support. They will do the job much better.,After using it for 2 months, here are it's pros and cons:Pros :1. Great picture quality. It's awesome.2. Blacks are very good and is adjustable.3. Sound with 30db is very good4. Looks great with thin bezel5. Remote comes with favorite OTT buttons.6. Content upscaling is very good.Cons:1. Remote could have been better. Can't use DTH remote to turn on both television and set top box.2. Remote operation is bit complex.3. Motion technology not great. There is a noticeable blur when watching moving ballson OTT, but it decreases when you switch to DTH.Overall, it's a nice buy at this price point. I think I am getting fairly better picture quality and sound. I am satisfied with the product.,Product has good picture quality. Good product at that price with 25w sound. Applications running smoothly. 3 months older & no issues yet. It's running smoothly.,You get decent features for the price you pay. Screen resolution might be. Set back as you may find pixilation. Overall it's good,I am amazed with the picture quality of this 720p (HD Ready) TV. It is truly an amazing panel. I found it suitable for a viewing distance of between 6 to 10 feet. Any nearer it may not look very crisp and any farther, it will feel like a very small size. The speakers are also very good for the price and can get very loud without any distortions. However, since the speaker is downward firing, the experience will vary based on whether the TV is wall mounted or kept on a stand The remote is good voice search works

Good,Why is the installation guy asking for installation charge?,Good Budget Tv,Good TV but after using it for 9 days, has found a flaw","I got this for 6k. At this price point, I believe the TV provides decent quality. You shouldn't expect amazing quality anyway from a 1366x768 screen resolution. The audio is also okay. Beyond 50 the audio starts cracking.From a viewing distance of 6-8ft the quality looks good.PLEASE NOTE: you will STRUGGLE quite a bit to directly add a firestick to the HDMI port. They have given some other ports right next to the HDMI ports because of which the firestick doesn't have proper space to fit properly unless you really shove it in there. My suggestion is to get an HDMI extender for it.Overall, I'd say, for a small room, it's a 7/10.,Value for money, Satisfied with the product till now,This Led tv low budget Good \xf0\x9f\x91\x8d Performance but picture & audio not good,https://m.media-amazon.com/images/W/WEBP_402378-T2/images/I/610vXYP2McL_SX88.jpg,Good,Tv is great but the installation guy asked me for 400\xe2\x82\xb9 paid installation... Misleading information but again for this price it's good tv. Don't pay installation guy you can do it yourself,,I will give it 4 stars out of 5. I bought this 32 inch VW at 6150 after discounts. Picture quality and sound quality is good.I added firestick to it and it voila became smart tv. The connections to attach these usbs are at the bottom part of the tv which is slightly different from other tvs.So far, working as it should.Revising this after 9 days, the tv is not responding to switch off button. This is happening more when i watch the tv for a few hours and then when i switch off the tv with the firestick remote, the yellow colour indicator down below does not turn red, instead it remains yellow. As far as screen is concerned, the tv's screen changes to black whitish, seems to me that the tv goes into hibernation or sleep mode. This is a fault of the tv as a normal tv should swith off completely and the indicator should turn red. i have called technician tomorrow and if he checks and if he agrees, then i should get a replacement as i got still 2 days time to replace it.Just a helping note for people buying this tv: if you are going to connect firestick to it, as it asks for the brand name of the tv, you can select VU and it will perfectly work on your firestick. Samsung is always good,Value for money product","Before finalizing the AUE60 55", I visited Croma and Vijay Sales to check for the same TV or similar models for their features and picture quality. I was told AUE60 & AUE70(the models listed here as Crystal 4K and 4K Pro) are E-commerce exclusive models, not available offline. I was shown AU7700 which has the same processor, panel and features, but was listed at 65K for the 55" version. I liked the picture quality, and decided I'll get the AUE60 since it shares so much with AU7700, and save ~20k.Why I went for AUE60 vs. AUE70 - I knew I wouldn't be needing a voice assistant, and wanted to save 3k. I knew even if I wanted a voice assistant, I could plug in Fire TV/Mi TV box and get those features later on. Delivery was pretty hassle free, the delivery executive unloaded the TV in the room I asked for, and opened the box to inspect the TV for any physical damages. Samsung technicians came in a few hours later, installed and gave a demo.Sound:Per other reviews - sound from speakers is apparently bad, but in my case, I found it satisfactory. I have it wall mounted in a 10x12ft room, and the TV's speakers sound better compared to Bose Soundlink Speakers that I connected it to via Bluetooth.Picture:The Panel's great, but nothing worth raving about. Gray uniformity isn't great(i.e. gray tones won't be perfectly uniform across the whole panel, there'll be darker zones towards the edges/corners based on backlight placement). Blacks aren't perfectly black - and they're brighter than you'd expect from a VA panel, but this isn't noticeable at all when the room is lit. No backlight bleed. Colors are as good as I'd like them to be, and the panel does get noticeably bright for my taste, even when brightness is turned down to 40%. 720p content is watchable from >8ft, 1080p is good(I'd say better than I expected), and 4K is well, 4K.Connectivity:I have a 35 Mb/s broadband connection and all content streams in 4K when available, without stutters. The TV has Bluetooth 5.0, and works with TWS and Neckband earphones fine(I use Oppo Enco W51 and Boat Rockerz 330) - there's no noticeable latency, and volume can be controlled through the remote itself.Apps & Features:Has all the standard slew of streaming apps I needed - Netflix, Hotstar, Prime, Apple TV+ & YouTube. All of them stream 4k content, except for Hotstar - which only streamed 4K a few times. 1080p is still very watchable, and not really a deal breaker. No Dolby Vision support - which I made my peace with considering the fact that 99% of budget TVs in the market can't produce the contrast you'd expect out of DV content anyways, so why care. You get HDR, and HDR content is definitely better looking than non-HDR ones in terms of colors and vibrancy. I planned to use the TV without cable, but the TV does come with some channels like Republic TV, Bloomberg, 9XM, etc., these stream in 1080p, so a great bonus to have.Remote:Very basic RF remote, unlike Bluetooth ones on most new TVs. The remote's looks pretty sleek and stylish, but that's about it. Biggest gripe - typing to search for things within apps is a pain in the behind, you'll need to use the D-pad to navigate on an on-screen keyboard. You can control the TV using Samsung's SmartThings App, but guess what - you can't even use your phone's keyboard to type in when controlling through the app - this is something that can be added through an update, but it's not there yet.Attached pictures are all of 4K content. Resolution might get scaled down after I submit the review, but you can still get an idea of the TV's design/looks, Panel colors and contrast, etc.I'd say I'm really happy - and given the chance, wouldn't change my decision. It's a Samsung TV, so end of the day, if it produces a decent picture, and lasts a couple of years more than I expect, I can overlook all other cons. I'd highly recommend the TV if you have the same expectations from your next TV.,,Placed order on 18th Dec'22 received Defective product, updated to Amazon service they replaced with new product today(27/12/22).will post long term review.Pros: Picture Quality, Design (thin n Bezel less)Cons: Sound (bit okay),upsaciling of SD channelsOver all Satisfied.,Have been using it since month now.-Picture quality is amazing. 4.5/5-As always installation service from Samsung was seamless. 5/5-smart features are good this model don't have voice recognition. I don't require it so its fine. 4/5-Audio quality is not good. It's clear but loudness is not sufficient if installing in big hall. Purchased on 17 July 2019, dash charge STOPPED WORKING on 15 September 2019... Within 2 MONTHS... BUT.... When I contacted them on the given WhatsApp number, they right away sent me a new cable the very next day.... 5 stars for keeping the promise and professionalism.... ----- First purchase review: Writing after 6 months of usage... Everything happened as expected and written below after purchase... After 5-6 months, Cable stopped PC connectivity.... Then after a month it started showing problems in charging... It used to charge in one position only, and charging used to stop with little movement... Finally had to replace it with new one after 6-7 months.... Since the price is now reduced to 300, so I will say good product in this price... Not long lasting... If you want a reliable, long lasting, long length cable, go for original from oneplus showroom.... ----- (Initial review written just after purchase) Yes, it supports dash charge, and no heating issues... (Using it since 3 days). One NEGATIVE point is short length... It is 1 meter long ... Original cable is 1.5 meters... So it is difficult to use my phone while charging.... Other NEGATIVE point I can figure out is that cable is really hard... In my experience hard cables break more often than soft pliable ones... It is not easy to put a hard cable in my bag without putting strain on it (for daily commute to office)... this makes them to break easily before time.... Hard cables are also not easy to use when the mobile is charging... It puts strain on both the points, the charger side and mobile side, which again makes it vulnerable to cracks... This raises a question on longevity of the cable.... Let\'s do some calculations.... My original OnePlus cable lasted for 2 years, cost of which at present is Rs.1100.... it was soft, easy to bend and keep in my bag while traveling daily for work.... The Rs.1100 cable online is 1.5 meters long, which makes it easy to work on phone while it is plugged.... Popio cable costs Rs.400 at present (but they show it 999, which means price may rise) ... So, even if it lasts for 6-8 months, it will be more costly to me than an original cable in 2 years... Popio cable is 1 meter long, against 1.5 meters of original cable... So effective price of popio cable is Rs.500 for 1.5 meter cable... Popio cable is 1 meters long against 1.5 meters of original cable... Which makes it not easy to use the phone while it is charging.... Using a short cable while charging puts strain on the cable and phone\'s charging port, which is damaging for both, and also decreases life of both the cable and charging port.... They say you have to consider cost while writing review... But you should also consider cost on long run, not just the immediate cost.... .. So, if u are thinking of changing your phone in coming future and don\'t want to spend too much on cable, Popio is the best option available.... But, if you are looking for a long term solution, and you can afford to buy Rs.1100 cable, I will suggest to go for the original one.... It has more length, it is soft, and it lasts longer with moderate use.... I ordered this cable for 330/- in the sale yesterday. When i plugged in the cable it wasn\'t charging Rapidly on my OnePlus. But then immediately i booked for a replacement cable which arrived this morning and i plugged it in and voila! ""Charging Rapidly "" Thankful, 2nd purchase review.... Also, i use my Ipad primarily for gaming, so it is almost always connected to my pc while gaming.So, i needed a really sturdy cable, that could charge, sync and and feel good while doing it.And this cable does the job perfectly!!It is sturdy. My ipad has taken a few drops my table and was saved my this cable. Even after 3 months of daily abuse, this cable has no signs of wear and tear.The charge speed is the same as the original apple cable. And so is the sync speed.One thing this cable does better than the original cable is the connection quality. It hardly ever accidentally breaks the connection while moving around too much, which was a problem with my original cable.I'm very satisfied with the purchase and i even have a spare one in case of an emergency.,Quality cable material. It feels durable. Charges my iPhone just fine. Thanks Amazon.,,The product is good, build quality is good and does what's said in the description of the product. But it stopped working within 6 months of usage. The TV is still going strong - all the good points mentioned in the original review below are still true and very happy with the TV.It's as if OnePlus have been listening to their customers! After recent firmware updates, the issues I had mentioned have almost disappeared.1. We can now arrange and move apps (YouTube, Netflix) as per our wish on the home screen itself. I am finally able to put YouTube first as it is the most used app for my toddler.2. There is no more wifi disconnect issue noted earlier.3. Prime Video still shows errors sometimes. Though I think that's an issue with the app and not the TV.Strongly recommend this TV!Original Review:I took a leap of faith in purchasing this TV as there were mixed reviews for it. However, after using it for 2 months, the following are my observations:Good:1. The picture quality is fantastic. There is no lag while watching/forwarding 4k/8k videos.2. I saw a youtube review which said its brightness was low compared to other models - The brightness is more than you would ever need from a TV. I have never needed to run it on full brightness till now, up to 40 works for me. For my toddler to watch rhymes, I set brightness to 0, and even then it is more than needed.3. There were a few reviews that said the sound quality was average and you need a soundbar. I disagree - I have watched movies with up to 50 sound and that is good enough for a 1000 sqft hall.4. Voice command - it is quite accurate and I am able to change nursery rhymes for my toddler while working in the kitchen which is around 15 - 20 feet away.5. Being able to control the TV from app is also a very useful feature - no need to look for remote. Being able to cast from the app also helps a lot. It would be even better if everything on phone (not just pictures and videos) could be cast using the appNot so good:1. If the TV goes to sleep/screensaver for more than 10 minutes,a. it often gets disconnected from wifi - have to restart it againb. prime video fails to resume - displays error - and have to restart the TV againc. On the home screen, you cannot rearrange apps to have your preferred apps first. You can do it in apps window which is useless as you need to navigate to it first - easier to navigate to your preferred app in the home screen itself. 2. In case of 11, not just first row, but also looks blurry which was

preferred app in the home screen itself.,only cons till now got, fast moving object looks blurrr, which was known before buying by other user review, but i got this tv in 32 k,Ao over all satisfied,Only minus that too critical is the installation service provider.The product is to be installed by v care installation services provider.The installation service provider is a total waste and not responded properly.Actual date of installation was on 21.02.22 but was only done by the service provider on 27.10.22.The executive who attended the installation is a total waste person and don't know how to behave to the customer.He behaved very rudely.The installation service provider is a total damage and waste. Not at all worth.,,Awesome quality of pictures and some issues with smart features like in app installation and in connection from smart phone only audio player in work properly but video not show in tv.,Dolby atom 4 k video etc,Good,Good",https://m.media-amazon.com/images/I/41BaZZ48wJS_SX300_SY300_QL70_FMwebp_.jpg,[https://www.amazon.in/OnePlus-138-7-inches-Android-55U1S/dp/B095JQVC7N/ref=sr_1_237?qid=1672909135&s=electronics&sr=1-237&nB08PPHFXG3_Pos1.5 Meter High Speed Gold Plated HDMI Male to Female Extension Cable \(Black\)](https://www.amazon.in/OnePlus-138-7-inches-Android-55U1S/dp/B095JQVC7N/ref=sr_1_237?qid=1672909135&s=electronics&sr=1-237&nB08PPHFXG3_Pos1.5 Meter High Speed Gold Plated HDMI Male to Female Extension Cable (Black)),"Electronics|HomeTheater,TV&Video|Accessories|Cables|HDMICables",\xe2\x82\x9b9173,\xe2\x82\x9b9999,83%,4.1 % compatible,"AFGN6I3CNM2SKJXVEVVXF2DPB5A,AFTM06CV0Y66R3ZORYEHYHDDHL3A,AFQ7YB2KKQJBIXOR2MDT73LJC7AA,AEZVWJFOSHCPIS,Zakir Ali,RANJIT SINGH RAWAT,T . But it didn't clearly suit the Samsung monitor I have. I had to remove a specific part behind the monitor and adjusted this wall mount. Till now no issue., Product is good. I am using Benq ex2780q monitor. Holds well enough but there are only 2 places to screw it in. This makes you doubt sometimes weather this can hold up the weight of the monitor. I have been using it for the past 2 months and haven't faced any issue. Another problem with this montioe is the rubber that is used for rotating the montioe is cheap and gets broken initially only. But replaced with proper nuts and this worked fine for meFinal verdict: good monitor wall mount easily taking 5kg of weight on it. Could have been better if the rubber material and count of screw holes in the wall mount be more, Great product at reasonable rate. Very easy to install. Very sturdy product. Never feel like monitor will fall down.\ð\Ÿ\‘\\ð\Ÿ\\, Self install a bit difficult. The plate connecting to monitor could have been removable and drop in clamp . Fast charging works. Side on design is very practical. Sturdy build. Well worth the money., Very useful, Very nice in this price range, The cable quality is great and its built well, both sides are L shaped connectors (1 side of the cable should have been regular as L shaper port blocks other ports and if you have a mobile stand you can't use this cable. Sturdy and stylish with an added advantage of 90\xc2\xbd connectors.[Deal price: \xe2\x82\xbd139]Long review:I have been using Portronics products lately and I have to appreciate the quality and innovation they bring to the end users.Products I own from Portronics: \xe2\x80\xa2 My Buddy k3 \xe2\x80\xa2 Brillo 3 \xe2\x80\xa2 Power Plate 7 \xe2\x80\xa2 Mobot one \xe2\x80\xa2 Clamp M \xe2\x80\xa2 Konnect LAll the products I bought from Portronics not just met my expectations but they performed beyond that. It made me start building trust on the brand.I use S21 ultra which can be charged at 25W and this cable supports the same with the Samsung's original charger. I strongly believe the product would work at the rated power delivery (60W).It looks and feels sturdy and I am expecting it to be durable too.The 90\xc2\xbd ends keep the cables away without out interfering with the work space. Works the best when playing battle royale games as the cable won't come in the way.The grey and black colour combination works as a charm and would blend in with Apple devices.Data transfer speeds are yet to be tested. I will update here once I have enough inputs on the same.After using multiple cables from Ambrane, Wayona, Wecool, and more brands Portronics definitely stands as a good contender for all of them that serve the same purpose.Verdict: I would definitely recommend this Type-c to Type-c cable if you need to charge devices at 60W or less.",https://m.media-amazon.com/images/W/WEBP_402378-T1/images/I/41ngtttEmol. SY88.jpg>,Good,good one installation very fast sound good quality good service better ever and everything is good and totally satisfied product,Good,HD and non hd separateEverything is absolutely to the expectations,Ok,I was using Tata sky from around 10years.When i got installed it was around 2500rs that is really looting middle class people and also for recharge i use to pay 350rs and really it was very horrible situation in the past. Village people are really looted a lot from these installation people, so called Engineers.One day I was checking Google and found this set-up box with 1000rs and shocked and felt it was some joke.Then after approaching Amazon i got to realise it is true.And i ordered one box for my 55inch LG UHD TV as they expected so called Engineers never came on time.And i had a call with customer support to get it cancelled. Then they responded and came to deliver and installing.These engineers are really talented and started adding prices for every thing that i have already paid. ex. Remote, Wire, Antenna.They started charging for every little thing. There i got to realise, how these people looting uneducated or unaware people.So please be aware when ever you are purchasing any product check and ask questions for everything.Product Review: Product is upto my mark. Quality of the video and HD channels with a less price is really amazing. GTX1650 Super, DELL 2520D (MST), Value for money, Not Vesa certified cable., YOU CAN BUY IT UNDOUBTEDLY., Check Display settings as soon as you install this cable.", "Amazon should provide 2 mtr cable length, very good quality, Nice item, received in good packaging., The cables is perfectly working and there is no color difference with it., It works perfectly with GTX 1650 Super (Asus TUF) and DELL 2520D with single desktop across dual monitor setup (multi-stream). The trick to figuring out is how the cable fits your DP port, both sides. This fit in snugly with GTX and I knew this is gonna work. No need to do any voodoo with pulling cables, powering off this and that, to make DP cable work, just works straight out of the box. Strangely, this cable didn't support my Logitech G603 (wireless gaming mouse) Lightspeed connection. The dongle is attached to the 1st of the two DELL 2520D Monitors. Mouse works when I am viewing over Type-C PD Display with my Laptops. Otherwise Audio, Video, resolution, refresh rates didn't bother. Durability could be a question, let's wait and observe over the days. A lot have commented that this cable didn't last long., Best in the budget., This is not Vesa certified cable. sometimes the monitor goes black for 3 to 4 second., The product is good, Its been almost a week I am using this cable. I am using a LG 24GM77 Monitor (1080p 144Hz) As soon as I installed this cable the display went on default refresh rate (60 Hz). Then I went into windows display settings (as Nvidia settings didn't have refresh rate more than 60 Hz) to change the refresh rate to 144 Hz and it switched without any issues. Avoid jerks to the monitor as I figured the display goes off for a brief 1 or 2 secs post jerking. Rest the cable quality is good, However locks to the display ports could be appreciated. Rest all is fine. I hope this review might be helpful. Sturdy one, no fear of damage by wear and tear. However, I felt that the cable is heated up substantially with higher currents. This uncommon in standard phone cables provided by OEMs., I have been using this cable from last few months and very much satisfied with the this product and i recommend to go for it., The cable quality is very good. Charging time is good with availability of different cable types., Considering the price compared to competitors at market, this is cheap, but no compromises have been made with respect to sturdiness or quality. The wires are wonderful, despite using it for more over a month now, no issues at all were faced regarding wire tangling, torn out wires etc. Very sturdy and pretty easy to carry. Regarding charging speed, it delivers what it promised. The quality of the ports are also solid, no issue had been faced at all. Packaging was great, performance of the product even greater. The wires are long enough, though in my personal opinion, a little bit more lengthy would be icing on the cake, making the product absolutely a perfect one! Overall, very happy with purchasing it. A great VFM product for all those having multiple type devices with them. This one single cable has a solution to charging it all!, Warp Charge is working fine and satisfactory. Wire Quality is Good.,Very good quality but the wire is 15 meters only at least should be 20 meters for the price.....\xf0\x9f\x98\x93,I am using this with an F&D A140x as my satellite speakers' wires were getting very flimsy. Out of the box these cables are very thick compared to the ones my speakers had before.After replacing the cables with these ones I noticed two things right away1. My speakers are louder2. The sound quality is much betterOne thing you wanna be careful is that these cables stick out like a sore thumb in front of white walls, so if you are like me who cares about the looks, you might wanna cover these with cable raceways or even paint them like I am planning to do.,Wire is very best quality but cost not worth for it,Durability n quality is absolutely good.,The product is 16 gauge pure copper multi thread wires. Sound quality is impressive.Bears a Black band for +ve/-ve distinction,I've seen many reviews where people complain that this cable is not Copper, its Aluminium and even some saying its fake. So I thought I'll clear some doubts about this product.ITS TRUE! This is not a pure Copper cable, its Copper clad Aluminium. Infact most of the speaker cables are Copper clad Aluminium. Majority of the audio signal travel through the outer edge of the conductor (skin effect), hence the Copper cladding. Thicker the cladding, better the audio quality, this cable only got a thin cladding of Copper The Steel/Aluminium reinforced center is for a more durable conductor. Now no where in the description Amazon has mentioned that this is a pure Copper cladding cable, so just need to get your expectations right. You simply cannot expect Oxygen free pure Copper cable at this price (Rs 400). You will not find a decent 16 gauge Copper speaker cable for less than Rs 2000.This is a cheap 16 gauge speaker and it does the job very well. This cable is more than enough to deliver good sound to your speakers. Cable quality is average but you get what you pay for. Now if got some high end speakers, then I won't recommend this cable.,Good",https://m.media-amazon.com/images/W/WEBP_402378-T2/images/I/41v3CrdR5mL_SX300_SX300_0L70_FMwebp.jpg,https://www.amazon.in/AmazonBasics-16-Gauge-Speaker-Wire-Feet/dp/B006LW0WDQ/ref=sr_1_263?qid=1672909136&s=electronics&sr=1-263&nB09YLX910R,Ambrane 60W / 3A Fast Charging Output Cable with Type-C to USB for Mobile, Neckband, True Wireless Earphone Charging, 480mbps Data Sync Speed, 1m Length (ACT - AZ10, White)","Computers&Accessories|Accessories&Peripherals|Cables&Accessories|Cables|USBCables,\xe2\x82\xb9179,\xe2\x82\xba Charging Cable - The cable can support upto a charging speed of 3A making it the optimal cable for Quick Charge / Rapid Charge and Turbo Charge devices.|Reversible Connector \xf0\x9f\x93 It has reversible type c connector that can be plugged in any direction, upside or downside.|Durable Cable- Using only premium quality materials and a tough, durable PVC Coating, the Ambrane USB cable is built for connecting and disconnecting over and over again without signal loss.|High Speed Data Transfer- 480 Mbps data transfer speed allows you to sync the data to the computer or other USB devices within few seconds.|Genuine USB Connectors- We use only certified and high-quality connectors ensuring not only the safety of the connected device but also reliable charging and high-speed data transmission."","AGU76WKSU62DUNTPTCMTC4FCUNRTQ,AE0VR6JEQTAC77BXE5AJMWJGG5PA,AFIFHW5QMFMFTWXNZ2J0RBMINL3CQ,AG36G3XPI user,Shanti lal Gurjar,Gowthami,Amrut K.,chetan tandel,Mwnzil brahma,Amazon Customer,Karthik","R8QBCCR9MM1LGY,R3VN8XDH215N7I,R341EQRY87EZP,R3HHTVIHY2U1F0,RNA87JCGRTQJU,RZ12R70YYP0KX,R2GZZ3I you Amazon very good charging cable,Good,Very good product,good quality,Very Good Product,This is fast charging USB!,Simply perfect at the price of below 100","Everything is fine but it is bulky and hard, it should be softer and thinner.....,Thank you Amazon very good charging cable \xf0\x9f\x91\x8d,Good,Good one,quality is good. worth for 150-200 \xe2\x82\xba9. short but durable.,Very Good product . Have been using it since and it works neat. The cable is tough due to its braided nature.,Overall good for usage, not faced any quality issues. C point section is also good to fit properly in mobile. You can go for it.,Most expensive cable I have ever purchased. Probably the best cable too. Giving 1 star less for the premium pricing.I bought this as the long cables dont work well with Android Car. This works very well. Go for it if you have to connect with Android Auto.,Short review:This eliminates a need to wrap long cables around the handlebar when the phone is mounted on it for navigation. Compact and powerful. Best suited for motorcycle mobile mounts and powerbanks. [Price bought at: \xe2\x82\x9309]

Long review:I used to wrap long charging cables around the handle bar so that it won't come in the way while turning. After being fed up of wrapping cables to handlebars, I wanted something short just to sit there and charge device and clear the clutter on motorcycle handle. This is just what I wanted.I have a Mobile mount that looks like BOBO gears jaw grip mount from local stores and that delivers 5v ~2.4A. Tried few cables from local stores and they either die or doesn't charge the device enough when it is in use. Even when the device is not in use, the charging rate used to be low.That is when I have decided to give this one a try as I was always hesitant that \xe2\x82\x9300+ for a short cable is too high. Now I am pretty happy with the purchase that it can fetch the complete charging capacity of the mobile charger and deliver it to the device. I did a 400kms roundtrip and this has been a saviour. I am yet to check if the claimed QC3.0 is true but at least it serves the purpose on my motorcycle handlebar so I have no complaints. I will update when I get a chance to test that.Coming to the design and quality, the braided cable looks rugged and the metal connectors feel solid. As I am going to use it only on the motorcycle, I am sure I will put it through some abuse and I can comment on the same when I revisit this review for updates.Durability:I will have to use it more and update this review on the durability perspective, as my first Wayona dash charge cable I used for OnePlus 6 died in 3 months. But thankfully it was replaced under warranty. That shows how good the support is from Wayona team. I only had to record that the cable died and doesn't charge any more and they too that video as evidence to replace the product.Verdict:If you are looking for a short cable for mobiles on or for charging devices from powerbanks, I would definitely recommend this cable.,Data transfer is quite fast, and also, compatible with my QC adapter.,Good,Excellent... unable to connect soundbar via bluetooth (IN MI TV same sound bar connected easily) remote size is so big so many falatu keys in remote like 1 ro 9 no keys fast forward keys etc and in down side blank space. And after software update I seen little picture quality low as compare before software update. The tv is great at this purchase price. Sony tvs are generally very adaptive. Colour and picture quality is really good. Sound is nice as well. Would however advise to use external speakers with a tv of such size. If you don't wish to purchase a sound bar, go for this model. The picture quality is beautiful, works with apple play, it's a win win. I got the 43 inch for my bedroom on a great offer. And yeah, it's a Sony. A wonderful purchase, absolutely worth it. Best TV in its segment! Outstanding built quality. Sony TV may seem little bulky compared to some other fancy TVs but I have seen over the years that they never compromise on quality. I was little skeptical about picture clarity since it is big (65 inch) TV but found it better than expected. Sound quality is also very good for a LED TV. Non HD channels are little less clear (not bad though; still it is good) but it's obvious seeing screen size. Has complained on TV getting struck. Their dealer called while i was driving. Requested to call/ visit for TV reset later. Their service manager came into conference call, listened over. He advised dealer to treat the service call as closed without issue being resolved and dealer/ service centre till date not resolved issue. Our TV is still getting hung sometimes and we are managing by restarting tv every time, I have recently bought the 43-inch model. The picture & sound quality is good. It does not come with an anti-glare coating. Do not install the TV in front of the window.", <https://m.media-amazon.com/images/I/51uVckljRL. But this cable does around 10 to 80mbps mostly. The cable is also very thin in size, the original Seagate had is very thick and sturdy. At the end speed matters. so if u have like 2 or 4TB external hard drive it will load slowly after connecting, folders keep loading and loading. So, I would rather suggest to please go with a 10 GBS speed cable which will have a 3.1 type c cable., Worth the money, Plug fits little tight to the port, might damage the port on longer use. But does the job well., It is a good product. Works with all the laptops and hard drives. Value for money. Recommended product, GOOD", <https://m.media-amazon.com/images/I/41Ft9wrU55L. Speedy and customer friendly approach from vu", "Screen quality is good. It's been a month I bought it still working fine. Two main negatives are 1\xe2\x80\xa22 It doesn't have default option to directly start on tata sky tv, we have to select hdmi option from input menu to select tata sky which one is plugged in. 2\xe2\x80\xa22 doesn't allow us to command/choose volume up or down from set-top box remote (mine tata sky) We have use tv remote to change the volume setting. Other than that great tv, mine ps4 works fine with it great graphics. Conclusion: If someone ask's me to if they Can buy it or not Mine answer will be nor yes nor no. If we you want kinda cheap but decent quality tv and taking the risk on unknown tv brand on their reliability(just like me) then go for it. Better than Samsung or Sony ??? Definitely no!!., I always buy and recommend Samsung Sony or LG for TV. But, I had a hard budget this time and chose Vu because my friends have been using it for at least 4-5 years without much issues. While the delivery and installation were excellent, and TV on the whole is a decent package which gives good clarity than the rival Chinese TVs and Sound, smart features are poor here. You can connect Bluetooth headphones but no option to disconnect them. I had to pair and unpair everytime. There is no voice command button on remote. Even while using the screen button for voice input, nothing gets recognised. My 3k Fire stick voice recognition was too good., I purchased VU gloled 55 inches TV after suggestion from my techie friends and online study. Technician from amazon came to my home for installation in drunken mode. But I compromised with him due to busy schedule of work. He installed tv with his small screws instead of VU standard wall screws. He did whatever he want. Proper installation was not performed. I just calm down then later i gave a complaint to amazon and VU Customer services. Amazon was not properly responded till now. But from VU side i got a huge response of problem solving. Min 3 to 4 customer care executives spoke with me, finally VU's vice President mr prashanth phoned me and apologized me for inconvenience happened to me. He told drunken technician is not from VU. I feel good for VU's Top level executives have interaction with me. From bottom to top level VUs Team in touch with me for a month to resolve my issue due to i stayed away from home. Before few days back technician came to my home again from vu. He reinstalled my tv in perfect position with dedication. I never expect this much customer friendly behaviour from VU Thank you very much VU. Its worth the purchase.,I recommend this product whoever needs a sturdy and fast charging also keep in mind your charger needs to support while using this cable,After seeing the reviews I ordered for this product for my Samsung S9 mobile. Although the cable is very steady and good it fails the main purpose. When I keep my mobile for charging the cable pin is very tight and I fear while putting and removing my mobile charging chip would break as it is very tight. I am looking for another alternative.So if you are looking for a charger for S9 Samsung mobile PLEASE FO NOT BUY IT.,Good,Superb,I have oneplus 6 mobile phone and have dash charger and oneplus cable which becomes a fast charging combo.However when i plugged in this cable with dash charger. It was not rapidly charging my phone. So I can't say if this is fast charging cable ot not.But as a common charging cable this is working perfectly fine,This is one of the best cable for fast charging. I have 3 units of 2 meter c type cable. I don't think it will get damage soon. The quality is very good and charging S22 ultra, Galaxy note 8 etc without any problem. Thanks to China,Standard Product. Worth the money.....",[https://m.media-](https://m.media-amazon.com/images/I/416q06VZHgL. SX300 SY300 QL70 FMwebp .jpg)

Laggy sometimes", "Everything is great. I love this., Very good and working very nice, First of all, thanks to Amazon for listing it as a returnable item and at an effective cost of less than 3k. Coming to the device itself, the reason for purchasing it is to experience Google TV. On that account, the interface is more useful than the standard Android TV one in terms of discovery, but the listed content is not that relevant. However, it is Realme that lets the user down. The device was bug ridden from the beginning and they basically abandoned the device in 6 months, with the last software update in Feb 2022, still riddled with bugs and never to see Google TV 12. The stick heats up enough to scald you if you touch it and it stutters like crazy after usage of over a day, in part due to the lack of A35 ARM cores which is lacking in performance compared to A53 cores present in sticks from over 7 years ago, and also due to poor RAM management. Only reason to get it would be for the price, if it is less than 3k, but be prepared to suffer through a laggy interface and the known issues of the remote failing within a few months. Still makes more sense to get a Fire TV stick which is more refined and receives more updates, although the interface is a love or hate it one. For the Google TV experience, it is better to go with Google TV with Chromecast but that costs a bomb in India, for what it offers., Got (used) product. It was trapped and also performance is twice degraded to fire stick also not sucking wifi well as computer to Fire Stick", https://m.media-amazon.com/images/W/WEBP_402378-T2/images/I/31M+JM+KZIL. The technician brought a cheap hanging hook that had MRP INR116 on it and asked for INR499 for it without any receipt. He kept telling that it was not for sale and company had sent this specially. However, it clearly had MRP mentioned on it. I went to market and bought a much better cabinet for just INR200 and for installation of that as well, technician was really adamant to drill the two required holes on top. He just drilled one on top and one on bottom and kept all the other spare screws (which I had bought) with him. After about half an hour of arguments, he finally drilled the other required holes. And for all this, he kept cussing me that I wasted his time. There was no assistance from the person who represented the service agency as well. This whole process took me two hours to complete that too with lots of arguments. This was the worst installation experience in my life so far. Bottomline - Please do not avail the 'so called free' installation service from Amazon. It is just a scam. Instead call the acer support. They will do the job much better. After using it for 2 months, here are it's pros and cons: Pros :1. Great picture quality. It's awesome. 2. Blacks are very good and is adjustable. 3. Sound with 30db is very good. 4. Looks great with thin bezel. 5. Remote comes with favorite OTT buttons. 6. Content upscaling is very good. Cons: 1. Remote could have been better. Can't use DTH remote to turn on both television and set top box. 2. Remote operation is bit complex. 3. Motion technology not great. There is a noticeable blur when watching moving ball on OTT, but it decreases when you switch to DTH. Overall, it's a nice buy at this price point. I think I am getting fairly better picture quality and sound. I am satisfied with the product. Product has good picture quality. Good product at that price with 25w sound. Applications running smoothly. 3 months older & no issues yet. It's running smoothly. You get decent features for the price you pay. Screen resolution might be. Set back as you may find pixilation. Overall it's good, I am amazed with the picture quality of this 720p (HD Ready) TV. It is truly an amazing panel. I found it suitable for a viewing distance of between 6 to 10 feet. Any nearer it may not look very crisp and any farther, it will feel like a very small size. The speakers are also very good for the price and can get very loud without any distortions. However, since the speaker is downward firing, the experience will vary based on whether the TV is wall mounted or kept on a stand. The remote is good, voice search works well for me. TV start up takes a long time in my opinion, but I have not compared it against any other 32 inch TV and hence do not know where it stands among peers. 5 GHz Wifi works very well even across walls. Only negative aspect I faced is w.r.t the experience of using my bluetooth headphones/earphones. Firstly, the connection sometimes doesn't happen automatically after a restart - which means I have to remove and re-discover the device thru the menu which is not simple. Secondly, the signal itself seems to be very weak and even at a distance of 8 feet in front of the TV, the signal breaks even if you move your head by 2-3 inches. However, I am still super happy with this TV. I got it for 8k during the launch offer and it is totally worth it and is recommended from my side. At this price range (INR 499/-) it is good quality product on this market. Acer only should work with Sound quality improvement otherwise all ok. Picture quality really impressive, wifi connectivity good, easy to install, borderless screen design is premium and also google voice support is good (sometimes lagging). No major issues found on this TV. Just go for it. Vellu for money. Good product, Very nice product. Works with two devices, Positive review- Almost good and useful, Hissing sound output from (viSe TV) Vijay sales., Acceptable sound, no hassle of charging, Excellent product, Not good range, Very good", "Atlast I connected successfully. Working good. But sound volume & clarity not adequate. Durability, to be assessed. Dear amazon.in, tell the seller to write connecting procedure clearly. Manual printing also is bad. I had to struggle., Does what it says. Works well to connect two Bluetooth devices to any other device like a laptop, smart TV, etc. Can take a bit of time to pair two devices. But the manual in the box helps. Sound quality over aux cable too is good. So, even if you do not have a digital output or RCA you can still use it. Bit bit flimsy and delicate. But then you don't need to move it around everyday., Disadvantage - the sound and video lag with distance while connecting Bluetooth with headphones. Pairing with headphones difficult (need to wait long) Feels volumes low., I got this to add-on to a high-end system, which traditionally doesn't have the facility. However it's often requested when guests come over. I was using a Phoenix transreceiver, but the constant need of charging and the single indicator LED made it difficult to integrate into this kind of application. The optical out is connected to a dual ESS9028 DAC, and the device used for transmission is the iPad Air. This lacks a battery, which is a big differentiator. This means it is not exactly portable, and the form factor reinforces that 'feature'. It is intended to be a desktop unit, and it comes with a reasonable set of cables. The quality of the included cables is quite poor, so it's best to use something else. Compared to the direct input from USB, the overall sound is poorer, with a shrunken soundstage and coarse vocals and treble. Still, this is being used in a high-end system - I suspect with many lesser speaker/amp/DACs it will be acceptable. At maximum output, the level is about 1-2dB lower than a direct USB connection to the DAC. It is around the same as my Signature Acoustics unit, which is 1/3rd the size but uses a battery, and doesn't have a volume control or the bypass feature, or the nice display which is handy if you are close by. The bypass is one of the highlights of this device, it basically connects the two optical ports together in passthrough, and allows you to use both BT and another optical source/receiver - though only either can be used at a time. The build quality is average. It is lightweight enough that a set of decent cables will tip it over backwards, hence the thin cables supplied. The onboard volume control is nice, if a bit redundant given everybody uses their handheld or other device to control volume (I use the DAC remote). It also has only 16 clicks, so the control will be very coarse. The display has no spelling errors and while the resolution is low, it is sufficient for the tasks. Overall, it's quite expensive but is more kitted out than similar devices. The sound quality limitations of BT transmission (compulsory resampling and lossy compression, among others) cannot be overcome even with the fanciest devices and protocols, so I'd rank it close to the top of what you can get as an add-on for a hifi system. For more 'normal' usage, there are cheaper options available., Excellent product, Bluetooth range is very less, Bought it to connect my old Sony 5.1 blue-ray home theater with MI 4k box which does not have Optical sound port. It has an spdif optical port which can connect to the home theater optical in", https://m.media-amazon.com/images/W/WEBP_402378-T2/images/I/315GvM30q6S_SX300_SY300_QL70_FMwebp_.jpg, https://www.amazon.in/Bluetooth-Transmitter-Receiver-Headphones-Speakers/dp/B0978V2CP6/ref=sr_1_385?qid=1672909144&s=electronics&sr=1-385&nB09LRZYBH1, "KRISONS Thunder Speaker, Multimedia Home Theatre, Floor Standing Speaker, LED Display with Bluetooth, FM, USB, Micro SD Card, AUX Connectivity", Electronics | Home Audio | Speakers | Tower Speakers, "\xe2\x82\x92, 299", "\xe2\x82\x93, 999", 43%, 3.8, 282, 'BASS 5000W P.M.P.O- Offers bold sonic output. type, if we want to see good picture we need to maintain minimum distance to tv because this tv pixels are so big. But if we maintain minimum distance picture looks so sharp and black levels look great. And other thing TV's colour reproduction is not that great compared to IPS screens. But in this price it is a good deal. There is definitely lag in tv software and remote control. In the start i have bluetooth connection issue but after formatting tv problem was solved. This tv have sound bar and it's sounds great compared to other tv brands especially in this price range. I will recommend this tv if you want to buy this 32 inch S series tv.,Writing review after 1.5 month use overall good but it become little slow when we install apps rest everything is fine. I liked it and i think you also love it if your budget is in this range.,First fall I was take as buy a acer tv, then i have fear because acer tv is new brand and if any problem with tv serving. But after purchased and using my fear was goes. Because tv functions is good. And warranty also available.,Overall its a good product, some times it lags and once it got auto restarted.but company has lied to customers with that there is 16 gb of space in the TV which is not therestill i like the picture and sound quality,I am very happy when I order this tv. I have purchased it on Diwali. When we start to use this tv, we found that to use the cromecast feature I need to install a third party app which is not support to my mobile phone (samsung M21). I am very disappointed now for this feature but what can i do now. It has good and loud sound system. My overall experience is not meet to my expectations.,I regret not having gotten a larger size. This is an amazing smart tv, clear view and awesome sound. 4 stars only because I couldnt get jio universal remote to work with it.,Under 15k best smart Android TV everything is perfect like sound, picture quality, Bluetooth connectivity and wifi. Samsung is always good, Value for money product", "Before finalizing the AUE60 55", I visited Croma and Vijay Sales to check for the same TV or similar models for their features and picture quality. I was told AUE60 & AUE70 (the models listed here as Crystal 4K and 4K Pro) are E-commerce exclusive models, not available offline. I was shown AU7700 which has the same processor, panel and features, but was listed at 65K for the 55" version. I liked the picture quality, and decided I'll get the AUE60 since it shares so much with AU7700, and save ~20k. Why I went for AUE60 vs. AUE70 - I knew I wouldn't be needing a voice assistant, and wanted to save 3k. I knew even if I wanted a voice assistant, I could plug in Fire TV/Mi TV box and get those features later on. Delivery was pretty hassle free, the delivery executive unloaded the TV in the room I asked for, and opened the box to inspect the TV for any physical damages. Samsung technicians came in a few hours later, installed and gave a demo. Sound: Per other reviews - sound from speakers is apparently bad, but in my case, I found it satisfactory. I have it wall mounted in a 10x12ft room, and the TV's speakers sound better compared to Bose Soundlink Speakers that I connected it to via Bluetooth. Picture: The Panel's great, but nothing worth raving about. Gray uniformity isn't great (i.e. gray tones won't be perfectly uniform across the whole panel, there'll be darker zones towards the edges/corners based on backlight placement). Blacks aren't perfectly black - and they're brighter than you'd expect from a VA panel, but this isn't noticeable at all when the room is lit. No backlight bleed. Colors are as good as I'd like them to be, and the panel does get noticeably bright for my taste, even when brightness is turned down to 40%. 720p content is watchable from >8ft. 1080p is good (I'd say better than I expected). and 4K is well, 4K.Connectivity:I have a 35 Mb/s broadband connection and all content streams in 4K when available, without stutters. The TV has Bluetooth 5.0, and works with TWS and Neckband earphones fine(I use Oppo Enco W51 and Boat Rockerz 330) – there's no noticeable latency, and volume can be controlled through the remote itself.Apps & Features:Has all the standard slew of streaming apps I needed – Netflix, Hotstar, Prime, Apple TV+ & YouTube. All of them stream 4k content, except for Hotstar – which only streamed 4K a few times. 1080p is still very watchable, and not really a deal breaker. No Dolby Vision support – which I made my peace with considering the fact that 99% of budget TVs in the market can't produce the contrast you'd expect out of DV content anyways, so why care. You get HDR, and HDR content is definitely better looking than non-HDR ones in terms of colors and vibrancy. I planned to use the TV without cable, but the TV does come with some channels like Republic TV, Bloomberg, 9XM, etc., these stream in 1080p, so a great bonus to have.Remote:Very basic RF remote, unlike Bluetooth ones on most new TVs. The remote's looks pretty sleek and stylish, but that's about it. Biggest gripe – typing to search for things within apps is a pain in the behind, you'll need to use the D-pad to navigate on an on-screen keyboard. You can control the TV using Samsung's SmartThings App, but guess what – you can't even use your phone's keyboard to type in when controlling through the app – this is something that can be added through an update, but it's not there yet.Attached pictures are all of 4K content. Resolution might get scaled down after I submit the review, but you can still get an idea of the TV's design/looks, Panel colors and contrast, etc.I'd say I'm really happy – and given the chance, wouldn't change my decision. It's a Samsung TV, so end of the day, if it produces a decent picture, and lasts a couple of years more than I expect, I can overlook all other cons. I'd highly recommend the TV if you have the same expectations from your next TV.,,Placed order on 18th Dec'22 received Defective product, updated to Amazon service they replaced with new product today(27/12/22).will post long term review.Pros: Picture Quality, Design (thin bezel)Cons: Sound (bit okay),upsampling of SD channelsOver all Satisfied.,Have been using it since month now.–Picture quality is amazing. 4.5/5–As always installation service from Samsung was seamless. 5/5– smart features are good this model don't have voice recognition. I don't require it so its fine. 4/5–Audio quality is not good. It's clear but loudness is not sufficient if installing in big hall. It also lacks base.Purchase a sound bar separately if buying this model.,But the picture quality is ok-ok.,Best tv product in given price range,Value for money. This 8K HDMI Cable uses the most cutting-edge technology, is compatible with 8K@60HZ and 4K@120HZ, clearly displays every particle, and accurately processes every signal source. With 8K HDMI's unique dynamic HDR and 12 Bit color processing technology, each scene of the video is every frame, with more ideal depth, brightness, detail, contrast and wider color gamut. |?Upgrade Revolution----HDMI 2.1? 8K HDMI Cable conforms to the standard HDMI 2.1 version. Compared with HDMI 2.0, its transmission speed has a qualitative leap, from 18Gbps to 48Gbps (6GB/s) directly, and there will no longer be stuck or dropped frames when watching video from now on. Support eARC, can achieve more advanced audio signal control capabilities. It is also backward compatible with HDMI 2.0b/2.0a/1.4/1.3/1.2/1.1 versions |?HDMI Cable For Game Enthusiasts? This HDMI Cable is not limited to 4K@60HZ, it can break through 4K and achieve 8K ultra-high image quality. It can also achieve a super smooth picture of 4K@120HZ. Its latest game mode supports variable refresh rate, maximizes the value of the graphics card and CPU, and is more accurate in the processing of rendered images. When the scene is switched, the refresh rate will change accordingly to obtain a smoother and more detailed picture. |? Reinforced classic high-quality materials? This 8K HDMI Cable uses Bestor most popular classic style, with a new smart chip, making it reach an unprecedented height. The strength of the aluminum alloy shell and the tail's anti-bending design has been upgraded to make it more durable. The plug part is still made of 24K gold-plated material, which accurately transmits signals. The military grade tensile nylon material also greatly extends its life. |?Wide Application?The 8K HDMI 2.1 cable is compatible with LG TV, QLED TV, Roku, Sony 8K UHD TV, PS5, PS4, Xbox Series X, Xbox One,Tivo, Vizio, Laptop, PC, RTX 3080, Projector,etc. 12-month product replacement warranty", "AG6CREU25N6P2H7RCHNIU6GGJ5BA, AGMMXIU64ISPDGM3NMKNJYCTUKPQ, AERWNTV3FQB42AN6DXOZ24NJGOBQ, AHN62JA33HWZG: Ramchandani,ashok g.,Keyur suthar,Harshal Balasaheb Bhise,Anand Srivastava,Deepak S.,customer,mahantesh", "R2M315YG0B9RN3, R1NB0C4RGKIP9G, R3QJXY54TXWZUF, R2J1HF1A7NTH40, R169VPW28G0ZKX, R3DKX32F80C3XI value for ultra hi speed HDMI!,thickness,material,Works well, just plug and play,Good,Good product,Perfect cable and I'm getting 120Hz 4k when connected to my freesync-certified TV 55Q80T,Good Cable,Little expensive", "Would have liked the product to be in the company box sealed. But, the product is cheap Chinese plastic crap and definitely not a worth more than rs. 500 at most. In the end, it's a cheap Chinese product sold in India at rs. 2600+ which is not even worth of more than rs. 500. Better if you go for some other not very costly and simple vr set under max rs. 1000 or either a expensive vr set of very reputed makers if you're dire enthusiast.Amazon services and customer support is exceptional and here i believe that's what make them on top.CAUTION : this product has no refund policy. If you have patience and able to understand normal English (I don't have writing skills to share exactly my feelings/pain) then please go through my following experience/feedback to know why I said Don't buy it. Don't wanna give single star but not allowing this site to post without star Reason to Buy: Trust Amazon By looking at the 4.3 out of 5 rating and #1 Best Seller tag I got interest on this TV. As we have trust on Amazon and also as it was coming in my budget with good features I purchased this MI 4A PRO TV. But, seems majority of good review/ratings are paid ones. These are cheating us, off course they didn't force to buy, but being middle class person/human being we may get attract to things which showing better in less price. Seems this made/gave opportunity to these sellers to cheat us. Amazon Delivery Feedback: I may not comment on all deliveries happening not safely but when it came to me it's not delivered safely. This TV came for home delivery in Troalley Auto without proper placement/safety, asked delivery person why alone kept it while coming due to up and downs of road it may fly right. He didn't listen my words, simply said will take it back if any physical damage. He only open it and as outside nothing see damage, Delivery person said if any inner damage during installation time Technician came to know and will replace it and he forced me to tell OTP to accept me deliver and left. TV Installation Feedback: Did by Amazon Technician Person Instead MI Technician, Amazon Technician came and installed this MI TV. I got it installed Stand mount as wall mount not freely providing. Technician somehow explained TV usage but thinking as not MI person not have full knowledge and exploring and telling each details. However, normal usage of TV, this amazon technician help is fine. TV Experience: First day: Having slight less picture quality and few showing pixels not as required for Eye safeness. After 3 or 4 days: Picture quality came better. Sound/Audio quality was good either on OTT/YouTube or Setup box/DTH up to 11 days: As we not used much and simply using it for watch DTH channels. Everything looks good. After 12 days: Amazon replacement time expired then started showing sound/Audio problem. TV sound coming very slow, When installed time/first 10 days, if we set up Volume 15 or 20 it was able give bigger sound, now though we increase volume 60 or 65 not giving the sound that we heard when it installed/setup (Played the same content which we listen in Youtube when after installation completed). Regarding this yesterday raised request, online service person asked me to update build version to latest, Now, it is PL.6036 but still have the same problem. 2 or 3 days ago while watching suddenly TV got turned off, We did power off and on then it got switch on usually, also after sometime did screen mirroring of youtube and tried decreasing volume from mobile it worked. But, not sure what problem, we believe after that time onwards we have this sound issues. Not sure, seems as I bought from this Amazon or MI service itself does magic to convey customer without actually solving problem. Online service person instead sending Technician to home for verifying problem. Told and did build version update with me to latest (Software update). Later, he said Volume limit got increased to 100 now, we have to increase the volume level double or triple to have same sound which have prior. i.e. Before if 15/20 volume level gives big sound, then now 50/60 volume level the same sound. Asked, when limit increased it should give much more sound otherwise what is the use of Volume limit increase. But, he told OTT/some apps will show difference of this new feature, at the time as I have been on this calls and worries, got tired, I said will see and get back to you with new request. After some time, when I visited my friends/ better knowledge person on this problem came to know that he cheated me without solving problem, simply said some words to convey/tired us. Off course, I can hear sound at 60 or 70 Volume but my concern is after purchase/installation of 13 days only I got this problem, in future how it works and how many further problems shows to me making me cruise. Being middle class person, we give value to single rupee also because we know how much efforts we put on to get that money. After purchase of this MI product crying lot why we went to it instead we could have went for further good brand product though they high in cost. Now, not replaced my TV or not did service by Technician. We decided that we got cheated on and prayed God to take care. Bought two years ago. My panel stopped displaying just one week before the warranty was to expire after two years. They promptly replaced it with a new one. I did not even spend one rupee extra. Hassle-free. Highly recommend buying Mi products. The product is also awesome., Good, Best product", https://m.media-amazon.com/images/W/WEBP_402378-T1/images/I/51xmNdrIlcS. TV. Strongly recommend this TV! Original Review: I took a leap of faith in purchasing this TV as there were mixed reviews for it. However, after using it for 2 months, the following are my observations: Good: 1. The picture quality is fantastic. There is no lag while watching/forwarding 4k/8k videos. 2. I saw a youtube review which said its brightness was low compared to other models – The brightness is more than you would ever need from a TV. I have never needed to run it on full brightness till now, up to 40 works for me. For my toddler to watch rhymes, I set brightness to 0, and even then it is more than needed. 3. There were a few reviews that said the sound quality was average and you need a soundbar. I disagree – I have watched movies with up to 50 sound and that is good enough for a 1000 sqft hall. 4. Voice command – it is quite accurate and I am able to change nursery rhymes for my toddler while working in the kitchen which is around 15 – 20 feet away. 5. Being able to control the TV from app is also a very useful feature – no need to look for remote. Being able to cast from the app also helps a lot. It would be even better if everything on phone (not just pictures and videos) could be cast using the app. Not so good: 1. If the TV goes to sleep/screensaver for more than 10 minutes, a. it often gets disconnected from wifi – have to restart it again. b. prime video fails to resume – displays error – and have to restart the TV again. c. On the home screen, you cannot rearrange apps to have your preferred apps first. You can do it in apps window which is useless as you need to navigate to it first – easier to navigate to your preferred app in the home screen itself. Only Cons till now got, fast moving object looks blurry, which was known before buying by other user review, but i got this tv in 32 k, Ao over all satisfied, Only minus that too critical is the installation service provider. The product is to be installed by v care installation services provider. The installation service provider is a total waste and not responded properly. Actual date of installation was on 21.02.22 but was only done by the service provider on 27.10.22. The executive who attended the installation is a total waste person and don't know how to behave to the customer. He behaved very rudely. The installation service provider is a total damage and waste. Not at all worth. , , Awesome quality of pictures and some issues with smart features like in app installation and in connection from smart phone only amazon player in work properly but video not show in tv. , Dolby atom 4 k video etc, Good, Good", <https://m.media-amazon.com/images/I/41sSp4pkYL. And the battery also lasts only 3-4 days, just hope that in the future, if I update the software, then the double tap option will come.,Watch is user friendly, UI is great.Calling feature is great.This watch is different from others in music playing in watch speaker.Great experience.Watchfaces option is good.We can add watchfaces as we can.In my other watch this feature is missing.Love this watch.,This Smartwatch is perfect for beginners who\\'s buy first time smartwatch. ninja call pro plus is recently launched so it comes with latest features and specifications. Display Is top Notched and and brightness is enough for use at outdoor. Heart measure and SpO2 is well accurate all sensors are efficiently worked. Reading of data is accurate near 90 to 95% you can trust on it at emergency situations. It comes with 100 sports mods all types of activities and sports are covered. Calling experience is also very nice, speaker and microphone is quite decent sufficient voice at indoor. But battery should be better it has require charge 1 time in day. 3D curved display give awesome visual experience. Strap quality is very soft and female also use it very smoothly. So overall it has best smartwatch under 2K Display, Calling, Sensors, Bulit quality, Battery Back-up, sports Mods, Waterproof, etc. You should definitely go for this one. A must buy for every person who is watch enthusiast.,Having a great experience","2 months review- its been working fine, there's been no problem as of now.. some things-the whole step tracking thing, i bought it due to that reason, it didn't basically satisfy me to that level with that, but it does count steps accurately in the walking mode(activity)Its got some scratches in it.. but its not that noticeable at first glance the backgrounds, I believe it could've been wayyyy better if we could change 4-5 backgrounds of 10, but we can only have 2, 1 customised and 1 download from the app(which has limited options) the other backgrounds are just.. eh..the looks, I'll give it 9/10, it's good looking stylish different touch screen is good the sleep tracking too is kinda accurate(i still haven't understood it that well lol)battery life is muah, I use it without Bluetooth and it easily survives for 6-7 days spo2 and heart rate, I just believe what it says as i can't check prove if that's correct.the water resistance, I haven't used it in water (ofc am scared) the calling feature works fine.. its got good sound overall its a decent watch and can be used in day to day activities, am quite satisfied with it as my first smart watch \xf0\x9f\x98\x97,I've used this product for 4 days, and i'm going to rate the various features and different aspects of this smartwatch which could help the customers here -So, Bluetooth calling (4/5) - the in-built mic of this watch is excellent and the voice gets to the other side without any disturbance, watch connects smoothly with the mobile and don't get disconnected automatically until you do it yourself through watch or phone. Only con is you can't silent the incoming call which is annoying sometime, hope they fix it with an update.Built quality and looks (4.5/5) - metallic built which looks premium and straps are also quite smooth and comforting. Best thing is, it also looks good over skinny wrists(poor me, with 5.6 inch wrist). Only con is you can get scratches on display so protect with it some sort of screen guard.Touch screen (5/5) - it's almost buttery smooth without any lag which is pretty impressive for a smartwatch under 2k. I bet you will not get any laggy experience ever.Accuracy (3.5/5) - SpO2 and HR has fairly decent accuracies, it gives you a rough idea of your being, so its quite reasonable for a watch under 2k. Count steps with decent accuracy as well. Sleep accuracy is also just acceptable.To sum up, you should definitely go for this watch if you've a budget, constrained under 2000 rs,,I recently purchased the Fire Bolt Phoniex watch, which is quite stylish, and the Bluetooth calling is excellent. The voice gets to the other side without any disturbance.The build quality is good over the wrists, but you can get scratches on the display, so protect it with some screen guard. You should go for this watch if you want a budget-friendly smartwatch under 2000.,It's a good watch but i have faced two problems in it the first one is there is no feature of raise to wake and the second one is there is no option to silent it when someone calls you.....i think you should purchase it if in future company add these two features...,I recently purchased the Fire Bolt Phoenix Watch, and I am very happy with my purchase. The watch is quite stylish, and I get compliments every time I wear it. The watch is also quite comfortable to wear, and the strap is adjustable to fit any wrist size. The watch also has a great battery life, and I can go for days without having to charge it. The watch also has a number of features, including a step counter, heart rate monitor, and sleep tracker. All of these features are very useful and make it easy to track my activity and health. Overall, I am very pleased with my purchase and would highly recommend the Fire Bolt Phoenix Watch to anyone who is looking for a stylish and functional watch.,This watch is absolutely stunning and great value for money. Really pleased with the design and shape of watch, definitely a must buy for every person .loved the colour, durability and accuracy is super \xf0\x9f\x91\x8d. just go for it.,I liked the product it has so many features like sleep tracking, spo2, Heart rate measuring, music player, temperature checker my only nitpick would be that it only have 2 games and secondly it has good wallpapers but a Ben 10 Omnitrix wallpaper would give it an even more awesome look",<https://m.media-amazon.com/images/I/41sHRWXCfvl.SX300 SY300 QL70 ML2 .jpg>,https://www.amazon.in/Fire-Boltt-Phoenix-Bluetooth-Calling-Monitoring/dp/B0B3RRWSF6/ref=sr_1_4?qid=1672895748&s=electronics&sr=1-4nB0B5B6P0CI,"boAt Wave Call Smart Watch, Smart Talk with Advanced Dedicated Bluetooth Calling Chip, 1.69\xe2\x80\x9d HD Display with 550 NITS & 70% Color Gamut, 150+ Watch Faces, Multi-Sport Modes,HR,SpO2, IP68(Active Black)",Electronics|WearableTechnology|SmartWatches,"xe2\x82\xb91,999","xe2\x82\xb97,990",75%,3.8,"17,831","B Calling- Wave Call comes with a premium built-in speaker and bluetooth calling via which you can stay connected to your friends, family, and colleagues|Dial Pad- Its dial pad is super responsive and convenient. Now there are a few good ones to pick but a slight improvement over the ones the watch earlier had. Bit Impressed. Added one star for it.Not a very polished product. The fonts are tacky and look ugly in the watch for notification text and caller name text. The watch faces are a lazy design job. No point having 150 watch faces if only 10-20 are good or usable. Rest are useless.[UPDATE: Oct 11] boAt seems to be on a smartwatch launch spree. And thanks to that, they are constantly updating the phone app and the watch faces. Now you have many good looking watch faces to choose from. So overall, still the Smartwatch UI needs work. But atleast you have good watch faces.Good:- Screen quality- Battery life- Looks and the metallic frame- Call clarity- BT calling at the price- Reasonably accurate sensorsBad:- The UI, fonts - they are all very ugly and tacky. They could have tried to give the Chinese software some makeover. But it is a clearly lazy job by the tech team. A copy paste job to be precise of getting an outsourced software and plastering it with brand logos.- Restarts randomly when the call is going on on the watch even for 1 min or so.- Watch faces. Again a job of the design / tech / UI team. BoAt doesn't have a good team of designers and UI guys to really offer simple yet good software features like good watch faces and good watch UI.- No option to silence a call or reply with quick replies.Look for Noise Smart Watches in the Same Range. Noise Colorfit Pulse Go Buzz is cheaper and better alternative + has better watch faces and UI and quick reply to notifications and call silence and mute options for lower prices which this watch has clearly missed.You can go for boAt Wave Call also - It isn't an outright bad watch, but there are better options available for the price.boAt - If you have a team who reads and wants to improve, get some good UI and design folks in your team. Your products are good, but the UI and design is what the people see and that's what makes them feel good about your products. You have really average UI.,Boat wave call watch is best for budget.Call is too good and sound quality is also too good.Battery is good.Totally the watch is good for range.,It's good value for money great watch light weight. Charged my Samsung m53 twice once full charged.,I recently purchased the MI Power Bank 3i 20000mAh and have been extremely impressed with its performance. I have personally tested it with laboratory equipment and have found that it has a capacity of around 19000mAh, which is very good compared to other power banks on the market.One of the things that I appreciate about the MI Power Bank 3i is that it is able to hold its charge for a long period of time. I have not had to recharge it as frequently as I have had to with other power banks.In terms of durability, the MI Power Bank 3i has held up well over time. The construction is solid and the power bank has not suffered any damage despite being carried around in my bag on a daily basis.Overall, I am extremely satisfied with my purchase of the MI Power Bank 3i 20000mAh and would highly recommend it to others. in this price range in 2022.Note:- This review is after a month's usage.- Received 2 updates during the course of time (Recent update was of 0.98 GB).- System consumes 13.2 GB space. 128 GB variant is pretty adequate for a normal usage.- N77 band is missing for 5G.- The unit I bought DOES NOT have any sort of heating issues or fast battery drain issue.- Shifting from a 120 Hz to this 90 Hz mobile. No noticeable difference observed. (In Non-gaming aspect)- Nothing Great or Noting worse in the unmentioned parameters.Things that are delighting;> Exceptional signal reception (especially 4G+ carrier aggregation). Very fast download speeds.> Insane Fast charging (0 to 100% in 40 mins, 30 to 100 % in 20 mins, excluding trickle charge). No heating of the mobile (just slight warming) during charging.> Stand by charge and SoT is fantastic (Even more than 7.5 hrs, for Videos, YT and general tasks and calls, even in mobile data always ON and AOD set to Battery saver.> Oxygen OS = Color OS/Realme OS - Bloatware. The skin is really good & nothing to complain like other brands\' UI.> Absolutely no 3rd party bloatware and no ads in the UI or any 2nd party apps. Even some 2nd party apps are ""un-installable"". No major bothering bugs noticed till date.> Yes, the ""Alert slider"" is included, unlike some premium OnePlus models.Things that are annoying;> Dual ambient light sensor (1 in rear and other in front) is not well calibrated. The brightness is always in the lower side and frequent manual increase is required.> Volume level is useless until 40% level (can be audible only in ""Pin-drop silence ambience). Audible enough only post 40% level. Stereo speakers output are 70% bottom and 30 % earpiece. But full volume doesn\'t distort & is loud enough.> Haptics are tight but not strong, even in higher levels. Effective only post 40% and best only @ 90% level)> Hotspot drains battery quickly (even a warning notification pops up). Also, Chrome and Google app eats away battery quickly. Parallel downloads makes the area near the camera module warm).> Though the in-hand feel is good, the buttons are of no close tolerances and wobbles a bit.> Data billing cycle to be reset daily to show the daily data usage in the notification panel.> The inbuild DAC (no 3.5 mm hole and only Type-C port) is not great. The Dirac equalizer is also not yielding best output. Perhaps, Dolby Atmos support in OOS 13 could improve the audio output.,Overall it\'s a good mobile phone. The speed and interface is all good but expect battery to last long. Not much, i always keep it in battery saving mode and work for about 18-20 hours on normal use.. not many themes available.  Realme/Xiaomi(redmi/poco) products because of their support. This already comes with Android 12 and two year updates are assured.The display is really good. Not full HD screen though. Call quality is good.I wanted a smaller size but unfortunately, the price doesnt fall under 10 for them.If you are buying for lots of photos/videos, this is not the phone for you.If you want to use for call & do basic things like whatsapp and other things, this would be a good phone for you.,This phone was bought for a first time smartphone user. It was a good fit for the said user. Thank you Samsung and Amazon.,Normal phone with very average screen quality.

I am an old-fashioned mechanical engineer with a basic understanding of parameters like millimetres, megapixels and megabytes \xe2\x80\x9d93 but I think of a cellphone as a utility item, not a status symbol. Applying a technocratic approach, I would not choose a costlier option unless I get additional features which suit my requirements. My foremost requirement \xe2\x80\x9d93 which is entirely non-negotiable \xe2\x80\x9d93 is that my handset must have provision for two SIM cards, since I do not want to carry two separate handsets for my CUG and personal numbers. My other requirements are not difficult to fulfil: a phonebook with at least 2000 contacts, basic net connectivity, a basic camera for photos and videos and scope for downloading a few apps such as the ubiquitous WhatsApp and my favourite word games (which do not need much memory or processing capacity). I would certainly appreciate practical features like high reliability, software and security updates and high battery capacity (sufficient for 24 hours or preferably 48 hours at my normal level of usage). Besides, I would like to use a new handset for at least two years. Apart from exigencies, I do not intend to use my cellphone for surfing the Internet, videoconferencing or sending e-mails as I prefer using a desktop or laptop for such activities. I am equally clear about what I do not need. I do not intend to use my cellphone for watching movies, reading books, listening to music or creating fancy social media posts. Nor do I want a device for taking high resolution photos during a vacation as I would prefer to use a camera. At the risk of sounding flippant, I would say that I do not want a device to unlock my car or count the strokes in a game of golf \xe2\x80\x9d93 primarily because I do not own a car and I do not play golf! Having used smartphones of Samsung and Motorola makes over the past few years, I vastly prefer the former. My last phone, which gave me over 30 months of good service, was a Samsung M30. Since that model is obsolete now, I focused on its upgraded cousins: M32, M33 and M52. The last was immediately ruled out as it does not support two SIM cards along with an SD card. After studying the relative specifications of M32 and M33, I concluded that the latter offers better value for money. Generally, it is worth going for the higher memory and higher RAM versions as these parameters affect the performance and the difference in cost is relatively small. With these considerations, I narrowed down my choice to M33 with 8GB RAM and 128GB storage (Just twenty years ago, I was using a desktop with 2GB memory!) As a confirmation for my choice, I compared the phone I had selected with OnePlus Nord CE 2 (8GB RAM, 128GB Storage) which my son had recommended. The specification of the Samsung phone was found to be equivalent or superior for the major parameters, except that the display screen technology was TFT instead of AMOLED. I also watched some Youtube videos about these handsets for a better appreciation of their competing features. The clinching factor was that the Samsung phone was priced substantially lower than the OnePlus product. As for body colour, my first choice was Emerald Brown, but I settled for the Mystique Green since the former was not available in my selected configuration. I was thinking this would be irrelevant since I use a case which completely encloses the handset, but it turned out that the body colour can be glimpsed through the cutout for the cameras on the rear of the phone. Despite a strong family resemblance with my old one (M30), the new phone (M33) offers decidedly superior specifications and it meets my requirements perfectly. It is a few millimetres longer and a few grams heavier than my old phone, but these differences are acceptable to me. Thanks to the 50MP front camera and 8MP selfie camera, the quality of photos and videos is above my expectations (see sample pic taken at night at a distance of about 30 metres from the stage). This phone offers two years of android updates and four years of security patch updates, which reduces the worries on these fronts. Youtube reviewers complain that the M33 has plain looks, it is heavy, its audio does not offer an \xe2\x80\x99immersive listening experience\xe2\x80\x99 and its screen is plain old TFT instead of AMOLED. I am willing to live with these perceived shortcomings, so long as the M33 meets my requirements. I was glad to find that Samsung has taken an environmentally friendly step of offering many models of handsets without chargers \xe2\x80\x99 because old chargers, like old handsets, add to e-waste. However, it needs to be kept in mind that new handsets require higher capacity chargers. The recommended charger for M33 is 25 watts, but the chargers I had at home are rated at 5 or 10 watts. To cut a long story short, I ordered a 25-watt charger along with the phone to avoid compromising with the charging time. After using the new handset for a couple of weeks, I find that my phone is at 60-70% charge at the end of the day, and it takes 30-40 minutes for complete charging (one of the useful features of M33 is that it shows the time remaining for complete charging as soon as it is plugged in for charging). It turns out that I could have managed with the old 10-watt charger, except that it would have taken 60-90 minutes for full charging. I conclude by emphasizing that Samsung Galaxy M33 5g is the perfect phone \xe2\x80\x99 but for my requirements. A word of advice: if you are planning to buy a new phone, it would be helpful if you list out your requirements so that you do not end up paying for features that you do not intend to use. With 5G connectivity, a 120Hz display and solid performance, the Galaxy M33 5G is Samsung \xe2\x80\x99s best-value smartphone yet under 20K segment. Pros \xc2\xa0Almost half the price of Galaxy A53 Exynos 1280 is a solid performer. Excellent 120Hz display with smooth experience across the board. Huge performance uplift over M32. One UI 4.1 based on android 12 has tons of good features to love, none of the flagship grade features are skipped here (apart from dex mode and spen features), Zero lag or stuttering in 120 hz mode with ease of use and seamless switching of apps without any crash or reloading \xc2\xa0 of apps, makes using one ui a pleasure to surf across. You get features like a \xc2\xa0 screen recorder, \xc2\xa0 video call effects, Game Launcher, \xc2\xa0 Link to Windows, \xc2\xa0 Dual Messenger, \xc2\xa0 Quick Share, \xc2\xa0 Music Share, and Secure Folder, along with many others. Some of the fancy Android 12 features, like the ability to \xc2\xa0 change the color palette \xc2\xa0 of icons and menus based on the wallpaper and \xc2\xa0 dim the screen for easier reading in the dark, are also included. Voice focus for calls is an excellent feature, phone call quality is really good even in noisy and crowded areas. I had no issues with GPS or connectivity while using Google maps to navigate, \xc2\xa0 signal stays strong even in rural areas, that's a positive point with good accuracy. 4g Volte with carrier aggregation works flawlessly. Wifi connectivity on the Dual band 5ghz router is strong and performs \xc2\xa0 more than satisfactorily with low latency response. Bluetooth 5.1 connectivity is strong and has good range \xc2\xa0 no worries of disconnection even as far as 15 meters. Audio quality via 3.5 mm jack is excellent compared to Redmi note 10 pro, much more defined and well rounded. For media consumption, widevine L1 support is present, Good AV experience on OTT platforms, I have no serious complaints about color reproduction in videos considering TFT LCD this panel does a good enough job. Main Camera 50mp is on par and better than Redmi note 10 pro in almost all conditions, retains colors close to reality with good dynamic range and handling of exposure with HDR in photos as well as videos, it is able to handle extremely bright conditions well. PD 3.0 25 watt fast charging support reasonable for price segment but we have seen faster charging speeds with other OEMs. Promised 2 major android OS updates and 4 years security updates is a huge plus above its competitors, making this device more value for money in long run. Cons \xc2\xa0 Ultrawide camera is on softer side, lacks details compared to its primary sensor but manages to frame good shots that one can post on social media, macro camera is good with colors and edge detection but lacks depth of field and details, Note 10 pro which is brilliant in this case. Night shots are above average mostly grainy and muddled but better than most smartphones in its segment. Lacks some stability in Video recording at 4k \xc2\xa0. AMOLED display could have made it unbeatable. Lacks stereo Speaker, but audio quality on single speaker is quite good. Pre-installed bloatwares like Moj, dailyhunt, sharechat, byju's are mild and uninstallable but makes mature one UI experience look immature out of the box. Currently device is not tuned for high gaming performance as limited FPS in popular games like BGMI and COD deters it away from being a gamer friendly device, but we \xc2\xa0 can expect exynos 1280 \xc2\xa0 to resolve over time and be more optimized for more games in future updates. I was even mentally prepared for a bad camera, based on some reviews here. But I was pleasantly surprised that camera clicks good photos. They are not awesome, but they are decent photos that can even be shared. Now coming to my biggest grouse; heating issue. The phone started heating up while charging, but it was just a little and so I could have ignored it. But then it started heating up more and got me very concerned. I even ordered a replacement thinking I got a defective piece. But then, after further tests, I found that it is heating more when I download huge amounts of data, for example, when I restore data of my old phone, from back up. This is ok with me as, I don't perform huge data loads regularly, definitely not on phone. Then I tested by running tasks I usually perform such as checking office mails, attending office meeting on phone, watching a video from Amazon Prime, and so on. The phone did not heat up even a little. Personally, this is good for me. At this price range, this is a good phone. But if you are camera heavy user and expect to perform heavy downloads frequently, this phone may not for you. I am personally satisfied with this phone as it works for my type of usage. I will not go into plus points of this phone as they are covered by other reviews already. I am only attempting to clarify about how this phone can suit you (or not) in terms of camera and heating. I had many questions about these aspects before buying. Perhaps this review will help you make an informed decision to buy (or avoid). Cheers., Display - BeautyCamera - decent Performance - Amazing Battery - ok (in 5000mah u expect more tbh) Overall good phone... Also after 1 day of use, i found some network connectivity issue in my jiosim, which I'm using right now in this phone, but I'll keep update this review after 1 month of usage!, It's a decent mobile under this price but few things worried me, weight of the phone, too many procedure to change some settings, no screen casting. Apart from that it has good touch, a decent camera for day light, battery life is good., I bought this smartphone for my mom. Samsung interface is very handful for easy use. Battery is superb, last whole day. Camera is mediocre but provide original colour pictures. All in all satisfied with this smartphone that i got in sale for 9499., Unable to do video call within same service provider as in VOLTE within same service provider video call feature is available., Product is fine. Nothing Fancy but for the budget it is a good phone., BATTERY : more than enough for normal use Not sure in gaming CAMERA : good in this segment, can record videos in FHD 30fps DISPLAY : since it's a LCD display the quality is a bit less, but good V RAM : you can add upto 2gb of virtual ram but have to sacrifice your storage Space to use it OVERALL A GOOD BUDGET PHONE, Finger print is working speedy battery backup is good camera quality is also good", <https://m.media-amazon.com/images/I/41op1vdp-UL. If someone feels that they have a thin wrist and it wouldn't fit them, don't worry. Even i thought it wouldn't fit me coz i have a thin wrist but it was just fine., In this watch, the screen does not turn on and off on double tap, for that you have to press the button and the battery also takes more than 1 hour instead of 35 minutes to get fully charged. And the battery also lasts only 3-4 days, just hope that in the future, if I update the software, then the double tap option will come. Watch is user friendly, UI is great. Calling feature is great. costlier option unless I get additional features which suit my requirements. My foremost requirement is that my handset must have provision for two SIM cards, since I do not want to carry two separate handsets for my CUG and personal numbers. My other requirements are not difficult to fulfil: a phonebook with at least 2000 contacts, basic net connectivity, a basic camera for photos and videos and scope for downloading a few apps such as the ubiquitous WhatsApp and my favourite word games (which do not need much memory or processing capacity). I would certainly appreciate practical features like high reliability, software and security updates and high battery capacity (sufficient for 24 hours or preferably 48 hours at my normal level of usage). Besides, I would like to use a new handset for at least two years. Apart from exigencies, I do not intend to use my cellphone for surfing the Internet, videoconferencing or sending e-mails as I prefer using a desktop or laptop for such activities. I am equally clear about what I do not need. I do not intend to use my cellphone for watching movies, reading books, listening to music or creating fancy social media posts. Nor do I want a device for taking high resolution photos during a vacation as I would prefer to use a camera. At the risk of sounding flippant, I would say that I do not want a device to unlock my car or count the strokes in a game of golf primarily because I do not own a car and I do not play golf! Having used smartphones of Samsung and Motorola makes over the past few years, I vastly prefer the former. My last phone, which gave me over 30 months of good service, was a Samsung M30. Since that model is obsolete now, I focused on its upgraded cousins: M32, M33 and M52. The last was immediately ruled out as it does not support two SIM cards along with an SD card. After studying the relative specifications of M32 and M33, I concluded that the latter offers better value for money. Generally, it is worth going for the higher memory and higher RAM versions as these parameters affect the performance and the difference in cost is relatively small. With these considerations, I narrowed down my choice to M33 with 8GB RAM and 128GB storage (Just twenty years ago, I was using a desktop with 2GB memory!) As a confirmation for my choice, I compared the phone I had selected with OnePlus Nord CE 2 (8GB RAM, 128GB Storage) which my son had recommended. The specification of the Samsung phone was found to be equivalent or superior for the major parameters, except that the display screen technology was TFT instead of AMOLED. I also watched some Youtube videos about these handsets for a better appreciation of their competing features. The clinching factor was that the Samsung phone was priced substantially lower than the OnePlus product. As for body colour, my first choice was Emerald Brown, but I settled for the Mystique Green since the former was not available in my selected configuration. I was thinking this would be irrelevant since I use a case which completely encloses the handset, but it turned out that the body colour can be glimpsed through the cutout for the cameras on the rear of the phone. Despite a strong family resemblance with my old one (M30), the new phone (M33) offers decidedly superior specifications and it meets my requirements perfectly. It is a few millimetres longer and a few grams heavier than my old phone, but these differences are acceptable to me. Thanks to the 50MP front camera and 8MP selfie camera, the quality of photos and videos is above my expectations (see sample pic taken at night at a distance of about 30 metres from the stage). This phone offers two years of android updates and four years of security patch updates, which reduces the worries on these fronts. Youtube reviewers complain that the M33 has plain looks, it is heavy, its audio does not offer an immersive listening experience and its screen is plain old TFT instead of AMOLED. I am willing to live with these perceived shortcomings, so long as the M33 meets my requirements. I was glad to find that Samsung has taken an environmentally friendly step of offering many models of handsets without chargers because old chargers, like old handsets, add to e-waste. However, it needs to be kept in mind that new handsets require higher capacity chargers. The recommended charger for M33 is 25 watts, but the chargers I had at home are rated at 5 or 10 watts. To cut a long story short, I ordered a 25-watt charger along with the phone to avoid compromising with the charging time. After using the new handset for a couple of weeks, I find that my phone is at 60–70% charge at the end of the day, and it takes 30–40 minutes for complete charging (one of the useful features of M33 is that it shows the time remaining for complete charging as soon as it is plugged in for charging). It turns out that I could have managed with the old 10-watt charger, except that it would have taken 60–90 minutes for full charging. I conclude by emphasizing that Samsung Galaxy M33 5g is the perfect phone for my requirements. A word of advice: if you are planning to buy a new phone, it would be helpful if you list out your requirements so that you do not end up paying for features that you do not intend to use. With 5G connectivity, a 120Hz display and solid performance, the Galaxy M33 5G is Samsung's best-value smartphone yet under 20K segment. Almost half the price of Galaxy A53, Exynos 1280 is a solid performer. Excellent 120Hz display with smooth experience across the board. Huge performance uplift over M32. One UI 4.1 based on android 12 has tons of good features to love, none of the flagship grade features are skipped here (apart from dex mode and spen features), Zero lag or stuttering in 120 hz mode with ease of use and seamless switching of apps without any crash or reloading of apps, makes using one ui a pleasure to surf across. And amazing amazon service!!,Good watch in this price,Watch faces could have been better,Amoled Screen & Touch, Average Wrist Band.", "Today only i recieved this watch at first instance it win my heartI was using it a whole day and i found some pros and cons of this watchPros# Amoled Display is very bright and nice# Look and design is premium# Bluetooth calling is awesome, speaker is loud and clear . Even my voice is reaching to opposite party very clearly while calling with watch.# calculator features is useful# Multi Functional crown button is easy and useful .. Easily to change theme with just scroll the crown button# play music directly from the watch with the internal storage although its only 128 mb but sufficient to store around 10 songs approx.. song sound quality is also fine# strap quality is good and soft# TWS connecting features is also niceCons# sometimes i found watch is disconnected with my phone ..not sure why its happened as i have checked only for one day# fingerprints are clearly visible on Screen Glass .. i have attached the pic for it#Health Tracker are near to accurate but never rely on smartwatch at this price range.i have measure the bp with this watch and with bp machine both results are different... 70-80% accurate only..# AI Voice assistant is not very useful as it only work for mobile when i press the voice assistant button on watch .. like if i give command to set alarm on watch it set alarm on mobile so basically it just a button to wake up google assistant for mobile phone.#Sometimes when you pick call from your mobile phone call automatically transfer to watch and voice started coming from the watch speaker.. which is quite irritating..this must be correct by firmware updates i have purchased it for Rs.3420/- including bank offer . For this price range overall its a good & premium watch ..Its my experience with this watch for just a one dayRest how it work for long run that depends..Recieved a damaged device at first... Slight gap between display and body from the left side.. but quickly recieved the replacement next day....The replacement was good...Amazon provided great service and delivered replacement in just 16 hours ...so great job amazon..also i live in bangalore.. so the experience might vary from place to place..ProsSmooth enough UIFairly accurate readings on all the sensorsHeartrate BP and spo2Call quality is great for the price.. good speakers and good mic..You can control spotify and soundcloud music too from the watch .and use tws to listen to spotify while controlling with the watch... And it is seamless...Display is great ..colors are punchy and bezels are good enough... Not as narrow as crossbeats ignite s4 max but still good enough...Build quality is good but does not feel very premium.. it does feel like a below 5k watch...So you cannot trick anyone that this is a apple watch \xf0\x9f\x98\x82Strap is not too long as every review mentions.. strap is good enough... Not too comfy..I ordered a metal strap from amazon for my watch and it is amazing...Ui looks much better in person than reviews.. UI is smooth and looks good... Not as good as realme watch 3 pro..But still good for the price..Overall its a good watch for the price of around 3.5k -3.9kAnymore and it is not worth the priceRealme watch 3pro is the best at around this price.. so if you get that in stock and for below 4k then get realme watch 3 pro..Or else for this price segment firebolt visionary is the overall best watch compared to all other watches under 4kConsCall when recieved on watch doesnt stay on tws it switches to watch for some reason..which is oneSteps are a little inaccurate and reads steps even if not walking..so dont rely on step counterBattery life is not great if you're using always on display and calling... Maybe around 3 daysBut otherwise battery stays for over 5 days.Bluetooth range is not too good.. and varies from watch to watch.. and also phone to phone.. i get a decent bluetooth range of around 20 ft .. but this is more of a fact than a con.,I write this review after 1 week of using this watch, BP, BPM, SP02 running and sleep tracking functions are working well, watch speaker is also loud and clear to you and the other callers. The only con is when you want to listen to songs through a watch from a mobile its Bluetooth disconnects automatically again and again, as this fund is not useful for me so ignore it, overall it's a good watch.,Everything is absolutely Greta in this smartwatch.But these things could have been better:. Watch faces- you should have the option to add upto 3-4 watch faces at once from the app rather than one at a time and 10 pre-installed ones. App ui could have been better. DND mode absent. No option to toggle Bluetooth (always on),Before review i would like to appreciate this great strategy to pour out honest reviews from users by giving them bookmyshow voucher.I loved the Touch Screen experience & Amoled screen of the watch, it gives a feel of premium watch. The band of the watch is average & doesn't look premium & i separately ordered a metal band. I am expecting Mobile App improvement from FireBoltt as I don't find it good enough if I compare it with Boat's App for its watches (As I own a Boat smartwatch). Rest Visionary is a good buy & worth the money the only thing which physically is not appealing is the average quality of the band.",https://m.media-amazon.com/images/I/41r1d8a2WGL.SX300_SY300_QL70_ML2.jpg,https://www.amazon.in/Fire-Boltt-Smartwatch-Resolution-Connection-Assistance/dp/B0B3N7LR6K/ref=sr_1_44?qid=1672895755&s=electronics&sr=1-44&nB09Z0K9X8G,"Noise ColorFit Pro 4 Advanced Bluetooth Calling Smart Watch with 1.72"" TruView Display, Fully-Functional Digital Crown, 311 PPI, 60Hz Refresh Rate, 500 NITS Brightness (Charcoal Black)","Electronics|WearableTechnology|SmartWatches","\xe2\x82\xb2,998","\xe2\x82\xb2,999",50%,4.1,"5,179","Ad Bluetooth calling: Upgrade to an effortless calling experience - attend/reject calls and dial numbers, from your wrist.;Digital crown: Navigate through the watch, adjust volume and change the watch face via the fully-functional crown.|1.72\xe2\x80\x99\xe2\x80\x99display: ColorFit Pro 4 features 1.72\xe2\x80\x99\xe2\x80\x99 TFT LCD with 25% more screen area than ColorFit Pro 3.;Vivid clarity: View information under the brightest sun, thanks to 311 PPI and 500 nits of brightness.|60Hz refresh rate: Get smoother scrolling & navigation experience.;100 sports modes: Take your pick from 100 sports modes and ace your game.|Noise Health Suite: Know how your body is doing with the battery of fitness features.;Productivity suite: Get more work done with quick reply options, stock market updates, alarm and disconnect with smart DND when you want to.; Water Resistance Level: Water Resistant|Item Type Name: Smartwatch; Connectivity Technology: Usb; Included Components: \xe2\x80\x8eSmartwatch, Magnetic Charger, User Manual, Warranty Card","AEL5HU25IP7YT5WK3LXNC5M36NBA,AG6005TADBKM6RSXLN54U2LYYPXA,AFBICZEMDBBG2PL7T424USBD3PNQ,AH6KGRIG605D37TRWQ G.,Vinay Bucha,Amazon Customer,arun,Rohit,Aasim Ansari,Aniruddha Joshi,Rekhabai bhoi","R14ALM4L0NM07K,RBQ5KLENMT5W,RC8LE1R8ZUXK6,R2DOHSMCOKMG28,R23BQ1TQ435IE0,RQTVJP9U5HCTZ,R19QIA3XET90J7,R30I improvement required,Not best for tracking sleep, calories burnt of heart rate.,Noise,Noise watch is good,NOISE,Noises,Bluetooth calling,Noise","1. The review about this watches are as follows: Good call quality and Google assistant support. The UI experience is very smooth except the split screen feature it's a little bit laggy. The only thing that is only bad about this product is the step accuracy I feel like its a little bit lagging back but it catches up to it after a half an hour. You can buy this product if you are on a tight budget and want calling and good UI experience you can buy this product", https://m.media-amazon.com/images/I/41Fq27ZjJfL_SX300_SY300_QL70_ML2.jpg,https://www.amazon.in/Fire-Boltt-Bluetooth-Calling-Assistance-Resolution/dp/B0BF54LXW6/ref=sr_1_49?qid=1672895762&s=electronics&sr=1-49&nB09XB7SR05, "Redmi 10A (Slate Grey, 4GB RAM, 64GB Storage) | 2 Ghz Octa Core Helio G25 | 5000 mAh Battery | Finger Print Sensor | Upto 5GB RAM with RAM Booster", Electronics|Mobiles&Accessories|Smartphones&BasicMobiles|Smartphones, "\xe2\x82\xb99,999", "\xe2\x82\xb99,13MP Rear Camera | 5MP Front Camera|Display: HD+(1600x700) IPS LCD display; 15.58 centimeters (6.53 inch); 20:9 aspect ratio|Processor: MediaTek Helio G25 Octa-core processor; Up to 2.0 GHz clock speed|Battery: 5000 mAh large battery with 10W fast charger in-box and Micro USB connectivity|Memory, Storage & SIM: 4GB RAM | 64GB storage expandable upto 512GB with dedicated SD card slot | Dual SIM (nano+nano) dual standby (4G+4G)", "AFIJJZPIDNQJFJU046X7TVPBDYSCQ, AHIQL236HODJPRW5A5IGB34PXVDQ, AG3JTCWK62UKPLHVG76QRT0FTWTVQ, AFZVNM6I Chaubey, uma vijay, Asif ikbal, Lomish Kumar, Kavya Singh, Sagar Mahata, Meherunnesha Sarkar", "R98JKKNC5M7B5, R3809HQ0E1G03B, R597Z0G89GU27, RAI7NSHUQ002D, R2W5N0Y7MJX8UC, R1LK91F22JFZ41, R139XIZFXKTMW5, I at the price, Good phone, NICE, Value for money, \xe0\xa4\xa0\xe0\xa5\x80\xe0\xa4\x95-\xe0\xa4\xa0\xe0\xa4\xbe\xe0\xa4\x95 hai \xe2\x98\xba\xef\xb8\x8f, Overall review, Good", "Camera and display is very poor quality and battery \xf0\x9f\x94\x8b is very good nothing bad, Nice phone at reasonable price., Good, NICE, Value for money, Theek hai \xf0\x9f\xa5\xb0, Not bad, Good", https://m.media-amazon.com/images/I/41VcqWZ-08L_SX300_SY300_QL70_ML2.jpg,https://www.amazon.in/Redmi-Storage-Battery-Finger-Booster/dp/B09XB7SR05/ref=sr_1_50?qid=1672895762&s=electronics&sr=1-50&nB09FFK1P0G, "Duracell 38W Fast Car Charger Adapter with Dual Output. Color is typical samsung style with oversaturated greens. Interesting to note that JN1 is also being used in Samsung's new F23.Thermal management is very poor. Device heats up in normal usage within minutes if the screen brightness is high. Same is the case when camera app is opened/simple games on flipkart gamezone are played. There are reports on youtube of narzo50's camera shutting down on hot days.Above scenarios and 120Hz adaptive refresh rate also drain battery like crazy.Speaker and earpiece do not have crispiness (upper treble), instead sound like white noise. Earpiece volume is low. So is the speaker volume when on call. On the other hand, speaker volume is decent while playing back videos.Flashlight is half as bright as normal smartphones. I don't really know if company did cost cutting here, or its a software bug.No fm radio and secondary mic.Minor features I missed if shifting from miui to realmeui - e.g. the gallery app is not as good as miui one, requiring more taps for basic opeations like viewing whatsapp images folder.Mediocre ram management with realmeui 2, android 11.To be fair, I could not find any major bug in realmeui 2.0 so far. The lcd display is fantastic, and very well calibrated with relatively cooler white point, as opposed to yellowish 5500-6500k super amoled. There was no green or purple tint. Touch response was excellent. Screen protector, case, fast charger, usb c cable were present. The phone feels much slimmer than my bulky F22 due to its thin body, 10gm less weight and sleek case. Camera app has full fledged manual mode, something absent from Samsung's F22.Disclaimer: Above impression has been made after using 4 smartphones over last 8 years: Asus Zenfone 5, Redmi 4, Redmi 7A, Samsung F22.Strongly consider other current alternatives too, like Redmi note 11, Poco m4 pro, Poco m4 pro 5g, Redmi note 10t 5g, Samsung F22, Samsung F23, Moto G42 before buying Narzo 50.More info: Do not fall for bloatwares like glance when setting up the phone. Check as few check boxes as possible before blindly clicking 'I agree'. Turn off content recommendation by going to the Settings -> Additional Settings -> Get Recommendations and switch the green toggle off. To remove bloatwares that cannot be uninstalled usual way, follow excellent guide by youtuber 'tech office' mentioning all realme app names required for adb commands. I was able to uninstall hot apps/games this way.UPDATE:Detailed camera comparison between Samsung F22 and Narzo 50:Samsung's HDR algo seems more sophisticated, narzo unnaturally brightens some shadows too much, there is also some oversharpening.Both cameras choose cool auto white balance, which results in bluer skies but lifeless greeneries even in 'golden hours'. However, narzos colors become more 'hue accurate' after choosing 6000-6500k white point in 'expert mode', whereas samsung still delivers bluish green foliage colors at cloudy white balance. Narzo strangely does some weak auto hdr even in 'expert mode', but samsung fully turns it off in 'pro mode', resulting unusable photos.However, when using night mode, narzo's photos appear more cleaner but less saturated at night. Gcam 8.5 for narzo is not optimized properly and gives noisy night photos with greenish cast and crushed shadows, much worse than realme's night mode. On the other hand, thereas no gcam and no camera2api support for F22. At night, you can take long exposure shots (upto 8/16/32secs) through 'expert mode' by manually choosing shutter speed in narzo, something you can't do in F22. This however requires tripod support and whenever done properly, the results are very good.You have manual 'film' mode in narzo, whereas you can't even manually set white balance in F22's video mode, as samsung's lower end galaxies don't have 'pro video' mode.This mobile is suitable for every oneIt's goodBut camara is average,<https://m.media-amazon.com/images/I/719puSga96L. RTGGEST CON : cost of 2 batteries is more than the selfie stick itself. Now as i have no money for going for a gimble , so i am using this as well as bought 2 spare batteries (costed me 500 rupees for 2 batteries). Although i must say that you can find the CR1632 – 3v battery (the one used in this one) – much cheaper than what i paid on either local ecom website or local shops.,one must have this tripod to get full family picturethe quality is upto the markand it is standing strongly with weight of phonebluetooth control is quick and clear,If you are taking photos with your family at home then it is good. But if you are a single rider and ride solo then its length is normal. You will get only half of your photo. It should be of such length that the rider can take a complete picture with his riding gears.Then it is good for the riders. My suggestion is that it should be more length.,Everything is perfect except if you pull the tripod to a long hight,Superb,Good at all.,I haven't used it much, product is good. A must buy for every person who is watch enthusiast.,Having a great experience","2 months review- its been working fine, there's been no problem as of now.. some things-the whole step tracking thing, i bought it due to that reason, it didn't basically satisfy me to that level with that, but it does count steps accurately in the walking mode(activity)Its got some scratches in it.. but its not that noticeable at first glance the backgrounds, I believe it could've been wayyyy better if we could change 4-5 backgrounds of 10, but we can only have 2, 1 customised and 1 download from the app(which has limited options) the other backgrounds are just.. eh..the looks, I'll give it 9/10, it's good looking stylish differenttouch screen is goodthe sleep tracking too is kinda accurate(i still haven't understood it that well lol)battery life is muah, I use it without Bluetooth and it easily survives for 6-7 daysspo2 and heart rate, I just believe what it says as i can't check prove if that's correct.the water resistance, I haven't used it in water (ofc am scared) the calling feature works fine.. its got good sound overall its a decent watch and can be used in day to day activities, am quite satisfied with it as my first smart watch \xf0\x9f\x98\x97,I've used this product for 4 days, and i'm going to rate the various features and different aspects of this smartwatch which could help the customers here -So, Bluetooth calling (4/5) – the in-built mic of this watch is excellent and the voice gets to the other side without any disturbance, watch connects smoothly with the mobile and don't get disconnected automatically until you do it yourself through watch or phone. Only con is you can't silent the incoming call which is annoying sometime, hope they fix it with an update.Built quality and looks (4.5/5) – metallic built which looks premium and straps are also quite smooth and comforting. Best thing is, it also looks good over skinny wrists(poor me, with 5.6 inch wrist). Only con is you can get scratches on display so protect with it some sort of screen guard.Touch screen (5/5) – it's almost buttery smooth without any lag which is pretty impressive for a smartwatch under 2k. I bet you will not get any laggy experience ever.Accuracy (3.5/5) – SpO2 and HR has fairly decent accuracies, it gives you a rough idea of your being, so its quite reasonable for a watch under 2k. Count steps with decent accuracy as well. Sleep accuracy is also just acceptable.To sum up, you should definitely go for this watch if you've a budget, constrained under 2000 rs,,I recently purchased the Fire Bolt Phoniex watch, which is quite stylish, and the Bluetooth calling is excellent. The voice gets to the other side without any disturbance.The build quality is good over the wrists, but you can get scratches on the display, so protect it with some screen guard. You should go for this watch if you want a budget-friendly smartwatch under 2000.,It's a good watch but i have faced two problems in it the first one is there is no feature of raise to wake and the second one is there is no option to silent it when someone calls you.....i think you should purchase it if in future company add these two features....I recently purchased the Fire Boltt Phoenix Watch, and I am very happy with my purchase. The watch is quite stylish, and I get compliments every time I wear it. The watch is also quite comfortable to wear, and the strap is adjustable to fit any wrist size. The watch also has a great battery life, and I can go for days without having to charge it. The watch also has a number of features, including a step counter, heart rate monitor, and sleep tracker. All of these features are very useful and make it easy to track my activity and health. Overall, I am very pleased with my purchase and would highly recommend the Fire Boltt Phoenix Watch to anyone who is looking for a stylish and functional watch.,This watch is absolutely stunning and great value for money. Really pleased with the design and shape of watch, definitely a must buy for every person .loved the colour, durability and accuracy is super \xf0\x9f\x91\x8d. just go for it.,I liked the product it has so many features like sleep tracking, sp02, Heart rate measuring, music player, temperature checker my only nitpick would be that it only have 2 games and secondly it has good wallpapers but a Ben 10 Omnitrix wallpaper would give it an even more awesome look",<https://m.media-amazon.com/images/I/41-CKEKnjyL. My budget was around 20k max, and this one somehow fit in all ways. I had almost finalized one plus nord ce, but changed my mind at the last moment and I don't regret. I've used redmi phones before so I'm aware of the sturdiness and value for money they offer. Got this for 13k with close to 6k+ exchange on my one year old tecnospark 7 phone (one of the worst phones I've ever used, refer to my tecnospark 7 review for that). Here's my review of this phone based on 2 months of usage:Pros:1. Build quality is good. Finishing and lookwise it's sleek and quite comfortable in hand.2. Back camera is really good, better with the AI camera. The 108 MP gives good pictures, although not comparable to iPhone or Google pixel quality, but for the price range it's not bad. Portrait mode gives great pictures in well lit conditions, decent in low light with night mode.3. 67W charger is very efficient. Phone gets fully charged within 40-45 mins from below 10% battery levels. Battery backup is decent, with normal usage charge easily lasts for one and a half day or more.4. Dolby atmos dual speakers are really good! You could be watching movies on this and feel the surround sound through the speakers. Pretty loud too.5. No lagging and smooth touch, refresh rate is pretty good.6. Unlike some of the earlier Redmi phones or Chinese phones in general, there are negligible auto installing bloatwares. Android 11 performance so far has been satisfactory.7. Hasslefree usage in general, something that I struggled with a lot with my earlier Techno spark phone for basic functionalities.Cons:1. Front camera could've been a lot better. In daylight conditions, picture colors aren't vibrant enough, and in low light, pictures come grainy. Dissatisfied with that.2. Amoled display isn't as good as I had expected, especially becomes evident when light reflects on the screen while you're watching something.Nothing else worth mentioning that I can think of right now. May update this review if anything encountered.For people with 15-20k budget looking for a good overall usage phone having 5G, this phone is worth a shot along with Nord CE 2 Lite.,Nice phone with good battery backup,fast charging, sturdy body and good process speed... camera quality is not good enough..but overall.. good budget phone..,1) Battery is decent2) Charging is very fast3) Camera is averagingOverall nice product,The phone is good from all aspects bug if ur looking for a good camera this is not the one.,The price of the product is higher at the time of launch. Within 1 month it dropped by 3k.The price qty is ok.Some features are missing which are available in Chinese make model.,Pros1. Display(super amoled)2. Battery life(24 hrs moderate usage)3. Fast charging4. 120 hz refresh rate work seamlesslyCons1. Miui(lots of unnecessary apps)2.processor(sd 695 is too old)3.main Camera not up to the markOverall I just want to say if you're looking for a phone to watch movies and series and casual gaming go for it.(pubg, cod feels fantastic in this without any lag)If looking for heavy gaming or looking for a camera phone this one is not for you brother.,Good phone need improvement in camera,This mobile has the best camera compared with other models",<https://m.media-amazon.com/images/I/41iEzV6nKbL. Now there are a few good ones to pick but a slight improvement over the ones the watch earlier had. Bit Impressed. Added one star for it. Not a very polished product. The fonts are tacky and look ugly in the watch for notification text and caller name text. The watch faces are a lazy design job. No point having 150 watch faces if only 10-20 are good or usable. Rest are useless. [UPDATE: Oct 11] boAt seems to be on a smartwatch launch spree. And thanks to that, they are constantly updating the phone app and the watch faces. Now you have many good looking watch faces to choose from. So overall, still the Smartwatch UI needs work. But atleast you have good watch faces. Good:- Screen quality- Battery life- Looks and the metallic frame- Call clarity- BT calling at the price- Reasonably accurate sensors Bad:- The UI, fonts - they are all very ugly and tacky. They could have tried to give the Chinese software some makeover. But it is a clearly lazy job by the tech team. A copy paste job to be precise of getting an outsourced software and plastering it with brand logos.- Restarts randomly when the call is going on on the watch even for 1 min or so.- Watch faces. Again a job of the design / tech / UI team. BoAt doesn't have a good team of designers and UI guys to really offer simple yet good software features like good watch faces and good watch UI.- No option to silence a call or reply with quick replies. Look for Noise Smart Watches in the Same Range. Noise Colorfit Pulse Go Buzz is cheaper and better alternative + has better watch faces and UI and quick reply to notifications and call silence and mute options for lower prices which this watch has clearly missed. You can go for boAt Wave Call also – It isn't an outright bad watch, but there are better options available for the price. boAt – If you have a team who reads and wants to improve, get some good UI and design folks in your team. Your products are good, but the UI and design is what the people see and that's what makes them feel good about your products. You have really average UI., Boat wave call watch is best for budget. Call is too good and sound quality is also too good. Battery is good. Totally the watch is good for range., It's good value for money smart watch. Light weight. Touch is smooth. All the features are 90–95% accurate., a good product in this price range must buy it. GOOD LOOKING GOOD QUALITY, Good product is must h, Average for calling good looking, I'm really happy to purchase this watch! It's very affordable having so many features. UPDATE-----pin has stopped charging from one side, now i have to slip the pin to charge from other side, but i will update and let know for how long does it work, It's good. Not sure about durability as the pin area feels a bit fragile, Does not support apple carplay So was little disappointed about that. Other than that cable is made up of very good quality, Best to buy, 100% NOT FATHFUL, Writing this review post 10 months and 3 orders of the same product. Honestly Portronics Connect L lightning cable works like magic with the original Apple charging brick. Seeing the price of the cable I initially hesitated buying as it was as low as \xe2\x82\x93999/– with the offers and so I wasn't sure if it would work well with my iPhone 12 or whether it would impact my iPhone's battery health because all the other lightning cable brands were costing over \xe2\x82\x939350/– like Wayona, Amazon Basics, etc. Earlier I was using Wayona Brand lightning cable with eventually frayed and stopped working. Charging Speed: Charges my iPhone fast enough almost similar compared to the original cable level when used with 12W Original Apple power adapter. Quality and Durability: Great quality braided cable and doesn't tangle easily and can withstand day-to-day usage. L-Shaped pin: This is very innovative by Portronics and it makes sure the cable doesn't get damaged even if used while charging. CarPlay and Data Sync: Works smoothly with CarPlay and syncs data effortlessly. PS: I have used this cable only with the Original Apple Charging Brick and extremely satisfied with its performance., Better than I expect the product I like that Quality and I plan to buy same type cable come with usb C to Lightning cable for emergency purpose that much I love this cable. Buy for this cable only emergency uses only since Good one, Good product and value for money", https://m.media-amazon.com/images/I/31VzNhhqifL.SX300_SY300_QL70_ML2_.jpg, https://www.amazon.in/Portronics-Konnekt-POR-1080-Charging-Function/dp/B08CF3B7N1/ref=sr_1_62?qid=1672895762&s=electronics&sr=1-62&nB07WDKLDRLX, "iQOO Neo 6 5G (Dark Nova, 8GB RAM, 128GB Storage) | Snapdragon \xc2\xae 870 5G | 80W FlashCharge", Electronics | Mobiles & Accessories | Smartphones & Basic Mobiles | Smartphones, \xe2\x82\x93928, 999", \xe2\x82\x938: 870 5G Mobile Platform which is a 7nm process technology, It is equipped with A77 architecture adopts a large core clocked at 3.2GHz, a middle core at 2.42GHz, and a small core at 1.8GHz. | 80W FlashCharge Technology with 4700mAh Battery | 120Hz E4 AMOLED Display | 1300nits Peak Brightness | 6000000:1 Contrast Ratio | SGS Eye Care Certificate | HDR 10+ | Netflix HDR | 64MP OIS Main Camera with GW1P sensor, 8MP Wide Angle Camera & 2MP Macro Camera | Human Interface Input: Touch Screen; Form Factor: Bar", "AFLMOZFV4PMKSM3JHJ7ITUT60VBA, AE2TS2D8YLAJ5WY6FFWNXFY24SQ", "Goutham Giridhar Kamath, Antara M.", "R1X7186WUECR3, RIXG2KY0QHKBV", "Let's burst some myth, iQOO Neo 6 5G \xe2\x80\x93 A midrange model that offers virtually everything I want", "I ordered this phone based on specs it was providing, later I saw flood of negative reviews coming up on Amazon which made me test few of things that was mentioned, if it was true. 1. Calls getting disconnected – I had call with my brother last night and we talked for 50 min and call did not disconnect in the middle. 2. Heating issue – While in day to day use never faced heating issue but It gets a little hot while charging, I can understand because of massive fast charging which is understandable. Every phone with fast charging heats a little. 3. Camera Quality – It has a decent 64 mp Samsung camera module which

phone with fast charging needs a decent camera quality. It has a decent 64 mp Samsung camera module which is justified at price it comes. You can judge the camera based on how well it performs indoor with artificial lighting conditions and this has done good. Attached pic of cake which I clicked indoor only bright light source was candle. It performed well I can say. (To people who complaint about camera - I just cannot expect picture clarity of Apple or Samsung high end devices, i have to set my expectations right for the price we have paid) 4. AnTuTu Benchmark Score - While company claim of 740000+ while I tested i got a score of 700000+. I again cannot complaint here because I don't know what was the testing conditions and criteria that company had followed while testing. 700000+ is pretty decent score I can say 5. Phone lag - In two days of testing it has not lagged at all. With multiple background apps running. 6. Battery Drain - Revisit few of the settings on your device, like animation, transition effect etc to get most out of your battery. If your batter is set of monstor mode set it to normal or battery saver to make most. Again battery depends of usage of individual and i cannot blame company. While I started to write this review my cell phone was at 100%. Now it's almost 25 min typing till now it's now showing 99%, i have set my screen at full brightness, i fell its decent. Also tested charging speed 0 to 50 in 12.03 min. 7. Build quality - It's sturdy and decent plastic is used. I can say at this price point they should have provided glass build but again considering all price benefit you have got while buying this phone no complaint (Card Discount + Exchange Benefit etc). Still I would take out 1 star here. 8. Black colour issue - Did not face any problem with screen leak or black colour. It's AMOLED screen. Black is highlight of AMOLED. In case you were using IPS / FHD panel on your previous phone you will have trouble distinguishing. I have Samsung M51 as secondary device and i see black similar on both. 9. BGMI - I played few rounds yesterday and did not face any frame drop or lag. 10. Two year warranty - They calaimed to provide two year warranty on this device but during registration it shows only 1 year. I have personally wrote to Iqoo team and Amazon team seeking an answer, with screenshots waiting for answer. BTW majority of phone manufacturers provide 1 year warranty only, even iPhone. Here I would say fight for you justice and seek answer from Iqoo or Amazon Team. 11. Video call lag - Did not face any, did multiple video calls yesterday with different people, did not get any complaint from them about my video lag. For all of them my video popped up instantaneous. Overall I would say I had a great buy and can recommend this device to others, for all the folks bombarding negative reviews, I would say first set your expectations right and you will be satisfied. In case even still you are facing problem then you have every right to complaint and get justice. Overall i give this device a 4 star as of now since I am yet to test this device long term like 3 months or 4 months. *Please excuse any typos or grammatical errors if any. Entire review was typed on my phone Iqoo Neo 6., I have been using a budget phone realme 3 since 2019 (dynamic black, 3GB/64GB). It served me well, but it was time for an upgrade. I was looking for a midrange model this time that would have almost everything I wanted within my budget. Did I get one? Let's dig into it! THE GOOD# Price. After discounts, I got a phone with practically all the features I wanted. # IQOO is basically from Vivo, an internationally recognized brand. Hopefully, I don't have to worry about software updates for at least 3 years. IQOO is already doing good as I have received 3 security updates so far for the Android 12 that came out of the box. I will keep an eye on the security updates and OS upgrades as it will make me decide whether to go for Vivo/IQOO for my next phone. # Dual 5G SIM support, which is futuristic. With 4G, the call quality has been superb so far. # E4 AMOLED 120 Hz 1300 nits (peak) 1080x2400 pixels display with 6000000:1 contrast ratio, 360 Hz touch sampling rate and HDR10+ (Netflix HDR supported). A huge upgrade from my previous phone. The photos, OTT movies look too good. Easier to read contents like messages, emails or documents. # 64 MP main cam with OIS. OIS was a must-have feature for me since I could be taking a lot of low-light photos. # 4700 mAh battery with 80W FlashCharge Technology; 50% in 12 min, 100% in 32 min. Works as claimed. The battery life has been satisfactory. # SD 870 CPU. Not one of the flagship processors today, but highly capable, and fantastic at this price. Inclusion of 12 GB RAM has made this phone a buttery-smooth one for running apps (Android is quite a RAM dependent OS unlike iOS). Up to 4 GB of phone storage can be used for extended RAM. Currently, I have 100+ apps installed (mostly productivity apps, but no gaming apps). The cascade cooling system seems to be working. # 256 GB ROM with UFS 3.1. Since phones nowadays tend to ditch a dedicated microSDXC slot, and this phone is no exception, I did not want the 128 GB variant. A fast, large internal ROM is better than an external card as the latter loads the apps, files slower. # The in-display fingerprint reader works well. # The stereo speakers are reasonably good. # Infrared port (IR blaster). I have not tried using it as a remote, but a must try. # USB-C port with USB-C to USB-A data cable that connects to the phone charger. Some of us prefer a USB-C to USB-C data cable instead as it is more friendly to the modern devices, but I can see why IQOO decided to provide a USB-C to USB-A. Most laptops still come with USB-A ports (even my recent hp 250 G8 laptop from the company I work for does have a USB-C port without power delivery, and two USB-A ports!). My powerbanks don't have USB-C ports either. # Screenshots, lock screen virtual buttons. Must as using physical buttons frequently for these functions can potentially damage the buttons. THE BAD# Google backup. A FAIL. Since I did not have a USB-C to USB-C cable, I had to choose the Wi-Fi data transfer option from my old phone to this one. Although I selected all the files, Google failed to transfer many files especially the PDFs. Dear Google, this is unacceptable. # Spam handling. My realme 3 lets me block any SMS I want, but this one does not. In my opinion, every modern phone must have a native app that can identify the caller and help block a number or an SMS as needed. I have stopped using a 3rd party app like Truecaller, which has become a truly rogue app. # No 3.5 mm jack (a plus when you don't have a bluetooth earphone, or don't prefer one), but IQOO thankfully included a USB-C to 3.5 mm adapter in the box. # The absence of gorilla glass protection is not a good thing, but I do not mind as I barely drop my phone, and the phone came with an already applied tempered glass screen protector, and a transparent back cover. Really appreciated. The plastic body does not bother me; moreover, the dark nova color feels cool. YMMV. # In my realme 3 (and not in my realme C2, which means it is a custom feature from realme for specific OS versions), if I try turning off the daily wakeup alarm, it gives me options like Turn off on, or Do not repeat any more, or Cancel. This is a fabulous feature as it allows me to turn off the alarm for a particular day (say, an upcoming leave or holiday) without turning it off for the following days! Unfortunately, this artificial intelligence is not available in my IQOO Neo 6 5G. Always buy a recently released model if you are going for an Android phone. This will make sure that you get software support for long enough time. Moreover, avoid buying the variant with lowest RAM/ROM. And, fast charging is a necessity as you see that you are hooked up with your phone all the time. I have used this phone for ~ 2 months and will update this review as I keep using it. Till date, I am quite satisfied with IQOO Neo 6 5G (I also liked the Funtouch OS), and recommend it to anybody who has needs like me.", https://m.media-amazon.com/images/I/51DLa8HNWL_SX300_SY300_QL70_ML2_.jpg, https://www.amazon.in/iQOO-128GB-Storage-Snapdragon82AE-FlashCharge/dp/B07WDKLRX/ref=sr_1_63?qid=1672895762&s=electronics&sr=1-63&nB09M0SCJ01, "boAt Xtend Smartwatch with Alexa Built-in, 1.69 inch HD Display, Multiple Watch Faces, Stress Monitor, Heart & SpO2 Monitoring, 14 Sports Modes, Sleep Monitor, 5 ATM & 7 Days Battery(Charcoal Black)", Electronics | Wearable Technology | Smart Watches, "2022", "71%", "4.2", "69,622", "Alexa built-in Voice Assistant that sets reminders, alarms and answers questions from weather forecasts to live cricket scores at your command! | Screen Size- 1.69 inch big square colour LCD display with a round dial features complete capacitive touch experience to let you take control, effortlessly. | Watch Faces- Multiple watch faces with customizable options to match your OOTD, every day! | Brightness- The ambient light display allows automatic

It lacks base. Battery backup is good. ANC is a myth in this earphone. It might hurt your ear if you wear it for longer duration depending on the shape of your ear,Eat easily fit in ears and light weight ,and sound quality is good too. Over all its worth to by this samsung buds ita connects well to the samsung mobile too.,Bought this solely due to its form factor - to try how samsung has made them to sound in this open bud style. To be true Samsung has managed excellently to give us an unique TWS.This is not an inear style TWS but resembles somewhat earbud style TWS, only of its kind in the market as far as my Knowledge goes.They are held very good in my ears, gives me a good seal and does not fall out (strange as I can't use earbuds because they fall out frequently). It seems that Samsung has finalised the shape after a good homework. However, it doesn't mean that it will fit everybody as there are many dissatisfied users around the globe.The finish, build and all such generic factors are top notch. The size of the buds and the case is very small.Now about the sound. If the buds fit in one's ears with a good seal, the sound is full bodied but if the seal is not perfect, it may be tinny.The sound signature is very bassy for my taste and I have to eq it to my taste. The bass is so pounding that sometimes it becomes difficult to get a taste of the treble. I listen it in TREBLE BOOST mode adjusted through the app. ANC works strangely and noise reduction is not very decipherable. In contrary, ANC ON somewhat opens up the sound. Don't buy this for ANC.Strangely to me, these buds sound better on my iPhone 12mini than my Galaxy S22 (Spotify and Apple Music). The buds have app support for both Android (Galaxy wear) and iOS (Galaxy Buds Live) but the Android app is more feature packed and works better. The iOS app couldn't update the firmware (although there is a Menu in the app) and always showed the device to be on latest firmware. However, as soon as I connected with my S22, on pairing, the first thing it did was to update the firmware.I love these buds solely for their form factor and they are pretty good for 4.4K against an MRP of 16K. The do sound very good but does not suit my taste. Persons loving bass may love them. Don't get them for ANC. Battery consumption not yet fully tested but seems ok. It has wireless charging too. If your ears are too small or too large than normal - better not to buy as they may either not go in the ears or will fit loose giving a improper seal.,Best call quality. Noise cancelling could have been improved to best, but still works good.Descent battery life.Music is good. Not to that top notch, but good in this segment.Overall worth for buying with good call quality a very little to compromise but good.,I am using this for like 3 months it is a good and productive if you are in the samsung ecosystem if you are not a part then do not buy it its not worth its price.,Bluetooth range is not that good,The sound quality is extremely good for a tws and the sound signature is almost flat. I got these for Rs.5290, it almost felt like a steal deal for me until I faced one cardinal flaw in the design of these buds. The bluetooth antenna has an absymal performance. It feels like I am using bluetooth v3.0. The range is so poor that even if you put the phone in the pocket, the audio starts stuttering. The mic quality is a hit or miss, inside the house it works very well, but outside it performs poorly. I think it has more to do with poor antenna design than the microphone's quality. If you are thinking that maybe the faulty product is an exception, then do a google search about its range issue and you will find hundreds of people complaining about the same thing. Samsung has poorly implemented the design and is reluctant to admit its fault. I pity those who bought it at around 15k for such a flawed product. Even at Rs 5k it is not worth it because of the range issue. It is better to buy a wired IEM, atleast it will sound better than this.,In this price Samsung brand is goodEasy to wear and good battery backupHardly support the 2 meter Bluetooth connectivity",https://m.media-amazon.com/images/I/31Sx7+mu+VL_SY300_SX300.jpg,https://www.amazon.in/Samsung-Galaxy-SM-R180NZKAINU-Mystic-Black/dp/B08FN6WGDQ/ref=sr_1_74?qid=1672895770&s=electronics&sr=1-74&nB0B3D39RKV, "OnePlus Nord 2T 5G (Jade Fog, 12GB RAM, 256GB Storage)", "Electronics|Mobiles&Accessories|Smartphones&BasicMobiles|Smartphones", "\xe2\x82\xb9933,999", "\xe2\x82\xl 50MP Main Camera with Sony IMX766 and OIS, 8MP Ultrawide Camera with 120 degree FOV and 2MP mono lens with Dual LED Flash; 32MP Front (Selfie) Camera with Sony IMX615|Camera Features: AI Scene Enhancement, AI Highlight Video, Slow-motion captures, Dual-view Video, HDR, Nightscape, Portrait mode, Pano, Retouching and exciting filters|Display: 6.43 Inches; 90 Hz AMOLED Display with Corning Gorilla Glass 5; Resolution: 2400 X 1080 pixels; HDR 10+ Certified|Display Features: Ambient Display, AI colour enhancement and Dark mode|Operating System: OxygenOS based on Android 12|Processor: Mediatek Dimensity 1300|Battery & Charging: 4500 mAh with 80W

Review 1 is 30 days after purchase (Typos in the Review 1 has rectified now) and Review 2 is 15 days post Android 13 beta update. These reviews are based on my own personal experience of the device purchased here in Amazon on 1 August 2022. Before OOS 13 update, 5G (only for Jio) was enabled via another update. 5G is still not available in my region. Hence, 5G related parameters are not covered in this review. Review 2: After about 15 days of Oxygen OS 13 Beta update (Android 13): (Update received on 1 Dec 2023). Note: After the beta update, no new issues popped up i.e., there were; No Heating related issues. No fast battery drain. No change in the Charging time. No annoying bugs. No change in camera performance. Beta update is mostly like a Stable update. OOS 13 (Android 13) update review: Delighters: > No new apps added. Absolutely NOT. > System storage consumption remains the same (13.2 GB). > Animations are more fluidic. > More customization UI features added. (Scout widgets in home screen, Enlarged folder & lot more.) > Daily data usage is available in the notification panel and need not be reset daily unlike earlier. > Slight improvement in the Front Ambient light sensor. > Ability to play videos in the background & screen OFF as well (even for YouTube) (Really a welcoming & longing feature, which other brand UIs have not or only with screen OFF) > Stand-by battery life has improved substantially. Disappointers: > Brightness at lowest level is brighter than before. > No improvement in Sound levels. Still initial 40% is too silent. > No Dolby Atmos (which was mentioned for OOS 13). Perhaps, to wait for Stable update. > Auto brightness latency is higher than earlier. Response time is tad increased. > Haptics have become tighter than earlier, but still not stronger. ===== Review 1: Verdict - A Good Buy in this price range in 2022. Note: - This review is after a month's usage. - Received 2 updates during the course of time (Recent update was of 0.98 GB). - System consumes 13.2 GB space. 128 GB variant is pretty adequate for a normal usage. - N77 band is missing for 5G. - The unit I bought DOES NOT have any sort of heating issues or fast battery drain issue. - Shifting from a 120 Hz to this 90 Hz mobile. No noticeable difference observed. (In Non-gaming aspect) - Nothing Great or Noting worse in the unmentioned parameters. Things that are delighting; > Exceptional signal reception (especially 4G+ carrier aggregation). Very fast download speeds. > Insane Fast charging (0 to 100% in 40 mins, 30 to 100 % in 20 mins, excluding trickle charge). No heating of the mobile (just slight warming) during charging. > Stand by charge and SoT is fantastic (Even more than 7.5 hrs, for Videos, YT and general tasks and calls, even in mobile data always ON and AOD set to Battery saver. > Oxygen OS = Color OS/Realme OS - Bloatware. The skin is really good & nothing to complain like other brands' UI. > Absolutely no 3rd party bloatware and no ads in the UI or any 2nd party apps. Even some 2nd party apps are ""un-installable"". No major bothering bugs noticed till date. > Yes, the ""Alert slider"" is included, unlike some premium OnePlus models. Things that are annoying; > Dual ambient light sensor (1 in rear and other in front) is not well calibrated. The brightness is always in the lower side and frequent manual increase in required. > Volume level is useless until 40% level (can be audible only in ""Pin-drop silence ambience). Audible enough only post 40% level. Stereo speakers output are 70% bottom and 30 % earpiece. But full volume doesn't distort & is loud enough. > Haptics are tight but not strong, even in higher levels. Effective only post 40% and best only @ 90% level) > Hotspot drains battery quickly (even a warning notification pops up). Also, Chrome and Google app eats away battery quickly. Parallel downloads makes the area near the camera module warm. > Though the in-hand feel is good, the buttons are of no close tolerances and wobbles a bit. > Data billing cycle to be reset daily to show the daily data usage in the notification panel. > The inbuilt DAC (no 3.5 mm hole and only Type-C port) is not great. The Dirac equalizer is also not yielding best output. Perhaps, Dolby Atmos support in OOS 13 could improve the audio output. Overall it's a good mobile phone. The speed and interface is all good but expect battery to last long. Not much, i always keep it in battery saving mode and work for about 18-20 hours on normal use.. not many themes available. Samsung is better in that sense.. there are many wallpapers and themes available. Display is clear and camera is also good! Overall okay., I got this mobile (12Gb, 25Gb Ram variant) at 31k after 3k discount on icici credit card. For this price it's a must buy. I am using this product since last 2 weeks. The camera is pretty good and the screen and stereo speakers are also working very well. The only complaint I can say is the battery life could have been better, as a working professional it doesn't makes a lot difference for me but who is a heavy user they will need to charge it twice a day. If you have no issues with the battery section then just go for it. \xf0\x9f\x91\x8d, Battery drains like any thing. Rest all good. I have to recharge twice a day, don't buy if you want a good battery backup. Even though phone is fast charge, I am disappointed with battery life., I bought 12gb and 256 and it's working very smoothly, for normal regular use you can go for it., There is problem with temper glass part , front Camera area temper glass not installing, Good but not so fast as I think 12gb 256 it's ordinary like 8gb ., Apart from battery and sound quality, everything else is good.", https://m.media-amazon.com/images/I/41iEc0hf6TL.SX300_SY300_QL70_ML2_.jpg, https://www.amazon.in/OnePlus-Nord-Jade-256GB-Storage/dp/B0B3D39RKV/ref=sr_1_75?qid=1672895770&s=electronics&sr=1-75&nB085HY1DGR_Souce Spiral Charger Cable Protector Data Cable Saver Charging Cord Protective Cable Cover Headphone MacBook Laptop Earphone Cell Phone Set of 3 (Cable Protector (12 Units)), Computers & Accessories | Accessories & Peripherals | Cables & Accessories | Cable Connection Protectors, \xe2\x82\xb9 cables: The cable protector was designed with highly flexible silicone, which can be applied as phone charger saver and charger protector to completely protect cables for all devices | Protection Effect : These cable saver protectors can protect wires and power cords from dirt, frays, tangles and knots; Reduce the risk of fraying and breaking | Touch Comfortable: The wiring protector is made of good quality TPU material, soft and touch comfortable, which can be applied to protect your headphone cords, charger cables and so on | Prolong Life Of Cables: The charger cable saver will help to prolong the life of your cable even the cable has been damaged | Easy to Install: A detailed usage is provided; All you need to do is install according to the steps in the manual", "AENDUJB50ZB6K4DYJ36JCWFTSRCQ, AHRWY7ICLIT35PBQFPD7V7C7NJDDQ, AFSTHMXFUDYHM43NKFYF5TM2DDA, AGVOU7UYLUAX4S7I heart, Amazon Customer, Pritish Biswas, Sriram Ramanathan, Srinivasan Subramanian, zubair, Amazon Customer, Amit Chotrani", "R3TQ32UCRS81WR, R2QPXXMX0YH89H, R2NBUIKICW6ASD, R3KIQZ1W9FWK3P, R1R9QY3F8M6CXP, R2DNZV0AH311P1, R2ZAGKBT18: and soft product, IN PICTURE SHOWS AS 16 NOS BUT IN COVER ONLY 8 NOS, Usefull! Wires are great built and tangle free. The audio jack is compatible with almost all devices and its gold plated as well. I just didn't find the case. It was missing from my product. Though they have given 2 pairs of extra buds with different sizes. Overall it's a great wired in mic earphones. Go ahead and add to your cart. You won't regret it., So first, let's talk about the external-Build quality is awesome 9/10 even at such an affordable price. Looks-I have all 3 colours of these earphones and all colours looks cool Wire-the wire quality is 9/10. I have these earphones from 4 months and these haven't tangled since. Also the rubber coating and the inside braided wires gives a nice looking effect. But 1 thing I have seen is the middle piece which have a mic and buttons is 180 degree reversed. so, many times it's difficult to pick the right or left earphone without seeing. But it is mentioned on the earphones so that becomes easy. Now about the main part the internals The sound quality is so so nice. \xf0\x9f\x98\xaas you can see in my title. Solid 8/10. You can listen any music like lofi or peacefull type and when it's time for a party you can listen rock, bass boosted songs with such a adorable quality its the true definition for true sound and at cheap prices. Bass quality is also good. perfect for the ears. And if u want high bass, I tried it with max bass it can produce and that's awesome. But don't listen high bass for long. Those can hurt ur ears really bad. But noise cancellation is 4/10. seems like there is no noise cancellation. Maybe its mentioned for the mic not for the earpiece. Obviously there are very high quality products then this product but those will atleast cost 2000. But I will choose this product instead of a 1500 one or less than 1500 because this cost less than 500 or sometimes less than 400 (depends on sale) but quality and services of these products are not less than of a 2000 rs earphone. In past, 1 of my earphone died but the customer care is so generous, there services are so cool and quick. So those got replaced within 3 days. (it's 3 days because I forgot the eslip, if you mail them with everting ready it won't take more than 2 working days) It's an honest review by me and I will definitely suggest you to but these. \xe2\x98\xba\xef\x8f\x0\x9f\x99\x83 Edited:- Their services are slower now. Don't know why and it takes around 1.5 week to 2 weeks to get the refund. If something happens to ur earphones. Also its been like 1 year as of 1-9-21 And I saw some trend with it. My brother earphones stop producing sound from one side every 4 months or so But mine earphones be with me for 5 months. It's not a problem though cause you can mail 'em regarding this. This happened with me even with extra proper care of the earphone. Still the best earphones, you can find at this price point, NOT FOR HIGH BASS LOVERS, Everything was OK but as shown in the picture that you will get a case along with earphones, which was not there inside it (only earphone and some earplucks were there), This range very good product. if your budget under- 400 definitely you can buy this product., Nice product, Product is good but the accessories like the pouch is not provided as mentioned in the description in the second delivery also, despite the return of first delivery of the product for REPLACEMENT with pouch, product is good but needs to work on noise cancellation", https://m.media-amazon.com/images/I/41EnFjAoaL_SX300_SY300_QL70_ML2_.jpg, https://www.amazon.in/Boom-Ultima-Headphones-Cancelling-Earphones/dp/B08D75R3Z1/ref=sr_1_7?pd_rd_g=amazon&pf_rd_p=17010000720241&pf_rd_r=17010000720241, "Samsung Galaxy M13 (Aqua Green, 4GB, 64GB Storage) | 6000mAh Battery | Upto 8GB RAM with RAM Plus", "Electronics|Mobiles & Accessories|Smartphones & Basic Mobiles|Smartphones", "\xe2\x82\xb9910,999", "\xe2\x82\xb9914, lithium-ion battery, 1 year manufacturer warranty for device and 6 months manufacturer warranty for in-box accessories including batteries from the date of purchase|Upto 12GB RAM with RAM Plus | 64GB internal memory expandable up to 1TB| Dual Sim (Nano)|50MP+5MP+2MP Triple camera setup- True 50MP (F1.8) main camera +5MP (F2.2)+ 2MP (F2.4) | 8MP (F2.2) front cam|Android 12, One UI Core 4 with a powerful Octa Core Processor|16.72 centimeters (6.6-inch) FHD+ LCD - infinity O Display, FHD+ resolution with 1080 x 2408 pixels resolution, 401 PPI with 16M color", "AGAE LRYPMTGSSADZPDYB343EASAA, AGFN4J0DOM2NTFCJQ0HDBQLVDJTQ, AG7EZVSAXIVGMNDLSA55K7URQCJA, AGGF75HIEMB670U7. I was even mentally prepared for a bad camera, based on some reviews here. But I was pleasantly surprised that camera clicks good photos. They are not awesome, but they are decent photos that can even be shared. Now coming to my biggest grouse; heating issue. The phone started heating up while charging, but it was just a little and so I could have ignored it. But then it started heating up more and got me very concerned. I even ordered a replacement thinking I got a defective piece. But then, after further tests, I found that it is heating more when I download huge amounts of data, for example, when I restore data of my old phone, from back up. This is ok with me as, I don't perform huge data loads regularly, definitely not on phone. Then I tested by running tasks I usually perform such as checking office mails, attending office meeting on phone, watching a video from Amazon Prime, and so on. The phone did not heat up even a little. Personally, this is good for me. At this price range, this is a good phone. But if you are camera heavy user and expect to perform heavy downloads frequently, this phone may not for you. I am personally satisfied with this phone as it works for my type of usage. I will not go into plus points of this phone as they are covered by other reviews already. I am only attempting to clarify about how this phone can suit you (or not) in terms of camera and heating. I had many questions about these aspects before buying. Perhaps this review will help you make an informed decision to buy (or avoid). Cheers., Display - Beauty Camera - decent Performance - Amazing Battery - ok (in 5000mah u expect more tbh) Overall good phone... Also after 1 day of use, i found some network connectivity issue in my jiosim, which I'm using right now in this phone, but I'll keep update this review after 1 month of usage!, It's a decent mobile under this price but few things worried me, weight of the phone, too many procedure to change some settings, no screen casting. Apart from that it has good touch, a decent camera for day light, battery life is good., I bought this smartphone for my mom. Samsung interface is very handfull for easy use. Battery is superb, last whole day. Camera is mediocre but provide original colour pictures. All in all satisfied with this smartphone that i got in sale for 9499., Unable to do video call within same service provider as in VOLTE within same service provider video call feature is available., Product is fine. Nothing Fancy but for the budget it is a good phone., BATTERY : more than enough for normal use Not sure in gaming CAMERA : good in this segment , can record videos in FHD 30fps DISPLAY : since it's a LCD display the quality is a bit less , but good V RAM : you can add upto 2gb of virtual ram but have to sacrifice your storage Space to use it OVERALL A GOOD BUDGET PHONE, Finger print is working speedy battery backup is good camera quality is also good", https://m.media-amazon.com/images/I/41op1vdp-UL_SX300_SY300_QL70_ML2_.jpg, https://www.amazon.in/Samsung-Galaxy-Storage-6000mAh-Battery/dp/B0B4F2TITS/ref=sr_1_78?qid=1672895770&s=electronics&sr=1-78&nB09WRMNJ9G, "OnePlus 10R 5G (Forest Green, 8GB RAM, 128GB Storage, 80W SuperV00C)", Electronics|Mobiles&Accessories|Smartphones&BasicMobiles|Smartphones, "\xe2\x82\xb934,999", "\xe2\x82\x9950MP Main Camera with Sony IMX766 and 2MP Macro Camera with Dual LED Flash; 16MP Front (Selfie) Camera with Sony IMX471|Camera Features: Nightscape2.0, Super Macro, UltraShot HDR, Smart Scene Recognition, Portrait mode, Pro mode, Panorama, Tilt-shift mode, Focus Peaking, Filters, Video Nightscape, Video HDR, Video Portrait Timelapse, Hyperlapse Mode|Display: 6.7 Inches; 120 Hz IRIS Display; Resolution: 2400 X 1080 pixels 394 ppi; Aspect Ratio: 20:9|Display Features: Hyper Touch Mode, Reading Mode, Night Mode, Eye Comfort Mode, Auto brightness|Operating System: OxygenOS based on Android 12, Processor: MTK D8100 Max|Battery & Charging: 5000 mAh with 80W SuperV00C. Review after one month of use., Oxygen OS is providing poor experience, overall device is okay., Amazing Product, Okay", "I am using OnePlus 10R 8GB 128GB more than one month. It is my first ever OnePlus phone. My personal review about this phone is as under: Pros: 1. Boxy design looks nice but feels not so premium but if you use its cover it feels nice. Cover quality is very nice. 2. Screen is bright even in sunlight if you select auto brightness. Also screen color and touch response feels premium. 3. Battery life is very impressive with 1.5 day backup with normal use. 4. 80 watt charger is very fast which charge your phone within 30 to 35 minutes. 5. I am not a heavy gamer but I tried asfalt 9 which runs very smooth. I think it'll play heavy games smoothly. So it perform well. 6. I am new to use Oxygen OS. I feels OS premium and smooth without adds. 7. Rear camera shots very good pictures but selfie camera need some improvement which I think can be done via software update. 8. No heating issue. 9. Lightweight. Cons: 1. If you use without case, it doesn't feel like premium phone. 2. I don't like the sound quality although it has dual speaker. You can feel vibration on its back panel which feels very bad. 3. Selfie camera needs improvement. 4. Zoom is very bad on rear camera. 5. No IP certification. 6. No expendable storage. 7. Paid theme store. 8. Should have some dot notch animations like samsung. At last I can say it is a nice phone with some cons, if you want OnePlus smartphone within Rs. 35000/- you can go for it., Terrific purchase at the price of 33k. Body I feel light though it is not as usual OnePlus body as I had been the user of one plus in past also. Metallic sides could be a better option. Sometimes I feel lag in touch though it is for microseconds but it is there. Camera quality is good not awesome. Battery life is good i used to charge once and a day can be completed by it. Obviously, i bought it as it is one of the affordable option in terms of brand. Love to see metallic frames in coming phones. Storage is tremendous and speed is also good. Overall a good purchase a phone can be rated 4 out of 5., This smart phone is good enough for daily normal use. But battery life is not good enough though it says 5000 mAh. Camera quality is not good enough in this price segment. Although it's Oxygen OS, it is not well optimised. From the starting there will be some lagging issue with some apps. Another bad thing about this smart phone is its form factor. The company taking around 39k but giving just a plastic body which will look like below 20k. If someone wants to buy this i suggest to buy another model don't go for this model because of the brand. One good thing is oneplus promised three major android update and four years security update. Another bad thing is its primary camera design. One of the three camera is so big that it's embracing to say its price is 39k., I would like to get directly to the pros and cons. Pros: 1) BATTERY - The first and the best thing about this phone is the damn battery life and how fast it charges. It's just amazing and I have been kind of spoilt by it now, I won't be able to adjust with a lesser battery performance and charging anymore! 2) CAMERA - The camera is amazing and takes some really amazing pictures. No complains. 3) LOOKS - The phone looks really beautiful. I got the forest green colour and it looks simply awesome and is eye catching and premium looking. CONS: 1) The overall working of the phone is not as seamless as it should be provided the hardware it boasts of. Having said that, the factor cannot be a purchase deterrent. It's otherwise quite smooth. 2) The absence of an alert slider was a disappointment. I was used to it on my 6T3) Volume - Not too happy with the phone speakers. They somehow are not up to the mark. To sum it up - Just go for it if you have a tight budget but want a premium looking, good performing phone. It packs too much for a 43k phone - good battery, fastest charging in the segment, premium looks, good performance., Using the phone after two days I have noticed weird experience with UI, tapping on grey or black areas screen flickers to that portion and according to service centre it's a common issue across all phones and getting fixed by Oxygen 13 update as there were no issue with 10pro. So we have to do nothing but to wait for releasing the new OS update on the 10R and other models as well. Overall device working good so far I experienced average camera results, superb charging but not so extended battery life, touch sensor and speakers are fine and performance is good in my day to day tasks, hopefully UI and OS updates will help to deliver best of this phone., Over all camera \xf0\x9f\x93\xb8 is just amazing I am a youtuber purpose behind choosing this device is it's processor dimensity 8100 max it's a supersoft max performance not even capturing while gaming also it's runs very smoothly and it's my FIRST PREMIUM SMARTPHONE I'm the uploader photos 20x zoom lg pic and I have uploaded night and day lighting pics to compare Good device from one plus, Its speaker is not really working well using it since 6 months only plus it doesn't come with a warranty plan it has to be brought separately camera quality is also okay not that good microphone is also been disturbing a lot while talking on the call other side person gets a lot of disturbance", https://m.media-amazon.com/images/I/41p04gJMWEL_SX300_SY300_QL70_ML2_.jpg, https://www.amazon.in/OnePlus-Forest-Green-Storage-SuperV00C/dp/B09WRMNJ9G/ref=sr_1_79?qid=1672895770&s=electronics&sr=1-79&nB0B14MR9L1, "Samsung Galaxy M33 5G (Emerald Brown, 6GB, 128GB Storage) | 6000mAh Battery | Upto 12GB RAM with RAM Plus | Travel Adapter to be Purchased Separately", Electronics|Mobiles&Accessories|Smartphones&BasicMobiles|Smartphones, "\xe2\x82\xb916,999", "\xe2\x82\x991280 Octa Core 2.4GHz 5nm Processor with the 12 band support for a True 5G experience|16.72 centimeters (6.6-inch) LCD Display, FHD+ resolution, 1080x2400 pixels protected by Gorilla Glass 5|Versatile Quad camera setup- 50MP (F1.8)+ 5MP (F2.2/UW- 123 FOV) + 2MP (F2.4/Depth) + 2MP (F2.4/Macro) QuadCamera| 8MP (F1.8) Front Camera| Massive 6000 mAh Battery | Memory, Storage & SIM: 6GB RAM | 128GB internal memory expandable up to 1TB| SIM 1 + SIM 2+ Micro SD| Latest Android v12.0, One UI 4 operating system.", "AHJJY3GFDJFTDTX5536IMIXVNCNQ, AEYIVONPYGGVCE7K4Y3PNQPKVHSQ", "Atulya Sinha, SujayZ\xae2\x84\xae2\xef\x8b\x8f\xae2\x98\x91\xef\x8b\x8f", "R36UIGIQWYOKT, RISUCL5YV9EZN", "THE PERFECT PHONE \xe2\x80\x93 FOR MY REQUIREMENTS, Galaxy M33 5G a mixed bag of Affordability", "I would not consider buying an i-phone simply because my friend owns two of them \xe2\x80\x93 or blindly go for a new Android model suggested by my son or nephew (both of whom are more tech savvy than me) because their recommendations are obviously based on their own needs and expectations, which may differ from mine. I am an old-fashioned mechanical engineer with a basic understanding of parameters like millimetres, megapixels and megabytes \xe2\x80\x93 but I think of a

a basic understanding of parameters like millimetres, megapixels and megabytes \xe2\x80\x9d but I think of a cellphone as a utility item, not a status symbol. Applying a technocratic approach, I would not choose a costlier option unless I get additional features which suit my requirements. My foremost requirement \xe2\x80\x93 which is entirely non-negotiable \xe2\x80\x93 is that my handset must have provision for two SIM cards, since I do not want to carry two separate handsets for my CUG and personal numbers. My other requirements are not difficult to fulfil: a phonebook with at least 2000 contacts, basic net connectivity, a basic camera for photos and videos and scope for downloading a few apps such as the ubiquitous WhatsApp and my favourite word games (which do not need much memory or processing capacity). I would certainly appreciate practical features like high reliability, software and security updates and high battery capacity (sufficient for 24 hours or preferably 48 hours at my normal level of usage). Besides, I would like to use a new handset for at least two years. Apart from exigencies, I do not intend to use my cellphone for surfing the Internet, videoconferencing or sending e-mails as I prefer using a desktop or laptop for such activities. I am equally clear about what I do not need. I do not intend to use my cellphone for watching movies, reading books, listening to music or creating fancy social media posts. Nor do I want a device for taking high resolution photos during a vacation as I would prefer to use a camera. At the risk of sounding flippant, I would say that I do not want a device to unlock my car or count the strokes in a game of golf \xe2\x80\x93 primarily because I do not own a car and I do not play golf! Having used smartphones of Samsung and Motorola makes over the past few years, I vastly prefer the former. My last phone, which gave me over 30 months of good service, was a Samsung M30. Since that model is obsolete now, I focused on its upgraded cousins: M32, M33 and M52. The last was immediately ruled out as it does not support two SIM cards along with an SD card. After studying the relative specifications of M32 and M33, I concluded that the latter offers better value for money. Generally, it is worth going for the higher memory and higher RAM versions as these parameters affect the performance and the difference in cost is relatively small. With these considerations, I narrowed down my choice to M33 with 8GB RAM and 128GB storage (Just twenty years ago, I was using a desktop with 2GB memory!) As a confirmation for my choice, I compared the phone I had selected with OnePlus Nord CE 2 (8GB RAM, 128GB Storage) which my son had recommended. The specification of the Samsung phone was found to be equivalent or superior for the major parameters, except that the display screen technology was TFT instead of AMOLED. I also watched some Youtube videos about these handsets for a better appreciation of their competing features. The clinching factor was that the Samsung phone was priced substantially lower than the OnePlus product. As for body colour, my first choice was Emerald Brown, but I settled for the Mystique Green since the former was not available in my selected configuration. I was thinking this would be irrelevant since I use a case which completely encloses the handset, but it turned out that the body colour can be glimpsed through the cutout for the cameras on the rear of the phone. Despite a strong family resemblance with my old one (M30), the new phone (M33) offers decidedly superior specifications and it meets my requirements perfectly. It is a few millimetres longer and a few grams heavier than my old phone, but these differences are acceptable to me. Thanks to the 50MP front camera and 8MP selfie camera, the quality of photos and videos is above my expectations (see sample pic taken at night at a distance of about 30 metres from the stage). This phone offers two years of android updates and four years of security patch updates, which reduces the worries on these fronts. Youtube reviewers complain that the M33 has plain looks, it is heavy, its audio does not offer an \xe2\x80\x93 immersive listening experience \xe2\x80\x93 and its screen is plain old TFT instead of AMOLED. I am willing to live with these perceived shortcomings, so long as the M33 meets my requirements. I was glad to find that Samsung has taken an environmentally friendly step of offering many models of handsets without chargers \xe2\x80\x93 because old chargers, like old handsets, add to e-waste. However, it needs to be kept in mind that new handsets require higher capacity chargers. The recommended charger for M33 is 25 watts, but the chargers I had at home are rated at 5 or 10 watts. To cut a long story short, I ordered a 25-watt charger along with the phone to avoid compromising with the charging time. After using the new handset for a couple of weeks, I find that my phone is at 60–70% charge at the end of the day, and it takes 30–40 minutes for complete charging (one of the useful features of M33 is that it shows the time remaining for complete charging as soon as it is plugged in for charging). It turns out that I could have managed with the old 10-watt charger, except that it would have taken 60–90 minutes for full charging. I conclude by emphasizing that Samsung Galaxy M33 5g is the perfect phone \xe2\x80\x93 but for my requirements. A word of advice: if you are planning to buy a new phone, it would be helpful if you list out your requirements so that you do not end up paying for features that you do not intend to use. With 5G connectivity, a 120Hz display and solid performance, the Galaxy M33 5G is Samsung \xe2\x80\x93's best-value smartphone yet under 20K segment. Pros: \xe2\x80\x93 Almost half the price of Galaxy A53. Exynos 1280 is a solid performer. Excellent 120Hz display with smooth experience across the board. Huge performance uplift over M32. One UI 4.1 based on android 12 has tons of good features to love, none of the flagship grade features are skipped here (apart from dex mode and spen features), Zero lag or stuttering in 120 hz mode with ease of use and seamless switching of apps without any crash or reloading. \xe2\x80\x93 of apps, makes using one ui pleasure to surf across. You get features like a \xe2\x80\x93 screen recorder, \xe2\x80\x93 video call effects, Game Launcher, \xe2\x80\x93 Link to Windows, \xe2\x80\x93 Dual Messenger, \xe2\x80\x93 Quick Share, \xe2\x80\x93 Music Share, and Secure Folder, along with many others. Some of the fancy Android 12 features, like the ability to \xe2\x80\x93 change the color palette \xe2\x80\x93 of icons and menus based on the wallpaper and \xe2\x80\x93 dim the screen for easier reading in the dark, are also included. Voice focus for calls is excellent feature, phone call quality is really good even in noisy and crowded areas. I had no issues with GPS or connectivity while using Google maps to navigate, \xe2\x80\x93 signal stays strong even in rural areas, that's a positive point with good accuracy. 4g Volte with carrier aggregation works flawlessly. Wifi connectivity on the Dual band 5ghz router is strong and performs \xe2\x80\x93 more than satisfactorily with low latency response. Bluetooth 5.1 connectivity is strong and has good range. \xe2\x80\x93 no worries of disconnection even as far as 15 meters. Audio quality via 3.5 mm jack is excellent compared to Redmi note 10 pro, much more defined and well rounded. For media consumption, widevine L1 support is present, Good AV experience on ott platforms, I have no serious complaints about color reproduction in videos considering TFT LCD this panel does a good enough job. Main Camera 50mp is on par and better than Redmi note 10 pro in almost all conditions, retains colors close to reality with good dynamic range and handling of exposure with HDR in photos as well as videos, it is able to handle extremely bright conditions well. Even in shadows during day time it was able to maintain good colors. Good Stable videos at 1080p4k video recording is available at 30 FPS is available. Many cool camera features, boasts AR fun mode, single Take, Object Eraser and Video TNR (Temporal Noise Reduction) which makes it fun to use camera. Selfie camera has good punchy colors, Samsung's way of boosted colour processing some may like it, some may not. Excellent battery life, got 9 hours of SOT despite the heavy usage. It takes around 1.5 hours to go from 0–100, and half an hour of charging can take the battery percentage to around 45% provided you have 25 watt Samsung \xe2\x80\x93's charger. Despite summer time, phone has managed to stay relatively cool, 5nm architecture helping its cause here. 12 5G Bands. Dedicated SD card slot is a plus here. PD 3.0 25 watt fast charging support reasonable for price segment but we have seen faster charging speeds with other OEMs. Promised 2 major android OS updates and 4 years security updates is a huge plus above its competitors, making this device more value for money in long run. Cons: \xe2\x80\x93 Ultrawide camera is on softer side, lacks details compared to its primary sensor but manages to frame good shots that one can post on social media, macro camera is good with colors and edge detection but lacks depth of field and details, Note 10 pro which is brilliant in this case. Night shots are above average mostly grainy and muddled but better than most smartphones in its segment. Lacks some stability in Video recording at 4k. AMOLED display could have made it unbeatable. Lacks stereo Speaker, but audio quality on single speaker is quite good. Pre-installed bloatwares like Moj, dailyhunt, sharechat, byju's are mild and uninstalleable but makes mature one UI experience looks immature out of the box. Currently device is not tuned for high gaming performance as limited FPS in popular games like BGMI and COD deters it away from being a gamer friendly device, but we can expect exynos 1280 to resolve over time and be more optimized for more games in future updates. Slightly cheap design, Chunky in size, carries some heft, Dated notch display. Lack of charger in the box is a bummer, which adds up to the value cost proposition", <https://m.media-amazon.com/images/I/419KF2t1nML. The Boat Xtend Smartwatch comes with a stylish design resembling the Apple watch. Moreover, it has built-in Amazon Alexa support, SpO2 tracking, stress tracking, and much more. Coming in a budget segment, is it worth it? Should you buy this smartwatch? If you too have such queries, then there is nothing to worry about. It is a detailed review of Boat Xtend Smartwatch which will clear all your doubts about it. ContentsBox ContentDesign, Build & ComfortDisplayWatch UI And FeaturesAlexa SupportWatch FacesBoat Wave AppAccuracyBatteryFinal WordsBuy Now:Box ContentBoat Xtend box contentSmartwatch in black&gold colourCharging clipUser Manual and warranty cardDesign, Build & ComfortWhen buying a smartwatch, one always thinks about its design and look. Apart from features, design and build is another major aspect one should take care of when buying a smartwatch. The boat has worked on its design this time which brings it to a premium side in terms of look. The design is inspired by the Apple Watch 3, but it cannot be compared to that. Obviously, in every aspect, Apple Watch 3 would be much better than the Boat Xtend Smartwatch. Redmi Watch as well as Amazfit Bip U Pro has the same shape and design, but the build quality is much premium on this one. Boat Xtend design and buildI personally don\xe2\x80\x99t like the color scheme of this Boat Xtend Smartwatch. The black color variant comes with a golden color metallic frame. I believe the gold color would fade away after some time. There are three other color variants, which also don\xe2\x80\x99t look stylish as this one. However, that is my personal opinion on the color scheme, so maybe you might find the color scheme to be good. Boat Xtend designThe watch has 5ATM water resistance. It has silicon straps, which are quite comfortable. The straps are good quality straps which you will find comfortable with regular usage. DisplayComing to the display, the watch has a 42mm square shape display. What you see on this one is a TFT panel. The screen has big bezels, however, the good part is that the screen goes completely back when it is off, so you won\xe2\x80\x99t notice the bezels, and the screen quality won\xe2\x80\x99t feel cheap at all. It doesn\xe2\x80\x99t have an always-on display, but we cannot complain about that. The watch offers a screen on time of up to 20 seconds and up to 12 levels of brightness control. Boat Xtend display qualityI find the display quality of the Boat Xtend Smartwatch to be better than the previous smartwatch from Boat. View angle is good on this one, and you can clearly see content on this smartwatch even in the sunlight. The color on this one is not very saturated, but this isn\xe2\x80\x99t something that we can complain about in this price range. Watch UI And FeaturesThe UI of this smartwatch is clean and easy to use. There is a single button on the watch which works as the power/off button as well as the back button. Moreover, the display is a touchscreen display that works without any problem. There isn\xe2\x80\x99t much animation on the bar menu, and the navigation is simple, so you won\xe2\x80\x99t find it difficult to use. However, the watch may lag a bit. The company has done cost-cutting in terms of the processor, that\xe2\x80\x99s why you may find it to lag a bit, but it is OK, and not a big deal at the price point you get it. Boat Xtend UIThe watch offers all the basic fitness features such as daily activity (which includes total steps walked, calories burnt, and time), heart rate, sleep tracking, stress tracking breath training, SpO2 training, meditation, find my phone, and music control. Apart from that, there are 14 different support modes on this watch. I tried a few of them, and they worked fine. The watch notifies you of the incoming calls, messages received, and various other notifications in detail. Boat Xtend smartwatch reviewAlexa SupportThe main highlight of the Boat Xtend is the Amazon Alexa Support. The watch has an in-built microphone, and you can access it by long-pressing the back button. Do note that you can only do some basic tasks with Alexa on the watch like setting an alarm, setting a timer, and such. Well, it is a good thing to have Alexa on a watch, but you won\xe2\x80\x99t find it very useful. Probably you will use it for a day or two out of excitement, and then you won\xe2\x80\x99t prefer using it because it only does some basic tasks. So, even if Boat missed this feature, it won\xe2\x80\x99t be a problem. Boat Xtend Alexa supportWatch FacesThe next cool thing about this Boat Smartwatch is the watch faces you get on this one. You get more than 100 watch faces on the watch, and probably more watch faces will be added to it. Moreover, you can also set a custom watch face as well. Boat Xtend watch facesBoat Wave AppYou will have to download the Boat Wave App to use the watch. The app is available for both Android as well as iOS devices. You won\xe2\x80\x99t be seeing bugs on the app, and it works perfectly. I haven\xe2\x80\x99t noticed any problem with connectivity like frequent disconnection. The interface of the Boat Wave is clean and simple. You will get all the fitness-related options and all the watch settings on the app itself. Boat Xtend boat wave appAccuracyAccuracy is one of the important aspects that one should take care of when buying a smartwatch. So talking about the accuracy, I tested everything on this watch, from normal walking to running, sleeping, and much more, and I find the results to be accurate. Boat Xtend accuracy testCompared to Realme or Redmi Watch, the result was the same on all of them. So, there is no problem with the accuracy. I don\xe2\x80\x99t find the results to be accurate on most of the budget fitness trackers, but yes, this smartwatch is accurate in terms of fitness tracking, sleep tracking, and everything it does. Boat Xtend accuracyComparing it to the Noise watch which we tried recently, the stress level as well as the SpO2 tracking is much more accurate on this one. It also has the option to track the menstrual cycle in women. Boat Xtend accuracyBatteryYou get to see a 300mAh battery on this one, which the company claims to last 7 days. However, if you use most of the features of the watch, then the battery will last about two and a half days. If you keep the brightness low, then the battery will last about 3-4 days. I find the battery life to be a downside of the watch. It comes with magnet hook charging support. Final WordsBoat Xtend Smartwatch is a decent smartwatch from the Boat. It offers all the basic fitness features you will find on a budget fitness tracker, a good display, Alexa support, good design and build, and much more. The smartwatch at this price is quite good. Personally, what I didn\xe2\x80\x99t like about this smartwatch is its color scheme. However, if you like the color scheme, then I would recommend you to go for it. Overall the watch is good with nothing to dislike about it except for the battery life. The battery life on this one is quite low. The company claims it to have a battery life of 7 days, but with regular usage, it will last for 2-3 days. If you are looking for a good smartwatch under Rs.5000, and you can adjust with the battery life, and you like the color scheme, then I would recommend you to go for this smartwatch. It offers all the features that should be there in a smartwatch under Rs.5000. Pros:1. Premium build quality with matte finishing- sturdy polycarbonate frame, good soft silicone straps that r absolutely flush with the body of the watch. Attractive, trendy colours.2. Heart Rate (except heart rate spikes in weight training), Pedometer(steps counter) are accurate but SP02 is off by +/- 2% when compared to Pulse Oximeter readings. But most smart watches offer the same accuracy. Sleep tracking is accurate only for bed time & wake up time, duration but stages of sleep are inaccurate. Light, deep sleep, waking detected but no REM sleep detected. Sleep data from the watch synchronises smoothly with Boat Wave app. Issues warning msg if watch not worn on hand properly and does not detect data of surfaces.3. Large (1.69""), clear bright, sharp LCD IPS display even in the sun.4. Touch not smooth, experienced jitters. UI also lags at times & after attaching the tempered glass sometimes some functions require 02-03 taps to work. But acceptable scrolling response is finger moved diagonally instead of vertically.5. In app works superbly. Excellent route tracking on the map. This feature is not advertised in their description.6. Bluetooth 5.0 connectivity is good if mobile is kept in close proximity(7m). The Boat Wave app must remain running in the background at all times.7. Definitely splash proof though didn't take the risk of submerging the watch.8. All notifications are working, no problem with call alerts or SMS msgs or social media app notifications. No lags at all though there is provision for a 3 sec lag which can be turned on.9. Alexa works superbly but since there is no speaker, info is displayed on the screen. My Wipro Smart Bulb, FireTV stick can be controlled easily using the inbuilt Alexa on the watch. Alexa can do mathematical calculations, currency conversions, even foreign language translations, apart from supplying info on anything under the sun. But ofcourse, Alexa cannot make calls. Alexa can set alarm, timer also.10. Sedentary alert, drinking water reminder, stress alert, menstrual cycle alert, alarms, timers function well.11. Boat Wave app connects easily & no lags observed. Data syncs smoothly with Google Fit app. Excellent health reports and motivational rewards system in the form of badges. But settings can be changed only through the app and the watch needs to be restarted for the new settings to be effective.12. Training, Sports modes r good.13. Guided Breathing mode is also good.14. Find my phone works well.15. Extremely stylish, light weight & comfortable for all day wear.16. 07 watch faces available in the device with 04 preset which cannot be deleted. The rest can be changed from the Boat Wave app.Cons:1. Lacks vibration intensity control.2. Lacks Camera control shutter. But can't figure out its use as my handset accepts both voice commands & gestures to click pics.3. No quick reply messages for notifications/call alerts.4. No call acceptance or silencing feature. A work around can be if bluetooth handset is connected at the same time.5. SP02 is not accurate and sometimes freezes at 97%. But this is common in all smart watches.6. Battery doesn't last more than 03 days if continuous HR measurement is turned on. Otherwise easily lasts for 7 days.7. Watch faces are very childish. Expected better quality designs. Company can easily improve on this in their next update.8. Amazon Prime only replacement, no refund policy is not good. At least colour change should be allowed once.9. Music control feature does not display the title of the song.10. No BP monitoring or temperature monitoring feature. Smart watches usually do not provide reliable BP data.11. No calling feature. But it doesn't matter as most don't want conversations to be public.12. A bit large for narrow wrists, band @22 mm is a bit wide.13. Company should provide a tempered glass protector. No mention of protective glass on the display mentioned. Have attached a Scot tempered glass purchased separately.14. There are actually only 10 sports modes. Boat has bloated the list with Indoor-Outdoor combi of 4 sports (Walking, Running, Swimming, Cycling).15. There is no light sensor. Auto brightness is only time dependant but works well. Was a wedding anniversary gift for my wife who liked it very much even the colour- the evergreen, classic gold-black. Overall the best smart watch with Alexa built in, available at the budget price point of under Rs 3000. Now there are a few good ones to pick but a slight improvement over the ones the watch earlier had. Bit Impressed. Added one star for it.Not a very polished product. The fonts are tacky and look ugly in the watch for notification text and caller name text. The watch faces are a lazy design job. No point having 150 watch faces if only 10-20 are good or usable. Rest are useless.[UPDATE: Oct 11] boAt seems to be on a smartwatch launch spree. And thanks to that, they are constantly updating the phone app and the watch faces. Now you have many good looking watch faces to choose from. So overall, still the Smartwatch UI needs work. But atleast you have good watch faces.Good:- Screen quality- Battery life- Looks and the metallic frame- Call clarity- BT calling at the price- Reasonably accurate sensorsBad:- The UI, fonts - they are all very ugly and tacky. They could have tried to give the Chinese software some makeover. But it is a clearly lazy job by the tech team. A copy paste job to be precise of getting an outsourced software and plastering it with brand logos.- Restarts randomly when the call is going on on the watch even for 1 min or so.- Watch faces. Again a job of the design / tech / UI team. BoAt doesn't have a good team of designers and UI guys to really offer simple yet good software features like good watch faces and good watch UI.- No option to silence a call or reply with quick replies.Look for Noise Smart Watches in the Same Range. Noise Colorfit Pulse Go Buzz is cheaper and better alternative + has better watch faces and UI and quick reply to notifications and call silence and mute options for lower prices which this watch has clearly missed.You can go for boAt Wave Call also - It isn't an outright bad watch, but there are better options available for the price.boAt - If you have a team who reads and wants to improve, get some good UI and design folks in your team. Your products are good, but the UI and design is what the people see and that's what makes them feel good about your products. I was even mentally prepared for a bad camera, based on some reviews here. But I was pleasantly surprised that camera clicks good photos. They are not awesome, but they are decent photos that can even be shared. Now coming to my biggest grouse; heating issue. The phone started heating up while charging, but it was just a little and so I could have ignored it. But then it started heating up more and got me very concerned. I even ordered a replacement thinking I got a defective piece. But then, after further tests, I found that it is heating more when I download huge amounts of data, for example, when I restore data of my old phone, from back up. This is ok with me as, I don't perform huge data loads regularly, definitely not on phone. Then I tested by running tasks I usually perform such as checking office mails, attending office meeting on phone, watching a video from Amazon Prime, and so on. The phone did not heat up even a little. Personally, this is good for me. At this price range, this is a good phone. But if you are someone who uses and expects to perform heavy downloads frequently, this phone may not be for you. I am

you are camera heavy user and expect to perform heavy downloads frequently, this phone may not for you. I am personally satisfied with this phone as it works for my type of usage. I will not go into plus points of this phone as they are covered by other reviews already. I am only attempting to clarify about how this phone can suit you (or not) in terms of camera and heating. I had many questions about these aspects before buying. Perhaps this review will help you make an informed decision to buy (or avoid). Cheers.,Display – BeautyCamera – decentPerformance – AmazingBattery – ok (in 5000mah u expect more tbh)Overall good phone...Also after 1day of use, i found some network connectivity issue in my jiosim, which I'm using right now in this phone, but I'll keep update this review after 1month of usage!,It's a decent mobile under this price but few things worried me , weight of the phone, too many procedure to change some settings, no screen casting. Apart from that it has good touch, a decent camera for day light , battery life is good.,I bought this smartphone for my mom. Samsung interface is very handfull for easy use. Battery is superb, last whole day. Camera is mediocre but provide original colour pictures. All in all satisfied with this smartphone that i got in sale for 9499.,Unable to do video call within same service provider as in VOLTE within same service provider video call feature is available.,Product is fine. Nothing Fancy but for the budget it is a good phone.,BATTERY : more than enough for normal use Not sure in gamingCAMERA : good in this segment , can record videos in FHD 30fpsDISPLAY : since it's a LCD display the quality is a bit less , but goodV RAM : you can add upto 2gb of virtual ram but have to sacrifice your storage Space to use it OVERALL A GOOD BUDGET PHONE,Finger print is working speedy battery backup is good camera quality is also good",https://m.media-amazon.com/images/I/413sCRKobNL.SX300_SY300_OL70_ML2.jpg,https://www.amazon.in/Samsung-Midnight-Storage-5000mAh-Battery/dp/B0B4F5L738/ref=sr_1_94?qid=1672895770&s=electronics&sr=1-94&nB08MTCKDYN,"Gizga Essentials Spiral Cable Protector Cord Saver for Mac Charger, iPhone Charger, Wire Protector, Lightweight Durable Flexible Wire Winder for Charging Cables, Data Cables, Earphones, Pack of 10",Electronics|Mobiles&Accessories|MobileAccessories|Dxc3\xa9cor,\xe2\x82\xb9119,\xe2\x82\xb9299,60%,4.1,"5,9! But afraid of future MIUI updates.,Don't purchase it as camera phone \xf0\x9f\x98\xa4,Dependable & it's been a year.,Budget mobile,Good for basic use,Phone is nice , but software is not","I was looking for a phone below 10K. I am not a person who believes to burn money for phones. My requirement was a phone that has good network reception, good wifi reception, a balanced software, good battery life, good screen that don't strain eyes, a good hardware, 3.5 mm headphone jack, and a charger. i don't need 5G network because 5G drains battery a lot and 5G spends too much data. I don't watch movie or YT on mobile network and I wonder how many does watch FHD, 2K, 4K videos over mobile network. For downloading documents, social networks, banking apps 4G is more than enough.In my budget I found all phones have 4gb RAM. Realme Narzo 50 was 9999/- during GIF and had all those features along with a good processor and another one was Redmi note 11. But I found that if I can extend my budget a little more with all coupons and bank offer I can get a Redmi note 11 with 6gb RAM at 11749/- . 6gb RAM is always preferred over 4gb RAM because nobody knows whether with future updates the OS would demand more RAM or not, also the softwares may require more RAM as time passes away. So this was the only option I knew then available.Redmi note 11 has AMOLED Display, I am not bothered with 60Hz, 90Hz,120Hz. I keep the refresh rate at 60Hz and display works without zero lag or stutter. All my Desktop screen has 60Hz refresh rate and I am happy with them so why do I need a 90 Hz screen? I think this is all just gimmick marketed by companies and online reviewers. The display has excellent colour reproduction capability and colours look rich. You can adjust colour temperature to warm or cool but I think standard is fine for me. Also you can calibrate display colours in settings but I think you don't need that. Display size is 6.43 inch it could have been better if it were 6.7 inch. I prefer big display phone. Redmi note 12 has that big display. A plastic screen protector is pre applied on screen and I am happy with that. The screen protector feels smooth and fingerprints can be easily removed by wiping with a damp cloth. The screen has a punch hole camera which looks good.This phone duel speakers. One is more powerful at bottom and another on top. But i think the second speaker is actually earpiece which amplifies while watching movies or YT. Bottom speaker is louder than top speaker and volume is good. What more do you expect from such tiny speakers!The phone has excellent wifi and mobile network reception. Many have complained about poor wifi connectivity but from my experience I can say my phone and Wifi modem stays at different floor, still I get good signal, and never disconnected. Voice over mobile network sounds nice and clear and the other party can hear you well and clear. However because the second speaker is an extension of earphone piece the sound will leak if the other person is shouting over phone. The phone has 5000mAh battery and comes with 33W charger which is a bonus at this price point. The battery gives long backup. With good mobile network you can use it for 3 days without charging using basic features, like phone, sms, email, FB, WA etc. But I charge it regularly and battery charge never drops below 70%. The phone has SD680 processor which is more than enough for basic tasks and performs well without any lag. The experience is butter smooth. However the apps get automatically cleared from RAM which I like because I don't have to clear RAM manually. However after Android 12 update the RAM hold App for longer time but eventually cleared. SD 680 doesn't heat up and it is very energy efficient. Because of that battery drains very little and 33W charger charges phone within 30 mins for my usage. The cable is USB A to C and feels good. This phone has IR blaster so in your home office you can control AC or other supported gadgets with this phone when remote is unavailable. This phone has DDR4X RAM and UFS 2.2 storage. The RAM is 6GB and can be expanded additional 1 GB as virtual RAM by occupying storage. But I have disabled that option from settings because it increases SSD life. This has 2 Sim + SD card slot. Which is a great. Both SIM have VoLTE and carrier aggregation. The phone has beautiful back and colour is attractive. Some people may complain about plastic But remember plastic back phone has better network reception than metal or glass back phones. And I have no problem with plastic. I don't think plastic back makes your phone or you look cheap. I am happy with plastic back. The phone also gives a TPU cover and the cover however yellowing after 1 month. This is inherent chemistry of TPU, and no one can prevent this chemical degradation. However can be slowed by not exposing it to sunlight. The fingerprint scanner is excellent it works flawlessly. The touch screen is excellent too. However I don't like some of the preinstalled apps. Some can be uninstalled a few can't especially Mi pay and getapps from mi store. I don't like them. However I like the pre installed security app. There is no ad in notification and all can be easily disabled. Camera at back is good and sufficient for me however the front camera is not good. Does not show pictures like 8MP camera. I have added some pictures clicked by Redmi note 11 back camera. MiUI is fluid and has many user friendliness like OneUI. MiUI is now free of Bugs and has an extremely polished version that will please the user. So I give Redmi 11 a score of 9.5/10. This is an excellent phone the I got at 11749/- during Great Indian festival. I recommend anybody with basic usage to buy this phone. This phone is not for gamers or people who watch 2K, 4K videos or shoot such things. This is not for those who are crazy for 5G. Otherwise this phone will fulfil your every requirement in this price segment. 50 days usage... 1. Good battery LIFE. Bqest for day-day use. 33W charger also good. 2. Best display but should've 120hz instead of 90.3. Sturdy in-hand feel. 4. Stereo speaker is loud and crisp (65-35 split). 5. Camera above average... But good concerning the price. 6. Buggy UI (minor) as expected. But ui13 all way better than bloody MIUI 12.5. 7. 4G chipset SD 680, which is fine... 4G+ always available. 8. Some minor issue with WiFi reception. Don't know may be they will fix it through OTA.  THIS PHONE IS FOR PEOPLE WHO CLICKS PHOTOS HERE & THERE, CASUAL GAMER & BINGE WATCHERS OF WEB SHOWS/MOVIES... ""NOT INTENDED FOR HEAVY GAMING"" NOT FOR PUBG, COD LOVERS., The first look of this starburst design is eye catchy... no word to express its design, in hand feel and and it's all physical dimension. the second this which impress me, it's battery backup.... even you playing game hardly for a long time.... it gives you sufficient battery backup and charging speed also 33W, is also a good deal at this price. The third impressive factor is it's dual speaker.... I have another phone of 40k and the sound quality is almost same as it. Media playback experience is also enhanced by it's amoled display, very colour charming display..... literally the display quality is unbeatable. The camera notch and dual speaker increase the media playing experience. Other Performance like gaming is also good at this price point. Fingerprint button is also very responsive. All other things and features are good to the price point. Only one thing is very disappointing bcoz the hype of its camera that company shows is very up to the mark and professional photography but the camera is lower grade... even my old Redmi Y2 which I exchanged with this, had better camera than this So plz I request you to all don't buy this for camera.... just don't. The images are shown of camera pictures on the website is illustration according to me..... I don't recommend you to buy this phone as your camera phone. If you are non camera user then you will surely go for it. Pros- design, in-hand feel, battery and charging, amoled display, dual speaker Cons- camera \xf0\x9f\x98\xa4\xf0\x9f\x98\xa4, Quite a smooth daily driver phone. The overall experience has been satisfactory, camera's good, durability also seems to be good, I've dropped it quite a few times & the gorilla glass 5 seems to be holding up. 120hz feels great. Charging speed is good too, nothing mind-blowing though. Battery life is decent. Lasts quite a bit, but since I keep it in the 120hz mode all the time, it's a little less for me. But I don't have any problem with battery life for now., It does what the description says. Camera quality not upto the mark, compared to other redmi mobiles. Even A3 model clicks better pics. Finger print sensor is same as that of the lock button. You need to press the lock button every time to get the fingerprint read. Volume is good for both call and streaming. Fast charging but charger gets heated soon. Battery back up is good, unless you don't do heavy gaming and all day video streaming. Dual app and dual space option is missing. Light weight and good video resolution. Overall good for learning students for online sessions and persons with less need for photography & gaming., I bought this for my dad and it's working good for him, if you are planning to give it to your parents or elderly people in your family just install third party launcher and hide unnecessary app aslo turn off spamming notification and lockscreen ads overall good Phone for elders or first time smartphone user., Phone is good, but i facing weird bugs due to software issues. After that i manually installed latest global software then working fine. When i was using indian firmware, after the update the phone got into bootloop every 10 sec, but after manual installation its working fine", <https://m.media-amazon.com/images/I/411yU+n3UkL. My budget was around 20k max, and this one somehow fit in all ways. I had almost finalized one plus nord ce, but changed my mind at the last moment and I don't regret. I've used redmi phones before so I'm aware of the sturdiness and value for money they offer. Got this for 13k with close to 6k+ exchange on my one year old tecno spark 7 phone (one of the worst phones I've ever used, refer to my tecno spark 7 review for that). Here's my review of this phone based on 2 months of usage:Pros:1. Build quality is good. Finishing and lookwise it's sleek and quite comfortable in hand.2. Back camera is really good, better with the AI camera. The 108 MP gives good pictures, although not comparable to iPhone or Google pixel quality, but for the price range it's not bad. Portrait mode gives great pictures in well lit conditions, decent in low light with night mode.3. 67W charger is very efficient. Phone gets fully charged within 40-45 mins from below 10% battery levels. Battery backup is decent, with normal usage charge easily lasts for one and a half day or more.4. Dolby atmos dual speakers are really good! You could be watching movies on this and feel the surround sound through the speakers. Pretty loud too.5. No lagging and smooth touch, refresh rate is pretty good.6. Unlike some of the earlier Redmi phones or Chinese phones in general, there are negligible auto installing bloatwares. Android 11 performance so far has been satisfactory.7. Hasslefree usage in general, something that I struggled with a lot with my earlier Techno spark phone for basic functionalities.Cons:1. Front camera could've been a lot better. In daylight conditions, picture colors aren't vibrant enough, and in low light, pictures come grainy. Dissatisfied with that.2. Amoled display isn't as good as I had expected, especially becomes evident when light reflects on the screen while you're watching something.Nothing else worth mentioning that I can think of right now. May update this review if anything encountered.For people with 15-20k budget looking for a good overall usage phone having 5G, this phone is worth a shot along with Nord CE 2 Lite.,Nice phone with good battery backup,fast charging, sturdy body and good process speed... camera quality is not good enough..but overall.. good budget phone..,1) Battery is decent2) Charging is very fast3) Camera is averagingOverall nice product,The phone is good from all aspects bug if ur looking for a good camera this is not the one.,The price of the product is higher at the time of launch. Within 1 month it dropped by 3k.The price qty is ok.Some features are missing which are available in Chinese make model.,Pros1. Display(super amoled)2. Battery life(24 hrs moderate usage)3. My budget was around 20k max, and this one somehow fit in all ways. I had almost finalized one plus nord ce, but changed my mind at the last moment and I don't regret. I've used redmi phones before so I'm aware of the sturdiness and value for money they offer. Got this for 13k with close to 6k+ exchange on my one year old tecno spark 7 phone (one of the worst phones I've ever used, refer to my tecno spark 7 review for that). Here's my review of this phone based on 2 months of usage: Pros: 1. Build quality is good. Finishing and lookwise it's sleek and quite comfortable in hand. 2. Back camera is really good, better with the AI camera. The 108 MP gives good pictures, although not comparable to iPhone or Google pixel quality, but for the price range it's not bad. Portrait mode gives great pictures in well lit conditions, decent in low light with night mode. 3. 67W charger is very efficient. Phone gets fully charged within 40-45 mins from below 10% battery levels. Battery backup is decent, with normal usage charge easily lasts for one and a half day or more. 4. Dolby atmos dual speakers are really good! You could be watching movies on this and feel the surround sound through the speakers. Pretty loud too. 5. No lagging and smooth touch, refresh rate is pretty good. 6. Unlike some of the earlier Redmi phones or Chinese phones in general, there are negligible auto installing bloatwares. Android 11 performance so far has been satisfactory. 7. Hasslefree usage in general, something that I struggled with a lot with my earlier Techno spark phone for basic functionalities. Cons: 1. Front camera could've been a lot better. In daylight conditions, picture colors aren't vibrant enough, and in low light, pictures come grainy. Dissatisfied with that. 2. Amoled display isn't as good as I had expected, especially becomes evident when light reflects on the screen while you're watching something. Nothing else worth mentioning that I can think of right now. May update this review if anything encountered. For people with 15-20k budget looking for a good overall usage phone having 5G, this phone is worth a shot along with Nord CE 2 Lite. Nice phone with good battery backup, fast charging, sturdy body and good process speed... camera quality is not good enough.. but overall.. good budget phone.. 1) Battery is decent 2) Charging is very fast 3) Camera is averaging Overall nice product, The phone is good from all aspects but if ur looking for a good camera this is not the one. The price of the product is higher at the time of launch. Within 1 month it dropped by 3k. The price qty is ok. Some features are missing which are available in Chinese make model. Pros: 1. Display (super amoled) 2. Battery life (24 hrs moderate usage) 3. Fast charging 4. 120 hz refresh rate work seamlessly Cons: 1. Miui (lots of unnecessary apps) 2. processor (sd 695 is too old) 3. main Camera not up to the mark Overall I just want to say if you're looking for a phone to watch movies and series and casual gaming go for it. (pubg, cod feels fantastic in this without any lag) If looking for heavy gaming or looking for a camera phone this one is not for you brother. Good phone need improvement in camera, This mobile has the best camera compared with other models", <https://m.media-amazon.com/images/I/41iEZV6nKbL. YouTube with an amazing rating before buying it. Enjoyed buying it.,Good product value for money.,Esme ek choti torch Jaisi light add Karke thoda price Badha Den to Mast Raho 10,Over all a great product but i have faced a problem while charging the power bank with my mi 120w charger it never accept quick charge and sometimes takes more than 12 hours to charge.While with macbook pro charger it accepts quick charge (that green light).I bought a separate charger for this power bank\x00\x9f\x98\xad,Good I like it,Power bank is good the only issue was the cable which came with it broke after a day of use and also damaged power port of phone,Just good as expected, compact size, came with a premium good packing.... need see how it performance. With 10000mah u can charge 2 devices at a time. But good for a single charge of 5000mah mobile. They have given one USB A type to C type cable, if you have another C type cable, with that u can charge another device. I was even mentally prepared for a bad camera, based on some reviews here. But I was pleasantly surprised that camera clicks good photos. They are not awesome, but they are decent photos that can even be shared.Now coming to my biggest grouse; heating issue. The phone started heating up while charging, but it was just a little and so I could have ignored it. But then it started heating up more and got me very concerned. I even ordered a replacement thinking I got a defective piece. But then, after further tests, I found that it is heating more when I download huge amounts of data, for example, when I restore data of my old phone, from back up. This is ok with me as, I don't perform huge data loads regularly, definitely not on phone. Then I tested by running tasks I usually perform such as checking office mails, attending office meeting on phone, watching a video from Amazon Prime, and so on. The phone did not heat up even a little. Personally, this is good for me.At this price range, this is a good phone. But if you are camera heavy user and expect to perform heavy downloads frequently, this phone may not for you. I am personally satisfied with this phone as it works for my type of usage. I will not go into plus points of this phone as they are covered by other reviews already. I am only attempting to clarify about how this phone can suit you (or not) in terms of camera and heating. I had many questions about these aspects before buying. Perhaps this review will help you make an informed decision to buy (or avoid). Cheers.,Display - BeautyCamera - decentPerformance - AmazingBattery - ok (in 5000mah u expect more thh)Overall good phone...Also after 1day of use, i found some network connectivity issue in my jiosim, which I'm using right now in this phone, but I'll keep update this review after 1month of usage!,It's a decent mobile under this price but few things worried me , weight of the phone, too many procedure to change some settings, no screen casting. Apart from that it has good touch, a decent camera for day light , battery life is good.,I bought this smartphone for my mom. Samsung interface is very handfull for easy use. Battery is superb, last whole day. Camera is mediocre but provide original colour pictures. All in all satisfied with this smartphone that i got in sale for 9499.,Unable to do video call within same service provider as in VOLTE within same service provider video call feature is available.,Product is fine. But this is does not catch fingerprint at allIf u pay 500 INr higher u will get the spigen ones which protects the front sensors tooHappy with my purchase and moving forward will be applying spigen screen guards for all my products,This is hands down THE BEST screen protector for iPhones. I got the iPhone 13 one and it's excellent. So easy to install, anybody can do it! It's so smooth and soft to touch and fits perfectly on my iPhone. Highly recommended. Maybe bit pricey but you get 2 in the box. Fingerprint free and smudge free.,Very nice product to buy.This tempered glass is easy to install no need to worry about airbubbles while installing tempered glass.it is very easy to install on any mobiles as it designed for.worth for your money.,The quality and adhesion is good. Instalation was pretty easy.What i would have liked1. Had it had a black bezel so it blends well with the phone so that no one could make out that a protective tempered glass is stuck.2. Had it also covered the front camera like the ESR protective glass does, it would have been better.3. Would have appreciated a price around 500, definitely overpriced.,Super easy to install. The screen guard got attached without any hassles and was perfect fit. The EZ fit tray works like magic.,I used this product for my iPhone 13 Pro with a peak design phone case. to all the users and purchasers out there is that please DO NOT update your device to the latest software version. Doing so will definitely cause serious overnight battery drain issues. I speak from my experience. My first iqoo z6 pro 8gb is updated to the latest August security patch update and drains battery at the rate of 10 percentage overnight for no specific reason. The idle drain is very pronounced. However my second Iqoo z6 pro which I purchased is still running on the original software version and has excellent battery back up with negligible idle battery drain . So I think it's best not to update till iqoo rolls out a better update resolving the battery drain issue,Above average performanceNo heating issueFastest fingerprint reader&face unlockGood battery lifeOk camera qualityLight weight,comfortable on hand,All the features of this mobile was good.no doubtly anyone can buy this but nor for games.withinh the budget only it was available for me.,Dual tone flash light is not working i think it's only single led light,Two things missing1. (Improving with updates),Best for the budget \xf0\x9f\x91\x8d,Value of money,nice product,Good product,Super value for money,Awesome product,Product itv","[Update: Sept 29] boAt seems to have heard the feedback \xf0\x9f\x98\x80 and updated the watch faces. Now there are a few good ones to pick but a slight improvement over the ones the watch earlier had. Bit Impressed. Added one star for it.Not a very polished product. The fonts are tacky and look ugly in the watch for notification text and caller name text. The watch faces are a lazy design job. No point having 150 watch faces if only 10-20 are good or usable. Rest are useless.[UPDATE: Oct 11] boAt seems to be on a smartwatch launch spree. And thanks to that, they are constantly updating the phone app and the watch faces. Now you have many good looking watch faces to choose from. So overall, still the Smartwatch UI needs work. But atleast you have good watch faces.Good:- Screen quality- Battery life- Looks and the metallic frame- Call clarity- BT calling at the price- Reasonably accurate sensorsBad:- The UI, fonts - they are all very ugly and tacky. They could have tried to give the Chinese software some makeover. But it is a clearly lazy job by the tech team. A copy paste job to be precise of getting an outsourced software and plastering it with brand logos.- Restarts randomly when the call is going on on the watch even for 1 min or so.- Watch faces. Again a job of the design / tech / UI team. BoAt doesn't have a good team of designers and UI guys to really offer simple yet good software features like good watch faces and good watch UI.- No option to silence a call or reply with quick replies.Look for Noise Smart Watches in the Same Range. Noise Colorfit Pulse Go Buzz is cheaper and better alternative + has better watch faces and UI and quick reply to notifications and call silence and mute options for lower prices which this watch has clearly missed.You can go for boAt Wave Call also - It isn't an outright bad watch, but there are better options available for the price.boAt - If you have a team who reads and wants to improve, get some good UI and design folks in your team. Your products are good, but the UI and design is what the people see and that's what makes them feel good about your products. You have really average UI.,Boat wave call watch is best for budget.Call is too good and sound quality is also too good.Battery is good.Totally the watch is good for range.,It's good value for money smart watch.Light weight. Touch is smooth.All the features are 90-95% accurate.,a good product in this price range must buy itGOOD LOOKINGGOOD QUALITY,Good product is mst h,Average for calling good looking,I'm really happy to purchase this watch! it with bundled discounts.,Heating & Touch screen,Buy for normal usage. NOT FOR CAMERA,The phone is a good device and I am happy with the purchase.,Average quality.,Exlent mobile,Valueable buy,A GOOD AND AFFORDABLE PRODUCT", "It\'s original price is not worth any praise so try to purchase on some card offers or other free bundles. The screen is not full HD but still offers good brightness and color accuracy. Speaker also sounds good enough. Front camera is not for selfies only for video calls but back camera produces satisfactory clicks for entry level. Battery backup is one of the best features of this device. Samsung softwares are all well optimised and my only complaint in this department is the pre-installed bloatwares. UI feels smooth enough and the mediatek processor coupled with 4GB RAM is well suited for daily normal usage. Games are not recommended. Biggest disadvantage of this device is it\'s in box charger which is only 7.75 watts (5v, 1.55a) that takes about 3 hours for a decent charge.,\xf0\x9f\x94\xa5 Heating issues during use with in 15 minutes uses.Touch screen \xf0\x9f\x93\xb1 issues some times it\'s too great and some time u have to touch several times even on samsung key pad while typing.We all family are using samsung mobiles but this time I worried of issues if I have to face same issues i have to change mobile and transfer data it\'s very irritating work I wish to if any one of samsung is reading this review please reply me through Amazon.\xf0\x9f\x94\xa5 15

She is not a selfie or video person.Didnt want to go for Realme/Xiaomi(redmi/poco) products because of their support. This already comes with Android 12 and two year updates are assured.The display is really good. Not full HD screen though. Call quality is good.I wanted a smaller size but unfortunately, the price doesnt fall under 10 for them.If you are buying for lots of photos/videos, this is not the phone for you.If you want to use for call & do basic things like whatsapp and other things, this would be a good phone for you.,This phone was bought for a first time smartphone user. It was a good fit for the said user. Thank you Samsung and Amazon.,Normal phone with very average screen quality. Battery backup also not very good. But yes its worth it. just want a phone for calling purpose. This has only 2 gb of ram so don't expect a chain of running games like asphal and it also won't run very smooth under above normal conditions. There is no fingerprint sensor and the camera is trash. But the battery is 4000mah and has considerably high battery life. There is no fast charging only normal charger is given. So in my opinion this is a phone for a below average user who uses the smart phone just for calling or for scrolling through social media.,This is worth for price , has the latest technical softwares and perform well for minimal usage , ofcourse it has configuration less so we should not look better than thisBattery life more than expected, we could buy for this budget range,Simple and good, ok camera,Ok,Overall good quality product,Good unit,Good,Good mobile for basic users",https://m.media-amazon.com/images/I/41P4Al+S3zL_SX300_SX300_.jpg,https://www.amazon.in/Redmi-9A-Sport-Octa-core-Processor/dp/B09GFM8CGS/ref=sr_1_144?qid=1672895784&s=electronics&sr=1-144&nB0B3MwYCH0, "Fire-Boltt Ring 3 Smart Watch 1.8 Biggest Display with Advanced Bluetooth Calling Chip, Voice Assistance,118 Sports Modes, in Built Calculator & Games, SpO2, Heart Rate Monitoring",Electronics|WearableTechnology|SmartWatches,"x2\x82\xb92,999","x2\x82\xb99,999",70%,4.2,"20,879' Bolt is India' No 1 Wearable Watch Brand Q122 by IDC Worldwide quarterly wearable device tracker Q122.x3\x80\x90Bluetooth Calling Watch\x3\x80\x91 Fire-Boltt Ring 3 enables you to make and receive calls directly from your watch via the built-in speaker and microphone. A good watch for newbies like me with lots of amazing functionalities. Apart from that, this watch is a value for money at this price range. The sleep tracker works decently well, could have been better. We can call directly using the watch, i like that feature well. Need not reach for phone everytime. The screen touch is also well. There are lots of watch faces which you can change to or upload one from your own galary which is a plus point. The product looks exactly as shown in the pictures. The calorie and heart beat tracker are also quite accurate. The watch is a bit uncomfortable to watch at times, but otherwise the straps are good and strong,I have been using this watch since a month and its really great. All features are working quite well and connectivity with phone is also good.Screen quality may be improved.,Actually my smart watch BSW043 Ring 3 is not charging 2 to 3 days. I was even mentally prepared for a bad camera, based on some reviews here. But I was pleasantly surprised that camera clicks good photos. They are not awesome, but they are decent photos that can even be shared.Now coming to my biggest grouse; heating issue. The phone started heating up while charging, but it was just a little and so I could have ignored it. But then it started heating up more and got me very concerned. I even ordered a replacement thinking I got a defective piece. But then, after further tests, I found that it is heating more when I download huge amounts of data, for example, when I restore data of my old phone, from back up. This is ok with me as, I don't perform huge data loads regularly, definitely not on phone. Then I tested by running tasks I usually perform such as checking office mails, attending office meeting on phone, watching a video from Amazon Prime, and so on. The phone did not heat up even a little. Personally, this is good for me.At this price range, this is a good phone. But if you are camera heavy user and expect to perform heavy downloads frequently, this phone may not for you. I am personally satisfied with this phone as it works for my type of usage. I will not go into plus points of this phone as they are covered by other reviews already. I am only attempting to clarify about how this phone can suit you (or not) in terms of camera and heating. I had many questions about these aspects before buying. Perhaps this review will help you make an informed decision to buy (or avoid). Cheers.,Display - BeautyCamera - decentPerformance - AmazingBattery - ok (in 5000mah u expect more tbh)Overall good phone...Also after 1day of use, i found some network connectivity issue in my jiosim, which I'm using right now in this phone, but I'll keep update this review after 1month of usage!,It's a decent mobile under this price but few things worried me , weight of the phone, too many procedure to change some settings, no screen casting. Apart from that it has good touch, a decent camera for day light , battery life is good.,I bought this smartphone for my mom. Samusung interface is very handful for easy use. Battery is superb, last whole day. Camera is mediocre but provide original colour pictures. All in all satisfied with this smartphone that i got in sale for 9499.,Unable to do video call within same service provider as in VOLTE within same service provider video call feature is available.,Product is fine. Nothing Fancy but for the budget it is a good phone.,BATTERY : more than enough for normal use Not sure in gamingCAMERA : good in this segment , can record videos in FHD 30fpsDISPLAY : since it's a LCD display the quality is a bit less , but goodV RAM : you can add upto 2gb of virtual ram but have to sacrifice your storage Space to use it OVERALL A GOOD BUDGET PHONE,Finger print is working speedy battery backup is good camera quality is also good",https://m.media-amazon.com/images/I/413sCRKobNL_SX300_SY300_QL70_ML2_.jpg,https://www.amazon.in/Samsung-Midnight-Storage-5000mAh-Battery/dp/B0B4F1YC3J/ref=sr_1_162?qid=1672895791&s=electronics&sr=1-162&nB08K4RD071, "Tukzer Capacitive Stylus Pen for Touch Screens Devices, Fine Point, Lightweight Metal Body with Magnetism Cover Cap for Smartphones/Tablets/iPad/iPad Pro/iPhone (White)",Electronics|Mobiles&Accessories|MobileAccessories|StylusPens,\xe2\x82\xb9349,\xe2\x82\xb9999,65%,3.8,"1 DESIGN- Tukzer magnetic capacitive touch screen stylus pen not only you can unscrew the small cap in the tail end of the pen to store a spare disc tip for an emergency situation when the disc is broken or lost but also both the head end and the tail end of the stylus pen are lined with a magnet, so the cap will be absorbed by the magnetic when you just put the cap close to either end|PRECISION - The stylus pen for iPad transparent disc allows you to see exactly where your mark is pointing and gives you supreme accuracy. It's not too precise but it gets the job done. I love it,Unexpectedly this product works very well. But When I buy this, the spare disk was missing.,This item is simple awesome for this price. It is doing good without any glitches and worth buying for the price amazon is offering.,Though it is good but the tip of the stylus pen should be umbrella free....no handle grips too.,There is a delay between writing and also I get wrong color i ordered blue and I get gray,this is a good digital pen for digital art work and very smooth working techniques using so easily,Works perfectly on Samsung S22 Plus. I often use it for video editing too. But I think it's overpriced. I got it for Rs. 389 including delivery charges. Has long charge. Phone finder, phone camera shutter are good features. Beautiful looking watch.Cons: Not a full screen display, display is smaller than the watch. My watch is not center aligned. Limited number of watch face. Sometimes tends to call on recent number with false touch. Phone book should be a little larger than 8 numbers.,Just bought it ,so my review is basically the first impression.I will write a detailed review after few days of use. I like the style and it looks good. So far touch operation is also good,It's good product in this range because I have one more of pebble smart watch in same price range but after using fire boltt it's better. Only one issue that not stop call ring during office or meeting time.,I liked Everything except Hearbeat and O2 Level accuracy but it's close to real levels so average in this respect. Otherwise it's a kill for the money !!! Very good overall.,The product is good as per the price charged. One feedback to supplier to improve the glass of watch, there are lots of scratches within one month of usage.,All is good. Satisfied. Auto selection of sport mode is not there. Of you are a heavy user then don't consider this phone. Cons:-1. Slow charging (this phone usually takes around 2 hours for full charge) 2. In initial days you will be impressed by the battery consumption I.e it runs 1.5 -2 days after only charging once but after few days it comes back to normal 3. You will not get features like slow motion etc etc. In this price range you can get these feature on other phone Or MI variants This is my 15 days review Hence I haven't tried every feature of the phone Will come back soon after using it for months, Extent, Awesome phone, recommend to buy it, its all okay, <https://m.media-amazon.com/images/I/513nl6zJI4L. If you want this watch for calling, go for it, otherwise don't, I hope they make this watch compatible with actual noise app. Also, wrist awake does not work properly. On the plus side, it is good for calling. It is great for the price range. I bought it for my son and he is very happy. Can pair with a phone and make and receive calls. Nice UI, great watch faces, step count looks to be fairly accurate. All in all a good buy. Just work like a smart watch. Its very light weight with all the added features.  vacuum suction, so it works,Not bad!,Good build quality,Fitment in AC vent bit of a issue,Gets the job done!,good,Good,Nice one","This works by clamping on to AC vent. It holds on sturdily, minor block on AC flow is not of much consequence.The phone clamp is spring loaded and accommodates all phone sizes.Most holders working on suction does not hold onto glass. They fall off while driving. Could lead to accidents.,Good product, but didn\\'t work for me, as it was unable to hold my Moto G60 device\\'s weight. The clamp mechanism was great. I loved it! But the back clip which goes inside the AC vent was loose and kept on moving. Also the lock which tightens the back clip was average.,Received today. The product is of good build quality. It gives a feel of premium product. Not used it so cant say about functinality.,Product is good but fitment in ac vent with mobile phone placed on the holder increases weight which is not desirable,Good quality in this price range. It will however block your AC vent. Easy to mount and unmount your phone. Quite sturdy although not perfect. Has been able to maintain its composure even on bad roads. Will post the long term review after a few

If you just wanna try out a smart watch, this is really nice. But if you are expecting too many features in it, then go for a pricier one. At least for this watch, u don't have too many features, and you have to use your phone to set up most of the things (like alerts and notifications, Do not disturb mode and even alarms too!!) Other than that, its touch response is pretty decent, has got nice watch faces (you can make your own as well) and battery is long lasting (at least for my usage, lasts more than 10 days). Also notice that the wrist isn't black, its dark grey. But the dial is black, This item is best quality. The price is very worthwhile. This product's overall quality is quite good. But afraid of future MIUI updates. Don't purchase it as camera phone \xf0\x9f\x98\xa4, Dependable & it's been a year., Budget mobile, Good for basic use, Phone is nice , but software is not", "I was looking for a phone below 10K. I am not a person who believes to burn money for phones. My requirement was a phone that has good network reception, good wifi reception, a balanced software, good battery life, good screen that don't strain eyes, a good hardware, 3.5 mm headphone jack, and a charger. i don't need 5G network because 5G drains battery a lot and 5G spends too much data. I don't watch movie or YT on mobile network and I wonder how many does watch FHD, 2K, 4K videos over mobile network. For downloading documents, social networks, banking apps 4G is more than enough. In my budget I found all phones have 4gb RAM. Realme Narzo 50 was 9999/- during GIF and had all those features along with a good processor and another one was Redmi note 11. But I found that if I can extend my budget a little more with all coupons and bank offer I can get a Redmi note 11 with 6gb RAM at 11749/- . 6gb RAM is always preferred over 4gb RAM because nobody knows whether with future updates the OS would demand more RAM or not, also the softwares may require more RAM as time passes away. So this was the only option I knew then available. Redmi note 11 has AMOLED Display, I am not bothered with 60Hz, 90Hz, 120Hz. I keep the refresh rate at 60Hz and display works without zero lag or stutter. All my Desktop screen has 60Hz refresh rate and I am happy with them so why do I need a 90 Hz screen? I think this is all just gimmick marketed by companies and online reviewers. The display has excellent colour reproduction capability and colours look rich. You can adjust colour temperature to warm or cool but I think standard is fine for me. Also you can calibrate display colours in settings but I think you don't need that. Display size is 6.43 inch it could have been better if it were 6.7 inch. I prefer big display phone. Redmi note 12 has that big display. A plastic screen protector is pre applied on screen and I am happy with that. The screen protector feels smooth and fingerprints can be easily removed by wiping with a damp cloth. The screen has a punch hole camera which looks good. This phone duel speakers. One is more powerful at bottom and another on top. But i think the second speaker is actually earpiece which amplifies while watching movies or YT. Bottom speaker is louder than top speaker and volume is good. What more do you expect from such tiny speakers! The phone has excellent wifi and mobile network reception. Many have complained about poor wifi connectivity but from my experience I can say my phone and Wifi modem stays at different floor, still I get good signal, and never disconnected. Voice over mobile network sounds nice and clear and the other party can hear you well and clear. However because the second speaker is an extension of earphone piece the sound will leak if the other person is shouting over phone. The phone has 5000mAh battery and comes with 33W charger which is a bonus at this price point. The battery gives long backup. With good mobile network you can use it for 3 days without charging using basic features, like phone, sms, email, FB, WA etc. But I charge it regularly and battery charge never drops below 70%. The phone has SD680 processor which is more than enough for basic tasks and performs well without any lag. The experience is butter smooth. However the apps get automatically cleared from RAM which I like because I don't have to clear RAM manually. However after Android 12 update the RAM hold App for longer time but eventually cleared. SD 680 doesn't heat up and it is very energy efficient. Because of that battery drains very little and 33W charger charges phone within 30 mins for my usage. The cable is USB A to C and feels drains very little and 33W charger charges phone within 30 mins for my usage. The cable is USB A to C and feels good. This phone has IR blaster so in your home office you can control AC or other supported gadgets with this phone when remote is unavailable. This phone has DDR4X RAM and UFS 2.2 storage. The RAM is 6GB and can be expanded additional 1 GB as virtual RAM by occupying storage. But I have disabled that option from settings because it increases SSD life. This has 2 Sim + SD card slot. Which is a great. Both SIM have VoLTE and carrier aggregation. The phone has beautiful back and colour is attractive. Some people may complain about plastic But remember plastic back phone has better network reception than metal or glass back phones. And I have no problem with plastic. I don't think plastic back makes your phone or you look cheap. I am happy with plastic back. The phone also gives a TPU cover and the cover however yellowing after 1 month. This is inherent chemistry of TPU, and no one can prevent this chemical degradation. However can be slowed by not exposing it to sunlight. The fingerprint scanner is excellent it works flawlessly. The touch screen is excellent too. However I don't like some of the preinstalled apps. Some can be uninstalled a few can't especially Mi pay and getapps from mi store. I don't like them. However I like the pre installed security app. There is no ad in notification and all can be easily disabled. Camera at back is good and sufficient for me however the front camera is not good. Does not show pictures like 8MP camera. I have added some pictures clicked by Redmi note 11 back camera. MiUI is fluid and has many user friendliness like OneUI. MiUI is now free of Bugs and has an extremely polished version that will please the user. So I give Redmi 11 a score of 9.5/10. This is an excellent phone the I got at 11749/- during Great Indian festival. I recommend anybody with basic usage to buy this phone. This phone is not for gamers or people who watch 2K, 4K videos or shoot such things. This is not for those who are crazy for 5G. Otherwise this phone will fulfil your every requirement in this price segment, 50 days usage... 1. Good battery LIFE. Best for day-day use. 33W charger also good. 2. Best display but should've 120hz instead of 90. 3. Sturdy in-hand feel. 4. Stereo speaker is loud and crisp (65-35 split). 5. Camera above average... But good concerning the price. 6. Buggy UI (minor) as expected. But overall all way better than bloody MIUI 12.5. 7. 4G chipset SD 680, which is fine... 4G+ always available. 8. Some minor issue with WiFi reception. Don't know may be they will fix it through OTA.  THIS PHONE IS FOR PEOPLE WHO CLICKS PHOTOS HERE & THERE, CASUAL GAMER & BINGE WATCHERS OF WEB SHOWS/MOVIES... "NOT INTENDED FOR HEAVY GAMING" NOT FOR PUBG, COD LOVERS. The first look of this starburst design is eye catchy... no word to express its design, in hand feel and and it's all physical dimension. The second this which impress me, it's battery backup.... even you playing game hardly for a long time... it gives you sufficient battery backup and charging speed also 33W, is also a good deal at this price. The third impressive factor is it's dual speaker.... I have another phone of 40k and the sound quality is almost same as it. Media playback experience is also enhanced by it's AMOLED display, very colour charming display.... literally the display quality is unbeatable. The camera notch and dual speaker increase the media playing experience. Other Performance like gaming is also good at this price point. Fingerprint button is also very responsive. All other things and features are good to the price point. Only one thing is very disappointing bcoz the hype of its camera that company shows is very up to the mark and professional photography but the camera is lower grade... even my old Redmi Y2 which I exchanged with this, had better camera than this So plz I request you to all don't buy this for camera.... just don't. The images are shown of camera pictures on the website is illustration according to me.... I don't recommend you to buy this phone as your camera phone. If you are non camera user then you will surely go for it. Pros- design, in-hand feel, battery and charging, AMOLED display, dual speaker Cons- camera \xf0\x9f\x98\xa4\x9f\x98\xa4, Quite a smooth daily driver phone. The overall experience has been satisfactory, camera's good, durability also seems to be good, I've dropped it quite a few times & the gorilla glass 5 seems to be holding up. 120hz feels great. Charging speed is good too, nothing mind-blowing though. Battery life is decent. Lasts quite a bit, but since I keep it in the 120hz mode all the time, it's a little less for me. But I don't have any problem with battery life for now. It does what the description says. Camera quality not upto the mark, compared to other Redmi mobiles. Even A3 model clicks better pics. Finger print sensor is same as that of the lock button. You need to press the lock button every time to get the fingerprint read. Volume is good for both call and streaming. Fast charging but charger gets heated soon. Battery back up is good, unless you don't do heavy gaming and all day video streaming. Dual app and dual space option is missing. Light weight and good video resolution. Overall good for learning students for online sessions and persons with less need for photography & gaming. I bought this for my dad and it's working good for him, if you are planning to give it to your parents or elderly people in your family just install third party launcher and hide unnecessary app also turn off spamming notification and lockscreen ads overall good Phone for elders or first time smartphone user. Phone is good, but i facing weird bugs due to software issues. After that i manually installed latest global software then working fine. When i was using indian firmware, after the update the phone got into bootloop every 10 sec, but after manual installation its working fine", https://m.media-amazon.com/images/I/4121yWSVFmL_SX300_SX300_0L70_ML2_.jpg, https://www.amazon.in/Redmi-Starburst-Qualcomm%C2%AE-SnapdragonTM-Included/dp/B09Q5X9L8/ref=sr_1_199?qid=1672895806&s=electronics&sr=1-199&nb0B6BLTGTJ, "Noise Pulse 2 Max Advanced Bluetooth Calling Smart Watch with 1.85" TFT and 550 Nits Brightness, Smart DND, 10 Days Battery, 100 Sports Mode, Smartwatch for Men and Women - (Jet Black)", Electronics | Wearable Technology | Smart Watches, "\xe2\x82\xb2, 999", "\xe2\x82\xb2, 999", 50%, 4.1, "7, 148", "Ma: 1.85" display: See everyday data clearly under the brightest sun on the 1.85" TFT LCD that sports 550 nits of brightness and the highest screen-to-body ratio. |BT calling: Talk directly to your loved ones from your wrist; manage calls, access your favourite contacts and dial from the dial pad. |Tru Sync: Now connect with the world in a smart way, thanks to Tru Sync technology that ensures faster and stable connection and low power consumption. |Smart DND: Take a break when you want to and get uninterrupted sleep time. |Noise Health Suite: Get started on your fitness journey with a whole range of wellness features in Noise Health Suite and 100 sports modes to support you. |NoiseFit app: Manage your day-to-day life better with the NoiseFit app at your disposal. |150+ cloud-based watch faces: A new day calls for a new face, choose from over 150+ cloud-based watch faces and don a new look every day.", "AHVEG7WUVHTOAT7Y2Z26VWJCBYYA, AFX7Y424L7A2WXEKEFTRAATHZTGA, AGKVBPUWJ5SHPUHQCCYNHWBISW5A, AEC2T4BCBJLQGM676: Customer, Abhinay Kanth D M, Himanshu, Aadi Raj Uthup, Gaurav, Kiran das, Santosh Bakare, Suman Sharma", "R2G9RHDQN3S511, R3GFHK3HJ4FRRZ, R3QKL6QNRFS6T, R1JGF7WFAYR6SA, R3QMM0HI96HW0Z, R3OW5MN95Z8BD0, R1NB03NP1WH1V1: for money smartwatch for those interested in tracking their physical activity. Once it was set up it works flawlessly. However, the NOISE smartwatch app on my Google does not give any data on sleep cycles and neither is there any information on how to transfer the data to another useful app such as Google Fit. Noise pulse 2 max smart watch is awesome and looks good. Only one default battery life 4 days is coming with notifications. Without notifications it is coming upto 8 days. Packaging was not proper the package having full of oil in the package but the brand packaging was proper so no issues with the product. After using more than 4 months the product is really impressive and having good battery life and accuracy and the quality of calls on smartwatch are the best, I've been using the product for a while now and I gotta say I love it. The battery lasts around 4-5 days not 10 days, you do get around 10 day battery life if you disable almost all the features of the watch like heart rate sensing and not connecting it with your phone. The watch requires more software support and they should add more watch faces.... Nice product.

Value for money totally !!,Good product,The calling feature at such a price point is definitely a plus, the health features are a bit not upto the mark but manageable. A must buy for every person who is watch enthusiast., Having a great experience", "2 months review- its been working fine, there's been no problem as of now.. some things-the whole step tracking thing, i bought it due to that reason, it didn't basically satisfy me to that level with that, but it does count steps accurately in the walking mode(activity)Its got some scratches in it.. but its not that noticeable at first glance the backgrounds, I believe it could've been wayyyy better if we could change 4-5 backgrounds of 10, but we can only have 2, 1 customised and 1 download from the app(which has limited options) the other backgrounds are just.. eh..the looks, I'll give it 9/10, it's good looking stylish differenttouch screen is goodthe sleep tracking too is kinda accurate(i still haven't understood it that well lol)battery life is muah, I use it without Bluetooth and it easily survives for 6-7 daysspo2 and heart rate, I just believe what it says as i can't check prove if that's correct.the water resistance, I haven't used it in water (ofc am scared) the calling feature works fine.. its got good sound overall its a decent watch and can be used in day to day activities, am quite satisfied with it as my first smart watch \xf0\x9f\x98\x97, I've used this product for 4 days, and i'm going to rate the various features and different aspects of this smartwatch which could help the customers here -So, Bluetooth calling (4/5) - the in-built mic of this watch is excellent and the voice gets to the other side without any disturbance, watch connects smoothly with the mobile and don't get disconnected automatically until you do it yourself through watch or phone. Only con is you can't silent the incoming call which is annoying sometime, hope they fix it with an update.Built quality and looks (4.5/5) - metallic built which looks premium and straps are also quite smooth and comforting. Best thing is, it also looks good over skinny wrists(poor me, with 5.6 inch wrist). Only con is you can get scratches on display so protect with it some sort of screen guard.Touch screen (5/5) - it's almost buttery smooth without any lag which is pretty impressive for a smartwatch under 2k. I bet you will not get any laggy experience ever.Accuracy (3.5/5) - SpO2 and HR has fairly decent accuracies, it gives you a rough idea of your being, so its quite reasonable for a watch under 2k. Count steps with decent accuracy as well. Sleep accuracy is also just acceptable.To sum up, you should definitely go for this watch if you've a budget, constrained under 2000 rs,,I recently purchased the Fire Bolt Phoniex watch, which is quite stylish, and the Bluetooth calling is excellent. The voice gets to the other side without any disturbance.The build quality is good over the wrists, but you can get scratches on the display, so protect it with some screen guard. You should go for this watch if you want a budget-friendly smartwatch under 2000.,It's a good watch but i have faced two problems in it the first one is there is no feature of raise to wake and the second one is there is no option to silent it when someone calls you.....i think you should purchase it if in future company add these two features...,I recently purchased the Fire Bolt Phoenix Watch, and I am very happy with my purchase. The watch is quite stylish, and I get compliments every time I wear it. The watch is also quite comfortable to wear, and the strap is adjustable to fit any wrist size. The watch also has a great battery life, and I can go for days without having to charge it. The watch also has a number of features, including a step counter, heart rate monitor, and sleep tracker. All of these features are very useful and make it easy to track my activity and health. Overall, I am very pleased with my purchase and would highly recommend the Fire Bolt Phoenix Watch to anyone who is looking for a stylish and functional watch.,This watch is absolutely stunning and great value for money. Really pleased with the design and shape of watch, definitely a must buy for every person .loved the colour, durability and accuracy is super \xf0\x9f\x91\x8d. just go for it.,I liked the product it has so many features like sleep tracking, sp02, Heart rate measuring, music player, temperature checker my only nitpick would be that it only have 2 games and secondly it has good wallpapers but a Ben 10 Omnitrix wallpaper would give it an even more awesome look",https://m.media-amazon.com/images/I/41vjHogVHJL_SX300_SY300_QL70_ML2_.jpg,https://www.amazon.in/Fire-Boltt-Phoenix-Bluetooth-Calling-Monitoring/dp/B0B3RS9DNF/ref=sr_1_214?qid=1672895806&s=electronics&sr=1-214nB090S9X16F,"Redmi Note 11 (Space Black, 6GB RAM, 64GB Storage) | 90Hz FHD+ AMOLED Display | Qualcomm\xc2\xae Snapdragon\xe2\x84\xa2 680-6nm | 33W Charger

But afraid of future MIUI updates.,Don't purchase it as camera phone \xf0\x9f\x98\xa4,Dependable & it's been a year.,Budget mobile,Good for basic use,Phone is nice , but software is not","I was looking for a phone below 10K. I am not a person who believes to burn money for phones. My requirement was a phone that has good network reception, good wifi reception, a balanced software, good battery life, good screen that don't strain eyes, a good hardware, 3.5 mm headphone jack, and a charger. i don't need 5G network because 5G drains battery a lot and 5G spends too much data. I don't watch movie or YT on mobile network and I wonder how many does watch FHD, 2K, 4K videos over mobile network. For downloading documents, social networks, banking apps 4G is more than enough.In my budget I found all phones have 4gb RAM. Realme Narzo 50 was 9999/- during GIF and had all those features along with a good processor and another one was Redmi note 11. But I found that if I can extend my budget a little more with all coupons and bank offer I can get a Redmi note 11 with 6gb RAM at 11749/- . 6gb RAM is always preferred over 4gb RAM because nobody knows whether with future updates the OS would demand more RAM or not, also the softwares may require more RAM as time passes away. So this was the only option I knew then available.Redmi note 11 has AMOLED Display, I am not bothered with 60Hz, 90Hz,120Hz. I keep the refresh rate at 60Hz and display works without zero lag or stutter. All my Desktop screen has 60Hz refresh rate and I am happy with them so why do I need a 90 Hz screen? I think this is all just gimmick marketed by companies and online reviewers. The display has excellent colour reproduction capability and colours look rich. You can adjust colour temperature to warm or cool but I think standard is fine for me. Also you can calibrate display colours in settings but I think you don't need that. Display size is 6.43 inch it could have been better if it were 6.7 inch. I prefer big display phone. Redmi note 12 has that big display. A plastic screen protector is pre applied on screen and I am happy with that. The screen protector feels smooth and fingerprints can be easily removed by wiping with a damp cloth. The screen has a punch hole camera which looks good.This phone has dual speakers. One is more powerful at bottom and another on top. But i think the second speaker is actually earpiece which amplifies while watching movies or YT. Bottom speaker is louder than top speaker and volume is good. What more do you expect from such tiny speakers!The phone has excellent wifi and mobile network reception. Many have complained about poor wifi connectivity but from my experience I can say my phone and Wifi modem stays at different floor, still I get good signal, and never disconnected. Voice over mobile network sounds nice and clear and the other party can hear you well and clear. However because the second speaker is an extension of earphone piece the sound will leak if the other person is shouting over phone.The phone has 5000mAh battery and comes with 33W charger which is a bonus at this price point. The battery gives long backup. With good mobile network you can use it for 3 days without charging using basic features, like phone, sms, email, FB, WA etc. But I charge it regularly and battery charge never drops below 70%.The phone has SD680 processor which is more than enough for basic tasks and performs well without any lag. The experience is butter smooth. However the apps get automatically cleared from RAM which I like because I don't have to clear RAM manually. However after Android 12 update the RAM hold App for longer time but eventually cleared. SD 680 doesn't heat up and it is very energy efficient. Because of that battery drains very little and 33W charger charges phone within 30 mins for my usage. The cable is USB A to C and feels good.This phone has IR blaster so in your home office you can control AC or other supported gadgets with this phone when remote is unavailable.This phone has DDR4X RAM and UFS 2.2 storage. The RAM is 6GB and can be expanded additional 1 GB as virtual RAM by occupying storage. But I have disabled that option from settings because it increases SSD life. This has 2 Sim + SD card slot. Which is a great. Both SIM have VoLTE and carrier aggregation.The phone has beautiful back and colour is attractive. Some people may complain about plastic But remember plastic back phone has better network reception than metal or glass back phones. And I have no problem with plastic. I don't think plastic back makes your phone or you look cheap. I am happy with plastic back. The phone also gives a TPU cover and the cover however yellowing after i month. This is inherent chemistry of TPU, and no one can prevent this chemical degradation. How ever can be slowed by not exposing it to sunlight.The fingerprint scanner is excellent it works flawlessly. The touch screen is excellent too.However I dont like some of the preinstalled apps. Some can be uninstalled a few can't especially Mi pay and getapps from mi store. I don't like them. However I like the pre installed security app. There is no ad in notification and all can be easily disabled. Camera at back is good and sufficient for me however the front camera is not good. Does not show pictures like 8MP camera. I have added some pictures clicked by Redmi note 11 back camera. MiUI is fluid and has many user friendliness like OneUI. MiUI is now free of Bugs and has an extremely polished version that will please the user.So I give Redmi 11 a score of 9.5/10. This is an excellent phone the I got at 11749/- during Great Indian festival. I recommend anyboy with basic usage to buy this phone. This phone is not for gamers or people who watch 2K, $k videos or shoot such things. This is not or those who are crazy for 5G. Otherwise this phone will fulfil your every requirement in this price segment. 50 days usage. 1. Good battery otherwise this phone will fulfil your every requirement in this price segment.,,30 days usage.... 5000 battery LIFE. Bqest for day-day use. 33W charger also good.2. Best display but should've 120hz instead of 90.3. Sturdy in-hand feel.4. Stereo speaker is loud and crisp(65-35 split).5. Camera above average... But good concerning the price.6. Buggy UI(minor) as expected. But ui13 all way better than bloody MIUI 12.5.7. 4G chipset SD 680, which is fine... 4G+ always available.8. Some minor issue with WiFi reception. Don't know may be they will fix it through OTA. THIS PHONE IS FOR PEOPLE WHO CLICKS PHOTOS HERE & THERE, CASUAL GAMER & BINGE WATCHERS OF WEB SHOWS/MOVIES... ""NOT INTENDED FOR HEAVY GAMING""NOT FOR PUBG, COD LOVERS.,The first look of this starburst design is eye catchy...no word to express its design,in hand feel and and it's all physical dimension. the second this which impress me, it's battery backup....even you playing game hardly for a long time....it gives you sufficient battey backup and charging speed also 33W, is also a good deal at this price. The third impressive factor is it's dual speaker....I have an another phone of 40k and the sound quality is almost same as it. Media playback experience is also enhanced by it's amoled display, very colour charming display..... literally the display quality is unbeatable. The camera notch and dual speaker increase the media playing experience. Other Performance like gaming is also good at this price point. Fingerprint button is also very responsive. All other things and features are good to the price point.Only one thing is very disappointing bcoz the hype of its camera that company shows is very up to the mark and professional photography but the camera is lower grade...even my old Redmi Y2 which I exchanged with this, had better camera than thisSo plz I request you to all don't buy this for camera....just don't. The images are shown of camera pictures on the website is illustration according to me.....I don't recommend you to buy this phone as your camera phone.If you are non camera user then you will surely go for it.Pro- design, in-hand feel, battery and charging, amoled display,dual speakerCons- camera\x0f\x9f\x98\xa4\x0f\x9f\x98\xa4,Quite a smooth daily driver phone. The overall experience has been satisfactory, camera's good, durability also seems to be good, I've dropped it quite a few times & the gorilla glass 5 seems to be holding up. 120hz feels great. Charging speed is good too, nothing mind-blowing though. Battery life is decent. Lasts quite a bit, but since I keep it in the 120hz mode all the time, it's a little less for me. But I don't have any problem with battery life for now.,It does what the description says.Camera quality not upto the mark, compared to other redmi mobiles. Even A3 model clicks better pics.Finger print sensor is same as that of the lock button. You need to press the lock button every time to get the fingerprint read.Volume is good for both call and streaming.Fast charging but charger gets heated soon.Battery back up is good, unless you don't do heavy gaming and all day video streaming.Dual app and dual space option is missing.Light weight and good video resolution.Overall good for learning students for online sessions and persons with less need for photography & gaming.,I bought this for my dad and it's working good for him, if you are planning to give it to your parents or elderly people in your family just install third party launcher and hide unnecessary app aslo turn off spamming notification and lockscreen ads overall good Phone for elders or first time smartphone user.,Phone is good, but i facing weird bugs due to software issues. After that i manually installed latest global software then working fine.When i was using indian firmware, after the update the phone got into bootloop every 10 sec, but after manual installation its working fine",https://m.media-amazon.com/images/I/411yU+n3UkL_SX300_SX300.jpg,https://www.amazon.in/Redmi-Storage-Qualcomm%2%AF-SnapdragonTM-Included/dp/B090S9X16F/ref=sr_1_218?qid=1672895814&s=electronics&sr=1-218&nB08HV25BB0_Noise ColorFit Pro 2 Full Touch Control Smart Watch with 35g Weight & Upgraded LCD Display (Deep Wine),Electronics|WearableTechnology|SmartWatches,"xe2\x82\xba91,499","xe2\x82\xba94,999",70%,4.0,"92,588","The brilliant 1.3"" colour display is now full capacitive touch, supporting taps and swipes, so it is easy to read and operate. Battery backup is good , camera is good and in this price range this is one of the good option as of now,The best phone in 2k22 I have purchased in 30sep but on 2dec my mobile stolen during this period I have used 7-8 hrs in a day continuesly but there's no lag problem battery life is good the speaker is not good I think in this mobile there is one problem I face,-Phone runs amazing with the dimensity 810 and I only have praise for the performance-90Hz refresh rate is eye opening coming from a 60hz phone-Build is pretty solid and the back has a nice texture that doesnt build up fingerprints much-Redmi has packed the phone with some neat features such as the IR blaster and the surprisingly amazing DAC which redmi didnt even flex about in the marketing. (my headphones sound miles better out of this phone than my laptop smh)-Included phone cover is alright and its nice of redmi to throw one in (hole around headphone jack couldve been bigger though as it interferes with any aux cables with chonky housings.)-Only complaints id have are that the design is kinda mid; doesnt look very amazing, but nothing to complain about either hmhm-Cannot comment on camera quality as I am a pleb who doesnt know how to nitpick at camera quality :P-Included screen protector is really bad(its only been under a month and there are already scratches around the lower screen where id be typing). So highly recommend peeling it off and taking your chances with the Gorilla Glass or just getting something aftermarketOverall strongly recommend if you're into a solidly built phone that focuses on getting stuff done rather than sitting around and looking pretty, Good, If you buy phone for camera purpose then don't buy this. But overall average mobile under this price. Battery backup very good and changing time approx 40-50 minutes for 1 to 100%, good, It's a good product for normal daily use. It needs a lot of software updates to fix bugs and bad design choices. I returned the watch after a day's use because the features didn't warrant the price I was paying for it. The same notification appears twice in the watch Notifications that I have cleared from my phone don't go away from the watch and it even vibrates randomly, showing the old notifications. When I want to clear a notification, I have to swipe to the left for the delete icon to appear and then tap on the delete icon. Why the extra step? Why not just consider swiping left as a removal of notifications? Calls on the watch only have the reject button. There is no button to accept the call from the watch. Google Fit Sync doesn't work. You can only store 5 watch faces at a time. Also the variety of watch faces isn't a lot, which is probably understandable because it just released. useful,very useful item to make your phone cables long lasting,price can be reduced as this product is not worth for 80 rs,Value for money,It is useful,Good product,Good quality,Its good item in this money","A 10bucks piece can save cable worth hundreds. Totally recommend,I just received it and applied on my iphone related cables and connectors. Specially, apple accessories are not that sturdy and doesn't last long due to breakage at the end points due to wear and tear.This seems to be a very good and low cost investment to protect all of such cables to break due to usage and wear&tear. Have applied in earphones also. Will be watching over the period if time if it indeed increases the cables life.Till now, feeling good about this useful product.,Price is high,You can go for this.,It is useful. After using it, the durability of the cable is good.,Very good product it definitely protect your cable,It doesn't really protect your cable if the cable is starting to wear out. Not easily knocked down by kids. No fear of falling over. Mobile holder stand is very flexible, easy 360 degree rotation. Mobile holder also pretty tight., very safe to keep the mobile. The adjustable clamp is wide enough to suit any width - you can fix it on very slim or thick surfaces. Holds well. Easy to assemble according to the instructions given on the website. Overall, very satisfying. CONS: A bit tight when it comes to the gooseneck clamp. So quick adjustments (to length) may not be possible while watching.. But that adds to the sturdiness. So that's okay. The mobile holder also is a bit tight to insert the phone and remove. But again, you needn't fear about the mobile loosening and falling off., For the price it is the best, it's hard but without hardness it cannot withhold a weight of tablet So the the hardness makes sense, Not bad it's okay. Very nice product bro value for money but you ask the store in this product how much other ways the quality and material are good, Better for streaming videos because if you fit your phone in this and then touch it then it moves due to the weight of phone or use this for any work where you don't have to touch your phone frequently such as video calling or voice calling etc. Otherwise it's good, Very useful for students for their online study, aslo useful for movie lovers., Using for Kindle on bed. Quite sturdy and good clamp. Length of wire should have been slightly more by 9 inches which will enable me to hold the mobile at a good distance. The length is not great but the product is will enable user to hold the mobile/ kindle at a good distance., the length is not great but the product is perfect for its prize and solves the purposos, using it as a bed arm, Works well enough, it isn't really stable and tend to vibrate and shake when holding tablet and some heavier phones. Also there is a small gaps from the edge, but can be ignored., I got two screen guards (for 14 pro & pro max) & installed only the one on the 14 pro. I've been used to fixing screen guards for multiple types of phones from multiple brand screen guards .My honest review after the installation - I really liked how easy the installation was, the coverage of the screen guard across the entire screen & the finish of the product once installed . Hope to put an update after a period of time on how the screen guard coped with my rough use ., Good, The product came well packed & is durable. Infact much better than other organisations who try to sell you same stuff with inflated pricing. the product stays on for long and has all the qualities to be called a top product, I recently purchased a screen guard for my smartphone and I am extremely happy with my purchase. The screen guard was easy to install and it fits my phone perfectly. It has provided excellent protection for my phone's screen and has prevented any scratches or damage. The screen guard is made of high-quality material and it is very durable. I highly recommend this screen guard to anyone who wants to protect their phone's screen. It is a great value for the price and it has exceeded my expectations. Overall, I am very satisfied with my purchase and I will definitely be purchasing from this company again in the future., Quality of the glass is good. Have been using it from last two months the scratch resistant coating works fine., I had issues with initial application of screen guard (I phone XS) and then I contacted customer support to get it resolved. Tremendous battery life in heavy usage. Super cool device. Silky buttery experience with blazing fast performance. good sound quality. The form factor is really good. I mean the screen is flat, so it feels like a wide(not actually wide but feels like) phone also it is tall, that's why it really feels good at hand. I have an iPad but all the work now can be done by phone so I am happy.Didn't like it - As I had op5t i loved oxygen os, but now it feels like realme UI. Camera is worst for this price. Main sensor is good other two are useless. Company should provide a telephoto lens in this price range. I had op5t and previously op3t,both camera were good. Op10t camera is exactly same as nord 2t.Conclusion - if you looking for speed, performance, battery life, longevity, best of display, premium feel then go for it.If you are looking for OP experience like an alert slider, or a good camera then please don't choose this. Either u can wait for the next OP or go for other devices. if you don't bother about UI experience(i.e. oxygen) then go for iqoo9t(its far better in spec)go to gsmarena compare op10r and op10t. exactly same specification except processor and charging speed(this much fast charge is not required by excluding important spec) .,I am OnePlus user since their 1st phone. I have used OnePlus 1 , OnePlus Nord , Nord CE, Nord 5T and now 10T. I have been using 10T as my primary phone since last 1 month. Everytime OnePlus never fails to impress with their new phone but this time you would feel something is missing may be because OnePlus has already raised their bar so much that user always expect more from them . When I saw 10T first time , somewhere in my subconscious mind I had taken my decision to buy this beast. But before I reviewed so may phones, from One Nord 2 to iPhone 14.My ratings :Design and build: 9/10Camera quality: 7/10Battery backup and charging time : 9.5/10Performance: 9/10Undoubtedly design and build is unmatched. So sturdy and beautiful. Camera quality might be discussion point. They should have given more in camera because phone comes in high range and premium level but current camera is not so bad. Noone can beat it's battery charging time and backup time. Within 20 min 0 to 100% , highly impressive. It will survive around 1 day for average user. Performance is good , installed and ran multiple apps at a time, never faced any hung issue or app crash issue.As I said , even if wow factor is missing this time, I would say good phone with nice overall performance , design and features. If you get it in sale around 40k it's a good deal . Go for it , nothing to regret. \\xf0\\x9f\\x98\\x8a,Purchased it some days ago !!Switched from my Asus so I had really high expectations and well, it did perform somewhat close to it but also many downgrades as well, I'm just gonna list as pros and cons !Pros : - I mean snapdragon 8+ Gen 1, you can expect amazing performance, why not top tier since it's the best processor android could offer? Well cause I feel the processor on this one is under clocked to reduce heating but it's holding up pretty good in terms of gaming and other benchmark tests and stuff.- Build Quality is actually good, Especially the back, the back does feel amazing and while holding it does feel like a premium phone, expect for the frame ofc, it's made of polycarbonate but we can get a hang to it later.- Software, I'm not gonna sit around and cry about their merging with oppo, I feel it's fast and a good ui, of course some old features not available now since I've used a OnePlus 5 in the past for some weeks but we can get a hang to this new oxygen os, just hope it's not completely turned to color os.- Charging is just insanity on this one, switching from a phone which used to take around 2 hours to get fully charged to this one, almost finishing full charge under 20 minutes and I've witnessed it several times, it's just impressive but some issues and I'll talk about it in cons.- Networking and connecting is fast and good! Haven't faced any major issues in my networking experiences! calling is a good experience, connecting with networks and bluetooth is extremely fast, good overall.Cons :- about the processor, like I said it is under clocked and the benchmark scores proved it a bit, although I don't care about benchmark scores and just want to keep my belief in real life usage so it is doing good.- Polycarbonate frame and No alert slider? Like really? at least we deserved a metal frame at this price segment which is what upset me a bit, not really a big fan of alert slider so I didn't mind that part.- the camera setup is so so so average and stupid, aside from the main lens, the wide and macro just did not make sense at all and are completely worthless in this segment, this is literally the same setup from Nord 2T but just a better software optimisation, front camera is alright too, nothing that great- Charging indeed is one of the key factors in this phone but it takes a toll on the battery backup, usually in my usage I have to charge it 2 times for it to be used the whole day, it drains a bit more than I expected it to, also there's no option available to disable 150W charging to let it charge in usual speed to test the battery, only except for the night optimisation mode, which is kind of good in my opinion.Phone is a good segment in this price range and If you do believe in the particular brand image and it's products then go for it. Although Iqoo 9T does provide a better camera setup with a bit more aggressive processor performance, but this device does the job too.,So , basically I am reviewing it after usage of 1 month and 2 days. I am giving it 4 star because of Alert slider missing. Let's me clear it by points.1. Battery is awesome. It will get full charge in 19 minutes 20 seconds. It lasts more than 25 hours to me.2. Camera quality is nice. Specially night mode is awesome. Some improvements should be done for selfie camera but it clicks nice picture.3. No lagging , no hang. It runs smoothly and very fast.4. Only thing that disappoints is alert slider that is missing in this phone.5. Video quality is awesome while you record and it is stable.6. While watching any OTT , streaming quality is awesome. You can fully enjoy it .7. Speaker of phone is perfect, even at lowest volume you can clearly hear the voice on call.",https://m.media-amazon.com/images/I/413c3ZnFLxL.SX300_SY300_QL70_ML2.jpg,

Watch have some basic futures and i like it., One of the best product in this price range. Been using it for a year now and I have no complaints. Built quality is good. Steps count is not very accurate and we can say that the software lacks in accuracy in many ways when compared to other big brands (Apple/Fossil). But I have seen worst. Touch is very smooth and the notification alerts works as expected. This is water and swim resistant. I am not sure if it has IP67/8 rating but I believe this is dust proof as well, since I have been using it for almost a year now. Some of the dislikes I've mentioned earlier in my review are no more dislikes. I said the sound is more or less on a flatter side but I'm quite used to it and ""I'm loving it"".. :) the Second point is I said if you are an audiophile then you may not like it but I was wrong. You might ask why... Here is why: After a long gap, I visited my Father who is an audiophile. He has numerous high-end headphones but unfortunately, he got the attention of my headphone and he just wanted to try it. I said yes (I regret it :() he paired it with his device and played a song. Boy!! you got to see the grin on his face :D. He said I'm keeping it you buy another one. Poor me was forced to buy another one. A few days back I got another one :(One thing I noticed in two of my purchase is THE AUDIO CABLE IS NO GOOD. Both my audio cable had the same issue.-----So the moral of the story is: Hide it from your audiophile Dad or brother.. they will unceremoniously snatch it from you. Jokes apart, people, you can't go wrong with this purchase. It's worth every square inch. Happy Shopping...END OF UPDATE-----I got this product 3 days back, and I got it for Rs. 1299(lightning deal of course) This is an honest unbiased review keeping in mind the price of the product: Three days might not be a sufficient time to review this product but sorry I can't help the excitement...-----Likes: 1> Good built quality----- 4/5 It is sturdy, for the price the build quality is great. It is not flimsy. The ear cushions are good enough.-----2> Sound quality-----3.5/5 If you are an audiophile this is not for you. Bass is decent nothing to go overboard(as noticed in other reviews). Bass is deep enough for the price.-----3> Connectivity: pairing is easy connects like a breeze.----- 4/5-----4> Dual Mode- Wired and wireless: Boat rockerz 400 comes with an aux cable. If you run out of charge you could always connect the aux cable and use it as a wired headphone. (I couldn't find a substantial difference in the quality of music between wired and wireless though :)) I absolutely loved this feature. -----5/5-----

If the device has the same matte black theme, this webcam cover can easily be merged and becomes a part of the device's body. As you can see my laptop has a matte black screen frame and astonishingly \xc2\xa0 the product has merged with it. The little plastic container in the package will act as storage for the rest of the webcam covers. It is ultra-thin as described by the company with \xc2\xa0 acquiring about a millimeter thickness. This thickness can cope with the windows \xc2\xa0 laptops as they are having \xc2\xa0 the rubber buffers on the top side of the screen frame because those buffers act as a spacer between the screen and the lower-up body/keyboard of the laptop to avoid any harm to the screen. \xc2\xa0 This spacer is advantageous to the webcam cover as closing the lid \xc2\xa0 will not harm the screen, screen frame, and laptop lower-up body. But, still, don't put pressure on the location where the webcam cover is installed as the thickness of the webcam cover is slightly more in the micrometers, than the rubber buffers of the laptop itself. The sliding function is very smooth, but be sure to push only the slider part and not the whole static part as it will make the grip weak over time of usage. The device can be used with any phone and monitor as they have no issue with opening and closing the lids. Now, for the ""Mac Laptop \\'\' users, it is not a product for your \xc2\xa0 laptop, and never try this product for your Mac laptops. As the Mac laptops have a stunning plain glass screen that is covering the whole screen frame part and has no spacers, that is there's no space left after closing the laptop lid and hence upon installation of this \xc2\xa0 product will damage (crack/break) the plain glass screen. Installation is easy, remove the blue tape and carefully stick the cover as a sticker, using the scale for support, or else you could stick it a little inclined. After sticking, rub your palm for heat generation and grab the screen frame from both palms and apply the ultra-light pressure and hold the position up to a good 2 to 5 minutes. And there you go for your satisfied invisible life.*Important - Even if not in use, slide it 2-5 times once a week and clean it as per your device cleaning schedule to avoid jamming due to debris or dust. Overall, it is a good product. For me, it has worked awesome. Green Signal from here. Thank You :) SUGGESTION To the Manufacturer - Notice the static frame of the webcam \xc2\xa0 cover, and make its edges (the edges close to the slider) smooth (rounding off or fillet), so that upon sliding the slider with a fat finger, it can easily \xc2\xa0 slide over the edges of the static frame hence do not put an unnecessary force on a static frame. To the Seller - Well packaging To the Consumer - Check for the rubber spacers/buffers provided in the laptop (like Windows laptops), if it is then you can use the webcam cover, if not (like Mac laptops), it's not the product for you. Even for Windows laptops, after installing a webcam cover, try not to put pressure on the webcam cover location for long. Slide it 2-5 times once a week to avoid jamming. expect smartphone standard camera, but this VGA camera is really bad. Nokia could have increased the price about 500 bucks, & give an average 1 megapixel camera on it. Sometimes we take photos not for posting on social media, but for information, like the name of a store or number of a vehicle. A basic camera that does that job is all that is required. 5) Was delighted to see an "English with Oxford" app. Assumed they were very thoughtful to give an offline dictionary. But then upon opening, it turned out to be a demo version with "Pay INR 50" & "Play 3 free trail". Was even disappointed when upon clicking the free trail option, it required internet & was directed to the opera website. What's the point to this? Other than this, the phone is not bad with some positive features like wireless radio, radio recording, big screen (compared to other feature phones), voice recorder, torch, call recording option, converter app, stylish retro design & a good easily typable keypad. All ok but battery life is not good. While we're not using a single call also but its draining battery life. Good add-on phone. Battery life is >7 days if usage is not very heavy. FM works without wired headphones. Call quality is good. Dual nano-sim. No profile setting option as was the case with previously released Nokia feature phones. Preinstalled games but all (except snakes) are trial version. Internet browser, facebook, music & video player are there but no option to install any other app as there is no app store. Good for one model in Nokia and worth for money. Battery not works more than 4 days even not using phone. It works like any other feature phones from the 2006-2010 time, but the build quality is considerably low. Worth the money but not as good as promised, Good budget model phone, value for money.. Galaxy m53, Good buy for 22k, A little overpriced but gets the work done", "Below is the experience so far. 1. Received a defective product. Battery was getting drained out in few hours, wifi kept getting disconnected and almost every app was giving trouble, including Google maps. (Location was not getting captured) 2. Tried to return it on the 8th day of purchase after running into issues with every app I open. (tried on 7th night as well, but phone froze and was not able to even switch off and restart the mobile - Amazon app was in this phone. Used another phone to check how to force reboot next morning and switched on the mobile) 3. Amazon said return window is closed on 7th night and now I need to call Samsung customer care directly for replacement. 4. Called Samsung customer care and they tried to check the phone remotely - couldnt identify the issue. 5. Informed I will have to visit the Samsung service center to figure out the issue. 6. First visit to center, they did a software update (3 week old phone now - not sure what update would be pending) and returned the phone saying we will see if issue persist for one more week. They also whipped out the entire apps in the phone. 7. Faced issues the very same evening, lived with it for one more day and went back next morning. 8. Second visit, they identified that both motherboard and battery had manufacturing defect and will have to be replaced. 9. I requested for a phone replacement and they told me their policy doesn't allow them to replace the device and can only replace the mother board and battery, which was defective. 11. They told me I will have to contact Samsung customer case number again if I want a product replacement as they don't have the authority for that. 10. Called customer care number again, and they inform me I have to contact Amazon for product replacement as Amazon was the seller. So back to step 3. Will have to see how many more hoops need to be jumped to reach the end, If I manage to reach there. Update : 11. All customer care said they can't replace the phone. So surrendered to defeat and gave the phone back to samsung customer care center for battery and mother board replacement. They gave back the phone next day saying parts are replaced. Again, whipped out of the apps which I had downloaded and logged in again. 12. I checked the phone from the center itself before taking it back and I figured the problem still persist (battery was draining out by the minute). I showed it to them. They told me it's a new battery and will take some time to stabilize. They also asked me to buy a super fast charger, while i bought from them to not take chances. They asked me to check for 2 days and confirm. Used for 2 days. Same situation. No improvement. 13. Went back to them again. They checked and said they will forward it to technical team for checking now. 14. Technical team checked the device and said there was a software issue for few products in this version and then will need a 4 days to correct it since they are still working on the software update to correct this. I have no idea how this product passed the quality test if all these statements which they are making are true. 15. By this time samsung customer care has used the phone for more days than me since buying the device and they have identified ..

hardware issue and software issue in the product, but still refuse to give the money back and take back the product inspite of repeated requests.15. They kept the phone for 5 days and returned saying everything is fixed.16. Phone started functioning normally finally but I was sick and tired of the experience.17. I called the Samsung corporate customer care narrating the whole series of event and asking for refund. They refused with all their might and said ""phone is working now"". During the process I also figured out that the customer care center who kept the phone for 5 days for repair dint even create a registered complaint or a job code while holding the phone for 5 days. I officially registered a complaint. But still no luck of returning the phone. Update on Nov 30th.18. I was traveling and outside the country. On Nov 21st while using the phone and with 70% charge left screen went off and started showing grid lines like some TV from 1980's. Tried switching of the Mobile and restarting multiple times. No luck. Still grid lines. My flight bookings, hotel bookings and everything one can think of, was in the mobile and my 3 month old phone is not responding to anything possible. Friend thankfully had a spare mobile and I used that phone till I completed the trip.19. Reached back in town yesterday and my first act is to visit Samsung customer care center. (Nov 30th.) Am writing this update sitting at the customer care center. They mentioned ""patch issue. Software update dint happen"". At this point, I know they are just speaking rubbish to engage the customer and just delay the situation. No 3 month old phone's screen will stop responding because of software update missing. They are opening the phone again to operate it, after again refusing my request for money refund. Its really good smartphone in its range packed with features. And brand like Samsung never fails to amuse with what they deliver at a given price point. I still give it a 3.7 stars as battery \xf0\x9f\x94\x8b could be better. It also loses a point for not including a charger. Phone looks are good. The charging speed is ultra slow even with the fast charger 25W original. Also camera quality is not even like 32 MP, total lied about 108 MP. Samsung UI is not very friendly and easy. Other brands have better and smoother UI. Phone is very sleek, bought brown shade which looks much premium in hand at what it actually is..... Good budget model phone, you can not deny brand, Samsung is a brand. Overall good product for long use. Good work. Charger should have been part of it. But product looks good. Pricewise a little overpriced. Some of the cons are: a little rigid fingerprint sensor, after 2 months of use, I frequently encounter a lag when unlocking the phone, battery life not up to the mark, struggles to go the entire day even with regular use, no 3.5 mm jack, and a buggy BT. Pros: a very good camera, excellent screen, superb sound quality. If you somehow get this for below 18k, then go for it or else there are better options available." <https://m.media-amazon.com/images/I/418vXJ54AML.SX300.SY300.QL70.ML2.jpg>, https://www.amazon.in/Samsung-Storage-sAmoled-Purchased-Separately/dp/B09XJ5LD6L/ref=sr_1_333?qid=1672895842&s=electronics&sr=1-333&nB07WHS7M21, "iQOO 9 SE 5G (Sunset Sierra, 8GB RAM, 128GB Storage) | Qualcomm Snapdragon 888 | 66W Flash Charge", Electronics|Mobiles&Accessories|Smartphones&BasicMobiles|Smartphones, "\xe2\x82\xb929,990", "\xe2\x82\xb9: Snapdragon 888 5G Mobile Platform is based on a new 5 nm process and a Kryo680 architecture, Compared with Snapdragon 870, the CPU performance improves by 25%, GPU performance by 35%. After watching a lot of reviews on Youtube and Amazon, I thought I should give it a chance. First Impression: -\xe2\x80\xa2 As you all know OP 5t has small display so it's hard for first 3-4 days to use/Typing because of big display. \xe2\x80\xa2 A little heavy but that could be because of upgraded species and battery from my last 5t. \xe2\x80\xa2 Solid built but it if it's metal build then it will be more beautiful. \xe2\x80\xa2 Space fusion color is looking killer. \xe2\x80\xa2 Flash charger works awesome but charger design can be improved \xe2\x80\xa2 Display is crisp and clear but but in dark apps (i.e, chrome, brave, linkedin etc) you'll notice a color change (from Black to Greyish color) that gives a cheap feel and I don't know if it's a software or hardware issue. Actual Review: -\xe2\x80\xa2 While gaming (Call of duty: mobile) has some lags and bugs and there is no option to block notification/calls even after mute notification ONN everything is coming on screen and it's very frustrating and annoying. \xe2\x80\xa2 Battlefield mobile ground, Asphalt 9, Clash of Clans, Battle Royale are working flowless. \xe2\x80\xa2 Some apps like Flipkart and Airtel gives some error (screen zoom automatically while opening) might be because of android 12 or something else. \xe2\x80\xa2 Now this is very weird that this phone reset a few settings automatically themselves when I don't want that. I don't want to set them everyday before using my phone (i.e, I am using Bouncer to remove app permission when not in use and this phone remove accessibility setting even after better optimization and background run. While listening to music I want paranoiac 360 sound but it reset to default automatically. \xe2\x80\xa2 Gesture are not working fine, this can be fixed with future updates. \xe2\x80\xa2 I admit that funtouch OS has some more customization than Oxygen OS but it is missing some basic customization feature like I cannot change accent color, shape, size and the default one is looking very cheap must be because OnePlus oxygen OS is in my eyes but I am not overcome from oxygen OS, Oxygen OS is lub \xe2\x80\xa2 Funtouch OS is very uncomfortable for me for the first 4-5 days but now I'm getting it a little. \xe2\x80\xa2 Less feature in gaming mode in comparison to Iqoo 7 \xf0\x9f\x93\xb7 Camera: -\xe2\x80\xa2 Average as of now takes good picture in night/evening time and selfie camera is awesome. \xe2\x80\xa2 OIS works good as per the budget and gives value for money. \xe2\x80\xa2 Day time picture are good but something it changes the saturation/color by itself automatically. \xe2\x80\xa2 No heat observed while gaming/doing heavy task (minimal heat that every phone has now a days and it is 40\xc2\xb0C outside so this is not a big deal for me. \xe2\x80\xa2 Screen recorder and mic works awesome \xe2\x80\xa2 Crisp clear display except the issue I told above \xe2\x80\xa2 6-7 SOT in one charge (0-100) \xe2\x80\xa2 42-44 minutes charging time (0-100) \xe2\x80\xa2 No bugs lags observed till date \xe2\x80\xa2 120Hz refresh rate made it monster \xe2\x80\xa2 Some preinstalled bloatware can be uninstall but some has to be force stop only or you can use Adb command to remove permanently. \xe2\x80\xa2 A few apps are unnecessary like browser and a screen (virus scan) comes just after install an app from play store that very annoying and somehow I stopped that. \xe2\x80\xa2 Speaker volume is sufficient (enough loud in a room) Conclusion: - In 31k it's worth for money with Snapdragon 888 processor and intelligent chip. Only thing that I don't like is funtouch OS because it not gives a premium flagship phone experience. Has some bugs as of now (i.e, In gaming mode, in a few apps, camera, Display) that might fixed with future updates. Overall worth for money. And Yes you can pick it over OnePlus 9RT (like I said you'll probably

After using it for many months, there is no disturbance in the quality, both mic and sound.Since I use Laptop and Desktop with same earphone, I need to frequently connect and remove the earphone from the cable, the cable is connected to Desktop, to connect the earphone directly in laptop, having done this so many times there is no issue when it comes to quality.I have recommended this to my colleagues and they also have liked the performance.You can buy this without hesitation.,The headphone jack works well, but when I put the mic jack in the pc, it creates a lot of noise which I am easily able to hear. It causes a bit of irritation sometimes. Elsewise the product is quite good,Great product and really durable.,Good product",<https://m.media-amazon.com/images/I/41jmiwgyu8L. It's battery back up is also very nice. Bluetooth connectivity is also excellent. But, whenever i try to see share price it takes few more seconds by pressing side key. It must be seen by changing the page without pressing side key to open new menu., It is nicely designed device. Good for tracking daily steps and heavy exercise. Once charged fully, battery discharges within 4 days., Thanks for offer, Best in market, Watch is nice but some features are not there like ai assistant while the other low budget watches have, Worst customer support noise has I have raised the complain 3 times but no one has contacted me yet and really worst if we call customer care it takes half n hour to connect they will tell our executives will call you and get the products no one is calling after 2 days they complain has been solved and closed, I did not use. But afraid of future MIUI updates. Don't purchase it as camera phone \xf0\x9f\x98\xa4, Dependable & it's been a year., Budget mobile, Good for basic use, Phone is nice, but software is not", "I was looking for a phone below 10K. I am not a person who believes to burn money for phones. My requirement was a phone that has good network reception, good wifi reception, a balanced software, good battery life, good screen that don't strain eyes, a good hardware, 3.5 mm headphone jack, and a charger. i don't need 5G network because 5G drains battery a lot and 5G spends too much data. I don't watch movie or YT on mobile network and I wonder how many does watch FHD, 2K, 4K videos over mobile network. For downloading documents, social networks, banking apps 4G is more than enough. In my budget I found all phones have 4gb RAM. Realme Narzo 50 was 9999/- during GIF and had all those features along with a good processor and another one was Redmi note 11. But I found that if I can extend my budget a little more with all coupons and bank offer I can get a Redmi note 11 with 6gb RAM at 11749/- . 6gb RAM is always preferred over 4gb RAM because nobody knows whether with future updates the OS would demand more RAM or not, also the softwares may require more RAM as time passes away. So this was the only option I knew then available. Redmi note 11 has AMOLED Display, I am not bothered with 60Hz, 90Hz, 120Hz. I keep the refresh rate at 60Hz and display works without zero lag or stutter. All my Desktop screen has 60Hz refresh rate and I am happy with them so why do I need a 90 Hz screen? I think this is all just gimmick marketed by companies and online reviewers. The display has excellent colour reproduction capability and colours look rich. You can adjust colour temperature to warm or cool but I think standard is fine for me. Also you can calibrate display colours in settings but I think you don't need that. Display size is 6.43 inch it could have been better if it were 6.7 inch. I prefer big display phone. Redmi note 12 has that big display. A plastic screen protector is pre applied on screen and I am happy with that. The screen protector feels smooth and fingerprints can be easily removed by wiping with a damp cloth. The screen has a punch hole camera which looks good. This phone dual speakers. One is more powerful at bottom and another on top. But i think the second speaker is actually earpiece which amplifies while watching movies or YT. Bottom speaker is louder than top speaker and volume is good. What more do you expect from such tiny speakers! The phone has excellent wifi and mobile network reception. Many have complained about poor wifi connectivity but from my experience I can say my phone and Wifi modem stays at different floor, still I get good signal, and never disconnected. Voice over mobile network sounds nice and clear and the other party can hear you well and clear. However because the second speaker is an extension of earphone piece the sound will leak if the other person is shouting over phone. The phone has 5000mAh battery and comes with 33W charger which is a bonus at this price point. The battery gives long backup. With good mobile network you can use it for 3 days without charging using basic features, like phone, sms, email, FB, WA etc. But I charge it regularly and battery charge never drops below 70%. The phone has SD680 processor which is more than enough for basic tasks and performs well without any lag. The experience is butter smooth. However the apps get automatically cleared from RAM which I like because I don't have to clear RAM manually. However after Android 12 update the RAM hold App for longer time but eventually cleared. SD 680 doesn't heat up and it is very energy efficient. Because of that battery drains very little and 33W charger charges phone within 30 mins for my usage. The cable is USB A to C and feels good. This phone has IR blaster so in your home office you can control AC or other supported gadgets with this phone when remote is unavailable. This phone has DDR4X RAM and UFS 2.2 storage. The RAM is 6GB and can be expanded additional 1 GB as virtual RAM by occupying storage. But I have disabled that option from settings because it increases SSD life. This has 2 Sim + SD card slot. Which is a great. Both SIM have VoLTE and carrier aggregation. The phone has beautiful back and colour is attractive. Some people may complain about plastic But remember plastic back phone has better network reception than metal or glass back phones. And I have no problem with plastic. I don't think plastic back makes your phone or you look cheap. I am happy with plastic back. The phone also gives a TPU cover and the cover however yellowing after 1 month. This is inherent chemistry of TPU, and no one can prevent this chemical degradation. How ever can be slowed by not exposing it to sunlight. The fingerprint scanner is excellent it works flawlessly. The touch screen is excellent too. However I don't like some of the preinstalled apps. Some can be uninstalled a few can't especially Mi pay and getapps from mi store. I don't like them. However I like the pre installed security app. There is no ad in notification and all can be easily disabled. Camera at back is good and sufficient for me however the front camera is not good. Does not show pictures like 8MP camera. I have added some pictures clicked by Redmi note 11 back camera. MiUi is fluid and has many user friendliness like OneUI. MiUI is now free of Bugs and has an extremely polished version that will please the user. So I give Redmi 11 a score of 9.5/10. This is an excellent phone the I got at 11749/- during Great Indian festival. I recommend anybody with basic usage to buy this phone. This phone is not for gamers or people who watch 2K, 4K videos or shoot such things. This is not for those who are crazy for 5G. Otherwise this phone will fulfil your every requirement in this price segment., 50 days usage... 1. Good battery LIFE. Bqest for day-day use. 33W charger also good. 2. Best display but should've 120hz instead of 90. 3. Sturdy in-hand feel. 4. Stereo speaker is loud and crisp (65-35 split). 5. Camera above average... But good concerning the price. 6. Budget IIT (minor) as expected. But will be better than bloody MIUI 12.5.7. 4G chipset SD 680. which devices connected with the charger. I charged my pixel 6a and wireless headphone together, both get charged quickly. But issue with the build quality. I once by mistake sat in the charger and the socket end of it broke from the edges and came out completely. I had to fix that with a fevi quick. Now working fine . Overall a very good product. Popio has great screen guard at much better price.,See if you own an Iphone then popio is the best out there.I got this tempered glass because my last one broke during a fall from the stairs. & my last one was from popio too. So I ordered another & the prices are a steal (like seriously I wonder how do they manage it for so cheap)Buy it without a doubt its a genuine product.PS I like little note they left with the product.,Fed up of buying those exaggerated priced tempered glasses and looking for near by shops to apply it.This product is priced for its value and lesser than other products in the market.Bought this product after scrolling for the best on Amazon and ordered it. Honestly I was never satisfied with any other product like I had with popio product. A big thanks to the team!Bonus is DIY. I never tried anything self before but after following their guide and videos I was able to do it right at first time. I really felt DIY is convenient and no need to worry about finding near by stores who could help us apply/install it.,Got it for my iphone 14pro. Im using my phone with a ringke camo case and this screen protector fits inside snug.Install this glass with the case still on the phone else you may align it imperfectly and may cause fitment problem.Overall a good buy.,The quality is excellent. Refer to the installation video by scanning the QR code on the package; it is very easy to install using the guide stickers. This is a very good option for you. I bought it for my mother who specifically told she just want a phone for calling purpose. This has only 2 gb of ram so don't think of running games like bgmi or asphalt and it also won't run very smooth under above normal conditions. There is no fingerprint sensor and the camera is trash. But the battery is 4000mah and has considerably high battery life. There is no fast charging only normal charger is given. So in my opinion this is a phone for a below average user who uses the smart phone just for calling or for scrolling through social media., This is worth for price, has the latest technical softwares and perform well for minimal usage, ofcourse it has configuration less so we should not look better than this Battery life more than expected, we could buy for this budget range, Simple and good, ok camera, Ok, Overall good quality product, Good unit, Good, Good mobile for basic users",

The case has integrated screen protector and protects the glass & obviously it doesn't cover the back the blue looked weird on my black watch 4. Overall from a protection perspective the product is very good. Look is good. THE BEST,Good for the price.", "It's been 15 days since i using the device extensively.I bought it on the Last freedom sale for Rs. 41,999 (including 6k instant discount coupon).First let me be clear , I bought ' S20 FE 5G 'with Snapdragon 865 , not ' S20 FE with Exynos ' and i am a user who uses phone most of the time .This review may be long but it's worth to read it if you're buying this product.Let me divide between the Pros and Cons.First i would like to start with Pros of the Device ,Pros :1. Samsung has been already popular for it's AMOLED Displays but i saw some of the reviewers wrote about some display issues here . They might have got some defective Piece. I have no issues with my display . It's been long time i saw a great display like this ... with 120Hz it is Super Smooth.Also , it is very bright on outdoors and can decrease it to very low while using at low light conditions (PS : No tint issues)The in display finger print scanner is very fast and didn't faced any issues with it .2. Stereo Speakers :As an extensive multimedia user , this is one of the most favorable feature for me.Believe me , you can't find any other device with such great Sound quality in this price segment , it's almost like flagship devices ..Both the speakers are adequately loud.3. Battery :As a person who's shifting from a normal 60Hz Device phone , i was very worried about the battery life of this device at 120Hz but it surprised me very well ..Initially i thought i would need to switch to 60Hz for better battery life for daily usage.But I didn't even thought this device would give this much great battery life at 120Hz.At 120Hz , I am getting around 7 hours of minimum SOT (Screen on Time).The maximum SOT i got at 120Hz is 9Hours 13 minutes.I didn't checked battery life at 60Hz because i didn't use it at 60Hz even a single day . The battery life is Excellent.4. Rear Cameras :I am not a very good photographer or something , i am just an ordinary person who use camera occasionally.I was very excited to use the telephoto lens which only can be found on flagship devices and it performs very well..Added Some Camera Samples above (Pic 1 : Ultrawide , Pic 2 : Telephoto [Pic may not be clear as it was taken due to compression of the image while uploading)Both the three Cameras (Primary + Ultrawide + Telephoto) performs very well.If you're a camera guy you should definitely check this out.5. Performance & RAM Management :I'm not a gamer , I use my device for daily usage of social media , ott platforms , Calls , messages etc. but i use it extremely.I didn't faced any kind of heating issues with the device until now.Also ,Ram management of the Device is excellent , I am a person who uses 4-5 appsbackground at single time and i didn't have any issues of closing down the apps .6. ONE UI :I was a stock Android guy , but One UI actually surprised me , it is very well optimised and very user-friendly for single hand usage..initial days i found it little hard to use the stock menu of one Ui but I'm now got used to it.PS : I didn't found any kind of ads on my device as i didn't sign up or used any samsung Apps.7. Build Quality :Even though its back is made up of plastic , the overall build quality is super Premium the Aluminium frame gives us a feel like using a flagship device..8. Future Proof : The device has 9 5G Bands , IP68 Rating , Wireless Charging which are very hard to find on any device in this price bracket.IP68 & Wireless Charging are mostly only found on Flagship Devices . Its good to see samsung brings it at lower price.This is the best future proof device as of now.So these are the Major pros i noticed as of now .Now let's move to the Cons.Cons :1. NO HDR SUPPORT ON NETFLIX : As an extensive multimedia user , i found it very frustrating. even mid range devices offering HDR support on Netflix , Samsungs Flagship Killer doesn't have HDR support.IT WILL NOT BE FIXED VIA OTA UPDATE .2. No 256GB Variant : This is actually not a problem for most of the people but as a power user who uses Dual sim , i found it little difficult.But if you're a single sim user , luckily it have hybrid solution ..so you can use a Sim card + expandable memory card ...3. Gorilla Glass 3 : Other competitors are providing atleast GG5 in this price range. But S20 FE 5G has just GG3 (Which also I'm not sure as it is not mentioned officially anywhere).But at the end of the day , GLASS IS GLASS & IT WILL BROKE.4. No headphone Jack : It is not any kind of unusual thing .most of the phones above 30K segment doesn't have headphone jack.So we have to buy 3.5mm to Type C adapter , type c earphones or bluetooth solutions .Note : Only Buy original Samsung type c adapter else it may not support.5. No 25W charger : It is not actually a con for me as i prefer Low watt charger which is good for battery health and beneficial for long term usage .but it may be a con for you , Although the device supports 25W charging . Only 15W charger is provided inside the box .. They should have given 25W inside the box.I didn't have any issues with 15W charger but it would be great if they bundle it with 25W as competitors are way ahead in terms of charging speed.For the reference of Charging speed ,Both 15W & 25W will full charge the device almost at the same time but using 25W you can get about 50% within 30 minutes where as 30% with 15W charger.Full charge time i usually takes 1 hour and 35 minutes.6. Front Camera : I am not a selfie guy , but if you're a person who's looking for a selfie device just don't buy it . it's not like the front camera quality is really bad or anything but it's not even near to the rear camera quality and you can find better selfie smartphones in this price rangeCONCLUSION :If you're a person who wants a device for normal day to day usage with good battery life , great rear cameras , great performance , better software support , better build quality and use it for more than 3 years & the cons mentioned above doesn't bother youJust buy it , I am sure you won't be disappointed.It's been about 15 days since I got this phone. I got it for 29990 on prime day sale. For the price it's good.Pros :1. Camera. Coming from Poco X2, the camera quality on this is amazing according to the price. It gives you good colours, contrast, focus, and everything that you want. It has OIS which is very apparent while recording. At 4k60 the stability is worse. But set it to 1080p60 and the videos will be amazingly stable. And the main advantage of OIS other than stable video is GREAT night mode shots. Hold the phone stable for a while and along with OIS you will get great photos with accurate colors and nice exposure. Attached samples.2. Display : Absolutely best. Samsung displays are the best. 120hz FHD. Flows smoothly. Colors and calibration is top notch. Brightness is good but I felt it's a little insufficient under direct sunlight. It's visible but could be better.3. OneUI : The main reason for upgrading to this phone was software. OneUI4.0 is the absolute best android skin right now. It has way too many customisations in it and let's you personalise your phone to a very high degree. Like there's a feature to read out the name of the person who's calling if your wearing headphones. It took me 3 days to fully go through all the settings and change them to my needs. Also Knox security is a special mention. Knox security is a software and hardware feature in Samsung phones which protects your phone from all kinds of attacks and keeps your data safe. Even if it gets stolen you can remotely delete all your data. Secure folder allows you to store data in a separate storage. And many more such good features. While being a very feature rich and storage heavy skin, it still feels very very smooth and fast to use. Unlike MIUI or other skins, it doesn't stutter much and bugs are less. There are many other small pros like good stereo speakers. Nice premium build quality. Good data and wifi speeds. Other such features that you won't notice but definitely make a difference in your experience.

Cons 1. Software. I know I said it's a pro but I say this in the aspect of updates. This phone was launched in 2021 March in India and Samsung promises 3 year Android version updates and 1 additional year of security updates. But there's a lot of confusion regarding if or not this phone will receive Android 14. It will receive A13 for sure. There's a lot of debate on what they will do with A14 because of global version launch date being earlier and yada yada. Basically the phone's life maybe 2.5 to 3 years if they give A14. But 1.5 to 2 if not. I researched on the Internet a few people say that it will receive A14 while I was few say it's not. It's hard to say who's correct. So assume it's not getting A14 if you are going for it.

2. Battery. The battery on this phone is 4500mah and it's good enough for a day's use. But that's because I use it lightly. Not much online streaming. No gaming light social media and other usual stuff. If you use it even a tad bit more heavily, you will run out within a day. If you're going outside for the better part of a day, like a day trip to somewhere nearby, it's better keep a power bank handy. In terms of Screen on time numbers, I once got 7 hours of SOT on light usage, 1 hr YouTube and 1.5 hr streaming. I was at home and used wifi all the time. I got 3 hrs SOT when I went outside for a day trip. I took many photos and videos and the phone shutdown before I could reach home. On a mixed use day, you can get 4.5 to 5.5 hours of SOT.

Final verdict : The life of the phone in terms of Software Support is not great but you will get on time updates and almost no bugs in the software. So if you want to buy it you can and exchange it after maybe 2 years for other models. But if you planning on using it for longer than 2 years, better avoid it. In the upcoming Diwali and Dussehra sales, the price might further drop to 25k even. I am just speculating but keep in mind your requirements and go accordingly. As always amazing delivery by Amazon.

But no fast charging in this cable, it's normally charging. I love it because it's supported in micro usb, or type c. Over all good. Pros / advantage :- 1) 1.5 meter wire 2) more durable 3) supported dual mode type c, micro usb Cons / disadvantages :- normal charging, not fast charging, Though it is braided, but it is not strong like boAt. But it's okay to use it. Supports turbocharging, Working well after months of use. Only thing is that if there is slight pressure, the C-type adapter will come off from the micro usb head. So better to see that the cable is not stretched when using the C type adapter. Otherwise working fine and very convenient for me since i usually have a phone with C type charging and a small Tab with micro USB charging when i travel. I need to carry only one cable now with my powerbank. Will recommend., Best cable, good, Both Micro USB & Type C mobile connector's are getting charge. Good Decision to purchase this product., Cable is a good fibre braided with good length. The connector also has a tight fit, sometimes you have to apply a bit force to remove (if it'll wear off after usage). And amazing amazon service!!, Good watch in this price, Watch faces could have been better, Amoled Screen & Touch, Average Wrist Band.", "Today only i recieved this watch at first instance it win my heartI was using it a whole day and i found some pros and cons of this watchPros# Amoled Display is very bright and nice# Look and design is premium# Bluetooth calling is awesome, speaker is loud and clear . Even my voice is reaching to opposite party very clearly while calling with watch.# calculator features is useful# Multi Functional crown button is easy and useful .. Easily to change theme with just scroll the crown button# play music directly from the watch with the internal storage although its only 128 mb but sufficient to store around 10 songs approx.. song sound quality is also fine# strap quality is good and soft# TWS connecting features is also niceCons# sometimes i found watch is disconnected with my phone ..not sure why its happened as i have checked only for one day# fingerprints are clearly visible on Screen Glass .. i have attached the pic for it#Health Tracker are near to accurate but never rely on smartwatch at this price range.i have measure the bp with this watch and with bp machine both results are different... 70-80% accurate only..# AI Voice assistant is not very useful as it only work for mobile when i press the voice assistant button on watch .. like if i give command to set alarm on watch it set alarm on mobile so basically it just a button to wake up google assistant for mobile phone.#Sometimes when you pick call from your mobile phone call automatically transfer to watch and voice started coming from the watch speaker.. which is quite irritating..this must be correct by firmware updates i have purchased it for Rs.3420/- including bank offer . For this price range overall its a good & premium watch ..Its my experience with this watch for just a one dayRest how it work for long run that depends..,Recieved a damaged device at first... Slight gap between display and body from the left side.. but quickly recieved the replacement next day....The replacement was good...Amazon provided great service and delivered replacement in just 16 hours ...so great job amazon..also i live in bangalore.. so the experience might vary from place to place..ProsSmooth enough UIFairly accurate readings on all the sensorsHeartRate BP and spo2Call quality is great for the price.. good speakers and good mic..You can control spotify and soundcloud music too from the watch .and use tws to listen to spotify while controlling with the watch... And it is seamless...Display is great ..colors are punchy and bezels are good enough... Not as narrow as crossbeats ignite s4 max but still good enough...Build quality is good but does not feel very premium.. it does feel like a below 5k watch...So you cannot trick anyone that this is a apple watch \xf0\x9f\x98\x82Strap is not too long as every review mentions.. strap is good enough... Not too comfy..I ordered a metal strap from amazon for my watch and it is amazing...Ui looks much better in person than reviews.. UI is smooth and looks good... Not as good as realme watch 3 pro..But still good for the price..Overall its a good watch for the price of around 3.5k -3.9kAnymore and it is not worth the priceRealme watch 3pro is the best at around this price.. so if you get that in stock and for below 4k then get realme watch 3 pro..Or else for this price segment firebolt visionary is the overall best watch compared to all other watches under 4kConsCall when recieved on watch doesnt stay on tws it switches to watch for some reason..which is oneSteps are a little inaccurate and reads steps even if not walking..so dont rely on step counterBattery life is not great if you're using always on display and calling... Maybe around 3 daysBut otherwise battery stays for over 5 days.Blutooth range is not too good.. and varies from watch to watch.. and also phone to phone.. i get a decent bluetooth range of around 20 ft .. but this is more of a fact than a con.,I write this review after 1 week of using this watch, BP, BPM, SP02 running and sleep tracking functions are working well, watch speaker is also loud and clear to you and the other callers. The only con is when you want to listen to songs through a watch from a mobile its Bluetooth disconnects automatically again and again, as this fund is not useful for me so ignore it, overall it's a good watch.,Everything is absolutely Greta in this smartwatch.But these things could have been better:. Watch faces- you should have the option to add upto 3-4 watch faces at once from the app rather than one at a time and 10 pre-installed ones. App ui could have been better. DND mode absent. No option to toggle Bluetooth (always on),Before review i would like to appreciate this great strategy to pour out honest reviews from users by giving them bookmyshow voucher.I loved the Touch Screen experience & Amoled screen of the watch, it gives a feel of premium watch. The band of the watch is average & doesn't look premium & i separately ordered a metal band. I am expecting Mobile App improvement from FireBoltt as I don't find it good enough if I compare it with Boat's App for its watches (As I own a Boat smartwatch). Rest Visionary is a good buy & worth the money the only thing which physically is not appealing is the average quality of the band.", <https://m.media-amazon.com/images/I/41dtbrNRHdL. Pros: 1. step counting accuracy 85-90%. 2. sleep monitor 95-100% accurate. 3. Notifications and bluetooth connection with IOS and android - 10/10. 4. touch sensitivity 9.5/10. 5. watch brightness in bright sunlight - 9/10. 6. customisable watchface and easy interface - 9/10. 7. call quality and speaker volume - 9.5/10. 8. Sports modes 9.5/10. Cons: - 1. battery life 6/10 when fully connected for notifications and calls lasts 3/4 days only. Else if used optimally, can last 7-8 days with moderate use. 2. less choice of inbuilt watch faces. 3. Watch strap could have been of better quality. 4. Screen can catch scratches, need to buy a cut screen guard for the screen. Overall this Smart watch is a beast in this range (\"\xe2\x82\x99\"). P.s: I have used colorfit pro 2 earlier. Ratings and reviews are according to that., Everything is great in this Watch it does have calling, games, fin perfectly in all hands health tracking and etc, but after all watch is great but there is only one con - battery backup is less battery gets discharged in just 15 hours if you will keep it wear all day, I hope fire boltt will fix it. Overall best value to money product \\\xf0\x9f\x91\x8d\\\xf0\x9f\x91\x8d\\\xf0\x9f\x91\x8d, Many watches come with the same features at the same cost so you may have a lot of varieties to get confused with, though I can say that this one I got here has stable ui, no lag even, feels premium (mainly the soft strap and the cool crown button adds up much).. the main reason I bought this because it brings all the features everyone needs today with out of the box looks. If someone feels that they have a thin wrist and it wouldn't fit them, don't worry. Even I thought it wouldn't fit me coz I have a thin wrist but it was just fine. Got delivery in a day. Prompt service by Amazon. Package was sealed. Did not find any tampering. Watch body is plastic built. At this price point, could have been metal one. Detailed review will be shared in few days. Now after the battery gets fully charged it drains from 100 to 0 % in just 10 minutes. I don't know what happened to it. Watch design is good. In picture shows dark grey color watch but I received silver grey. Screen wakeup time is slow otherwise everything is good., Using this watch for couple of days now. Overall I liked it. Readings are almost correct. Hope it'll be durable as well., Value for money. Only con is that rise to wake up sensor works very slow.\", <https://m.media-amazon.com/images/I/41vQwUamFcl. Its a little hard to get used to the pencil but works like a charm. zero issues. Lovely product,Initially I was sceptical using this pencil, because it kept skipping lines and became unresponsive. But after a while it became as smooth as original. You must go for it if pressure sensitivity is not what you are looking for. With wireless charging and button shortcuts it's the best budget pencil. I will update my review to 5 stars

So i've used it almost 6 months and giving honest review.In short if you are getting it during sale time @899-999,then it's a steal deal..also in regular price b/w 1299-1499 it's a good product..Sound quality is good. Enough loud at 50-60% volume. Bass is also ok. Whenever needed it produces punchy bass. Overall balanced.Mic quality is good in indoor condition,but in noisy environment you can't rely on this. Receiver can't clearly listen to you.You can do gaming as company claiming low latency,i myself didn't test it.Now about battery backup,company claim it will give battery backup of 42 hours with case. 6 hours in single charge+Additional 36 hours(6 times charge via case). But in practical use it gives total 35 hours playback. It will give around 5 hours backup on single charge of buds @ 50-60% volume(if you only listen to music or watching video,but no call or gaming) You can charge the earbuds full 6 times via case: so additional 30 hours.Just one issue with it's design,suit case type box & not easy to carry in pocket. I would say it's a personal preference. If you are into good looks,design then it's not for you.Now it's regular pricing varries between Rs 1299-1499. In this price range also it is one of the best tws under 1500. I will tell why.. now a days many brands are launching tws in the market under 1500. Most of them sound almost similar, difference is like 19/20!! They are just marketing their tws with huge hours of battery backup & by youtubers,reviewers. 48/50 hours of playtime is just myth. I've personally used Truke(Airbuds lite,Buds F1) which is by far the most false promising brand claiming 48 hours of battery in their every tws,but only give 21 hours. Even other tws of boat(Airdopes 121 pro) which claim 40-45 hours playback only give around 25 hours,Defy Gravity Z claiming 50 hours only give 28 hours. If you are impressed by their looks & huge battery backup and thinking to buy those,you will be disappointed after purchase. Instead go with this,you will not be disappointed.,I read the negative comments first and decided not to buy it because the comments said it gives high latency on gaming like PUBG and also it falls from ear while running. And that the difference between normal and beast mode slightly had differenceBut a PUBG youtuber Recommended me this so I decided to give it a try, after trying out myself.Let me provide the facts for youI have a boat rockerz 510 headphone which obviously should be better than this airdope but this airdope surprised me by doing 2x better in providing accurate sound in PUBG.It\xe2\x80\x99s been 2-3 days I used it daily for 6-7 hours on full charge, it has no buttons and it works on touch sensor which was impressive for me and in PUBG it doesn\xe2\x80\x99t give delay as written in the comments. it has a good latency better than what I had expected from the negative

give delay as written in the comments, it has a good battery better than what I had expected from the negative comments. Sometimes though I faced the issue where one side of the airdope stops working because it either on standby without detecting the user or a bug which is included in the faq/guide/help card in the box I'm satisfied in terms of gaming. For sports like running I wouldn't recommend because it slips away however maybe u can tie the airdope with a thread attached to ur neck so that it's safe from landing on the ground I'm gonna try that, please don't use both the airdopes while running on the roads with vehicles running for your own safety keep one side of your ear free for hearing sounds from your environment. Pros: 1. The level of volume it gets to, is just awesome, it can get incredibly loud so if you're at the gym, these are perfect. 2. Awesome Bass! 3. Noise cancellation is just great, if you simply put them on without even any music playing, u won't be able to hear things around u very well, it's great for places like Gym. 4. Lovely battery life, I've had them a week and only had to charge the case once, that too for just a few minutes. And the earbuds themselves, leave them in case for just five min and you'll be getting battery for a long long while. 5. They are very comfortable, can be used for long periods of time. 6. Affordable! 7. The touch controls are very responsive, tap to pause, double tap right one for next song, double tap left one for either rewind or previous song. Can also pick up calls just by tapping. 8. Multiple ear coverings are provided with it. 9. Type C port. Cons: 1. The sound quality is not bad or anything but it is slightly muffled as compared to good quality headphones etc. The bass is the highlight so it's great for music, but for movies or gaming, you won't get the most crisp audio. 2. Some connectivity issues, sometimes i have to turn my Bluetooth on and off many times for it to work (this is occasional, not a daily or frequent occurrence) [Edit after 1 month use: it's now a very frequent issue] 3. The mic quality is good if you are using your phone, but for some reason the quality is really bad if you are on PC. 4. Sometimes on WhatsApp, the mic will not be detected if you are on call with these earbuds, so you will end up having to take them off to accept a call sometimes. (Not an issue if you are the one dialing) i hope it's just a whatsapp issue rather than earbuds issue. Overall, I needed these for my gym since they play horrible music there (lol) so I'm very very happy with them. Highly recommended for music and/or as a more affordable option as compared to JBL etc.", https://m.media-amazon.com/images/I/31GUbeFG3FL.SX300_SY300_QL70_FMwebp_.jpg, https://www.amazon.in/Airdopes-141-Playtime-Resistance-Bluetooth/dp/B09N3ZNHTY/ref=sr_1_2?qid=1672902995&s=computers&sr=1-2&nB0B3RRWSF6, "Fire-Boltt Phoenix Smart Watch with Bluetooth Calling 1.3""", 120+ Sports Modes, 240*240 PX High Res with SpO2, Heart Rate Monitoring & IP67 Rating", Electronics | Wearable Technology | Smart Watches, "\xe2\x82\x91998", "\xe2\x82\x91999", 80%, 4.3, "27,709", "F: Bolt is India's No 1 Wearable Watch Brand Q122 by IDC Worldwide quarterly wearable device tracker Q122. \xe3\x80\x91 Bluetooth Calling Watch \xe3\x80\x91 Fire-Boltt Phoenix enables you to make and receive calls directly from your watch via the built-in speaker and microphone. A must buy for every person who is watch enthusiast., Having a great experience", "2 months review- its been working fine, there's been no problem as of now.. some things-the whole step tracking thing, i bought it due to that reason, it didn't basically satisfy me to that level with that, but it does count steps accurately in the walking mode(activity) Its got some scratches in it.. but its not that noticeable at first glance the backgrounds, I believe it could've been wayyyy better if we could change 4-5 backgrounds of 10, but we can only have 2, 1 customised and 1 download from the app(which has limited options) the other backgrounds are just.. eh.. the looks, I'll give it 9/10, it's good looking stylish different touch screen is good the sleep tracking too is kinda accurate(i still haven't understood it that well lol) battery life is muah, I use it without Bluetooth and it easily survives for 6-7 days spo2 and heart rate, I just believe what it says as i can't check prove if that's correct. the water resistance, I haven't used it in water (ofc am scared) the calling feature works fine.. its got good sound overall its a decent watch and can be used in day to day activities, am quite satisfied with it as my first smart watch \xf0\x9f\x98\x97, I've used this product for 4 days, and i'm going to rate the various features and different aspects of this smartwatch which could help the customers here -So, Bluetooth calling (4/5) - the in-built mic of this watch is excellent and the voice gets to the other side without any disturbance, watch connects smoothly with the mobile and don't get disconnected automatically until you do it yourself through watch or phone. Only con is you can't silent the incoming call which is annoying sometime, hope they fix it with an update. Built quality and looks (4.5/5) - metallic built which looks premium and straps are also quite smooth and comforting. Best thing is, it also looks good over skinny wrists (poor me, with 5.6 inch wrist). Only con is you can get scratches on display so protect with it some sort of screen guard. Touch screen (5/5) - it's almost buttery smooth without any lag which is pretty impressive for a smartwatch under 2k. I bet you will not get any laggy experience ever. Accuracy (3.5/5) - SpO2 and HR has fairly decent accuracies, it gives you a rough idea of your being, so its quite reasonable for a watch under 2k. Count steps with decent accuracy as well. Sleep accuracy is also just acceptable. To sum up, you should definitely go for this watch if you've a budget, constrained under 2000 rs,, I recently purchased the Fire Bolt Phoniex watch, which is quite stylish, and the Bluetooth calling is excellent. The voice gets to the other side without any disturbance. The build quality is good over the wrists, but you can get scratches on the display, so protect it with some screen guard. You should go for this watch if you want a budget-friendly smartwatch under 2000., It's a good watch but i have faced two problems in it the first one is there is no feature of raise to wake and the second one is there is no option to silent it when someone calls you.....i think you should purchase it if in future company add these two features....I recently purchased the Fire Bolt Phoenix Watch, and I am very happy with my purchase. The watch is quite stylish, and I get compliments every time I wear it. The watch is also quite comfortable to wear, and the strap is adjustable to fit any wrist size. The watch also has a great battery life, and I can go for days without having to charge it. The watch also has a number of features, including a step counter, heart rate monitor, and sleep tracker. All of these features are very useful and make it easy to track my activity and health. Overall, I am very pleased with my purchase and would highly recommend the Fire Bolt Phoenix Watch to anyone who is looking for a stylish and functional watch.,This watch is absolutely stunning and great value for money. Really pleased with the design and shape of watch, definitely a must buy for every person .loved the colour, durability and accuracy is super \xf0\x9f\x91\x8d. just go for it.,I liked the product it has so many features like sleep tracking, sp02, Heart rate measuring, music player, temperature checker my only nitpick would be that it only have 2 games and secondly it has good wallpapers but a Ben 10 Omnitrix wallpaper would give it an even more awesome look",https://m.media-amazon.com/images/I/41sHRWXCfVL.SX300_SY300_QL70_FMwebp_.jpg,https://www.amazon.in/Fire-Boltt-Phoenix-Bluetooth-Calling-Monitoring/dp/B0B3RRWF56/ref=sr_1_3?qid=1672902995&s=computers&sr=1-3&nB0B5B6PQCT,"boAt Wave Call Smart Watch, Smart Talk with Advanced Dedicated Bluetooth Calling Chip, 1.69\xe2\x80\x9d HD Display with 550 NITS & 70% Color Gamut, 150+ Watch Faces, Multi-Sport Modes,HR,Sp02, IP68(Active Black)",Electronics|WearableTechnology|SmartWatches,"\\xe2\\x82\\xb91,799", "\\xe2\\x82\\xb97,990",77%,3.8,"17,833","B Calling- Wave Call comes with a premium built-in speaker and bluetooth calling via which you can stay connected to your friends, family, and colleagues|Dial Pad- Its dial pad is super responsive and convenient. Now there are a few good ones to pick but a slight improvement over the ones the watch earlier had. Bit Impressed. Added one star for it.Not a very polished product. The fonts are tacky and look ugly in the watch for notification text and caller name text. The watch faces are a lazy design job. No point having 150 watch faces if only 10-20 are good or usable. Rest are useless.[UPDATE: Oct 11] boAt seems to be on a smartwatch launch spree. And thanks to that, they are constantly updating the phone app and the watch faces. Now you have many good looking watch faces to choose from. So overall, still the Smartwatch UI needs work. But atleast you have good watch faces.Good:- Screen quality- Battery life- Looks and the metallic frame- Call clarity- BT calling at the price- Reasonably accurate sensorsBad:- The UI, fonts - they are all very ugly and tacky. They could have tried to give the Chinese software some makeover. But it is a clearly lazy job by the tech team. A copy paste job to be precise of getting an outsourced software and plastering it with brand logos.- Restarts randomly when the call is going on on the watch even for 1 min or so.- Watch faces. Again a job of the design / tech / UI team. BoAt doesn't have a good team of designers and UI guys to really offer simple yet good software features like good watch faces and good watch UI.- No option to silence a call or reply with quick replies.Look for Noise Smart Watches in the Same Range. Noise Colorfit Pulse Go Buzz is cheaper and better alternative + has better watch faces and UI and quick reply to notifications and call silence and mute options for lower prices which this watch has clearly missed.You can go for boAt Wave Call also - It isn't an outright bad watch, but there are better options available for the price.boAt - If you have a team who reads and wants to improve, get some good UI and design folks in your team. Your products are good, but the UI and design is what the people see and that's what makes them feel good about your products. You have really average UI.,Boat wave call watch is best for budget.Call is too good and sound quality is also too good.Battery is good.Totally the watch is good for range.,It's good value for money smart watch.Light weight. Touch is smooth.All the features are 90-95% accurate.,a good product in this price range must buy itGOOD LOOKINGGOOD QUALITY,Good product is mst h,Average for calling good looking,I'm really happy to purchase this watch! Bought this yesterday, so haven't used it much, so an early review. But the most detailed review so please read till the end. Very important points are mentioned. Looks are cute! It looks really nice and elegant. I am using it with a MacBook Air. So far it seems there are no problems using it. The scrolling is smooth, connection does not drop, and there is no lag. Connection is instant. There is no pairing required. It's plug and play along with the dongle provided with it. It sits low on the table, feels weighty but not in a wrong way. The battery adds to its weight, but I have used heavier mice before, and this one feels just right. It has good grip. Nothing to complain about that. Buttons are nice and clicks are satisfactory, not too noisy; they are just right. Scroll wheel doesn't feel cheap at all, though I believe it could've been better quality. Body is matt finish and doesn't leave fingerprints on it, though if you're someone who eats and handles the mouse, then it'll show the oil prints and that's true with any peripherals. The mouse doesn't feel cheap overall, but it is definitely plasticky, though not in the bad sense. It is definitely not cheap looks wise. There is an on, off switch on the bottom which is helpful in saving the battery (which is included) when the mouse is not in use. There is no light on the bottom which is good if you have kids in the house who keep flipping the mouse and staring at the super bright light. So that's a good thing and a definite plus! The overall shape and size works in the favour of the mouse, and a variety of users with small and large palms will be satisfied with it. Now over to a major flaw. The mouse connects only through its own usb dongle (which by the way comes tucked inside the body of the mouse itself, inside the battery door, which I found mighty impressive) and not through the laptop's bluetooth. Now this means two things- 1. You have to carry around the usb dongle with you everywhere you go, which means if you happen to forget it at home while traveling and carry just the mouse, then the mouse is pretty much useless in that scenario. And worse still, if you happen to carry it out of station with you and bring back only the mouse and forget to pack the dongle, then you're stuck and I don't think you get only the dongle (you'll have to check that with the seller), and then the mouse is left useless in that case. 2. Now over to the problem I am facing, which I did not see anyone else mention in their reviews. I use a MacBook, so it doesn't have USB-C inputs, which means you must buy a connector for it to connect the dongle. I actually had already bought a connector so that was not a problem for me, but you will have to factor in the cost of the connector, which is not cheap, because you want to buy only good quality connector for your expensive MacBook. Of course that is a problem with the MacBook and not with the mouse, but consider this point. It is very important. It will NOT connect over MacBook's Bluetooth. Otherwise, it works well with the MacBook. The only caveat I found is the tracking speed on level 2 is too slow and on level 3 is too fast. You'll have to get used to that thing. It doesn't feel very natural (as the trackpad on the MacBook feels) because of that speed problem, but otherwise, the pointer flows smoothly on screen and doesn't jump around, at least with my mouse. Also, the battery door does make a noise when landing the mouse on the pad, and I feel it could have been made better. But I guess at the cost, you really can't complain too much. Overall, I think a good buy, but the compulsion of having to use it with its own dongle is a major drawback I feel. If that doesn't bother you, then nothing else should keep you from buying this product, especially since it is one of the cheapest wireless mice out there at less than 600 bucks, which is what it cost me. The quality of power button is very low easily it can break, Nice Product, works as expected as of now no issues, Good, Very smooth, works on almost every surface, paper, table, cloth etc. There's a bit rattle sound of the plastic which is just above the buttons (right/left clicks) It will not bother most of you, I am a bit Obsessive with these kind of things, So... [Personally I opened the mouse and stuck a paper inside the plastic which presses the click button, resulting in no rattle sound. Now mouse only makes sound when you click the buttons, (click click click)] Battery life of Logitech is known to be very good. Quality good, dpi good, good accuracy on off switch available, smooth, good deal at reasonable price. good product on which you can use for long time, This is good mouse, thanks to Amazon for providing this product at reasonable price. Bass is also ok. Mic quality is also good in indoor condition. Receiver can clearly listen to you. I didn't use it in noisy environment or in outdoors. Company claims there is low latency while gaming, i don't know exactly if it works or not. Sound & call quality wise it's good one.. But the problem is with battery backup. Company claim it will give battery backup of 40 hours with case. 8 hours in single charge + Additional 32 hours (4 times charge via case) This is misleading. It only gives total 25 hours playback. I've tested it myself. It will give around 7 hours backup on single charge of buds @ 50-60% volume (if you only listen to music or watching video, but no call or gaming) You can charge the earbuds full only 2.5 times via case: so additional 18 hours. If you try to charge after 2nd time it will only charge the buds around 60%, then it goes off. (After 1st charge the case has 48% battery left, 2nd time it is down to 12%, then 3rd time it goes to 0%) They mentioned earbuds have 40 mah battery each, 380 mah battery in case. It is mentioned in product manual, but in boat website it is written 400 mah instead of 380. Technically 40 hours backup is also not possible. It has 380 mah battery in case, it acts like a 380mah powerbank. So let assume it's efficiency is 60%. So it will give output of 228 mah. (It is less than mentioned capacity due to energy loss while energy transfer) Now each earbud has 40 mah, so total 80 mah. Now buds can be charged via case $228 \times 3 \times 780 = 2.85$ times. That's it., Having bought this for roughly $\text{₹}1300$, I must say that I'm not too satisfied with the product in many ways. 1. Pairing is very simple and it connects very quickly. 2. The build quality is actually very good. It's all plastic but it looks quite durable as long as you're not too rough with it. 3. Audio is decent, not too impressive. My wired earphones (Boat Bassheads) are quite frankly much better. 4. THIS IS NOT FOR GAMING. I play Call of Duty: Mobile and the latency is just painful. Even with "Beast Mode" turned on, I felt no difference as the lag still persisted. 5. The battery backup is actually great. The only positive thing I can think of is the battery backup. I got roughly 3 hours of playtime and the battery had drained from 100% to 80%. The quick charge is a cherry on top. Overall, I'd say it's performance is very average. Definitely not worth $\text{₹}1300$ in my opinion., Not adaptive for every person's ear. My wife doesn't suit the ear airdopes. Partially satisfied. 799/- rupees i bought. Don't bought more than 799 for this model., The product was as good as i expected. The quality is good. Noise cancellation isn't quite high but overall good., Battery lifespan i more, better audio. But calls are not audible properly some times., It works best for the price. Sound quality is good, but plastic quality is average., No clear sound on call. Most things work great. Has great battery life. As a dailywear, there's not much to worry about. It detects activity but that happens only after a considerable amount of time (20 minutes). One cannot change the activity detection sensitivity or time. The watch is not very intuitive to use. It's usually great and most features can be accessed easily but certain things take more clicks and taps than should be required in a compact device. So all the features are there, but it takes a bit of time to find them. Sleep tracking is decent. Phone calls have good quality. People can hear your voice even if there is reasonable disturbance. If you answered through your phone and now want to switch to your watch, you cannot do that. And you can only save at most 10 contacts. You cannot dial numbers. But the mic and speaker of the watch is good. Also, a confusing thing is, why does the watch not have audio alarms, when it is capable of producing sound?, What i need in watch is not available so don't need this... can get it in normal watch from other brands, Look and feel is awesome. First about the product itself. It's sound quality is very good. Bass lovers will just love it. Average mids and high. It lasts about 25-28 hrs with a full charge. Also tested on heavy rain while driving (don't worry , earphones were not plugged in. \xf0\x9f\x98\x82). It was on my neck. But there was no water ingress. Now the major problem kicks in .After 10 months left speaker was not working. So , I registered a complaint on boat website. They picked my earphone for replacement. But later it was replaced with "" rockerz 255 pro "" instead of "" rockerz 255 pro + "" . Why ? Even after a lot of conversations with boat support they didn't provide me my model . Now I've to stick with these low quality ear peace. Hence , Try to avoid boat online support for warranty claim and better visit physical service entre. Good luck. Edit : After having conversation with higher authorities on Twitter, they replaced the same with my model . Edit 2 : from first day onwards after receiving the replacement product I was in doubt that the sound quality was decreased a lot. So, again I replaced with the authorized service centre for flat (no/ very low bass) sound. But the 2nd replacement is also same. I thought I've some issues with my ear lol \xf0\x9f\x98\x86 . But today when I listened to my friends rockerz 255 pro + (same as mine but the retail unit) I was surprised and thankful too . My ear was not damaged . It had the same punchy bass and that signature sound which was absent from my replacement unit. So, I can conclude by saying the replacement product will not have that signature sound as the retail unit. If anybody has experienced the same please comment. Thanks, I would recommend it very strongly if you want a budget friendly gaming earphone sometimes may feel a lag after purchasing but after some time it works very fine but it also has some cons like the build quality my earbuds gone worn off by normal daily use as well as there rubber quality is not that much good also mic it is not that good but it is okay so it is the best earphone under your budget.... There is some pain after prolonged use for the first 2 weeks or so of using. Battery lasts over a day after full charge for an average user. Volume is strong, and so is the bass. Sound clarity is average. Product is sturdy enough to use comfortably without worry of damage., Very good for sound, noise cancellation & battery backup. only fins have pain in ears sometimes, otherwise its really value for money., Dear sir, I purchased this bluetooth on April 24th 2022. I'm procured this headphones in 2021 and now is 2023 when I'm writing. It has some prominent problems first is head adjustments get loose after 1 year and after one and half year cushions get also strat rip off thereof third initially battery was awesome i remember that I used to use my headphone 2 week in singal charge even whereas It always left connected over the night and start useing after wake up. It's my tendency, I don't endow rest to devices notwithstanding this it's is still alive and working as before but now it works 1 week in singal charge., It's a good product but now days many brands offer better than this at the price range., It's a nice product. Sound quality is good. Fitting in ear is perfect which has been constantly an issue with other earphones I have used till now. I have doubt on its durability because its wires are kind of handle-with-care. If it is durable then it will be among one of the best earphones, I have used till now., Unable to hear after, 8 months, Good budget earphones for taking call and listening to music/ watching videos once in a while. Be careful with the wire though as it can get tangled easily and is not that strong., Best buying in these range, The C50 HI is a budget friendly in ear earphone and it really comes at a great price. But the next version of these i.e. C100SI has more value for money factors. Like C50 HI has angled 3.5mm jack whereas C100SI has the normal one and i am not supposed to say this but trust me C100SI has the best best and superior sound quality if I compared to C50HI. Though it doesn't have a great durability. But if your previous earphones were c100si and you are switching on these then one can definitely notice the difference between the c100si and c50hi although you can adapt the sound of c50hi in nearly about 1 week if you are switching from c100si. To be honest the c100si is literally best in all circumstances such like gaming, Listening to music and professional editing the vocals, mids highs lows are perfectly balanced in c100si but not c50hi. In c50hi mostly when listening to sing the bass was not up to mark and the vocals were so loud that the bass was literally fading main point is that whenever we hit the full volume both of them never distorted any single beat. Hat's off to harman., Good earphones short time usage., Its good with very clear voice and average Bass clarity. I am not giving 5 stars because certain Bass can be improved a bit more. Overall its a good one., Was looking for budget earphones with voice clarity, JBL C50 HI does the work. Review is based on testing done the same day:Summary:The product is genuine and sturdy, but the performance is just about average, based on a random file copy performance to fill the entire space.Pros & Cons (comparing with SanDisk Cruiser Blade 32 GB) :Pros-1. Solid body, looks and feels great.2. Read speed is fine (22 MB/s).3. Product is genuine, covered under 2 Year manufacturer warranty.Cons -1. Fits too tight in usb port, thus causing more wear to the port and may even damage it if not used carefully.2. Capacity is 31 GB (precisely 31042043904 bytes), not 32 as advertised. In windows it'll show up as a 28.9 GB drive compared to 29.8 in Sandisk. No big deal, just a technical observation.3. Write speed (3.3 MB/s) is not bad, but slightly inferior to its close competitor Sandisk cruiser blade which easily gives 4 to 4.4 MB/s for the same test.4. Warranty is only 2 years, compared to 5 years on Sandisk. But since almost nobody claims warranty after 2 years, and besides- the plastic body of Sandisk gets physically damaged in 2 years anyway, so it's okay for me.Bottomline:It's good enough for casual users, maybe chosen over Sandisk for its look, feel and sturdiness. Frequent users may want to look for better options- with easier port fitting and better write speed.Details:The product name is HP v236w as shown on its packing (the images in listing are correct) while its part number is FD236W-32, so slightly confusing but both are the same thing.Testing whether it is genuine or fake:The bottom of the hologram sticker on the packing has a silver layer with ""scratch and check"" written on it. Scratching it reveals a 20-digit code beneath it, and the right edge of the sticker has the url ""www.pny.com.tw"" to verify this code. Go to support > product authentication page on that url. That page contains instructions and explanation of the results that you may get. Mine were originals with the codes tested for the first time (repeat test result results that you may get. Mine were originals, with the codes tested for the first time (repeat test result will be a warning that the code was tested before). So that means it is covered under 2 year manufacturer warranty, as declared by hp for Aisa Pacific region. Design and build quality : Sturdy, stylish but with a design flaw-It is exactly as shown in the picture. The body is a solid steel case with open front and the back sealed with a black plastic cap. The plastic back fits perfectly and gives it a stylish look, though it may come off later. The HP logo, product code etc are embossed on the steel body so likely won't be erased with time. Overall, it looks and feels great. The flaw I noticed was that it takes significantly more strength to push it into the usb port, compared to other usb devices like generic usb cables or usual plastic pendrives like Sandisk. You almost have to fight with it to push it in or pull it out. This means its frequent use can wear out the usb port too soon, or may even break it if not used carefully. Capacity : 31 GB, not 32, will appear as 28.9 GB in windows-It is advertised as a 32 GB drive but the actual capacity is 31GB, and yes, I'm fully aware of the decimal vs binary calculation difference, I'm a hardcore linux user. To be precise, its exact capacity is 31042043904 bytes (on both pendrives I tested). So in windows it will show up as a 28.9 GB drive. In linux it will show up as either 31 GB, or 28.9 GiB (binary calculation like windows). For comparison, my 32GB Sandisk shows up as 32010928128 bytes, or 32 GB, or 29.8 GiB. This loss of 1 GB in a 32GB pendrive is no big deal for me, just a technical observation. Performance: Read speed: about 20-22 MB/s Write speed: about 3.3 MB/s Tested with : a collection of ISO files ranging from about 350MB to 4GB, along with a few smaller files like pdf or txt. Total size of the collection was about 30.2 GB (28.2 GiB). I did this testing on linux, so to be fair, the write performance may be slightly better on windows as it works better with fat32 than the pendrive comes formatted as. (Edit: No performance difference on Windows either. Formatted as exFAT on windows 10 to make it multiboot with YUMI. Read-write speeds were same while copying ISO files to it, or reading them to load in memdisk while booting.) I could do more accurate testing with tools like dd command but didn't bother as the difference usually isn't very significant. Ups..... The product is very good, i mistakenly washed it 8n washing machine with my pants but it is still running like new. No data loss problem or data corrupt problems i have faced yet. Downs..... The only downside is this pendrive is little slow because of technology 2.0 (3.2 is newer one) And second one is not affect your data at all.. the silver paint on pendrive is vanishing time by time and it is now turning black. Product is good but slow. Storage is good but doesn't work for car stereo, 57 GB OUT OF 64, So far so good, Good product, Ok", <https://m.media-amazon.com/images/I/31febYa30qL. I wanted a wired earphone and when I searched on Amazon I found Boult in such a low price and I ordered it. Recieved it today.Checked it by connecting to my phone and I was surprised by the audio quality. This is a nice product in this price range and the mic is also good. The build quality is average and you can't complain considering the price. It also has a clip to attach the earphone to your shirt like the good old Nokia days. It has total 3 pair of ear tips (2 in a zipper packet and 1 already attached to the earphone). The manufacturing date is March 2022. So, it\ 's quite new actually, not an old stock. It also has that anti-slip ear hook, which is an added advantage. In general, it is a good product for this price.,I was looking for reliable Bluetooth earbuds on a budget, and settled on these. battery life. I would let the earbuds recharge at, for example, meal times. \xe2\x9c\x9d recent range. Going a few meters into the next room, with a concrete wall in between, was no issue. \xe2\x96\xaa The battery status of the dock is shown by a series of LED blinks. Simple and practical. CONS: \xe2\x96\xaa Mediocre phone calling quality. In particular, the microphone. The few conversations I had using these went successfully, so this was not a deal breaker, but the clarity was not the best for sure. The touch controls were initially a drawback for me, but I got used to them. Also, this product does not come with a charger. Either charge off of your computer, or buy a charger with the recommended electrical output. As for the sound quality, it is acceptable, not superlative. I have listened to music, and I have watched films and YouTube videos, with no problem. As a final note, I prefer this type of earbud over the in-ear type, because I find it more hygienic. Wiping with a clean cloth after each use, and leaving the lid of the dock open for some time, should help to slow fungal growth. Very Good Product, nicely fits in the ear and comfortable. The Volume seems to be a little low at the highest. But, A good Buy, Sound quality is good everything is balanced but bass dominance is too high and couldn't hear the treble and other notes, very good bass quality And Worth for money earphones I ever Buy.. also Product Quality is awesome \xf0\x9f\x94\xa5\xe2\x9d\xa4\xef\xb8\x8f, it doesn't fit as snugly in my ears, maybe it is cause of greasy ears, but the product is good, highly recommended, Bolte audio bass is very good", <https://m.media-amazon.com/images/I/31DbAD6FoCL. Good watch through fire \xf0\x9f\x94\xa5 boult I am impressed for this watch is so computable and all features are properly working like mean feature voice calling are properly working and This price range are no any brand are give this feature I am Happy for this watch Thank you Fire \xf0\x9f\x94\xa5 boult, Pros: The phone supports both phone and apps calling. Has long charge. Phone finder, phone camera shutter are good features. Beautiful looking watch. Cons: Not a full screen display, display is smaller than the watch. My watch is not center alligned. Limited number of watch face. Sometimes tends to call on recent number with false touch. Phone book should be a little larger than 8 numbers. Just bought it, so my review is basically the first impression. I will write a detailed review after few days of use. I like the style and it looks good. So far touch operation is also good, It was a awesome watch... I liked it sleep monitoring it's accurate. According to me this worth buying and I would suggest anyone who is reading this review to go ahead and buy this watch, It's good product in this range because I have one more of pebble smart watch in same price range but after using fire boltt it's better. Only one issue that not stop call ring during office or meeting time. I liked Everything except Hearbeat and O2 Level accuracy but it's close to real levels so average in this respect. Otherwise it's a kill for the money !!! Very good overall. The product is good as per the price charged. One feedback to supplier to improve the glass of watch, there are lots of scratches within one month of usage.\" <https://m.media->

It's pretty long and that's good as you can extend the cable to a good distance say if u r connecting it to the camera on a tripod.-Overall it's decent for beginners. I see high-end phones have good recording capabilities, but if you have a budget phone, then this one is deal.,Microphone looks very well built, it supports both phones and cameras. There are some phones that does not support external mic, please check before buying as one of my phone did not support it.They claim noise cancellation, however, I did not notice major difference it also captures great amount of noise, only cancellation is because of foam padding around the microphone. I could not observe noise cancellation, at least, while recording on phone.Overall package is well bundled, wire quality is decent, however the dongle quality is excellent, even the small clip to hold the microphone feels solid.,Wire is to long but good if quality of wire is improve in future then 5 stars from me but now 4 star good sound low price 1 star - for wire quality but over all a nice product.\xe2\x98\x86\xe2\x98\x86\xe2\x98\x86\xe2\x98\x86, I think It's good for online teaching like I do...But yeah some problems like very long cable length I mean someone might need but it should be optional.... or detachable price of the Mic itself is not much anywaysI am okay with this mic for sometime... until I am sure I need quality Rode mic to upgrade...,Don't expect noise cancellation under this budget but audio recording quality is very good.,Nice product,Decent",<https://m.media-amazon.com/images/I/41UYenF+lnL. Go for bassheads 242 if you are spending this much. They are charging more for the metal enclosure and the braided cable. The angled jack is a plus but the sound quality is so-so. Infinity zip 100 and their own bassheads 242 are way better for sound.,I would like to start by saying I\'m not an audiophile, therefore my review will be less about the audio quality of the product and more about the over all experience regarding the product. First off, this is my second time buying the product and you guessed it, it\'s good enough that I will buy it a third time if need be!Upon unboxing we are greeted by the presence of 3 pair of extra ear buds . There is also a pair of ear fins in the packet containing the extra ear buds, these ear fins are used to keep the ear buds snugly in your ears during strenuous periods of use where there is a chance of lots of movement. More on this later.Coming to the ear phones itself, it\'s among the very few ear phones that genuinely feels premium in hand. It is very durable, specially the plug part that connects to your phone, many a time my ear phones stop working because the plug part malfunctions and causes problems in the functioning of the ear phones. This is not the case with these.The wire itself is made of rubber/silicon. It feels good in hand and the only thing I can think of that could be improved here is to braid the wire but so far the wire hasn\'t showed any form of wear and tear common with most other ear phone wires. Another thing to emphasize is that the entire cable is flat through out, this genuinely decreases the number of instances where I find myself trying to untangle the wire. This is truly one of the best features of this pair of earphones.Remember I said something about the ear phones being made completely of metal? Well it continues to the mic and the left and right splitter. Both these pieces feel very premium because of the signature cold feeling of metal against skin. I don\'t know about you but attention to small details like this always brings smiles to my face. It is to be noted that the mic piece is a universal single button type and hence cannot control volume, personally this problem didn\'t affect me much but the might be potential buyers who might find this to be a deal breaker.Mic quality is subject to individual bias therefore I can tell you my personal experience. In my opinion I feel that the quality is average, it won\'t blow anyone\'s mind but it will deliver most of the time. A common complaint I heard from most of my callers that they find it difficult to hear me when there is a significant amount of back ground noise or wind rustling in to the mic, these are common issues even with ear phones price significantly higher than the boAt BassHeads 152.Finally the most important part of the review, the sound quality of the ear phones. As I said earlier I won\'t be going into the technical details . I am a bass lover and that is what led me to buy this pair in the first place. In my opinion I found that the Bass is indeed good but not over powering for the average consumer like how the Extra bass versions of the Sony line up of earphones trend to be. The volume gets sufficiently high and more often than not I use it at less than half it\'s total volume when listening to music. The clarity of the boAt BassHeads 152 are above par and easily betters even ear phones in the 2000 INR price category this is one other reason why I love this pair so much. A point to remember, as the entire covering of the ear phones is made of metal it is significantly heavier than other ear phones. This becomes a double edged sword, on the one hand the metal makes the ear phones feel very premium but it also makes it significantly heavier than other earphones made of plastic. This causes it to easily fall out of your ears if the supplied fins are not used. The find unlike the ones find in let\'s say the newer Bose ear phones aren\'t as comfortable and can hurt your ears if used over a prolonged time.Last but not the least, there are multiple color variants of the boAt BassHeads 152 including red, black and blue. I found myself opting for the black variant both the times this may be a personal opinion but I find it to be the best of the three. That said I do see most corporate consumers opting for the black as it is a neutral color. This leaves out the red, for reasons unknown the red variant is sold at a lower rate on most sites perhaps due to shortage in sales, therefore if you are short on cash and just want a great pair of ear phones then grab these while they last.Pros:1) No metal build2) Excellent wire quality and trendy3) Durable4) Above average sound qualityCons:1) Metal build in the earphones trend to make them heavy and thus falls out of your ear easily2) Supplied Fins are uncomfortable to wear over a prolonged time3) Supplied Clip piece is removable and tends to get lost easilyI hope everyone who read this found it useful and can make an educated decision to buy or not to buy the BassHeads 220. All suggestions are welcome.Thanking you, Dwarakesh,Best quality I like boat earphone saund quality,Only disadvantage I noticed was this can\'t be used in USB phones, 3.5 mm jack is provided so it can be used in Jack phones only .,Nice,good,I used this headphone for travel. Very lite and easy to carry in pocket. colourful. Sound quality is good. The wire is thin so i feel cautious While taking it from bag or pocket.,Gd one! Only thing is covers/sleeves comes out easily if not gd fit. However, additional covers/sleeves are provided.",https://m.media-amazon.com/images/I/31RiDkNjpjS_SX300_SY300_QL70_FMwebp_.jpg,https://www.amazon.in/BassHeads-152-ToneSecure-Braided-Earphones/dp/B07KY3FNQP/ref=sr_1_37?qid=1672902996&s=computers&sr=1-37&nB0B3N7LR6K,"Fire-Boltt Visionary 1.78"" AMOLED Bluetooth Calling Smartwatch with 368*448 Pixel Resolution 100+ Sports Mode, TWS Connection, Voice Assistance, SP02 & Heart Rate Monitoring",Electronics|WearableTechnology|SmartWatches,"xe2\x82\xb93,999","xe2\x82\xb9916,999",76%,4.3,"17,16: Boltt is India\' No 1 Wearable Watch Brand Q122 by IDC Worldwide quarterly wearable device tracker Q122.\xe3\x80\x99Bluetooth Calling Watch\xe3\x80\x91 Fire-Boltt Visionary enables you to make and receive calls directly from your watch via the built-in speaker and microphone. And amazing amazon service!! Good watch in this price, Watch faces could have been better, Amoled Screen & Touch, Average Wrist Band.", "Today only i recieved this watch at first instance it win my heart I was using it a whole day and i found some pros and cons of this watch Pros# Amoled Display is very bright and nice# Look and design is premium# Bluetooth calling is awesome, speaker is loud and clear . Even my voice is reaching to opposite party very clearly while calling with watch.# calculator features is useful# Multi Functional crown button is easy and useful .. Easily to change theme with just scroll the crown button# play music directly from the watch with the internal storage although its only 128 mb but sufficient to store around 10 songs approx.. song sound quality is also fine# strap quality is good and soft# TWS connecting features is also nice Cons# sometimes i found watch is disconnected with my phone .. not sure why its happened as i have checked only for one day# fingerprints are clearly visible on Screen Glass .. i have attached the pic for it# Health Tracker are near to accurate but never rely on smartwatch at this price range. i have measure the bp with this watch and with bp machine both results are different... 70-80% accurate only..# AI Voice assistant is not very useful as it only work for mobile when i press the voice assistant button on watch .. like if i give command to set alarm on watch it set alarm on mobile so basically it just a button to wake up google assistant for mobile phone.# Sometimes when you pick call from your mobile phone call automatically transfer to watch and voice started coming from the watch speaker.. which is quite irritating.. this must be correct by firmware updates i have purchased it for Rs.3420/- including bank offer . For this price range overall its a good & premium watch .. Its my experience with this watch for just a one day Rest how it work for long run that depends.. Recieved a damaged device at first... Slight gap between display and body from the left side.. but quickly recieved the replacement next day.... The replacement was good... Amazon provided great service and delivered replacement in just 16 hours ... so great job amazon.. also i live in bangalore.. so the experience might vary from place to place.. Pros Smooth enough UI Fairly accurate readings on all the sensors Heartrate BP and spo2 Call quality is great for the price.. good speakers and good mic.. You can control spotify and soundcloud music too from the watch .and use tws to listen to spotify while controlling with the watch... And it is seamless... Display is great .. colors are punchy and bezels are good enough... Not as narrow as crossbeats ignite s4 max but still good enough... Build quality is good but does not feel very premium.. it does feel like a below 5k watch... So you cannot trick anyone that this is a apple watch \xf0\x9f\x98\x82 Strap is not too long as every review mentions.. strap is good enough... Not too comfy.. I ordered a metal strap from amazon for my watch and it is amazing... Ui looks much better in person than reviews.. UI is smooth and looks good... Not as good as realme watch 3 pro.. But still good for the price.. Overall its a good watch for the price of around 3.5k -3.9k Anymore and it is not worth the price Realme watch 3pro is the best at around this price.. so if you get that in stock and for below 4k then get realme watch 3 pro.. Or else for this price segment firebolt visionary is the overall best watch compared to all other watches under 4k Cons Call when recieved on watch doesnt stay on tws it switches to watch for some reason.. which is one Steps are a little inaccurate and reads steps even if not walking.. so dont rely on step counter Battery life is not great if youre using always on display and calling... Maybe around 3 days But otherwise battery stays for over 5 days. Bluetooth range is not too good.. and varies from watch to watch.. and also phone to phone.. i get a decent bluetooth range of around 20 ft .. but this is more of a fact than a con.. I write this review after 1 week of using this watch, BP, BPM, SP02 running and sleep tracking functions are working well, watch speaker is also loud and clear to you and the other callers. The only con is when you want to listen to songs through a watch from a mobile its Bluetooth disconnects automatically again and again, as this fund is not useful for me so ignore it, overall it's a good watch.. Everything is absolutely Greta in this smartwatch. But these things could have been better:. Watch faces- you should have the option to add upto 3-4 watch faces at once from the app rather than one at a time and 10 pre-installed ones. App ui could have been better. DND mode absent. No option to toggle Bluetooth (always on), Before review i would like to appreciate this great strategy to pour out honest reviews from users by giving them bookmyshow voucher. I loved the Touch Screen experience & Amoled screen of the watch, it gives a feel of premium watch. The band of the watch is average & doesn't look premium & i separately ordered a metal band. I am expecting Mobile App improvement from FireBoltt as I don't find it good enough if I compare it with Boat's App for its watches (As I own a Boat smartwatch). Rest Visionary is a good buy & worth the money the only thing which physically is not appealing is the average quality of the band.", <https://m.media-amazon.com/images/I/41r1d8a2WGL. Not sure about durability as the pin area feels a bit fragile, Does not support apple carplay So was little disappointed about that 0ther than that cable is made up of very good quality, Best to buy, 100% NOT FATHFUL, Writing this review post 10 months and 3 orders of the same product. Honestly Portronics Konnect L lightning cable works like magic with the original Apple charging brick. Seeing the price of the cable I initially hesitated buying as it was as low as \xe2\x82\xb999/- with the offers and so I wasn't sure if it would work well with my iPhone 12 or whether it would impact my iPhone\xe2\x80\x99s battery health because all the other lightning cable brands were costing over \xe2\x82\xb9350/- like Wayona, Amazon Basics, etc. Earlier I was using Wayona Brand lightning cable with eventually frayed and stopped working. Charging Speed: Charges my iPhone fast enough almost similar compared to the original cable level when used with 12W Original Apple power adapter. Quality and Durability: Great quality braided cable and doesn't tangle easily and can withstand day-to-day usage. L-Shaped pin: This is very innovative by Portronics and it makes sure the cable doesn't get damaged even if used while charging. CarPlay and Data Sync: Works smoothly with CarPlay and syncs data effortlessly. PS: I have used this cable only with the Original Apple Charging Brick and extremely satisfied with its performance., Better than I expect the product I like that Quality and I plan to buy same type cable come with usb C to Lighting cable for emergency purpose that much I love this cable. Buy for this cable only emergency uses only since Good one, Good product and value for money", <https://m.media-amazon.com/images/I/31VzNhhqifL. Go for it., Best quality and value for money, Working good, 60 percent Good 40 percent bad Heating very fast because of the metal body I guess, kind of slow Built quality is good, Since it's metal, the build quality is great but causes heating issue when transferring files for longer periods of time, otherwise performs as expected, It is best pendrive at this prize and speed is good. I suggest u can buy without any worry, The quality of pen drive is absolutely good as expected but yes as other customers mentioned in comments about the heating issue.. Yes it heats up but only when its actually in use.. means while transfers or hardcore use of pendrive but when left idle its completely normal. highest setting. But if that's your thing, then you should know that the highs get pretty snrill at the setting, but the bass is still pretty clean and loud!3. ANC: ANC is present, but won't drown everything out. It's a great add on but if you're looking for a headphone to make all sounds around you zero, then this won't do that. If you need to drown out some noise while you listen to your tunes, this will do the trick!

3.1 Ambient Sound mode: The opposite of ANC, it pulls in the outside noise to let you have a conversation. Again, you can't blast tunes at high volume and still have a convo, but you can listen with lower volume (near 25% volume) and hear things around you. If the ambient sound also increased as I increased volume, it would have been amazing.4. Calling: Did a couple of calls. With no-noise, the other person said I sounded great! I took a couple of calls in a local grocery store (was pretty loud) and the other end had no issue hearing me.5. Buttons: The button placement is easy and I didn't feel any issue getting used to the controls. The simple manual explains everything in 2 mins, so read once and you're good to go. 5.1 To note: The sound is best in DIRAC Opteo mode. Every time you turn it on, you have to double press the multi function button to turn it on. I'd have loved having it on by default. Also every time I turn it on, it plays a 3-4 second tune, which could have been shorter. (Imagine hearing it every time you turn the thing on. Ugh.)6. Connectivity: Once I connected it to my phone the first time, it connects to my phone within 1-2 seconds of turning the earphones on.7. Battery: It seems to last long! I've been using them for about 4.5 hrs and it's gone down about 20%. Cannot say anything more yet though. 7.1 When you take both the earphones out of your ears, it doesn't auto pause like some of the competitors. Annoyed that this was missed, would have saved so much more battery if they did this.8. Build quality: I have a black version. It's made with good quality plastic and didn't feel heavy around my neck. It doesn't have metal anywhere, and it's quite simple. I think it looks decent.9. Exercise: Need to test! Will update later. In summary, an easy recommendation. If you can overlook the small issues, there's a great sounding, feature-packed and long lasting device here at a great price! 10/10 would definitely recommend! First I was bit sceptical about the build quality but have to say it's got a pretty sturdy material and decent quality buttons, bass is good, vocals are much clearer in Crystal bionic mode, ANC is working to a degree will definitely cancel out the noise of your ceiling fan but don't except any more than that, no issues with call enx is working upto it's name, battery is sufficient around 12-14 hours if you mix up the modes.. Overall a decent all rounded neckband, jack of all and king of none., All other things such as sound quality, battery backup are very good but multiple device pairing is implemented very poorly. If I connect with laptop and try to connect with phone at same time. It does not work many times. If headphones are connected to laptop and you close the laptop without shutting it down then you won't be able to connect with phone again unless and until you disconnect with laptop. This is a big bug. Please fix this., This BoAt 330 ANC Neckband is very Good but needs improvement and fixes. Pros:-\xe2\x80\xa2 Nice Sound Quality while using Crystal Bionic Sound, but it's average on normal mode which feels a little more bassy and losses clarity at certain points.\xe2\x80\xa2 Great Build Quality\xe2\x80\xa2 It's ANC & Ambience mode is good in this price range.\xe2\x80\xa2 It's quite Comfortable to wear for long sessions as per my ear fitting.\xe2\x80\xa2 It has Dual Pairing which is very good but it's not very seamless and there is a small issue with dual pairing, e.g., while receiving a call on one device, the audio/video being played at another device won't Pause (you have to manually pause) instead there won't be any sound output through that device. Its a little issue but it would have been great if the video gets paused while receiving a call on another device, as this is available on BoAt Rockerz 335 and a few different BoAt Neckbands. Cons:-\xe2\x80\xa2 It's range is very low considering Bluetooth v5.2, I even have BoAt neckband with v5.0 which has better range. Even a single wall coming in between 3-4ms can block the sound output.\xe2\x80\xa2 Its battery life is average which needs charge every day if you use it for roughly 8-10 hours everyday with Bionic Crystal Mode/ANC enabled.\xe2\x80\xa2 While using Dual Pairing sometimes there are sound drops and lags in between. And the sound gets high pitched and starts lagging sometimes if you switch quickly between devices. (This happened on the Replacement unit I received, maybe it's not the case with your unit).\xe2\x80\xa2 Sometimes no sound is received while playing Audio from both devices. (I don't know if it's wrong with my unit or every unit.) Overall this is a good and considerable Neckband under 2k if you want Good Bass-Rich Sound Quality, ANC/Ambience mode and Decent battery life. But if your requirements mostly is Dual Pairing, then this is not for you. As I bought this considering Dual Pairing feature most importantly. But it's not really seamless in between Devices, but still it's the best possible available feature in this price range or even under 5k but it needs improvements and fixes to make it more seamless and efficient. Another problem with Dual Pairing is that the media doesn't gets paused on first device if there's a call on the second one, which is already there on BoAt's few other Neckbands, but then there is no Media-Pause feature on them. (e.g., If audio is being played on 2 devices first device Audio will get paused if Audio is played on second device and vice-versa). So do try it out by yourself. Because it's my personal experience with the Neckband, maybe you get a better experience. Thanks for Reading. Happy Shopping!, Bought this one after using Rockerz 255 pro for over 2 years now. Comparing this with that, that one was ergonomically better, felt snug in ears. Standalone review of this. 1. Noise Cancellation is just alright, not too great, not too bad. 2. Sound Quality is definitely great and excellent with the Bionic Sound feature. Kudos on that part. 3. Bass Quality is fairly good at this price point. 4. Holds charge for as long as advertised. 5. Overall bulky nature of the neckband puts you off and then the finish is poor too around the control buttons making it look very tacky & cheap (atleast on the funky grey one which I bought because it was priced lowest). Conclusion: Good Product at a Fair Price i.e. Nothing too great but nothing bad either.", <https://m.media-amazon.com/images/I/31gzRr9mIaS. I would suggest you to have tp link router too to be bought along this for a seamless experience,Product is good,I have received the product from amazon in pristine condition and it works very well as described. I am using it in my first floor room where I have low signal for my wifi and gets disconnected when i close the doors. The extender helps to resolve the issue and configuration was also really easy. One of the only minor issue is at very random times (rarely) this gets automatically disconnected, but can be reconnected easily by going to wifi settings of device,Everything is nice except range!,Good item,Using in my 2BHK home as getting weak wifi network from router and slow Internet speed. It is easy to setup and does increases range as well as speed tremendously than original router. Option of 5G & 5GExt works great. Horizontal range is quite good as for vertical range at height of 1st floor is perfect and on 2nd floor its manageable. Doesn't heat not heat that much. Now right earbud gets discharged in hour and a half, whereas left one keeps going, so reducing one star. Will contact them for replacement and update here. Update 2: Called service center, they asked to bring it, but am lazy. I expected they'd replace at home. Paid more attention towards the issue above. The stable situation is that just after full charge, right bud can go upto 4 hrs, but left one always goes for 30-60mins more, and the difference is more if there is a standby of a day or two (when the left one loses juice rapidly it seems), so I guess I can still use the buds but with certain restrictions :) Will happily restore 5 stars if the issue stays guess for next 3 months.-----Update after 6 months-----No change in quality, still the pack charges the buds like a boss. During this period, they were once kept in mouth by my infant nephew for over half an hour (very dangerous, thankfully he couldn't swallow them!), full of saliva and whatnot, and on another occasion I threw one of my earbuds on the floor with full force (undisclosed depressing reason) due to which the touch panel with the logo got detached, which I then re-attached. After all this, buds are still rocking with same sound quality as on day 1. I think these are pretty darn sweet deals! Lack of volume control, etc. etc. is all forgiven. Happy customer. Although the issue of left earbud discharging earlier than right persists.-----Original review-----Using for last 2 months.I am an audiophile and also an instrumentalist. But I hadn't used any tws yet, so wanted to dip my toes and didn't want to invest much, but also not something throwaway. So settled for boult (no boat etc. due to their highly adulterated sound signature), since I have previous experience with it. I like my music flat at studio quality. More recently, I've been using a low cost headphones with mindblowing performance: oneodio pro50. Go ahead and search it. It is really one of a gem for all those purist sound fans.Coming to this tws.Connectivity. Right out of the box, only left one was working after connecting to my iphone. Maybe right one didn't pair correctly to left. Did that reset thing as suggested (which also took some effort), but after that, both started working and since then, no issues. I am using both my phone and laptop (linux). Ofcourse you need to disconnect one to use another. But perfect connectivity now. I can move around in my 1300 sqft apt and no connection loss, which is great.Call quality is decent, faced no disconnects yet, and the other party is also ok with my voice, but you cannot talk in a hushed voice, you always need to speak up in a medium volume to let the other party understand you.Features. Tapping is oddly sensitive, I mean it responds even if I am adjusting the bud, and not touching the central area, but surprisingly takes a decent tap punch to play/pause. I can get used to that though. One thing, track aage peeche is ok. But these don't have anything which can control the volume. Bummed on that.Battery. Decent backup. It's been nearly 2 months. I use buds on an average of 2-3 hours daily, and I just had to charge the main case just 3-4 times. In an emergency I also used it to charge my iphone which it did really quickly. I was happy to see that. One weird thing to notice is that the right earbud always discharges more quickly than the left, infact I can use the left one 20-30 mins more than the right. But anyways, I put them both in the case once any one of them starts to complain of low battery.Sound quality.Bass frequencies: Verv decent bass. Surprisingly great low bass (songs like 'the humma song'. 'i wanna love you' sound pretty good), but a bit lacking in other frequencies of bass ('lut gaye' by Jubin doesn't sound that punchy as it should for a flat signature). Overall for the most part, you should be fine. Other frequencies: I'll review this from vantage point of studio quality signature. For mids, the spectrum is tilted towards bit of high bass (but surprising absence of very specific high bass frequencies as mentioned above), but its bearable. For highs, initially I felt the presence [a bit] lacking, which takes away that warmth and fidelity from a few tracks, but after using it for a few days, I started feeling alright in that aspect, maybe some burn in? God knows. Also remembering that I paid just 1800 bucks for these! I mostly will be using these while my walking and workout sessions, so I think my mind won't be nitpicking then. I'll soon be upgrading though. Overall, really a very decent purchase with good sound quality provided you can get these for under 2k. Cheers!, Hey. This one item has a built quality is like a stone.. and also the working condition and sound quality it is marvelous, but only one problem is the noise cancellation that not working properly which means when we are in a crowded area while recording something or a call to another person the unwanted noises are coming they cannot hear properly our voice that's the only disadvantage on this one.. Right buds not performs well, I am trying to change music to next but it still plays the same which should not happen according to manual. Been using these for a month now. Can't massively complain, the sound quality is decent enough (may not be good enough for big music heads, not enough bass) and provides good noise isolation. Very impressed by the battery life with the charging case, and I use it every day. If you can snag it on a deal for ~1500 bucks it's a fantastic deal. My only issue is, we can't change the connection to 2 devices by 1 click. Every thing else is fine. Best at price. and require some button for operation. call pick up / rejection function, next song play function not working on single touch. I find it very helpful for me who use mouse whole day with a lot of left and right clicks, drag and drops, scrolls and scroll clicks. I didn't find any glitches so far. Works perfectly for me. About looks, It looks beautiful almost like a small pet who can change colour. But it can be a little disturbing if you are using it in dark. otherwise the best thing is, it doesn't need any installation headaches. Only reason I deducted one star is because this mouse is a little oversized for my hand. So, people with little hands will struggle at first but eventually, with time and use, you will feel like it shrank. I like zebronic's because I trust their products. If you are thinking of buying it, go for it. \xf0\x9f\x91\x8d, A good mouse. Not the best but good enough. Good, Its good but idk if its only with me but the mouse sometimes becomes unresponsive. I have to tell you,the vibration os really strong and can easily be Know even if you are in busy (like traveling in bike,or a busy street)But remember if you're getting calls continuously it'll less the battery backup.Sound quality :Sound quality in these earphones are amazing.The mids are crisp and clear, the vocals are good the bass is also heavy but it's that not punchy.but don't you can adjust the equalizer and have that punchy base.The call quality is also good because of the condenser microphone .These earphones have noise cancellation which works good.the volume level on these earphones are really high.i cannot go beyond 80%,Alright. So I have been using Boul ProBass Curve for over a month and would like to summarize my feedback in bullet-points to make it easy for the prospective buyers. I was thinking to buy a quality Bluetooth headset with a great performance at an affordable price for quite long and this is where my search ended. I was quite fed up of using cheap wired headsets as they used to go out of function or get snapped every now and then. Moreover, I found them getting entangled every other second making it really inconvenient to handle especially while travelling. Its that time I started feeling the need of a wireless headset and began my search. I took good time (months) to look for a good product. And, this is when I decided to purchase this item. Before purchase I devoted time to read the user's reviews (that I always do before making any purchase-small or big) and found myself convinced. Finally, I decided to go for it. Ok. So, no more essay writing :) Let me get

After getting it checked I found out that the issue was in the UPS (maybe wiring cable) which stopped transmission.I contacted the customer care and I was assisted by Mr. Ankit. He was very helpful and asked me to demonstrate the issue in video and tried to ascertain the issue through other checkups too. After ascertaining that the issue is in the product he confirmed to get the default product replaced and started the issue and informed me on tentative timelines for the same. Hoping to receive the replacement soon so that I can continue uninterrupted internet !!,I have been using this product for the past four months, during this tenure I had faced no issues initially but roughly after 3 months the power back up started shrinking extremely and the least duration was under 30 minutes, that\xe2\x80\x99s when I contacted the customer support via whatsapp and I must say the whole experience with the customer support team was simply surprising. They were very polite and helpful throughout the process. It was very easy for me to explain the issue to them then at the end of the first conversation itself they arranged a replacement for the product since it is just 3-4 months old. They took all the responsibility of the issue and sent me a new product which I am currently using, now the back up I am getting is 4+ hours which is based on my usage.So finally I am not sure how often I buy a product from this brand but I will never forget the support I received from this this brand. Cheers!!!,I purchased the product 10 days back and initial product was not working properly. But I received a replacement for that. Thanks for immediate response from the support team. I liked 0akter because it's Indian product and NOT a Chinese. As of now it's working fine and no lag in Wi-Fi connection or speed. Need to test the recharge capacity when the Power goes off. Will keep you updated after a month again by checking the results. Giving 4 Stars as of now.,This is a really good option for those who are primarily concerned about being cut off from online meetings/calls due to frequent short term power cuts, and are not willing to spend more amount buying an inverter. I have been using this product since around 3 months and am pretty happy with its backup.,I have been using the product for more than a year. Later I purchased a second product for my parents home and it was working fine for 6 months. However the backup battery stopped working later and the customer support team were quick to respond and swiftly sent me the replacement product.,Product was delivered very promptly and packaging was good. Using this product just from couple of days and its working as expected. Very easy to plug & use. Reserving 1 star for longevity of this product, will revise my rating after a year or so depending on my experience.,The device doesn't support for 4 hours. It support only for 2 or 2 hours 30 minutes max on full recharge.Product is affordable, light and good. Please don't fool on 4 hours support capacity. Resonate UPS is better as compared to this.,This product claims to give backup for upto 4hours. But it wont even give backup for 30 mins. I claimed warranty and got the new product as well still the same problem. They reiterate and say upto 4 hours where they shud mention clearly that it will give backup upto 1 hour not more than that. One of the worst customer support services i have seen. The associates keep repeating the same sentence or copy paste the chat and dont provide solutions. Totally disappointed and waste of money. So, I decided to buy this router to use as an access point. The setup is pretty straightforward, provided you know what you are doing. As is mentioned on the product page, this router comes with two modes -- router mode and access point mode. If you are using it in addition to your ISP provided modem-router, I would suggest using it in the access point mode only. The range and the speeds are working better than I expected for the price -- certainly better than the router that the ISP provides. The router does come with a LAN cable, but the quality of the cable is not very confidence inspiring. The LEDs on the front can be configured via the Tether app to switch off at specific times, which is a neat feature. Apart from that, I have found Tether app to be pretty useless. It doesn't specify the device identity for some reason, just shows the IP and "unknown", until you rename the device yourself. Sometimes it doesn't even list all the devices connected. I guess it is better to use the router settings from the browser itself if you want to dig into the settings. I would like to add one more thing in the end. This router looks pretty slick, and I don't think it has gotten enough credits for that. Kept on the table, or even hung from the wall, it looks and feels premium for the price -- and that is in addition to all the amazing features it has. Router gets sometime auto disconnected even though it is connected to internet, I don't have any issue with router but sure with Amazon packaging method bcz no paper bag or anything were used it was only the box, Good product for that price. Good range, So far everything looks good, will update the review after a few months of usage!, Awesome experience, go for it with out any hesitation, assistance also very good., Highly recommended to purchase, overall a good purchase, you will never regret after purchasing it., Signal strength can be improved further. Pros: Battery is good, used as opened from the pack it held good for about 10 hours across 4 days and still charge is left Sound- Sensible Bass and good mids as well as lows, not that I can discern between them. Aux available. The ear cups are quite big hence sorta provides passive noise isolation. Cons: Not foldable as well as type b charger (USB micro) type Being a limited edition if your ear cups wear off very miniscule chances of replacing it with suitable color If a person is of hot body type (emits heat or more warm than normal) there is higher chances of feeling warmth in your ears, as I heard the material just reflects the heat back on to ears. That's just plain uncomfortable to me. Also the build feels very flimsy and plastic-ky. Also a major drawback I felt was that whenever we switch on/off we get the built-in audio!, Bought it for 1499. Now after 2 years 2 months, today it broke. After 6 months of use, the red coating started peeling off. But device showed no problems. Sound is clear, balanced, not very high bass, good battery backup, charges faster, aux is available. Disadvantage is you can't fold it. Planning to buy it again, as I think this the best in segment. Now the rate has increased to 1799., The first thing I want to say is that the headphone is really bulky. I didn't notice the first few days of using but eventually it gives pain on the shoulder if worn for a longer period of time (3-4 hours), sound quality is good. Do not have any bass, ANC is not present in this headphone. It's a decent headphone for casual purposes. If you're a music lover or wear your headset for longer period of time then I think you should invest in other options, which is light weight and have ANC in them., Everything is great about boat products. Delivered in two days. Noise cancelling is great. Bluetooth connectivity is good. Something it takes time to connect. If you planning to buy then this would be a great choice., in details it was written that it has physical noise isolation feature in it but when it came I didn't observe as such feature I bought it for study purpose that the reason why I was looking for such feature but I found it as a waste of money., Sometimes .. sound doesn't work .. you have to decrease the volume to zero and then increase again to hear the sound. Bu this happens only 1 out of 10 times., Build quality is good, has physical noise isolation, soft padded, comfortable, but bass could be quite better, otherwise everything is fine, Best for Gym, study, online lectures, entertainment etc. Please Go for it \xf0\x9f\xa5\x82\xfa \xf0\x9f\x91\x8d \xf0\x9f\x8f\x8b. The silicone tips are nothing to write home about, but that is expected considering the price.There is a three-button inline remote with mic located right below the right earpiece, which can be used to answer calls, control music playback, and trigger the voice assistant on your smartphone. The buttons themselves are quite mushy and difficult to distinguish between by touch alone.Xiaomi Mi Earphones performanceXiaomi claim that the Mi Earphones feature a '\3rd generation balanced damping system\' that creates a transparent sound, and '\metal sound chambers\' created via a 20-step process. Marketing fluff aside, how do the earphones really sound? Simply put: surprisingly decent for earphones that cost less than a nice dinner for two.While most earphones in this price range have over-inflated bass that dominates the rest of the frequency range, the bass response on the Mi Earphones is controlled and restrained. It doesn't overwhelm the sound signature or smother the highs. That said, bassheads will be left slightly wanting.It's surprising to hear that highs are present and distinct in the sound mix, although they do get overpowering sometimes. The mids are slightly repressed, which is evident in vocal-heavy genres such as blues. While the clarity on offer is decent for the price, songs with many layers of instrumentation do sound muffled and noisy. This is most evident in complex genres such as rock and metal in which the earphones sound harsh and the mids get buried by the treble and bass.,This earphone set is fantastic. And highly deserving of money. I used it for a while last in 2022, and now I'm buying it once more in 2023. In my perspective,the Mi headset has good music and is easy to use.,good good,Nice product.Gentle bassNo loud soundProduct quality is decentDon't expect heavy music experience,It's sometime uncomfortable but it's fine i can adjust,Seriously if you are a bass lover, then you can go for it.But it's built quality is not good, it will damage automatically after 3-4 months,it is not suitable for rough uses.,Got it for less than 300rs. Not disappointed at all.If you compare it with other brands like Boat, the sound quality isn't as good as the contemporaries. But for the price I paid, I'm not disappointed at all.The bass is solid. a price range 300 and a fairly modern and powerful cpu, but machines with a decent cpu and an average ssd ought to perform similarly with usb 3.0 or above. The writes though, were a different story, as in the beginning for about 1.5 gb, the speed was 56MBPS, but then it dropped to 33, and it started throttling because of excessive heating. Difference between the go and the luxe- THIS IS WHERE THE ULTRA DUAL LUXE SINES AS IT DOESNT THROTTLE MUCH, BUT THE NORMAL GO DOES. The throttling occurs due to excessive heat generated, and because of its plasticky build, it is unable to dissipate that heat, which can harm the NAND flash storage inside it; to prevent this, it reduces its speed and transfers in chunks of about 40MB before pausing briefly. It is a good thing as it prevents damage to the storage component, hence increasing lifespan, but at the cost of speeds. But after 33mbps, it further drops down to 20, then 13 and becomes stable there. Here it's just too slow for heavy everyday use like transferring videos for editing. (Room temp 24C), your mileage may vary with different types of files, computers and ports. But for the vast majority of users, who just use it as a backup, or for once in a while storage, or for regularly working with small files like pots and photos, it's perfectly fine. Its fast, makes it convenient to transfer files between phones and laptops and desktops, because of its versatile setup of a changeable usb c and a setup. It feels strong and durable, even though its made of plastic. For the price of 719rs (for the 64gb variant) it is not very affordable. A regular usb a pen/flash drive and a type a to c adapter combination (as illustrated above, available for about rs 130 as of writing this review, and a 64GB flash drive costing anywhere between 400 and 550rs as of writing this review) will cost less. But a regular usb drive and the combo will not be as convenient and fast, but again it's not required for most people not to mention that the adapter is quite useful elsewhere as well; but for the small niche of users who want speed and have small files (below 1.5GB at a time) to work with, it's recommended. Otherwise going with the luxe (for performance) or the adapter setup (better value for money) as mentioned above will be a better decision. Hope you find this effort helpful. It would be better if the holder of pendrive is strong enough. And it's very hard to insert into my type c mobile (lgg8x). I got bit scared thinking of it will get broken. Better to buy this in offer the price gets less than I bought. I got it for 720, pros:-received product on time with good package-nice design, portable and easy to use-optimum data transfer speed and reasonable price cons:-built quality could have been better-type c is not as easy to plug and unplug, It's look good with nice finish. It is very convenient to use. One drawback is plastic is soft it seems fragile compare to metal pendrive. Plastic material is thin and light weight, Storage mentioned 64 but it has only 57.2 gb. The Boat Xtend Smartwatch comes with a stylish design resembling the Apple watch. Moreover, it has built-in Amazon Alexa support, SpO2 tracking, stress tracking, and much more. Coming in a budget segment, is it worth it? Should you buy this smartwatch? If you too have such queries, then there is nothing to worry about. It is a detailed review of Boat Xtend Smartwatch which will clear all your doubts about it. ContentsBox ContentDesign, Build & ComfortDisplayWatch UI And FeaturesAlexa SupportWatch FacesBoat Wave AppAccuracyBatteryFinal WordsBuy Now:Box ContentBoat Xtend box contentSmartwatch in black&gold colourCharging clipUser Manual and warranty cardDesign, Build & ComfortWhen buying a smartwatch, one always thinks about its design and look. Apart from features, design and build is another major aspect one should take care of when buying a smartwatch. The boat has worked on its design this time which brings it to a premium side in terms of look. The design is inspired by the Apple Watch 3, but it cannot be compared to that. Obviously, in every aspect, Apple Watch 3 would be much better than the Boat Xtend Smartwatch. Redmi Watch as well as Amazfit Bip U Pro has the same shape and design, but the build quality is much premium on this one. Boat Xtend design and buildI personally don't like the color scheme of this Boat Xtend Smartwatch. The black color variant comes with a golden color metallic frame. I believe the gold color would fade away after some time. There are three other color variants, which also don't look stylish as this one. However, that is my personal opinion on the color scheme, so maybe you might find the color scheme to be good. Boat Xtend designThe watch has 5ATM water resistance. It has silicon straps, which are quite comfortable. The straps are good quality straps which you will find comfortable with regular usage. DisplayComing to the display, the watch has a 42mm square shape display. What you see on this one is a TFT panel. The screen has big bezels, however, the good part is that the screen goes completely back when it is off, so you won't notice the bezels, and the screen quality won't feel cheap at all. It doesn't have an always-on display, but we cannot complain about that. The watch offers a screen on time of up to 20 seconds and up to 12 levels of brightness control. Boat Xtend display qualityI find the display quality of the Boat Xtend Smartwatch to be better than the previous smartwatch from Boat. View angle is good on this one, and you can clearly see content on this smartwatch even in the sunlight. The color on this one is not very saturated, but this isn't something that we can complain about in this price range. Watch UI And FeaturesThe UI of this smartwatch is clean and easy to use. There is a single button on the watch which works as the power/off button as well as the back button. Moreover, the display is a touchscreen display that works without any problem. There isn't much animation on the bar menu, and the navigation is simple, so you won't find it difficult to use. However, the watch may lag a bit. The company has done cost-cutting in terms of the processor, that's why you may find it to lag a bit, but it is OK, and not a big deal at the price point you get it. Boat Xtend UIThe watch offers all the basic fitness features such as daily activity (which includes total steps walked, calories burnt, and time), heart rate, sleep tracking, stress tracking breath training, SpO2 training, meditation, find my phone, and music control. Apart from that, there are 14 different support modes on this watch. I tried a few of them, and they worked fine. The watch notifies you of the incoming calls, messages received, and various other notifications in detail. Boat Xtend smartwatch reviewAlexa SupportThe main highlight of the Boat Xtend is the Amazon Alexa Support. The watch has an in-built microphone, and you can access it by long-pressing the back button. Do note that you can only do some basic tasks with Alexa on the watch like setting an alarm, setting a timer, and such. Well, it is a good thing to have Alexa on a watch, but you won't find it very useful. Probably you will use it for a day or two out of excitement, and then you won't prefer using it because it only does some basic tasks. So, even if Boat missed this feature, it won't be a problem. Boat Xtend Alexa support Watch Faces The next cool thing about this Boat Smartwatch is the watch faces you get on this one. You get more than 100 watch faces on the watch, and probably more watch faces will be added to it. Moreover, you can also set a custom watch face as well. Boat Xtend watch faces Boat Wave App You will have to download the Boat Wave App to use the watch. The app is available for both Android as well as iOS devices. You won't be seeing bugs on the app, and it works perfectly. I haven't noticed any problem with connectivity like frequent disconnection. The interface of the Boat Wave is clean and simple. You will get all the fitness-related options and all the watch settings on the app itself. Boat Xtend boat wave app Accuracy Accuracy is one of the important aspects that one should take care of when buying a smartwatch. So talking about the accuracy, I tested everything on this watch, from normal walking to running, sleeping, and much more, and I find the results to be accurate. Boat Xtend accuracy test Compared to Realme or Redmi Watch, the result was the same on all of them. So, there is no problem with the accuracy. I don't find the results to be accurate on most of the budget fitness trackers, but yes, this smartwatch is accurate in terms of fitness tracking, sleep tracking, and everything it does. Boat Xtend accuracy Comparing it to the Noise watch which we tried recently, the stress level as well as the SpO2 tracking is much more accurate on this one. It also has the option to track the menstrual cycle in women. Boat Xtend accuracy Battery You get to see a 300mAh battery on this one, which the company claims to last 7 days. However, if you use most of the features of the watch, then the battery will last about two and a half days. If you keep the brightness low, then the battery will last about 3-4 days. I find the battery life to be a downside of the watch. It comes with magnet hook charging support. Final Words Boat Xtend Smartwatch is a decent smartwatch from the Boat. It offers all the basic fitness features you will find on a budget fitness tracker, a good display, Alexa support, good design and build, and much more. The smartwatch at this price is quite good. Personally, what I didn't like about this smartwatch is its color scheme. However, if you like the color scheme, then I would recommend you to go for it. Overall the watch is good with nothing to dislike about it except for the battery life. The battery life on this one is quite low. The company claims it to have a battery life of 7 days, but with regular usage, it will last for 2-3 days. If you are looking for a good smartwatch under Rs.5000, and you can adjust with the battery life, and you like the color scheme, then I would recommend you to go for this smartwatch. It offers all the features that should be there in a smartwatch under Rs.5000.

Pros:

1. Premium build quality with matte finishing- sturdy polycarbonate frame, good soft silicone straps that are absolutely flush with the body of the watch. Attractive, trendy colours.
2. Heart Rate (except heart rate spikes in weight training), Pedometer (steps counter) are accurate but SpO2 is off by +/- 2% when compared to Pulse Oximeter readings. But most smart watches offer the same accuracy. Sleep tracking is accurate only for bed time & wake up time, duration but stages of sleep are inaccurate. Light, deep sleep, waking detected but no REM sleep detected. Sleep data from the watch synchronises smoothly with Boat Wave app. Issues warning msg if watch not worn on hand properly and does not detect data of surfaces.
3. Large (1.69"), clear bright, sharp LCD IPS display even in the sun.
4. Touch not smooth, experienced jitters. UI also lags at times & after attaching the tempered glass sometimes some functions require 02-03 taps to work. But acceptable scrolling response if finger moved diagonally instead of vertically.
5. In app GPS works superbly. Excellent route tracking on the map. This feature is not advertised in their description.
6. Bluetooth 5.0 connectivity is good if mobile is kept in close proximity (7m). The Boat Wave app must remain running in the background at all times.
7. Definitely splash proof though didn't take the risk of submerging the watch.
8. All notifications are working, no problem with call alerts or SMS msgs or social media app notifications. No lags at all though there is provision for a 3 sec lag which can be turned on.
9. Alexa works superbly but since there is no speaker, info is displayed on the screen. My Wipro Smart Bulb, FireTV stick can be controlled easily using the inbuilt Alexa on the watch. Alexa can do mathematical calculations, currency conversions, even foreign language translations, apart from supplying info on anything under the sun. But of course, Alexa cannot make calls. Alexa can set alarm, timer also.
10. Sedentary alert, drinking water reminder, stress alert, menstrual cycle alert, alarms, timers function well.
11. Boat Wave app connects easily & no lags observed. Data syncs smoothly with Google Fit app. Excellent health reports and motivational rewards system in the form of badges. But settings can be changed only through the app and the watch needs to be restarted for the new settings to be effective.
12. Training, Sports modes are good.
13. Guided Breathing mode is also good.
14. Find my phone works well.
15. Extremely stylish, light weight & comfortable for all day wear.
16. 07 watch faces available in the device with 04 preset which cannot be deleted. The rest can be changed from the Boat Wave app.

Cons:

1. Lacks vibration intensity control.
2. Lacks Camera control shutter. But can't figure out its use as my handset accepts both voice commands & gestures to click pics.
3. No quick reply messages for notifications/call alerts.
4. No call acceptance or silencing feature. A work around can be if bluetooth handset is connected at the same time.
5. SpO2 is not accurate and sometimes freezes at 97%. But this is common in all smart watches.
6. Battery doesn't last more than 03 days if continuous HR measurement is turned on. Otherwise easily lasts for 7 days.
7. Watch faces are very childish. Expected better quality designs. Company can easily improve on this in their next update.
8. Amazon Prime only replacement, no refund policy is not good. At least colour change should be allowed once.
9. Music control feature does not display the title of the song.
10. No BP monitoring or temperature monitoring feature. Smart watches usually do not provide reliable BP data.
11. No calling feature. But it doesn't matter as most don't want conversations to be public.
12. A bit large for narrow wrists, band @22 mm is a bit wide.
13. Company should provide a tempered glass protector. No mention of protective glass on the display mentioned. Have attached a Scot tempered glass purchased separately.
14. There are actually only 10 sports modes. Boat has bloated the list with Indoor-Outdoor combi of 4 sports (Walking, Running, Swimming, Cycling).
15. There is no light sensor. Auto brightness is only time dependant but works well. Was a wedding anniversary gift for my wife who liked it very much even the colour- the evergreen, classic gold-black. Overall the best smart watch with Alexa built in, available at the budget price point of under Rs 3000. An excellent Fitness Tracker but average Health Monitor.

Now zeb thunder pro, (699rs) for this price its a great product, classy look, sd slot and so... But here some negative points also here, Buttons or not sturdy some what loose and body parts are like head band are toy plastic, for music full volume is very loudness not lovely to like, make a shout punch in a ear painfull, bass is also very good but overall its always below the boat products im not a hatter, but if u used a boat product u wont like it, same that if u use sony u wont like boat \xf0\x9f\x98\x80,. If u use no other brands and zebronics 1st time u become lover to this, still im surprise how they give this product for this price shocking (aux + type C) under 700 is shocking bcoz if u go for boat type C product is 1700 above Zeb or not bad its more ok for this price Sound 4/5 heavy (loud) in full volume looks shouting inside ear, otherwise nice Bass : 3.7/5. Not reach boat product, but u wont feel diff if u use for 3 more days Music + sound + vocals i cant separate in this product Durability : 3.8/5 bcoz they used toy plastic in band, but however not easily breaks, compare to boat 450 its strong only Overall i look for a aux + type C + best bass effect, so at last above all are not reach my concern \xf0\x9f\x98\x86, now i ordered zeb bang pro (699rs) If it also sound loud thing, then i shutdown with boat 400 (900rs) segment Note: if i get boat 660 in initially, i wont go for these alllllll). Bcoz unbeaten and full fill my all expect thanknu \xf0\x9f\x98\x8a, Sound quality is good, built quality is ok as per pricing. I got it for 600 rs totally worth it. Its been more 10 days since i am using. Its working totally fine., Sound and other qualities are doing well except ear cuffs are getting detached easily and no firm support for them, Pons- They are good for the price they come. Sound is decent. Battery life is long enough for 2 days (not continuously). The wired features is a charm if battery goes dead. Noise cancellation is also decent. Coming to the bad points. Build Quality is a little Cheap according to the price, the hinges shouldn't be used that much it will lose its grip. Also the Bluetooth is not that grt, if you are on a vehicle and connected your phone you will hardly hear any song. The connectivity is a issue. The dual connect is good but their is a latency of about 2-3 second when switching from one to another. That's all, You can buy this if your budget is less and as a student this is the best headphones at this price range. Sound : * Great Bass* Vocal and Instrument Separation : Average (To be expected like this for this price) Connectivity : Fast BT connection. BT disconnects when AUX connected Comfortable to wear since its over the ear Average build quality Overall 4/5, I like this product. I use it everyday while travelling to college far away places. If you are getting this product within 1000 rupees then it is a good product for you. \xe2\x98\xba\xef\x8\x8f, It is overall a nice product", <https://m.media-amazon.com/images/I/41AP5QV2M0L. The front and back side covers are good, feels smooth and premium. I give it a 4 star considering the below points..Also, Thanks to Amazon for Superfast Delivery.1. Paper quality - nice, I used Ball pens, Sketch pens and also inkpens. all cases no soaking of ink.2. Binding - Spiral Binding and qality is good and attractive.3. Sturdiness - Here it could have been a little better, considering the price tag.4. Light Weight - Binding and Paper quality is nice, still lite weght. That's a Plus.5. Writing Experience - Better than average available notbooks in similar pricetag.,First off, the notebook design is great, pages are nice and smooth, but a bit on the thinner side. The subject dividers are thicker than other pages.The QC has some issues, as of the one unit i ordered for testing this product @118 rs some pages were folded up from the corners and become larger when unfolded as depicted in the picture above. Many pages were glued onto each other hence, tearing some part when flipping them again, illustrated in the picture added above.Its an absolute steal deal for rs 118 per piece as no other notebook competes in the spiral bind 300 page market, and notebooks of about 200 pages non spiral bound of a simillar size are sold for @84 rs as of writing this review.The only downside I found besides the QC is that it doesn't include an index page, otherwise; it has some games, riddles and a notes pages like other notebooks and the first page is dedicated to the owners details and contact N.O. Great to see it present.Overall i recommend this product because of the value for money and the quality. I understand my unit was a one off as other reviews don't seem to mention this. Will update after using this for a few more weeks,The product is worth the money. The paper quality was good and it has six separations for six different subjects.,Valu for moneyPremium quality,,I ordered 3, only one copy was a bit damaged from the binding,I got all the same design notebook. (boat says single tap tho) Conclusion - If you have a little more budget, don't buy this. else this just works fine. I recently purchased the boAt Airdopes 181 in-Ear True Wireless Earbuds and have been using them for the past week. Overall, I am satisfied with the product. The earbuds are comfortable to wear and have a good fit, and the sound quality is impressive for the price point. However, I was disappointed to discover that the earbuds do not have noise cancellation as advertised. While they do block out some ambient noise, they are not as effective as other earbuds I've used with noise cancellation technology. The battery life has been satisfactory. The earbuds last for a good amount of time on a single charge, and the case is convenient for charging on the go. Overall, I would recommend the boAt Airdopes 181 earbuds for those looking for a budget-friendly option with good sound quality. Just be aware that they do not have noise cancellation. I am writing this review after two days of usage.

1. Sound Quality: The lows are good and pleasing to the ears. Bass quality is good. I just felt like the treble is a little too high which makes the high frequency music sound a bit unpleasant. Overall the quality is okay but not as good as a wired headset or neckband earphones. (Kaam chal jayga)
2. Battery Backup: It's been 2 days and I haven't charged it yet... still showing 70% of battery remaining. So I don't think battery backup would be a problem. (moderate usage)
3. Built: The case is small and handy. It feels sturdy. The buds fit well in the ears. Overall built is good.
4. Latency: This one's for gamers. I am actually impressed by the low latency it has. Even without turning on the 'Beast Mode', the feedback is almost instantaneous. And after turning on the Beast mode, it becomes flawless. I played BGMI and COD and didn't feel any lag in the sound.
5. Calling: I tried calling in a silent atmosphere and there was no problem faced. Will update you guys if there turns out to be a problem when calling in a crowded area.

In 1399 rupees it is a good earphones. Good battery life, good sound, good connectivity Cons- very poor build quality, feel so cheap. If you r a choosy person then you don't like the product. If you're looking for wireless earphone under 1500 go for it. This product is good the sound leakage is there no doubt but you won't feel any sort of distortion, the airdrops 181 are very handy, compact in size, long lasting battery for its size and the connectivity is is pretty good along with the sound quality, though it has a room for improvement in noise cancellation but still performs very well for this price point. Its a good product sound quality is also agood but noise cancellation is average, It is good product but only for 4-5 months.", https://m.media-amazon.com/images/I/314g1W9h2rL_SX300_SY300_QL70_FMwebp_.jpg, https://www.amazon.in/Airdopes-181-Playtime-Bluetooth-Wireless/dp/B09PL79D2X/ref=sr_1_116?qid=1672903000&s=computers&sr=1-116\nB098K3H92Z, "TP-Link USB Bluetooth Adapter for PC, 5.0 Bluetooth Dongle Receiver (UB500) Supports Windows 11/10/8.1/7 for Desktop, Laptop, Mouse, Keyboard, Printers, Headsets, Speakers, PS4/ Xbox Controllers", Computers & Accessories | Networking Devices | Network Adapters | Bluetooth Adapters, \x20\x82\xb9599, \x20\x82' 5.0 \x20\x80\x94\x20\x80\x94 Applies the latest Bluetooth 5.0 technology, backward compatible with Bluetooth V4.0/3.0/2.1/2.0/1.1 | Wireless Connectivity \x20\x80\x94\x20\x80\x94 Provides stable and convenient communication between Bluetooth devices and your PC or laptop | Nano-Sized \x20\x80\x94\x20\x80\x94 Ultra-small for convenient portability with reliable high performance, Supported Operating System \x20\x80\x93 Windows 11/10/8.1/7 | In an unlikely case of product quality related issue, we may ask you to reach out to brand \x20\x80\x93s customer service support and seek resolution. In the dialogue box Click the box to enable Connect to content protection enabled headset only Now hit Apply then Ok. Right Click BT Icon in Taskbar---> Add Bluetooth Device---> Audio/Video Device then Search for the BT Device... Now when you connect give it about 10 seconds---> then once connected it should provide the Stereo mode under Speaker icon in Taskbar. Once you disconnect, depending on any other Headset you will have to go back to these settings and Disable Content Protected device. For My ONEPLUS Bullets Wireless Z I have to disable or else they only connect in Mono mode. A very short walkthrough for connecting headset... Make sure the BT Icon is turned on - Blue color=On - White=Off in Windows Taskbar Right Click and will bring up table with headings The 1st is to turn on/off the BT Radio which is the TPLink BT dongle itself. (BT signal is radio transmission) The 2nd heading is for turning on/off Discovery (Transmit/Receive on/off) The 3rd heading is Add Bluetooth Device. when you highlight this it will bring up the table which shows Phone, Computer, Audio/Video device, Printer/Imaging Device, and Keyboard/Mouse, ALL. The 4th heading is Show Bluetooth Devices (devices that are Already Connected) The 5th heading is Bluetooth Settings (only for TPLink Bluetooth Dongle, not onboard bluetooth) The 6th and last heading that mine shows is About (this brings up the software provider and vers., there is no Update option here, we have to physically check the TPLink website for UB400) I only use Audio Devices, I don't have any other BT products so I am unable to test other than headsets. under Add heading go to Audio/Video Device left click ---> brings up dialogue box to Select a device to connect with this Computer. at the bottom right corner click Search (make sure your headset is on and not connected to any other system/home theater/smartphone. Once the Device shows up you can sigle click on it then Next on bottom of page or you can double click. Either will connect to the device. Once it is ""Connected"", give about 10 to 15 seconds for Windows to recognize the Connection. You will see what the options are in next description ---> In the taskbar click the audio profile (speaker icon) Here there are 4 options that pop up for me ---> (Note-if you only see 2 or 3 then read the section above that says SOME HEADSETS may not work properly) TV sound, Laptop speakers, Bluetooth Audio Renderer (Stereo) and Bluetooth Hands Free Audio (Mono). Click on Bluetooth Audio Renderer (Stereo) wait a few seconds for it to comply. Now your headset should be connected. In watching Youtube I do get some lag but with different headsets the lag increases or decreases. The same with me using VLC or Windows Media

Player. Sometimes if I stop the video app and restart then it will be no lag. I don't use ZOOM, Teams, Skype, so I cannot test how the mic setup would function. Any one that has any input for this please use any or all of my post and add to it. This would be helpful to a lot of people. FIRST post So for a few months I was using it strictly thru Win10 utilizing Win10 drivers and bluetooth connection page thru Settings/System. But a few times I tried to use with music streaming to Sony XB400 or Oneplus Buds Wireless Bass edition and there would be intermittent drops. Also when it came to pairing and connecting it would consistently slow down my HP AMD A6 chipset laptop. Also anytime I took the dongle out it would also affect disconnect my thumbdrive. So I assumed it was a throttling going on with my USB ports. I have Sandisk Dual Drive, WD Passport, DVI to HDMI and Logitech dongle. So one by one I disconnected everything and left the BT dongle and it was a little better. So I checked the TP Link India site for any FAQ related. When I searched in the Downloads->Drivers section there was software driver present. So I downloaded, installed it and Win10 taskbar shows BT icon to use the BT Dongle. The Driver software is by CSR Harmony Wireless Software Stack Version 2.1.63.0. Once installed there are more options that can be accessed thru the BT icon in taskbar. The BT icon sits in the system tray as before. Audio transmission can be switched between stereo and mono. Also if your playing a video or audio file and you start the pairing process once connected there will be slight pause then it connects to the output in stereo. It works really well, I purchased a long usb male to female cable and now I have a little bit more increase in connection distance. I have not tried this for transfer of files. If and when I find a need to do so I will update. For now, at this price point it gives me freedom to connect my BT audio gear instead of purchasing a more expensive unit to give my laptop BT capabilities. And this is as small if not smaller than some thumbdrives. Oh and I also purchased a separate QZ Powered USB hub for my drives. So the only USB devices connected are the Dongle, and the hub. Now when I disconnect the BT dongle my drives stay connected. I hope this information is helpful, I tried not to make it too long but it happened. If any questions arise please drop me a line and I will respond with whatever help I can give. TP link products usually work well...while longevity with continuous use may vary, but these devices are not intended for prolonged or continuous use. I have had multiple to link devices ranging from wifi adapters, routers, range extenders, etc.. Now I have tried this Bluetooth adapter. Pros:-Minuscule size, you can keep attached to the device, not noticeable but not recommended to do so..as it's usually set to discoverable during setup and it has decent range..so if one is too skeptical, might lead to security issues.. although the hacker will have to be in the same house probably! Range is decent..works good in the same room..this kind of device is usually meant for local connectivity, usually without barriers...I use it to connect headphones to the PC and it works nicely for that..I earlier had a Bluetooth 2.0 adapter from enter and that worked well too, except for the range and bandwidth required nowadays has increased..so some choppy audio did occur with today's high quality audios and that got managed with this Bluetooth 4.0 adapter..nice clean audio..Lastly, it works nicely with Linux..I use debian based Ubuntu..and its almost plug and play..I did have blueman Bluetooth manager installed from the previous adapter I had.. And when I plugged it in..I didn't have to do anything else..So unlike what the site says, about only windows, it definitely works with Linux..I can't say if the 5.0 version UB500 will work though...While installing the driver in windows, I noticed it was installing CSR stack and CSR original chip (there are many fake ones) is known to work with Linux..so maybe that's why it worked well..Coming to windows, I have win7..I had bluesoleil pre-installed, and it worked with it..Didn't have to install any driver separately..But there is a driver available in their site for xp/7..In win8 and above, it's supposed to be plug and play..So no issues there..Now the cons:-A bit high price than rest of the companies.. probably can improve on that....I bought it for 400Audio quality is good, but somehow, compared to my enter Bluetooth 2.0 stack..The audio was a bit muted..had to increase the volume higher to reach the same level of loudness..but even then, I feel, a slight reduction in the dynamic range of the audio.. no idea if that's a software or hardware issue..encoding/decoding issue..It's not very noticeable.. specially if someone doesn't have anything to compare with..Lastly, the windows driver is 400 MB! granted it has both 32 and 64 versions..but each one is almost 200 MB! That's way too big for a driver of these devices..Neither bluesoleil/blueman cross 30MB..So I don't know what is being packaged in those drivers..Also, somehow the driver didn't have a clean install in my system, something to do with incorrect loading of c++ library...It didn't matter as I already had another driver installed..Overall a nifty little device..I have no need for 5.0 Bluetooth as I don't have any device that requires it..I just needed a 4.0 adapter to solve the bandwidth problem..and that purpose is nicely served and that it works both in win and linux is very helpful..Does the job well, few cons hence one star less..Using it for 2 weeks. Just plug it, install drivers and you are good to go! Seem less connection with ps5 controller! Latency is very low around 1ms. So basically connection is even faster than wired connection (2ms). But when I simultaneously connect airpods gen 2 the sound output was very weak, it was muffled! But it serves my main purpose with ps5 controller. Apparently, it seems like its the most relevant Bluetooth adapter out there good connectivity and all sort of stuffs like that, generally comes in a BT adapters I'd say the only con is the installation part it took a while figure out which was their website and drivers of ub500 aside from this everything is fabulous..Very easy to install, connectivity is also good but sometimes while using Bluetooth earphones sound cracks also Bluetooth sharing is quite slowthat's all*otherwise the product is very good*, 1) Easy to install, I mean just plug in. 2) Connectivity is on all point but 1-2 time I feel fumble issues. 3) sound quality is all depends on your wireless speaker..If you are tight budget, it's okay then. Otherwise if can spend 150/- extra, go for BT 5.0 version. Much better in both range and connectivity..Like", https://m.media-amazon.com/images/W/WEBP_402378-T1/images/I/31Tzq2dY-hL_SX300_SY300_QL70_FMwebp_.jpg, https://www.amazon.in/TP-Link-Bluetooth-Receiver-UB500-Controllers/dp/B098K3H9Z7/ref=sr_1_117?gid=1672903000&s=computers&sr=1-117\nB09KLMVZ3B,Portronics Konnect L 1.2M POR-1401 Fast Charging 3A 8 Pin USB Cable with Charge & Sync Function (White), Computers & Accessories | Accessories & Peripherals | Cables & Accessories | Cables | USB Cables, \xe2\x82\x99\x99s it, Compatible with Apple iPad 2nd generation and charging very well., CABLE, The product is good but the phone gets disconnected at multiple occasions., Not a fast charging cable, Good item. Overall for the price it's worth product. The cushion on the mic comes out easily , couldn't have been fixed properly,Good,The built design is ok for the product. Everytime i wear and do the resizing my hair gets stuck in the band which is irritating. Rest sound and all is good,I stopped using it after continuously using for 3 hrs for office use. It can not be used for long duration calls or back to back meetings. Ears starts pain after 2-3 hours use. Speaker cover is very thin. I will give this device to someone needy.Sound quality and built quality is nice but comfort is huge issue with this device due to its tight overhead band. It keeps both sides on ear for getting better sound or noise cancellation. But the one who is looking for noise cancellation will buy over ear bigger headphones.I use all types of headphones, over-ear, on-ear, earbuds. Earlier used Sennheiser on-ear headphones but it never gives pain.Ideally if anyone buying on-ear simple headphones then it is for calls or meetings where they still want to hear sound in their room. Some attention to sound in your room, for example keeping an eye on kids while being in meeting. Basic padding or multiple layer soft covers for on-ear will be helpful.Guys go for iBall rocker over-ear or HP over-ear wired headphones for long duration office calls. It cost less compare to this Logitech device.However this is still good buy for upto 60 mins use for 1 session/call/meeting and then a break. Only issue for people having back to back meetings.,Nice quality,I bought this because I had to work from home and had to take calls. My only worry was the noise cancellation because I live next to a busy road. And I am happy with the purchase as the noise cancellation is working great. People on the other side of the call have never complained about any kind of background noise. The plastic quality used is great and it's not squeaky. The wire is long enough. The sound output is good enough, but I don't intend to listen any music on these. If you need something for music then this is a wrong product.Con: The cushion is not adequate and starts hurting the ear lobes within 5 mins. I had some extra cushions so I added those over the ear piece.,Build quality is not that good but sound quality,noise cancellation is best in the range of less than 1000.,After covid-19 our life changes a lot. Online meeting, conferences, webinar, even online classes became new normals. In this situation a good headphone with mic is necessary for doing work flawlessly and this headphone has everything which i needed.1) Audio quality is good and crystal clear without any additional noise2)Mic is also very good with good noise cancellation3)Thanks to amazon for their service and ontime delivery. But this product is worth every penny.Amazing product, it is sturdy, Good build quality,not so used yet still lightweight and portable. Can be easily product. It is sturdy. Good heavy-quality metal is used yet still lightweight and portable.3. Can be easily carried in 1 hand4. On Full Open, total Height reaches 5ft 9in (so can even cover if there's a stage)After buying this, I even surveyed the local market, I can now confidently say I have invested in the right product. There are products available for 1,000 Rs, but paying another just 500Rs for such a quality product is a better decision (Keeping in mind long-term use). Its been 1 year 3 month i am using the stand fr my video shoots ... Either its indoor or outdoor ..the stand is so strong and so many option to manage your stability and angle.. Even its so handy that often i use it just holding it like a gimble (though it do not stabilize the video) but i am very use to of it bcs of its compact look...Go fr it... You will not regret \xf0\x9f\xa4\x9e\xf0\x9f\x8f\xb, Likes: Robust, durable, very well assembled. Dislikes: Due to strong built up, and bigger in size it is difficult to record video of the downside part as tripod legs come in the picture along. As mentioned in the product details, phone holder not included. I purchased a new one along with this product. However, there was one phone holder given in the Tripod Box. Due to this false detail, I had to purchase one more phone holder which is under non-returnable products category and is to be kept now., Same As shown In Pictures Good And Well Stable Really Wanted One for My video shoots Must Have For Camera And Smartphones They Say It Doesn't Have phone Holder, But They have Sent One Included, So Don't Order Already One. Thank You Soo Much For That Merchant., Mastttt, I really like this amazing product. Worthy money buying it. Don't worry about negative reviews. you are worth buying it. A good watch for newbies like me with lots of amazing functionalities. Apart from that, this watch is a value for money at this price range. The sleep tracker works decently well, could have been better. We can call directly using the watch, i like that feature well. Need not reach for phone everytime. The screen touch is also well. There are lots of watch faces which you can change to or upload one from your own gallery which is a plus point. The product looks exactly as shown in the pictures. The calorie and heart beat tracker are also quite accurate. The watch is a bit uncomfortable to watch at times, but otherwise the straps are good and strong, I have been using this watch since a month and its really great. I knew that third party notifications required the phone to be connected to the internet, but I thought the watch could place calls and send texts even if the phone is switched off. The product I ordered can only make calls when disconnected from the phone. Features such as SMS (surprising since this is an LTE version) and notifications (this includes watch apps such as outlook) that require internet are only synced with the watch on e it is connected to the phone VIA BLUETOOTH I did not check other features as the main reason I ordered this watch was accessibility to notifications without phone.,I have been using this since June'22. professional sketching and drawing as it is clearly mentioned that it doesn't support pressure features. Conclusion -For price under 2k I think it is the best stylus. I am using it with iPad air 5. Didn't face any issues till now so don't know how helpful customer care support is. So, the quality of packaging and product quality is pretty good. I've seen it turn off in just 30 seconds a couple of times but that's all. By the way, I ordered it for my old iPad Pro 10.5 inch A1701 as I don't want to buy new Apple Pencil at full price and I somehow couldn't find the right alternative for 1st gen Apple Pencil either.. but I found some questions here answering it works for A1701.. after delivery, I found out it actually won't work and then magically the right model of stylus was on my Amazon Home Screen when I wanted to return this. Gonna order a new one which KINGONE says works with A1701. Let's see.. Very good product build quality is aluminium so feels premium working is good as well best for note taking and basic operations budget friendly. Full recharge is completed in 18 mins. Affordable price. Wish Double Tap Gesture as at the apple pencil 2- ND gen. Ease of use, accurate, all is good upto now and also looks good, feels good, feels premium. Product at this price deserves 5 star, Good product, While using it automatically off's itself this happen when it is in use. But worth buying than a expensive apple pencil. https://m.media-amazon.com/images/I/31jqUvSar0L_SX300_SY300_QL70_FMwebp_.jpg, https://www.amazon.in/Upgraded-Precision-Sensitivity-Rejection-Adsorption/dp/B09KGV7WSV/ref=sr_1_139?qid=1672903001&s=computers&sr=1-139&nB08DPLCM6T,LG80cm\(32inches\)HDReadySmartLEDTV32LM563BPTC\(DarkIronGray\)HDReadySmartLEDTV32LM563BPTC(DarkIronGray)), "Electronics|HomeTheater,TV&Video|Televisions|SmartTelevisions", "\xe2\x82\xb913,490", "\xe2\x82\xb921,990", HD Ready (1366x768) | Refresh Rate: 50 hertz|Connectivity: 2 HDMI ports to connect set top box, Blu Ray players, gaming console | 1 USB ports to connect hard drives and other USB devices|Sound output: 10 Watts Output | 2 Speakers | DTS Virtual:X | Sound Type : Down Firing|Smart TV Features: Web OS Smart TV | Wi-Fi | Home Dashboard | Screen Mirroring | Mini TV Browser | Multi-Tasking | Office 365, Set WXHD (with Stand) mm - 739 x 472 x 168|Display: Active HDR | Display Type: Flat | BackLight Module: Slim LED|Warranty Information: 1 Year LG India Comprehensive Warranty and additional 1 year Warranty is applicable on panel/module from the date of purchase|Installation : For requesting installation/wall mounting/demo of this product once delivered, please directly call LG support (Please visit LG Website for Toll Free Numbrs) and provide product's model name as well as seller's details mentioned on the invoice", "AHBK74LGTU0KPAJBKSNFV45CA,AFIECTV45ADX5PYTE2VU60RRHTGQ,AFDUJ17KG7VMZF4JGJHV4DBCA40A,AEUWKSX5ZL7DWOI kumar,SOMNATH DAS,Harsha,Pradhut Roy,MAHENDRA NATH DAS,Naveen Kumar,Gopi Sahu", "R2PNR69GBQ6ZF,R31A0WDEYMKEW,R2C4XEWFLVU7JV,RYWES5AT5FQ06,R1PGWAY5TEWLT4,R325420PR0QC4I,R2JDJEVZ2G7EEK,I quality,Very nice,Value for money,Good,Good for its price.,Good item,Budget friendly,Good", "LG was always Good , correct delivery, good service but sound quality was poor. NC is not that good but cancels subtle noises and turn down other noises. People talking are not canceled, only muted down. Sound is good for the price range(4/5). If you are looking for superior NC, try to buy sony xm4s webh there is an offer which is my next headset to buy. The cushions are far too small to fully cover ear, they kinda rests on ur ear edges which is kinda painful over long usage. There was no sweating issue since the headphone has air holes and provide air circulation to ears. Charging time was around 1 hour. Battery life is so perfect, like u can charge this full and use it for a while week without NC with around 5to6 hrs of daily usage. So final verdict is bang for the bucks. If u r into NC, just go buy xm4s... \xf0\x9f\x8f\x83,Good quality product,Very good for phone calls.The microphone is excellent. Much better than most Bluetooth earphones.The audio is clear, but the shape of the earbuds fails to direct the audio reliably across different types of ear sizes.JBL tried replicating the Apple earbud shape. Does not fit the ear canal. Falls off after 15 mins. Good quality product but battery draining very fast.

other odd way of conserving size. The USB ports fit comfortably in devices and pulling it out too is fairly easy.

@ STORAGE FORMAT: Since the previous FAT32 version had a limitation of file transfer size of a maximum of 4 GB for a single file & NTFS was not compatible with Mac OS so with increasing file sizes ex FAT format was devised which doesn't have a size limitation like FAT yet is compatible with Mac as well. So our drive has only ex FAT & NTFS formats to choose & comes in ex FAT by default with 128 KB file allocation size. Increasing the file allocation size may increase the transfer speeds a little but will affect the storage capacity little too. Changing it from 128 to 256 KB increased my write speeds from 13 MB/s to 15 MB/s if that's a relief to anyone. The format would surely work well with most of the TVs, tablets and mobiles though check it with the car audio head unit and try to change to NTFS if it doesn't work.

@ SPEED (The de-merit detail) : I have been a flagship gadgets freak all my life & Preliminary to my purchase I had doubts regarding its speed as quoted by fellow buyers but then I did not have speed in my mind as a primary motive for this & there were not many options for dual OTG device, So I took a leap of faith and went ahead with purchase. My basic intent was to load bulk movies from my laptop into it and watch it over my TV or mobile, However when I was transferring 6 movies of a total size 8.1 GB , it started showing 15 minutes which kept on getting higher & it felt like waiting forever for it to happen. Even for a single movie of 1.8 GB it took 2 minutes 30 sec by stopwatch to transfer. The write speeds started with 13 MB/sec and went down & down to 10-11 MB/sec. Even with my older Kingston DT elite 3.0 16GB, the write speeds were in excess of 21 MB/Sec. I admit I have a USB 2.0 port at my laptop yet I was never used to such low speeds ever. The tagline 'Ultra' and mentioned speeds of 130 MB/sec (which I suppose is the rated max. speeds at USB 3.0 ports) felt like a dream and beyond exaggeration. Finally with every passing minute it became all the more unbearable and annoying. Even in NTFS format speeds were the same. I had never expected it to be this slow in this modern era of 2018, thus finally I decided to return it but I suppose I will only get a replacement & not reversal. I know that read-write speeds depend upon a lot of factors including transferred file type, format configuration of drive, configuration of host & destination device etc. Benchmark Crystal Disk mark scores for a file transfer of 500 MB size were 34 MB/s -Read & 19 MB/s write which looked like a mere consolation. Transfer between my Samsung S7 mobile & S2 tablet too was not fast.

Verdict : Yes my friends , all other reviews about this being slow to the point of being unbearable are absolutely right and maybe San disk should re-tag it as 'Ultra-slow'.

@ STORAGE : Out of the total name plate rating of 64 GB , the actual allocated space for usage is around 57 GB which is ok enough.

@ WARRANTY : The product comes with a 5 year limited warranty which is one of the segment best offers.

@ PRICE : I bought the device for 1530 bucks which was reasonable to me given the storage size, Dual drive & brand image. MRP over the pack was printed 2190 bucks & it was tagged made in Malaysia. Only if, it was a bit faster.

FINAL VERDICT: All in all, in my personal opinion given the brand image, Ultra-tagline & modern day technology advancements, even if you try to be too generous or lenient upon the transfer speeds yet its hard to spare such a low Read Write rates. Even for routine tasks it will keep on reminding you of the compromise you made for a full price. It could have been a great all-rounder device coupled with the good brand reputation of Sandisk & 5 years of warranty, had its speed been any better.

COVERED HERE: Actual storage space, Heating, Mobile Phones, Tight Fitting on mobile phones, Speed, Formatting File System, Value for Money, Free App, Company, Brand, Seller. About Company, Product & Seller:

1. SanDisk Ultra is a brand of Western Digital which is the same company that sells external hard-disk storage devices under the brand WD Elements and WD Portable.
2. About 3 to 5 years ago, WD Elements & Portable drives of 2TB and 4TB were priced Rs. 1200 less than current day prices. They were sold by Clouddtail Seller on Amazon.
3. Now SanDisk and WD drives are sold by Appario Retail Seller on Amazon.
4. For best prices on SanDisk and WD products in India, the current seller has the lowest prices for authentic brand new products.
5. Reason for higher prices for same brand's same capacity storage devices may be various - such as import duties, taxes, manufacturing costs, higher demand for the brand, etc.

REVIEW: SanDisk Ultra Dual 64GB USB 3.0 OTG Pen Drive (Gold):

1. STORAGE SPACE: Just as in external hard-disk drives, the actual usable storage space will be less than what is mentioned on the product.
2. SAME AS OTHERS: For the 64GB pen drive, actual storage space available is 57.2GB. This is normal and not some fraud or fake advertisement. This is because it has FAT32 File System. Also, the device uses some space for its functionality and use.
- In Linux OS laptop the available storage space on this FAT32 pen drive is shown to be 61.5GB. So that's 4GB more than what Windows OS calculates using their NTFS File System.
3. HEATING: Even with just 10 minutes of use, you can touch and feel that the metal part of the pen drive is getting heated. But the performance of the drive has not got affected by the heat. This heating does not happen in WD external hard-disks and seems to be unique to small pen drives of various brands.
4. MOBILE PHONES: The pen drive works with Android OS of Mi phones such as Redmi Note running Android including old Android Version 9 as well.
5. TOO TIGHT FOR PHONES: The pen drive is a tight fit on mobile phones & tablets - so be careful when pulling it out so as to not damage your phone - because this is also the charging point for your phone. If you feel that your phone is too tight for this pen drive, then it is best not to use it for phone data storage management.
6. VALUE FOR MONEY: Even if you don't use this pen drive for mobile phone - it is still the best price for a 64 GB pen drive with a USB 3.0 backward compatible with older USB ports on older laptops and computers.
7. SPEED: The Speed is extremely good for Windows OS laptop, Linux OS laptop and Android Mobile Phones.
8. FILE SYSTEM FORMATTING THE PEN DRIVE: Unless you are sure you won't use your pen drive on a particular device, don't format the pen drive to change its FAT32 File System. But For Example, If you have decided that you won't use it on mobile phones or tablets because the fitting is too tight and you don't want to risk damage to this point which is primarily used for charging - then go ahead and format the pen drive for your laptop.
- With NTFS formatting you will see an increase in available storage space in your pen drive.
- With your Linux system's file format, you will have better storage space than any Windows File System.
- BEWARE that if the pen drive has NTFS File System then it won't work with mobile phones, tablets, laptops which don't have Windows Operating System. Same way, if you format the pen drive for Linux OS File System, it won't be recognised on Windows laptops, Android phones, tablets, etc.
- if like most people you will be using this pen drive on laptops or other devices of friends or co-workers, then leave the existing FAT32 File System as it is.
9. FREE APP: Memory Zone App for Android is bundled free in this pen drive. It is easy to install and doesn't take any Phone Permissions other than Storage Access. It is very useful App with easy user-interface. App takes 64MB storage space on Android Phones.
- Features include: cleaning Junk Files that you may not otherwise know through your phone's File Manager App. Enable or Disable Automatic Backup to your pen drive. Add Cloud Storage such as Google Drive or Microsoft One Drive and Add MicroSD card storage to manage all your files from just one Memory Zone App. Restore Backup. Copy, Move, Delete, files as well as clean up WhatsApp related files. See available storage space on your phone. See data sorted into photos, videos, music, documents.
10. BEWARE - Users of Memory Zone App should know that they agree to Terms of Use which include that if some government agency requests the company for information against piracy - such as illegal copy, storage, distribution of Movies, Music, Software, Books, etc as per DMCA copyright laws then the Company will provide the user's data to the government investigating agency to protect the intellectual property of content owners.

OVERALL - best product in the market, at best price in Indian market, with features not offered by other companies for similar specs., Value for money. May be design can be improve for the sliding and handling, It was good with compatibility and storage of data but its slow in data transfer. It take so much time for moving and copying of files, Good Old trimmer battery lost it torque... would not start without smacking it on the hand. Soldering the connections was bit tricky but i got it done by sanding both side surfaces of the new battery cell. New Duracell one does its job.. trimmer works now like its supposed to. Its lasts more than 30+ minutes easily. Charges like its supposed to. I am satisfied with it. Saved an electronic device from being obsolete. If you want more performance.. maybe get 900mah cell.... but for me thats expensive... 750mah is enough. Long term performance is to be seen., Used for my philips trimmer. Gives a backup of more than 4-5 days, Really amazing performance. I did not expected this much good and long performance. I am using diff company charger still these batteries fit well. And works for months. Good performance in good price, Charging is good and battery is lasting longer after one charge, <https://m.media-amazon.com/images/I/714qCj-oqHL. It is very easy to carry around . The people who bought JBL go 1 this is an hands down upgradetion would highly recommend .The price is too high but i got it in an offer that is the only -point . The Bluetooth connectivity is fast and very reliable and is completely water proof. Comming to the end it is pretty much a good speaker but for people with a budget pls try other brands,I love JBL audio products and used many like earphone and headphones but that all products were brought from official website but this time I tried Amazon and it still worth and geniune seller and thanks for him and awesome sound more than expected and clarity and bass andvoice is very punch and not disturb your hear but i noticed that it have very very lite humms wen it turns on the speaker without pairing but not noticable,Bass is \xe2\x9d\xa4\xef\xb8\x8fPortable also connectivity is fastCharged is late,JBL Go2 is actually goud \xf0\x9f\x91\x8d..but sound quality is not much better, according to price..over all ,good... delivery aur packaging bhi bhot acha hai.\xf0\x9f\x92\x9f,Battery level indicator not available,,Good audio but the mic feature is not that good.,Good bluetooth speakers by themselves but bit overpriced. KEYS STOPPED WORKING AFTER 3 MONTHS, Got what I wanted, good, Recommended I used wired version, slightly overpriced but worth it., Product", "good gamepad, could've been better in ergonomics cos after a while, the grip starts aching. also comes with Haptic vibration feedback which is great for the price, Gamepad is very good and it's working also good. Worth to buy., In terms of build quality it's plastic and you know it beforehand, there's a silicon grip patch which is nice but the grip-feel will be worn off after use and you'll be left with a shiny and slippery patch. Feels sturdy in-hand but personally I used it to play many games, mostly FIFA and the keys stopped working after certain time due to the silicon layer under keys. Even though I wasn't using it aggressively then too it didn't last 3 MONTHS. I was hoping for better performance but sadly that wasn't the case, the Joystick (gear) itself was precise but R2 L2 triggers was not working as they should be after 1.5 months even after many failed attempts to calibrate., This gamepad is working good with pc, tv and mobiles too if you have an OTG. One of the best and affordable gamepad. Go for it, liked it, Posting review after more than 100 hrs used. First of all I buy this gamepad to check experience, it is amazing vibrations lights are good, Build quality is awesome its better than I expect, we can adjust vibration intensity depending on games best for Racing and sport kind games, but honestly if you are more into fps or shooting kind of games Our Keyboard and mouse are best to feel in game. The reason I used Wired is it comes with very good length and that is enough to enjoy the game, that why I din't waste extra money for just remove wire., nice console., Good product", https://m.media-amazon.com/images/W/WEBP_402378-T1/images/I/41n2MqMIH5L. But best available in the market.,Good product, but too smaller than the regular one!,Hello everyone,I bought this Mouse in April 2022, so after 8 months of use, I'm writing this review.Battery (the most important one): 10/10 - It came with a single AA-sized battery (Clock battery) that worked from 1st April - 10th December which is more than 8 months. Even though my usage was heavy (6 hours average per day) in a corporate job day of 9 hours.Look 7/10- Amazing with beautiful curves. Though battery closing pane could have been better.USB transmitter: 9/10 - It's normal and can be carried inside the battery cavity.Switch: 5/10 - On/OFF switch is not handy, you need a long nail to switch it ON/off but is strong enough to resist a hard stroke when you force it to off with your nailless fingers.Precision and laser: 10/10: Precision is just what most mouses have which is accurate and the Laser is invisible (No annoying light in the bottom).Buttons: 7/10 - Buttons produce a slight noise on click and after a long usage the Left button is shaking slightly.Overall ratings: 9/10The main reason for you to buy this: Its battery efficiency, it will cost you only 12 INR for 8 months.,Its very small and it trouble for my hand which is considerably smaller than other people it do fit nicely in 10 year old nephew but now mine but no complains works great from far distance so its good there its should be sold for 400/ only its slightly over priced,Nice mouse.Easy to holdWorking very smooth and fast, response time is very good.,Good durable product,Its a great mouse under this price for normal office use, it would have been much better if it had silent clicks!!!!,Working well so far.",https://m.media-amazon.com/images/I/31CtVvtFt+L_SY300_SX300_.jpg,https://www.amazon.in/Logitech-M235-Wireless-Mouse-Grey/dp/B004I05BMQ/ref=sr_1_163?qid=1672903002&s=computers&sr=1-163&nB09Z6WH2N1,"STRIFF 12 Pieces Highly Flexible Silicone Micro USB Protector, Mouse Cable Protector, Suit for All Cell Phones, Computers and Chargers (White)",Electronics|Mobiles&Accessories|MobileAccessories|D\cx3\xa9cor,\xe2\x82\xb995,\xe2\x82\xb99499,81%,4.2,' cables: the cable protectors are designed with highly flexible silicone, can be applied as phone charger saver and charger protector to completely protect cables for all devices, including cell phones, computers, laptops, mouse cable, etc.|Protection effect: protect wires and power cords from dirt, frays, tangles and knots; Reduce the risk of fraying and breaking|Touch comfortable: the wire protectors feels nice and is fun to install on any wires end, can be applied to protect your headphone cords and charger cables; You can also relieve your stress when you touch it; Relax yourself, even better, the cable protector looks cool|Prolong life of cables: the charger cable saver will help to prolong the life of your cable even the cable has been damaged|Simple to install: a detailed usage is provided; With no worries to wrap the cable protector onto your preferred cable", "AG2V3QSA4MVD6RPA5UGUMYMH3PXQ,AGHIZULBQ0J3X2ZUEB0VSCRTBI4A,AEFNEVSP4WMJVLBSRPH3YKKRSDWA,AFW6KM450RMBEVYBI Kumar,Prateek Jain,shubham,Ahsan Shaikh,Munish varan.lalitaroat060682@gmail.co,Nancy Arulraj,Nevil Gandhi", "R1EZC4VZX5JG4L,R1R39X4XI4GF5N,R2NR5VY4ULMZGZ,R1FGNEOQQ0F3QC,R7B7TN0BZCR0JG,R1G1Y0AGJ39FW5U,R3B1Y0WDM2QS0I useful,Very useful item to make your phone cables long lasting,Price can be reduced as this product is not worth for 80 rs,Value for money,It is useful,Good product,Good quality,Its good item in this money", "A 10bucks piece can save cable worth hundreds. Totally recommend,I just received it and applied on my iphone related cables and connectors. Specially, apple accessories are not that sturdy and doesn't last long due to breakage at the end points due to wear and tear.This seems to be a very good and low cost investment to protect all of such cables to break due to usage and wear&tear. Have applied in earphones also. Will be watching over the period if time if it indeed increases the cables life.Till now, feeling good about this useful product.,Price is high,You can go for this.,It is useful. After using it, the durability of the cable is good.,Very good product it definitely protect your cable,It doesn't really protect your cable if the cable is starting to wear out. (Pixel 6a).Unfortunately Indian markets doesn't have much of budget USB C earphones as it's extremely limited in availability so my search gotten narrowed down to this one.Pros:+ Works okayish for the price.+ Sound quality: Average+ Call quality: fairly good. I didn't had much complaints from the other side during phone calls. Tested when riding bike also, there were some wind noises reportedly. But still does the job.+ Buttons: works well. Haven't noticed any niggles thus far.Cons:- definitely not recommended for audiophiles as there's no distinction between highs, mids and lows. Sound quality gets muffled if volume raised above 70%.- bass is not that good. It's there, you can feel it but it's not adequate and gets muddles out if the volume raised. Pls make use of your Eq app (Poweramp Equaliser app, in my case) to tweak up the settings to get noticed on its bass.- Very mediocre performance of mids and highs too. (Gets slightly better if tweaked with an eq app).- causes pain in ears if used continuously.//If you are looking out for a decent budget USB c earphones mainly for calling, then go with this one. Works well for the voice calls//,It's goodMic is not proper,I think this is the best c type headphone for this price segment. Sound quality, bass, material quality all are little above average so for RS.549 (blue) we can definitely buy without second thought.,Worked well for first two months. Now only one side is working.,I bought it to use with my Samsung S7 Plus which does not have any headphone jack. The bluetooth earphones work but when I'm in bed on my side, they have ""accidental touch"" with the pillow or somewhere. So, I bought these USB-C wired headphones. They work with my tab, which is good news. But the audio quality is average. It sounds tinny just like a 100rs headphones. Maybe that is to be expected because these earphones are cheap. So, I ended up not using them very often.",https://m.media-amazon.com/images/W/WEBP_402378-T1/images/I/313nBNJrT6L_SX300_SY300_QL70_FMwebp_.jpg,https://www.amazon.in/Zeb-Buds-C2-Controller-Blue/dp/B08VRMK55F/ref=sr_1_176?qid=1672903004&s=computers&sr=1-176\nB08CHZ3Z07,"Redgear A-15 Wired Gaming Mouse with Up to 6400 DPI, RGB & Driver Customization for PC(Black)",Computers&Accessories|Accessories&Peripherals|PCGamingPeripherals|GamingMice,\xe2\x82\x99599,\xe2\x82\x99Redgear A15 is compatible with PCs, laptops, notebooks and other devices with a similar input.|Multi Programmable Buttons: The Redgear A15 is designed with multi programmable buttons and also has durable and semi

Really would recommend, this mouse is very good for gaming, the high dpi sensor on this mouse is very good. there is no drifting. the rgb is very good i have used this mouse for about 3 months and its still intact, no problem with scroll wheel or side button, the software provided by redgear is also very great and has lots of features. i mostly used this mouse for fps games like (csgo, valorant, overwatch) but the side buttons also help in building in fortnite only issue is the build quality, some party feel kinda loose, its my first gaming mouse but damn its so good. the grip is perfect and dpi is also good at this range you should go for it if you get it under rupees 500. No words. Just excellent. Accuracy top notch. Feeling while in hand is awesome. Feels very big in hand. Very comfortable to hold for long time. Design is very good., nice mouse love it... decent mouse with decent price., If you are buying this mouse exclusively for gaming, don't cause the polling rate is no different than lets say a cheap dell mouse you see at work (exact polling rate of this mouse is 125hz which is very low if you want precise aiming in competitive). But the redeeming feature might be the looks. The rgb looks cool (but you cant use just one single color). It feels great in hand but my thumb has to pull back a lot to press the lower side button but that can be attributed to my long thumb. The cables braided too so there's that! Verdict: Great value is you can get it for around Rs. 400 considering its looks and other subtle features., A fine mouse for what it's worth.", https://m.media-amazon.com/images/I/31luFfya0kL.SX300_SY300_QL70_FMwebp_.jpg, https://www.amazon.in/Redgear-Gaming-Semi-Honeycomb-Windows-Gamers/dp/B08CHZ3Z07/ref=sr_1_177?qid=1672903004&s=computers&sr=1-177nB08SCCG9D4, "JBL Commercial CSLM20B Auxiliary Omnidirectional Lavalier Microphone with Battery for Content Creation, Voiceover/Dubbing, Recording (Black, Small)", Computers & Accessories | Accessories & Peripherals | Audio & Video Accessories | PC Microphones, \xe2\x82\x99 pickup pattern | 3.5mm TRRS jack compatible with smartphones & most DSLR cameras | Can be used with mixer amplifiers with 1/4" (6.3mm) adapter | Powered by LR44 type battery to connect to DSLR cameras, Ideal for : Content Creation, Conference Calls, Voiceover/Dubbing, Voiceover/Dubbing | Cable Length: 6 Meters | Application: Content Creation, Voice over/Dubbing, Recording | Tie-clip, windshield, 1/4" (6.3mm) adapter, LR44 battery, carry pouch included", "AFROXVCIF6P2XFSL7DLTPT2CGCQ, AHA40DJMDNBNUVEUSICIV66LIJDA, AECLUTC5AZMCISU3ZN06J5P0EQOQ, AFN6GFJ6JSQRS: KaTariA, Saqlain Shaikh, Sardar V., Rushikesh P., Biman, Kumar ravi, Avinash kr pandey, pankaj kamble", "R20M6J0ASW8SS, RPM4RV2MQNN0, R19KRP5SDTN2NL, R1HQBX80VY07W, RQ9RWJZB21GNX, R26W9NHSOG09V, R1R02S6NW8I5BS, I just good !, Good for WFH, Works according to needs, Great product for beginners, Good for beginners, Very nice product, Ambiance sound capture, JBL mic is best for Biginners", "It just good for beginners you can start your work using this one, noise cancellation issue you can face while using this and some time connectivity problem also can face coz of it's 3.5 mm jack it's not working well sometime ...overall it's okay at this price., Good quality sound.. better than phone microphone. Power button not working, Bluetooth calling doesn't work and battery gets quickly drained despite having Bluetooth off. I have recently bought this product and i was not so happy and not worried. As advertised, this smart watch meets its purpose. Descent size and medium weight to wear always. Few of my suggestion to become a better watch: touch response can be improved, touch accuracy is less. resolution can be still more better. Need to click on the button to see time or to awake. Instead of pressing button, should have give touch to awake. can have provide some more option like finding phone and finding smart watch ... Product is good worth the money.. there is a bit snag in wakeup mode while moving hands.. it takes time to on the screen automatically. Overall good performance, Battery backup not good worst watch only 1 day it will come if you charge 100%.... Read Speed goes to 90mbps Write 80to90mbps", "Good quality product, Best suitable size for Good quality video cameras like action camera but didn't like sellers packaging he did no effort for packing simply picked from storage and dropped in Amazon bag then send for delivery it might damage the product in transportation very irresponsible seller i had to instantly look it in device for damage but it was working fine and memory card was very good quality, If you are looking to expand the memory for your nintendi switch oled, this is the best and cheap options available. The installation is quite easy. Highly recommended, Write speed is 60-70 at normal with a minimal level of 65 and peaks at 156.. in mobile UPDATE THE DISAPPOINTING THING IS REED SPEED... I got upto 90 Mbps read and it won't go beyond 90mbps but write speed sometimes peaks at 120 Mbps... I GOT THIS MEMORY CARD ONLY FOR THE PURPOSE OF READ SPEED NOT FOR WRITING SPEED.. because I won't use this in any action camera or DSLR... ONLY FOR MOBILE WHICH NEEDS ATLEAST 150 Mbps for SMOOTH performance.... I AM TOTALLY DISAPPOINTED FOR MY PURPOSE BUT satisfied.. according to price.. So my conclusion if you are looking for a memory card for 4k/8k recording you can surely go for it.. I case of u are purchasing on seeing it's read speed and also for mobile it wouldn't be a better option...., Expensive product, Good, Nice memory card, The delivered one was 90Mbps write property, i was expecting 190mbps write property, 119gb Storage out of 128gb. Why? ANSWER IT DEPENDS UPON OPERATING SYSTEM. Some phones take 1000MB=1gb Some phone take 1024MB=1gb Example Mi Phone will Show 128gb BUT Samsung will show 119gb only. Sum up 128 gb is given by manufacturer But it depends upon format of phone reading the capacity terms of 1000mb or 1024mb While", https://m.media-amazon.com/images/I/4104rjSlneL_SX300_SX300_QL70_FMwebp.jpg, https://www.amazon.in/SanDisk-Extreme-microSD-Smartphones-Action/dp/B0B2DD66GS/ref=sr_1_182?qid=1672903004&s=computers&sr=1-182&nb09M869Z5V_Portronics MPORT 31C 4-in-1 USB Hub (Type C to 4 USB-A Ports) with Fast Data Transfer, Computers & Accessories|Accessories|Peripherals|USB Hubs, \xe2\x82\xb99570, \xe2\x82\xb99999, 43%, 4.2, "3,201", 'in-1 Type-C USB Hub, 1 3.0 USB-A port, and 3 2.0 USB-A ports make it easier to connect different devices at the same time. |With 4 USB-A ports, Mport 31C makes multitasking easy and gives you added comfort while working. |USB 3.0 port gives you high-speed connectivity with up to 5Gbps data transfer speed. |Type-C port for compatibility with Macbook. If it was Compatible it would be great and Sometimes it Just keep Disconnecting from the device. I don't know if it's my device or its the product anyways it's a good product to have all times.. Connecting pin was a bit tight to insert to my Macbook. Getting it for 399 from this brand is what made me order this. Go for it if you work only with usb devices. You can access 4 devices at a time but not sure about the speed while switching in the windows. For now its quite okay to browse the files when one pen drive is connected.. USB port is somewhat not easy to plug. When connected to laptop its hard to remove it smoothly.. It was easy to setup as a extender. Signal is also good but not that great. It can cover 1 flat well. Signal breaks if moving upstairs or downstairs. Overall great purchase. Must buy,Need little better customer support,good,I expected much stronger signal 10 meter away. Its okay working, but not as expected.,tp link is good product,Good product,Decided on buying this Router from TP-Link after days of research, reading reviews and talking to many people regarding different models.Was on a 20 Mbps connection with a Netgear N300 router since 2016 which used to suffice for moderate usage till now. However, with increase in the number of devices like Smart TV, 2 iPads and a laptop etc, it necessitated an upgrade. Also, considering the current work-from-home scenario which is bound to continue for the foreseeable future as well, the internet usage was being stretched to it's limit and the trusted Netgear router simply couldn't match up to the increased bandwidth demand.To capitalise on the current situation, our current ISP came out with interesting Fibre broadband plans and we opted for a 75 mbps connection. That in turn needed a new router to utilize it's optimum potential. Finally zeroed in on the TP-Link Archer C80 after reading some horror stories of other available routers. Was also tempted to buy the AX1500 considering there's barely any price difference, but then came across a few reviews which stated that Wifi 6 is not entirely successfully implemented and might prove to be a hindrance to use with our current range of devices.Order delivered by Amazon within a day. Full marks for the seamless delivery as always. Prime has truly been a boon.Installed the Router today. Installation via Tether App was seamless. ISP guy helped with the PPPoE sign-in process and released the MAC ID which was bound to our old Router. The whole process was done in 10 mins and we were online.The dual bands are truly a boon. Have divided the devices at home equally between 2.4G and 5G as per usage. As the router is close to the TV unit, have connected it to 5G and also alternatively connected via the Ethernet cable (just in case).Speed tests:Started off by streaming 4k content simultaneously on 2 devices connected to 5G. Played seamlessly even with other devices like mobiles etc being connected.Have attached a few pictures for reference.- Sitting near the Router, 5G Download speed is 77 mbps and Upload is 75.4 mbps.- 5G speed tested in the bedroom with a wall in between: Download 72.4 mbps and Upload 74.9 mbps.- 2.4G speed in the same room as the Router is: Download 68.3 mbps and Upload 79.2 mbps. (This is quite surprising as a few reviews mentioned 50-55 mbps will be the threshold for 2.4G. Used to get a maximum of 45 mbps download on my old N300).- Speed Test via the Ethernet cable provided in the box connected to the TV: Download 78 mbps and Upload 75 mbps.Couldn't have asked for more really. This seems to be totally ideal.Build quality of the device is decent and the antennas seem well enough to do the job, however would have preferred that they were placed like other TP-Link models like the Archer A6, so it would have been easier to move them in preferred directions.The LED lights are a little weirdly placed and not bright enough. Maybe I've used to the prominent lights on my old Router. These are a blink-and-miss sort and you have to bend a little to check in case there's an issue. One big element missing in this device is a USB port which is absolutely essential in today's age and expected to be included for this price range. Wonder what's the reason behind giving it a miss.I have sealed the extra LAN ports with tape to protect from dust or moisture. It's a good practice. The outer design of the router is quite sophisticated and stylish, however I'm a little worried of dust accumulating in the intricate design on the top portion.Functionally though, this seems to be a real good offering from TP-Link. Hope this device lives up to expectations in coming days. All-in-all, seems to be a worthy investment for the next few years, considering an internet plan upgrade, if any.Hope I touched upon major points which might help other interested consumers in making a choice. With an overall positive impression of Logitech's performance (compared to my experience with similar from Dell, HP) - I decided to try the slightly cheaper and compact MK215.While I knew this would be more compact, with fewer keys - I feel I should highlight the disadvantages I can see immediately (especially for users of full-size keyboards at work - refer image)1. While my hands will get used to closer keys - they also seem much less ""springy"" (lower). Overall size is also too small to place on one's lap and type, which I could with the other wireless keyboard, especially during WFH.2. Big point is the MUCH larger size of the dongle. This will need to be removed and stashed carefully at home every time I throw my laptop into my bag for a meeting. I never did this for MK270 and simply kept dongle fixed forever to my laptop USB port. That dongle also had a slot inside the mouse for safekeeping, which is not there in MK215.3. Neither mouse nor keyboard has a switch off - MK270 had switch on both. MK215 mouse takes 2 AA, whereas MK270 takes 1 battery.4. Mouse is shaped different - lower arch and wider - which may simply take adjusting. Feels a little cheaper.While a real review can only be provided much later - seeing how keys/clicks perform over the long run (and one hopes that Logitech will have taken care of that quality) - while I don't have any complaints so far, I feel paying a bit extra for the MK270 may suit many folks out there. Hope the review helps - will update later if I see find any fundamental issues with time.,Product is good but lagging very much.Not enjoying/ satisfied with this product.Bad for me\xe2\x80\x94It is working fine till now.,The keyboard is good but pretty small when compared with regular keyboards. It works well and keys and ok.,Excellent,Go for it good product, handy.. just connector is little bit big size,Works properly.Initially noticed lag and then looked it up online.It seems USB receiver faces interference when another port next to it is plugged in to other device.I had the lag of both mouse and keyboard actions but noticed that my USB receiver was plugged next to HDMI port which was also connected to a monitor. I switched the USB receiver to another USB port on other side of laptop without any neighboring ports. Don't face lag now.Try to use a USB hub if you don't have a USB port away from existing used ports.,Build quality and all are good but the batteries cap is little bit loose for the keyboard and mouse is totally fine.",-----Technical Specifications-----
Here's the technical information of Boat BassHeads 225 In-Ear Headphones. The information provided below is as per the manufacturer.\xe2\x82\x94Boat BassHeads 225 have a frequency range of 20 Hz to 20 kHz.\xe2\x82\x94It Features 10 mm drivers.\xe2\x82\x94Rated Impedance of 16 ohms.\xe2\x82\x94Comes with 1.2 meter Flat Tangle Free Cable.\xe2\x82\x943.5 mm Gold-Plated L-Shaped Audio Jack (90 degrees).\xe2\x82\x94Sensitivity : 98 dB+/-3 dB.
-----Built Quality & Design-----
I was not expecting metal built at this price range but to my surprise, Boat BassHeads 225 are fully made up of metal. It has a diagonal grid-like texture on the buds which feels amazing on touch. The metal construction gives Boat BassHeads 225 a premium feel & attractive appearance. The cable used by Boat on BassHeads 225 is Flat with rubberized coating, it is a tangle-free cable & does it's job well by decreasing the chances of the cable tangling. Despite the metal construction, Boat BassHeads 225 are very lightweight & comes with a microphone & L-Shaped 3.5 mm audio jack which is again made up of metal. Overall the built quality is excellent for the price & seems very durable. The ear buds have proper L & R labels and are clearly visible. Boat BassHeads 225 comes with medium sized silicone tips already installed out-of-the-box.
-----Audio Quality-----
To ensure that I can test the BassHeads 225 at their uppermost limit, I used high-quality MP3 files of 320 kbps & Lossless audio formats like FLAC & WAV. For smartphone listening, I used Poweramp music player & tweaked settings every now and then to see their extreme capability. For the computer, I used iTunes player & VLC Audio player. I also tested these earphones on Apple iPod, iPhone & Sony MP3 Player. All this went for more than 10 days & finally, I had my results.Boat BassHeads 225 promised what they claimed, they really are very bassy as compared to others. During my tests with them, I found that the audio quality is very good for the price, the bass output is amazing and overpowers the vocals by default, by tweaking the equalizer settings a bit, I saw a good level of improvement in the vocals, they were clearer than before but overall average. The treble was again very good, the high-frequency sounds were clear & pleasant to ears. The mids were average but overall the audio experience on Boat BassHeads 225 was decent. When listening to music, the overall sound quality is amazing, you can easily distinguish between different instruments & sounds which is a good thing for extra bassy headphones.
-----Noise Isolation & Comfort-----
When it comes to Noise Isolation, Boat BassHeads 225 are very good at it, They come with medium sized ear tip pre-installed which seemed perfect for my ears, once the earphones are on, I wasn't able to hear outside noise, they sealed my ears completely & delivered an immersive experience. Make sure that you have the right pair of ear tips on for better noise isolation & comfort. Overall Boat BassHeads 225 are comfortable but they seem a bit stiff & somewhat awkward when used for longer periods. Since the housing is made up of metal, you may find them popping out every now & then when used during running, jogging or any other sport or physical activity, this didn't happen as often for me but for a friend, they keep popping out every now & then while running (maybe the shape of ears has something to do with it), An easy solution to this will be using the Ear Hooks which came along with it. When using BassHeads 225 with Ear Hooks, they were a bit uncomfortable initially, but as I got used to them, they were fine, plus this stopped popping issue since the hooks keep a hold on them.-----

-----Flat Cable & Microphone-----The cable is great, I personally prefer flat cables and this earphone come with a perfect flat cable which is tangle free & comes with a rubberized coating. The cable does its job well. The microphone is again exceptionally good, it records voice with clarity with less to no disturbance or background noise. During calls, the person on the other end can clearly hear the voice with no background disturbance. There is one button on the microphone which helps to pick up/reject calls on the go, without taking your phone out. It can also be used to control music, which is again a good to see in a budget friendly earphone like Boat BassHeads 225.-----Warranty & Price-----

-----Boat BassHeads 225 comes with standard One Year Warranty, so make sure you keep the purchase invoice safe, in case you need it for warranty.-----Final Thoughts!-----

I've personally used Boat BassHeads 225 In-Ear Headphones for more than two weeks (average daily two hours of listening) before writing this review and I'm pretty much impressed with them. I'm personally a fan of Extra Bass IEM's and currently, my primary IEM is Sony MDR-XB50AP which again falls under Extra Bass category. Comparing Sony MDR-XB50AP with Boat BassHeads 225 will be unfair since there is a big price difference between both of them, but I would still like to add that BassHeads 225 did a great job and didn't disappoint me, obviously it doesn't stand a chance in front of Sony MDR-XB50AP but still looking at the price of BassHeads 225 & the quality they offer, I was really very impressed. Boat BassHeads 225 turned out to be exceptional earphones, after testing them for more than two weeks with different devices & music players, I can say that they're amazing for the price, a pure steal deal. The bass output is amazing and is very intense, I'll recommend using correct size ear tips & good quality music player like Poweramp (Android) for better bass output. The treble is good & vocals are average, somewhere I feel that bass overpowers the vocals, but by tweaking the equalizer a bit you can achieve better results. The mids are again average.My Rating : 4 out of 5The Verdict-----Taking everything into account, overall I'm very impressed with Boat BassHeads 225. The Built quality is amazing, the performance is exceptionally good with powerful bass & good overall soundstage. Tweaking the equalizer a bit can bring drastic improvements to other areas like vocals, mids & highs. Overall the vocal & highs are good & mids are average but still good for the price. I'll recommend these IEM's to bass lovers & budget-conscious people who are looking for high quality & durable earphones at a reasonable price. Genres like EDM, Rock, Hip-Hop sound really great on them. Boat BassHeads 225 justify the price they come for, the results are very good as compared to other earphones in same price range. HOPE I HELPED YOU. THANKS, Yes, so you have heard that this is the best wired earphone under 500. Yes you can consider it to buy. But there are few points to remember before buy. From my user experience I can tell you this-1. This is not comfortable at all. It slips from ear mostly. You feel pain in ear after using it. 2. Never buy this for ONLINE CLASS, as it is not possible to wear it 6-8 hours straightly. 3. After switching from Boat Basshead 172, I feel that the bass is not good as the previous one. I don't know why. It should be better. 4. Sound don't explode or go outside of the buds to 50% as it go outside on Boat 510 headphone, so its good. 5. Feeling heavier on ears. Not as comfortable as Realme Buds 2. Though both are metal build. For balance sound you can buy Realme Buds 2.6. Buy it only to listen music, not for too long time. Do not consider it for Online class and long time wear session. Hope it helped you. Its just my opinion from using Boat 225, Boat 172, Boat 510, Realme buds 2, Mi basic. It's a very good product but i don't recommend buying this because earpiece is heavy and you need to keep adjusting it and pushing it inside whenever you move your head, they will fall off easily with the slightest motion, you will soon find it annoying. Sound quality, build quality everything is good but earphones falling off ears will irritate you. Raat me apne Babu se dhare dharebaat krne pr v aacha se sunae deta h, I purchased the product a year ago. It worked fine. I love the sound quality. but you may not expect it to work after a year. My headphone doesn't work now properly. My warranty get expired so, I have to buy a new one. Good buy but 1 side earphone stopped after 6-7 month, Sound quality is above average .. but I got 1.5 years old manufactured ear phones.. build quality is as per cost. can't expect much .. there is buzzzzz sound when music is silent.. The earphones sound is awesome", https://m.media-amazon.com/images/I/3101FmUqUOL_SX300_SY300_QL70_FMwebp_.jpg, https://www.amazon.in/boAt-BassHeads-225-Special-Headphones/dp/B01MF8MB65/ref=sr_1_191?qid=1672903004&s=computers&sr=1-191\nB00LHZWD0C, "Luxor 5 Subject Single Ruled Notebook - A4, 70 GSM, 300

The only thing is price is little bit inappropriate considering the number of pages. but overall it is a good notebook for study purpose. go for it \xf0\x9f\x91\x8d, Product quality is really good. The cover gives a premium look to this product. Page quality could have been better. I like this product. Decent quality, page not too thick, i would have preferred a higher gsm, but still decent. Sturdy, This is one of the best book or diary I have seen before but too much expensive. Really good quality paper along with the multi colored subject dividers and the outer covering. I got it for 165rs and this product has an MRP of 315 rupees. Offline I would end up paying at least 300rs for this. So overall a really good buy. Page quality: excellent Ink overlap: close to none unless you're putting much pressure. Even fountain pens are good. Cover: wow! Con: it's not really a con but u gotta turn the pages really carefully otherwise they might get torn. The pages are 70 gsm but turning carelessly will definitely damage the pages which is kinda difficult when you're in hurry during revision. This is the only con of these spiral notebooks. I ordered 5 notebooks, out of which one had poor binding and I had to repair it manually. Otherwise, the page quality is good.", https://m.media-amazon.com/images/W/WEBP_402378-T1/images/I/51mCZ0zY6SL_SX300_SY300_QL70_FMwebp_.jpg, https://www.amazon.in/Luxor-Subject-Single-Ruled-Notebook/dp/B00LHZWD0C/ref=sr_1_193?qid=1672903005&s=computers&sr=1-193\nB08QDPB1SL, Duracell Chhota Power AA Battery Set of 10 Pcs, Electronics|GeneralPurposeBatteries&BatteryChargers|DisposableBatteries, \xe2\x82\x99190, \xe2\x82\x99220, 14%, AA Chhota Power Batteries|Alkaline LR03/MN2400|Pack of 10. Don't buy if you are expecting too many features in it , then go for a pricier one. At least for this watch, u don't have too many features, and you have to use your phone to set up most of the things (like alerts and notifications, Do not disturb mode and even alarms too!!) Other than that, its touch response is pretty decent, has got nice watch faces (you can make your own as well) and battery is long lasting (at least for my usage, lasts more than 10 days). Also notice that the wrist isn't black, its dark grey. But the dial is black, This item is best quality. The price is very worthable. This product's overall quality is quite good. Quite good product, just a little costly, I use this on my bed only . These type of support to the table bottom make it very stable even on a bed . Really thought full design . Material is good . Smooth finish & the plastic helps keep your forearms on it so comfy. You could get it for 200 bucks cheaper from their official website though. The place for keeping your phone is good . The cup holder is a bit too small and only holds small cups of 200 ml . Water bottles / shakers can't be put there . It is a really solid table with great clearance 28 mm . I thought 25mm too would be ok but i would highly suggest 28 mm ones . Its width & length is perfect and should be the standard at 40 cm & 60 cm . Great product ! 10/10 . Now i use this as my main work station all day., The table is fantastic but I got a damaged Or broken one. One corner is broken. Overall table is good. I returned it and got a new one. This is strong but plastic at the joint of legs and ply can be better.. Overall this is a good table., The product quality is good. The size of the product little small. It is stable not bending while working on that. Little expensive also... Over all the product review is good one., Like \xf0\x9f\x91\x8d, It wobbles a little coz of the bed mattress. But okay. Gives good backup. For a price range of 2000 it is good. ENC is okay. No app or anything to equalize , have to do it with built in mobile equalizer., Noise cancellation is not good. It's lower quality system. Otherwise Sound Quality is GOOD. Bass is Ok. Looking Very Nice, Good fittings. Touch Sensor almost good work., It's a good set overall. Sometimes it doesn't auto-connect and I need to open Bluetooth settings in my phone/laptops to manually connect - which is little annoying for me., Other than latency.. it is not good for gaming.. environment sound is not good.. you cannot tell the direction of foot steps until it's too close.. don't buy it for gaming... Other than gaming it's a good earphone in this price range., Good product. Decent sound. Bass should have been better. Treble is slightly on the higher note. I already check my laptop before purchasing that which ram would be compatible and is my laptop really supports upgrading. After thorough research, I purchased this RAM.When I tried installing it, my laptop showed a blank screen. I tried switching ports on both the rams (pre-installed and crucial). But my laptop was working with the pre installed and was not with crucial one. I tried all possible combinations and it was apparent that the ram I received was defective.I head straight to replace the product but there was no option for that. No return option as well. I only had one option to contact the customer care so, I contacted them and explained the issue in detail. They asked me to hold and connected me to an so called expert. The expert did not ask me anything just asked me to upload a picture that I already did. Then so called expert asked me to upload the picture on the link that she would be sharing, which I never received. I even tried rating but thanks to the amazon iOS app even that was not possible coz there was no scroll bar on the rating tab. I do not know whether I would receive any support or not but this was a pathetic experience and I had never expected this from amazon. It would be an end for this 8+ years old bond with amazon if I would not receive any support on this.I will update this if I receive some help!Issue fixed after struggling 4 days. But RAM is great!,Its better to install it with SSD. This is not sufficient, if we want more details. However the unit is robust, easy to disassemble,easy to replace battery with generic battery, having best transfer time (less than 4 milli Sec) 37min backup for CPU + Monitor when checked. In view of this, the Legrand Numeric UPS Digital 600EX-V should my the number one choice. But it also has low user ratings.The following brands came to my notice on search.1) APC BX600C-IN2) APC BX600CI-IN3) Emerson Liebert iTon CX 600(I have not considered microtek, intex, iball; vguard etc may be they are good)The technical parameters of the above all looked similar , like generator compatibility, AVR, High/low/overload protections. But the transfer time specified for Numeric is less than 4 milli sec, for APC 10 milli sec typical, and for Liebert 4-8 milliseconds.APC BX600C-IN is selected as my requirement is not for PC or laptop (further search is not done for UPS with communication port and auto save software) and in view of better interface (Power LED Dual color, Charging LED Dual colour, Battery saver LED) . It also has better backup and surge power than APC BX600CI-IN (minus resettable thermal relay)Based on the reviews, there are four major issues i have noticed,(1) very old stock (Battery capacity expected to be in reduced condition, resulting into low backup time) or battery issue.(2) Transit damages, as it is bulky to its volume. Though it is better to purchase such items offline, I still tried online in view of remote location . It acts if very low load is connected (e.g. just modem or less than 30w and battery saver mode is on) after 5 min , people get confused it as giving only 5 min backup (it shouldn't be considered as a problem once known, since additional loads can be connected or battery saver mode can be unselected)(4) If Battery saver is enabled , it shutdowns while 5 min juice still left (it shouldn't be considered as a problem, since it can be unselected if selected intentionally or unintentionally)To reduce the above risks, M/s Appario Retail Private Ltd was chosen (at lightening deal at Rs Rs2659.00). The order was placed on 10.04.19. The product is delivered in 4 days on 13.04.19. The original packing was wrapped in repeated turns of polyethylene. The packing reached without any major distortions. The original cartoon packing was in sealed condition. However when it was opened, some (parts) looseness sound was coming from the UPS. The same was reported to APC service center. They registered the complaint and told me that the service person will visit within 48 hours of working days. Further they have given clearance to put the UPS in service.First it was charged fully , while UPS in off condition (charging light was on while charging and it became off after charging). Now the UPS was made on by power button (it is to be pressed and hold for not less than 1 second before release or release after beep tone) connected to PC with 32 inch LED TV, initially some repeated chattering (without any power interruption to the load) was happening, if power input is kept off (on battery). It was happening some times. When it is on battery, beep sound was occurring every 22 sec against APC Manual spec of 60 sec. it withstood for 18 minutes for the PC with 32 inch LED TV on battery. (Battery save mode was in off condition) Further it got switched off within 5 sec of low battery alarm, against 60 sec specified in the manual. The manufacturing date as per slip glued on original packing was Nov, 2018 (photo attached) but the test and quality passing date is 11.01.2018 12.53 hrs (photo attached). (As my load is more than 30w, I can put it on battery saver mode, the battery saver button to be pressed and hold for not less than 2 seconds before release to change the state, this is minor but the holding time is nowhere written in the manual). The UPS body temperature appears to be on higher side, when compared to Numeric installed at office under similar ambient temperature (while on load with input mains as well as while in off condition without charging but connected to mains). The above is initial experience only, any updates shall be shared in future. Note 1: This item isn't eligible for return for safety reasons, items containing flammable liquids or gases can't be returned to Amazon. For more information or help, please contact them. (If you want return facility search for other alternatives) Update 1: The service person called me on 14.04.19 and informed about his planned visit on 15.04.19. The service person visited in the morning of 15.04.2019 and disassembled the UPS, there was a minor play with the battery, (the whole casing is of plastic, one side cover opens including top as one part) the play may be due to design / manufacturing tolerances. The PCB and the transformer were already firmly fastened to body and all connections were also tight. Hence the looseness is acceptable. The battery manufacturing date was Oct 2018. I agreed for his optional proposal to replace with a new sealed battery (but manufactured in Sept 2018). The chattering may be relevant to building wiring, as it is not happening with main sockets in other rooms or if we remove UPS input plug from the same socket (see next update for accurate reason). In the whole, the service person's only concern was hotter transformer, based on his experience (but it will be replaced only if it fails). Prompt response of service center is appreciable (that too for an interior of 76 km from service center, located at state capital) and it compliments the non return policy. Update 2: It is fully charged with replaced battery and backup time was tested with the same load as above. But this time large improvements were observed in the backup time and parameters (difficult to reason out) as below. Backup time is 32 Min (until some different type of blinking of power led & different type of beeps happens for few seconds, may be relevant to battery saver mode and however it got normalized in auto) after 5 min further, the battery low blinking of power LED occurred (hence total 37 min against 18 min of earlier experience as above) and these beeps occurred for 40 seconds before it tripped (against 5 seconds of earlier experience as above), but power LED was glowing for every few seconds till further 20 seconds in off condition. Battery on beep was occurring for every 59.90 seconds (~1 min) to indicate the load is on battery (against every 22 second earlier experience as above). I was totally involved with service person as it has to protect very costly, bulky and distant service partner type equipment at my home. He has replaced only battery, and he has not even removed the PCB. But how, so many wonders have happened is yet to be analyzed and reasoned out. Note 2: i) NonRMS-Multimeter does not properly read the voltage of a UPS that uses stepped approximated output sine wave while on battery. Hence output voltage of a 230 VAC UPS is measured to be between 170-180 VAC when on battery. ii) Low voltage cut off will act if any separate low voltage, high voltage cutoff protection is used at outlet of UPS (while on battery) iii) chattering may take place at UPS if any separate surge protection is used at UPS outlet iv) some body already advised not to use any surge protection at input to UPS v) APC service person informed that APC UPS will not on, if house is not properly grounded (earthing is to be proper) to protect from surges. vi) if UPS is on battery with battery saver mode enabled (i.e. mains off) it will give only 5 min backup to loads less than 30w (as no load protection acts), however if the load is more than 30w, it shutdowns while 5 min juice still left (i.e. if we disable battery saver mode we will get 5 min more backup power) From the above, the UPS is now functioning as per specifications. (but one star of APC is reduced against initial issues of equipment, though super fast response exists from their service center), 5 stars to "M/s Appario Retail Private Ltd" the seller, 5 stars to the APC service center and 5 stars to courier "M/s Delivery" for safe and fast delivery. Update 3: After 4 months of use, backup time testing (ignoring erroneous tests in between): The ups was made on and battery saver was made off, due to this the ups started self charging further and I have waited till the charging is completed. Now, the TV as monitor with PC were made on (it took upto 0.45 amp during cold boot, amp measured with clamp meter) while mains is on. once the PC stabilised (0.3A) the mains is switched off. Now it gave a backup of 17 minutes with beep every minute and given repeated beeps at 17th min. Again every min one beep started for 5 min. After this repeated beeps occurred for 30 second and ups got tripped. Hence I got 22 minutes and 30 seconds in total. In view of this the star rating is retained at 4 star. One more observation is that it's transformer temperature is high while it is on battery that means (more) energy is being wasted by transformer. I got the battery replaced one more time on 15.01.2020 under warranty as backup time reduced to 11min under the same conditions and load. With new battery I am getting 24 minutes. Hence the APC is being let down by battery manufacturer where APC quality person should have control. After warranty I will install battery from Exide and see. Pros: The device is sleek, small and blends into the environment. Cons: Makes a lot of noise. I bought this primarily to support my television Sony XR-65X90K to handle the switch from generators to mains (For < 30 Secs). It is not sufficient to do that and the TV switches on and off continuously when running on UPS power. I'm not sure what the problem is as the wattage is sufficient. If you have a similar use case as mine, better consult a local inverter shop and get a UPS that fits your requirement. Else, you will end up with dead weight. Easy to install, My PC has a 550W PSU with 80+ Bronze efficiency but installed components are not supposed to go beyond 280watts under max load. This UPS shuts down as soon as my GPU (GTX 970) reaches 100%. Then I used it for my printer. But as soon as I hit print, the UPS shuts down. So it's useless there as well. Now it's attached to my TV, router and speakers. At least I can watch Netflix uninterrupted. I'm getting trouble in this I think this is not working properly where should I return, Value for money, so far working good. Small but big life of battery, It is good for electricity stability", https://m.media-amazon.com/images/W/WEBP_402378-T1/images/I/31sSNZUSkfl_SX300_SY300_QL70_FMwebp_.jpg, https://www.amazon.in/APC-BX600C-600VA-230V-Back/dp/B016XVRKZM/ref=sr_1_211?qid=1672903005&s=computers&sr=1-211nB00LHZW3XY, "Luxor 5 Subject Single Ruled Notebook - A5 Size, 70 GSM, 300 Pages", "Office Products | Office Paper Products | Paper | Stationery | Notebooks, Writing Pads & Diaries | Composition Notebooks", wire binding | Paper color: White | Paper density: 70 gsm, "AGKET6EBMS4XL3NJXMR2JOPTFO5A, AEWBMDGEZ4X45MQ755DGGWVOA5PQ, AEDWE7SRSLUC404UBDVW2PG6RALA, AGP2G2TDF5Q5HZECH6MI Rohini Kumar, Harsh Tiwari, Unknknown, Subrahmanya Sastry Bhetanabhotla, Junaid shah, VINAY", "R278Z7QRKL9FVR, R3GXAQ1UB2M9YQ, R3PVGKMU58BIN3, R3FCVJEGVHP86V, R3T10F5XX7DYJ8, R336MX0EBVUGIL, R2EYFONXI for money, Small-sized Notebook, Worthy for money, Quality, I think it is a normal product, Value for money, Quality, Quality Product", "Good product, Thought the book would be longer but it's quite small. They serve the purpose of a decent pair of tws for basic quality calls and music listening. Main problem I noticed was with the pairing and connection strength as they routinely lose signal for no apparent reason. Once or twice I had issue of only one of the buds getting paired and had to reset the other one to get it paired. If you have paired these to one device and try to pair to another one without disconnecting from first it simply doesn't work these to one device and try to pair to another one without disconnecting from first it simply doesn't work. This is starting to get annoying but maybe I'll get used to it. We'll see.

-----This is just day 1 review of these. Got them for Rs 898 on some offer on Amazon. I'll post updates later on. Hope this is helpful for anyone interested.

Package : The packaging is quite decent for such a low price. Comes with the tws earphones fitted with medium earplugs fitted inside the case. Also included are a very short USB c cable and two additional earplugs – small and large. Package includes some Noise stickers and a pretty good user manual and warranty instruction card.

Build : was immediately disappointed with the plastic case as the lid was rattling and not confidence boosting. Will use it for a while to see if my worries are unfounded. The earphones themselves are rather sturdy feeling in hand. They fit very snugly into the case and there is no evident feel of them coming loose or rattling within the case.

Comfort : This is very subjective and each ear is different. It's one of the reasons I wanted to get a cheap tws to see if I'm OK with the form factor for long hours. The prefitted medium size earplugs were not comfortable so I switched to the small size ones. And after about 20 mins I forgot I was even wearing them. The earbuds are very lightweight owing to the plastic build but upside is that they don't cause any strain even after an hour of continuous use. One thing to note is that if you have ""Gandhi"" ears then the fit might be a little awkward – I should know. My ears covered the touch areas of the buds so I had to fiddle around a bit if I wanted to do any of the touch actions.

YMMV.

Sound quality : I liked them. I'm no audiophile but they have decent volume and satisfactory levels of bass and separation. I tried my usual test at https://youtu.be/J0a2Prc_MQo and they fared quite well. The treble maxes out at 15khz post which you hear nothing at all but this is to be expected at the price point. There was noticeable vibrations creeping in at below 30hz but the L and R drivers seem to be matched well and all of the panning tests were quite decent. I feel this definitely punches above its price point.

Call quality : In a low to no outside noise environment the microphones were very good. There was no lag and the person on the other side said my voice was very clear. But things take a steep fall as soon as little noise is present and you start sounding like you're inside a well. Seems the mics can't figure out how to filter out your voice so they end up trashing the call quality. Overall you get what you pay for here.

Range : max I got was around 5m. Not sure how they tested and got 10m as advertised. Any disruptions like a wall will simply break the connection but they connected back automatically every time so far so I guess that's passable.

Pairing : ----- UPDATE on 12th Aug 2022 - - - - -Major issue here is that if already paired to a device like a laptop they simply are unable to be paired to another device like your phone. You have to unpair from the first device and then try to pair again. Had issues like only one of the buds pairing as well. Have to fiddle around to get it to work and is not convenient.

-----I don't have a phone to test the fast pair features – Actually I'm not even sure these support it. Anyway, the earphones go into pairing mode as soon as you remove them from the case and I was able to pair with no problems on multiple phones. They will auto pair post this initial setup to previously paired devices. I could not find any way to control the pairing mode though. You have to live with what it comes with as there is no app or anything to control what it does. They switch off pairing mode once you put them in the case so hopefully that means the battery would be saved a little.

Battery life : Way too early to tell anything. Will share my experience post one week and one month. But they came around 80% charged in the box and I have stated to charge the case – Box says it will take 2hrs to fully charge it and there are basic indicators like a flashing red led for charging which turns solid red once done. The earphones also have LEDs that blink red & white to indicate pairing, low battery etc.

Sync issues : None so far. But have seen many such reports and reviews wherein the L and R earphones seem to go out of sync on similar low price TWSes. So will see if I face any such problems. These are the primary areas that I am concerned with while evaluating any TWS so will share how my experience is after a while. So far I'm happy with them.

Hi, My name is Akshay. I used this product and this is very good in sound and valuable money. Good in calling also. Everything is perfect. Good Sound Quality... Buds are very good Quality. With great noise cancellation feature. When we received this order box is already opened like this. I was not expected at all. What I don't like is the earpads, sometime it came out don't know the reason even I tried different fits. Rest is great. Amazing sound. It is the best choice for the product".

Lookwise it does feel sturdy but depending on the usages it will show how long it will last, At all stages one side of the stand doesn't fit properly., Not that perfect, one side has a little gap, Quite satisfied with the product after about 2 weeks of use. Value for the money. Ergonomics is satisfactory, but still it needs to be looked into. From the looks of it, it would have a long term durability also., This is an awesome product that I have purchased till date for my WFH purpose. It can hold 14\" Laptop very well. It can be adjusted for different heights. Grip to the table is really good. It helps to view the laptop with required angle. Easy to carry. Looks really great on a black table. Classic silver piece. Packaging is also very good., 3.5 stars I got this delivered today and tried it out. My laptop is 2.5 KG and 17 inches, a bit of a heavy machine. While the stand held my laptop, it did not fit properly. Because of the laptop's weight or the size, the front of the laptop raises instead of staying on the padded notches. Have to move the machine forward a bit for it to stay on. If you want to use it as simply a stand - where you set the laptop and use external devices to use it like the mouse, gamepad or the keyboard, it is fine. You can go for it. If you want to use the machine itself when on the stand - touchpad and keyboard, you might face some issues. Using it directly is making the machine a bit wobbly. Will test it out with heavy work / gaming to see how the temperature holds. Might edit the review and the rating after using it a bit., The product itself is awesome and in modern day where ease to carry and compact products are preferred it is a good choice , my only reason to give 4 stars and removing one out of five is the product latches (linkages/arms that set the level of elevation angle) are bit free And can be undone from one of either side with a slight jerk while the second side latch supports all the weight in the meantime., It is very convenient and compact to carry along with you. Single file (4.2gb): Got 117mbps max and it was more or less consistent.. The onetouch reached 133mbps for multiple big files.. didnt check it further.. BUILD It is very sleek and lightweight.. for sure.. but it does not feel very premium.. it is plastic all around.. you can definitely feel the vibration of the platters while file transfer.. the onetouch was very premium feeling.. metal and plastic body.. and i could feel its vibrations.. but it was much less than passport.. (the passport is slimmer and shorter than onetouch ... maybe thats why..SOFTWAREMy experience has not been much good.. i could not register my product for some days.. the screen got white and did not show anything.. there is no free backup software.. you are asked to backup on gdrive, dropbox or onedrive.. no recovery tool included.. i think it is a paid service ..not sure about the last one..cant say about the software experience on onetouch.. didnt see it.. but it includes 3 months adobe cc if you are into this..RELIABILITYNow the big part.. This is the only reason i bought this one.. otherwise i would no doubt go for the onetouch.. seagate drives tend to fail twice as much as wd drives.. so i could not take risk.. many claim seagate has now learnt from their mistake and d is falling behind by staying in the top spot.. cant say about the first sentence, but quite sure about the second..MISCCame with no bubble wrap.. only a plastic tray which was maybe well enough..cable could be a bit better..onetouch\'s one had grip for pulling it out and seemed better..Has fine texture on body so no fingerprint..onetouch and this one both are same price.. you can go for anyone of these..Sorry for the long review.. But i wanted to tell the buyers the complete story.. would update my review later..,Amzon really amazing service... Good product!!, Good pic quality, Image and video call quality improve after all its hd camera gives better output than laptops original basic camera. Inbuilt mic quality is nice and noise cancellation working fine., I paid Rs 1,199.00 for it on 29 Sep, 2019. The cam\'s design is streamlined and sophisticated, and the plug-and-play feature is quite useful. It was a great option at a price of xe2\x82\xb9 1,199 in 2019 but now there are better options available. Don\'t fall for good reviews most of them are old. Be smart you can use the Droidcam software to configure your Android phone as a webcam if you have brief video calls, such as an interview or exam. A Lenovo 300 FHD webcam with a "wide-angle" vision and stronger mics makes more sense if you want to invest a little money. Spend the money on Logitech C920 or C922 if you really want to start a live stream or tutorial videos that are more professional; you won\'t regret. If you already have a point and shoot camera or DSLR at home, get a cheap capture card so you can set it up as a webcam. Pros: Simple plug-and-play is available. The camera offers a regular mode and a wide angle option. The Universal Clip prevents the robust cam from toppling. The green led indicates whether or not the camera is active. Cons: Incompatible with bezel-less displays. The picture and mic quality is poor. Face recognition is too bad. The image will be grainy and noisy. xe2\x82\xb9 1,699 seriously no!!!! If you want to use hard disks without lagging then i will suggest to buy self powered usb hub, The product does what it is intended to do... however, it does not compliment the sleek laptop I use it with. Probably a direct plug in extension (no cord) would be a much better option., Needed a portable USB extension. Headphones, keyboard and mouse. Serves the purpose for an indoor setting. Have explained why it is not an outdoor device under the cons. Pros: – Nice design, Sleek, unobtrusive suits some work environments. For those who have limited table estate, go for models that have vertical USB slots, saves space. This is for those who can have it flat next to the laptop/computer. (check image)– Works well for Audio, HIDs, and great for Data Transfer. Observation:– An interesting observation when using usb keyboard, the USB drive is as if not more sensitive than direct typing. With mechanical USB keyboards there is a latency but chiclet and USB Dongle based wireless keyboards seem to work well.– USB or wireless USB (RF) mouse works perfectly. Very little noticeable latency– Not for gaming purposes (keyboards/mice/joysticks etc.). This is a no brainer. In rapid response gaming environments more latency is life or death. An extension is not an option. Cons: (Check Image) The USB gaming environments were latency is life or death. An extension is not an option. Cons. (check image) the USB female slots in the extension are shallow. The male plugs do not go in fully. There is 0.5 cm of the metal plug exposed. This may be a risk in exposed/outdoor environments. Humidity increases the chances of electric shock, and dust being an insulator may cause static electricity build up. The worst case is if a conductor falls across the exposed points, the whole system can short out. Suggest the designers take this into consideration for their next batch of products. The depth of the USB slots needs to accommodate the full length of the USB plugs. Functionally it works, design leaves a lot wanting. Go for it if are sure you can be safe, go for a different model if you need this for outdoor use. Update: 15th Nov 2022 On connecting the keyboard to the USB drive, there seems to be an increased latency and sometimes the keyboard does not respond as anticipated. The text does not appear on the screen immediately and sometimes a particular letter just cascades repeatedly, and one has to press backspace often to delete the excess letters. For data transfer it works fine but has lower speeds, when all four slots are being used. Expected probably! Works well and does the job. I like it very much. Value for money... Product is excellent. Just that wire is very short! Rest all good. Using in laptop. Useful USB multiplier and works well for headsets too (was apprehensive earlier if it deteriorates the audio quality) Only drawback is the length of cable as it keeps protruding out of Laptop bag", https://m.media-amazon.com/images/W/WEBP_402378-T2/images/I/21UKIwf0IVL_SX300_SY300_QL70_FMwebp_.jpg, https://www.amazon.in/Portronics-MPORT-Ports-USB-Connector/dp/B09M8888DM/ref=sr_1_231?qid=1672903006&s=computers&sr=1-231&nB07Z1YVP72, "AirCase Protective Laptop Bag Sleeve fits Up to 15.6" Laptop/ MacBook, Wrinkle Free, Padded, Waterproof Light Neoprene case Cover Pouch, for Men & Women, Black- 6 Months Warranty", Computers & Accessories | Accessories & Peripherals | Laptop Accessories | Bags & Sleeves | Laptop Sleeves & Slipcases, Design: This Laptop Case is made of soft puffy fabric inside which protect your device from scratches and also has 3D foam cushion around which insure 360° protection to your laptop. | Slim Profile: The slim design of Laptop sleeve allows men, women, girl, boy, college student you to use as a standalone case. | Carry only the essentials or place in your bag for added protection and computer is safe, easy to access, and glide smoothly. | Laptop Sleeve Case Cover is made of 4 layer protective material like High elastic canvas fabric, water-resistance neoprene, Impact-resistance neoprene, soft fluffy fabric. | COMPATIBLE for all the major brands of 15.6-Inches Laptops", "AHAZZ60GFULNRHTS2SR7HAH223NA, AHNCXTH7W36ICJ75NEKWWA2AK5A, AFMD4SE25XE75YQ5PNLPHNC7NGPQ, AH3DPG47VN4IXI Panchal, Raviranjana Kumar, karthik chokkalingam, Maryam, Amazon Customer, Ameya, SOLANKI LAKHMANBHAI NAJABHAI, Pinaki", "R1D6BKF30HRM19, R30YZMQFEF9WV7, R26PEUHOY5RZ02, R1KMSZQEN0GR9, R31LY209STYNRQ, RTLATKAZT04KF, R2X0SI Prodyut, Normal, Good product, Great product, Good product, perfect, Built quality of product is excellent, Excellent", "Overall a nice thing to have. This laptop's fans started failing a couple of months after purchase and now make quite an annoying noise, hence, referring my above statement, if you experience this noise, it would be best to just leave it turned off if you don't care about the small additional cooling. It do cooling but not that like I was expecting. Quality is nice, having 5 fans n two separate controls. 1 controls four fans n 2nd control for middle fan. so depending upon laptop battery n cooling required, power can be distributed. built quality is good although it is very light weight. design is superb. having two USB ports so even one fails, second would be avail. which will increase life of this product. its throwing really cool air through small honeycombs, can feel with hands. so its cooling my laptop really well. just i had a small issue about fans that sometime if pad gets tilted before starting, i have to tap it lightly to start it. may be its a balancing issue. but its not much problem for me as it occurs only sometimes n it works very well all time. so recommend everyone to buy. I use it for mobile vlogging.,Noise cancellation is not working,Value of money \xf0\x9f\x92\xb0,Good mike, worth money,Very nice mic in this price range.,After seeing many microphone. I found thisI bought it because of its good ratings and reviews and in a buget price. This is best for beginners,The first time I had ordered this mic, I received in a amazon plastic bag and the product box inside was completely damaged and was sealed using cello tape. Also, the mic seller sent me was damaged and had low quality audio. It was a duplicate.But, when I replaced, I received the packing in a cardboard box but still the inner box had a few damages.The mic received inside was good.Here is a detailed review of the mic:1. The quality: Quality overall nice. The wire might seem filthy and weak but in reality when I tested it, it was indeed a bit durable. It can easily sustain a bit of a pull and twist. Just mind the spots when the wire meets the audio jack and the mic2. Sound quality: Sound quality is really nice. BUT BUT BUT... before you think of buying it, read the paragraph below (of noise cancellation). The mic catches sound equally even if you are from far away or close to it.3. Noise Cancellation: This is a major point. I used to mic a lot for testing purposes. Let me share my experience. I tested it in different environments.a. In a closed room with AC and total silence: In such environment, you will get crisp sound like a boom microphone. But, you will also receive a bit of white noise or background static noise which you can easily reduce using the noise reduction feature.b. In a room with ceiling fan on and moderate noise: Still seems good but not great. Your vocals would still be crispy and clear but the background noise will increase. Still if you use nice noise reduction software (like Audacity) it will sound great. Adding background music to your video would help.c. In a room with standing fan on and high noise: Not recommended at all. Not only this mic but any mic would capture a TON of noise. To express statistically, there will be atleast 40% noise of wind whooshing in the background.d. The same high noise room with windows open: You will die doing noise reduction. Not gonna lie, the background noise increases by 60 times. DONT TRY THIS.The pop filter or the sponge on the top of the mic helps a lot. When you are speaking close to the mic, a lot of air goes in while speaking. So, when the ""filter"" is attached, the output sound does not have air whooshing but with the filter removed, the output sound is only air.Now, to sum up...Mic is overall good. Noise cancellation is not great but yeah, for the price range, it is the best!Recording tips:1. Record in a silent room with A/C or else turn on the fan at the least speed so it doesn't make much noise.2. Use the collar clip to place the mic, don't hold it in hand. (I mean this is common sense :-P)3. If transmission lines (electricity wires which are above the head) go from close to your room, I would recommend changing rooms.Now, the reason for this is that sometimes, the mic can catch electromagnetic interference. This maono mic won't catch it but I recommend this for generic mics.4. Do noise reduction in Audacity. It is very effective than the inbuilt noise reduction tools in video editors. Also, it is very easy.Also, BOYA BY-M1 MIC SOUNDS ALMOST THE SAME AS THIS MIC. There is only like 2% difference in noise cancellation. But, I would still give both of them 3 stars for noise cancellation.THAT'S IT!Hope you understand what I mean to say.Peace out.,Nice \xf0\x9f\x99\x82",https://m.media-amazon.com/images/W/WEBP_402378-T1/images/I/413viCgnI+L. care for even sound.(By Even Sound, I mean all relevant frequencies produced fairly well – no major suppression or enhancement)I checked the others as I usually hear music on a semi-pro system, and the insufficient bass (lower-mids) bothered me.Nakamichi USED to be a Japanese company making very high end tape decks in the 90s so the benchmarks were high (now it is a China based company). The 25W raised expectations further. As said, it is barely louder than the 3W Stone 200. It is fairly even sound, but not a significant enough improvement in bass over the 200. If you don't care about the money, and want something better, than the 200 with even sound, this could be it. The mids and terble, are a tiny bit better in the 200. Speck also has a larger battery, giving substantially longer backup, and better water protection (useful if you use yours in the smallest room of the house :))The Stone 650 is miles ahead in bass and loudness. if that is what you care for, amongst the 3 – your choice is simple. The bass is uneven, however. All three speakers have memberanes in the inner shell acting as passive bass radiators. One should not expect much nuance in bass from those. If a thump is what you care for – yes it is certainly there (for the size). With somewhat uncontrolled bass, the midrange is compromised – somewhat suppressed and somewhat muffled. No, it is not major, and many mgiht not even really notice it much. The transition between mid and lower-mids/bass isn't great. One usually doesn't expect as much from such speakers, but the Boat Stone 200 set the bar high – very high.Keep the boat stone at an angle such that the drivers (speaker) are in the direction of your ears. It makes the midrange a bit better. Reduces the bass a bit, but makes the sound more even. Tough it is impractical to keep it so, it makes the sound a lot closer to what I desire.SOME EXTRAS:Placement of these speakers makes a big difference. Keep them about 6" away from a wall (ideally a corner) for enhanced bass and fuller sound.If you look at teardown videos, you'll notice that the 650 has much bigger magnets than the others. It is a heavy speaker. I like that, since it keeps it stable and the rubber on the side helps further. It is well designed, except the + and – volume buttons should have been interchanged for intuitive use.The 650 can also be placed vertically. That too changes the sound. Lesser bass, and possibly a bit clearer on the whole (reduced bass = less intrusion into the mids, in such speakers)Speaker characteristics change subtly over 100 odd hours of use. Often quite prominent in the first hour, so do not form an opnion before running them in for about an hour.Conclusion:Nakamichi Speck: More even sound than the other two, not at all as loud as expected, better waterprof rating, bigger battery, high priced, despite Chinese – Buy if you don't care for the money, volume and are okay wihtout much bass.Boat Stone 200: it is a star! Excellent even sound, however the lack of bass as compared to the others pulls it back. If you are on a budget, or if you don't care much for bass (especially for lectures/documentaries or vocal music) this is brilliant. I have used it for long.Boat 650: Heavy. Loud. Lots of bass. If you can deal with the somewhat (and it is not big) unevenness and slightly muffled sound – it is a good package.For my needs, I added the 650 to my equipment list, while keeping the 200.PS: This was my way of giving back to the community for the numerous reviews I have gained from.,Sound,Its okay to buy,Sound is not much loud, its below my expectations,1.  under observation.Request to hold return instruction and reordering for replacement,No manual intervention needed, it works seamlessly when power cuts happened, Provides 1-30 to 2 hours backup,I bought 4 of these UPS for my home and it works perfectly as explained. No drop in internet speed while on UPS. Modern and router never disconnect also.I have tested this UPS without electricity for 3 hours, by that time electricity came so don't know about full backup.Good UPS and works fine.,TLDR1.battery backup good.2.Small comfyCons1.IT REBOOTS

 THE WIFI EVERYTIME WHEN THERE IS POWER CUT,Superb product, when it stopped working, the manufacturer got is repaired and sent me back. After that, the backup is also good around 2.5 hrs.,Working as expected so far. On power cut automatically switches to ups mode. It gives me backup for around 6 hours for my huawei router. After few months of usage will update the review accordingly. 1 year home pick up warranty is the usp for this device.,We do not have a inverter installed because our apartment building has DG backup. But it took a few seconds for the DG to turn on due to which my router turned off. So this device works perfectly well to cover the few seconds of no electricity. It may last for hours as they advertise. I had to buy a power splitter cable because I run the media and router both with this backup device and they both work perfectly fine during powercuts.",[https://m.media-amazon.com/images/W/WEBP_402378-

 Star Rating,Best in class ssd","After I changed from my slow 500gb HDD to this SSD feels like I was living in a stone age. My PC started to run as smoothly as I could have ever imagined. Although I am not a gamer but can differentiate the performance of my experience. One who wants to try out the SSD should have this one as the perfect choice,Confusing which one buying but after buying this one is best and speed up my pc. Packaging like no value for money box is band from corner,I found the start-up of the SSD slower , like if u turn on a pc the first thing that kicks in motherboard then GPU/ cup and right after that the SSD in this case i found the SSD took about 2 seconds and a delayed response to startup ,but when ever it didn't start it was quick , don't know probably an issue with my psu or something,Hands down, Go for it.Quite nice, sleek design.Build material is plastic.But one thing I found odd is that the HDD cover that when I put on it and when applied screws then the screws was very hard to put. Last holes were a little misaligned. But after a little bit of force it fits.,Bought this product in Nov 2022. Easy to install and the performance is good.,I installed into my 12yr old desktop, now my i3-540 is showing it's level best. Compared to my old HDD, it's superb to use.Go for it without any second thought.One suggestion, if just buying to boost performance and for desktop, go for 240GB version to keep the OS and keep the existing HDD as well attached as extended internal drive.,Used to upgrade the speed and performance of my old laptop. Works as expected,At first i would like to suggest to look for the rating of the seller selling electronic products, before ordering this i ordered a similiar product crucial ssd500gb but instead i got a toshiba hdd of 500 gb that too loaded with photo and word document of some guy. I contacted amazon and they refunded me right away. Then i placed this order after searching for rating of this seller, which i found legit.. The SSD is good, i installed it in my asus laptop, the laptop is running with 10gigs of ram, i3 gen8 processor, and this ssd, after installing it boot up within 20-30seconds, whereas my previous hdd takes nearly about 3-5minutes.",<https://m.media-amazon.com/images/I/31foPNxmwsl. The best features once you pair your 3 different devices to this keyboard using bluetooth, switching connectivity is super fast - like you won't feel any lag in connectivity. The instructions strap helps to well understand this product. I bought at 2.6k, but I know it's price had dropped to 1.7K during Diwali Sale.Things I hate about this product -- I felt it would be light-weight but it isn't.- Buttons are rounded (but yes gives mechanical keyboard feel which is great)- For gaming, buttons are too close to each other so your hands will take sometime to adjust and also the arrow keys are slim which don't matter because as gamer you rarely use arrow keys (it's always WASD), but yes will be problematic if you play FIFA where there is extreme usage of arrow keys.So, 4/5 for overall experience.,Good portable keyboard. I can list out the pros and cons.Pros -1. Good Connectivity with Macbook pro latest OS2. Macbook keys are mapped properly as expected.3. Portable4. Simultaneous connectivity with 3 devicesCons-1. Not an ergonomic keyboard. Its flat and doesn't have any option to incline up.2. Dont have backlight keys. You can not see the keys in dark room.3. Keys are slightly hard to press, I think due to rubber dome.4. Enter key, I feel, is smaller which cant be sensed without seeing the keyboard.Overall, my purpose got fulfilled as i am able to use it with my Macbook pro after struggling with logitech R270 combo.,The keyboard is really good and it has a good built quality and the only con is that there is no indication of whether the caps lock is on or off.,Pros: easy to use, keys feels like mechanical keyboard. Can connect 3 devices. Supports Mac and windows. Place holder for mobile devices (However, I use it to place a pen)Cons: Expensive. Very heavy (feels like Macbook air). There is lag in connection whenever you turn on your laptop.,price is litter high,What an excellent product I got my hands on. Smooth working and connect to 3 different gadgets at the same time and u can work on any of them. Buttons are of good size so typing is easy and fast. The inbuilt holder for gadgets is really solid and helping. And it's connect to iPhone also.,Only uses for typing if horizontal view is suitable to see what we typingThink twice before buying,Not working properly on macbook pro! Switches to junk characters frequently which is really frustrating!How did I fix ?The keyboard switches to symbol/junk characters when the option key is pressed. So, I had to disable the option key in the keyboard and live with it!Apart from that above problem, It's a good looking keyboard. The keys are smooth to handle. It's always better to purchase their 12V3A product. I have used 12V2A product for 9 months and it stopped working after that. When I contacted the customer care, they told me that I should have purchased there 3A product. Anyway they have provided the warranty. Also provided an option to upgrade the product to 3A at a discounted rate instead of replacing the current one., The product is good. Will require an additional Y splitter cable., Product is very good, using since 2nd Dec 2022, no issues., Value for money. Effective in cutting off and cutting in, during an outage. Normal router can be supported by up to 2-3 hours on this, even after 2 years of use. If there is not much power outage, recommend to at least switch off power supply a couple of times every month and have the battery support this for a couple of hours, Purchased ups 12v3A, Works fine with jio fibre (12v2.5A) and provide good backup, but little costly as compare to ups 12v2A (which is not compatible with my jio fibre., I ordered 12V, 2A model for my Digisol wifi. After installation the product was turning off once the power goes. So i called Resonate customer care and they told as your DIGISOL wifi is not supports 12v 2a and they suggested to buy a 12V 3A ups. I'm genuinely surprised. First of all, I'd give this a 3.5/5 instead of the 4 but I rounded it up instead of down because there's more to like than dislike. Product was delivered promptly but the packaging was in rough shape. When I unpacked it, the keyboard had three missing keys (iirc it was left Alt, Z and the Windows keys). I turned over the box and dumped everything and voila! The missing keys fell out. Not off to a great start but I slapped those keys on (which was very straightforward meaning that replacing keycaps in the future will be relatively easy) and plugged in the receiver to my laptop. No setup or 3rd party software necessary, it just started working instantly. Pretty seamless. I only use the keyboard when I connect my laptop to my TV and I'm sitting at a distance, I use my laptop's keyboard otherwise. I absolutely love the keyboard. I was expecting it to feel wonky and cheap but it actually feels decent. It's not super premium but it's much better than what I was expecting for the price. It has flip stands on the back to raise it and an on/off switch if you want to conserve battery. The keys themselves are full sized, and as someone with larger hands, I really appreciate it. The curve around the space bar looks cool but I don't think it adds anything ergonomically. The typing experience is nice, the keys have enough feedback to them (not mechanical levels obviously, but still satisfying enough). The Caps Lock key has a little raised bit to it so you can feel it without looking at it and don't accidentally hit it while typing, neat little addition. The shortcut/media keys on top all work fine with Windows 11. There's not much else to say about the keyboard. It should be more than sufficient for everyday office/browsing/school tasks and will be good and comfy for people who type a lot. Do not buy this expecting a gaming level keyboard with antighosting, etc or buy it expecting to have the durability of a true mechanical keyboard. I was initially going to mark it down for not having any backlight at all but given the budget, that's understandable and acceptable. Overall, I very much like the keyboard and find it to be above par for what you pay. The mouse, on the other hand (no pun intended), is mediocre at best. The build quality is not good; it does not feel good when you use either of the click buttons, you can feel the inner mechanisms groaning, like it's gonna fall apart at any time. The mouse also starts lagging randomly. The lag only lasts a couple of seconds but it occurs enough to be an annoyance. Also, it just doesn't feel good in your palm. I have an Amazon Basics mouse that I purchased while I was in the US for $7 (~520rs) and that thing feels so much sturdier and better built than this. It also has no lagging issues and the clicks feel smooth even after a few years of use. As an overall package, I would say it's decent for the price. There are lots of other sets in this price range and I picked this literally because of the Logitech branding since I own a few other Logitech products and enjoy them a lot. The keyboard is doing all the heavy lifting here and carrying it's mouse friend. I hope they improve the mouse going forward because then, this would be the best combo in this range. As it stands right now, it's fairly indistinguishable from its competitors. Recommended for - people looking for an affordable wireless set for everyday computer work and people who type a lot. Not recommended for - gaming or any form of power users. It might work for single player games like city builders, grand strategy, RTSes, etc but I would not recommend it for any form of shooters, especially online. The mouse simply isn't up to task., The Keyboard is good and working nice. for me the Mouse is too small and not able to use properly and getting pain after using for very less time only. it will be good if the mouse is in regular size. Also the mouse is lagging a bit even after changing the settings., I using this product since one year not any problem found. Even battery cell not change, I don't really know if it's worth the cost or not. But, I mainly prefer silent typing and mouse clicks. Ergonomic is also a must as I use these for long hours. Currently, I use logitech m590 mouse which is really awesome and makes almost no noise at all., Great Product, I have been using this product for 2 years. It's battery is great, still running. The keys could get hard with time, therefore i had to use WD-40 to lubricate them. After 2 years, some random keys have stopped working, such Del, Semicolon, Numpad-3. The mouse's right click isn't functioning anymore. The left click has irritating double click issue. So not suited for FPS games. Speed and connection is adequate, no lag noticed. The keyboard collects a lot of dust so better to cover it. Ergonomics are great no issue with that. If you're looking for a longer size keyboard for approx. 2 years of proper functioning for daily or official use, then it is a good purchase. Mouse is small and comfortable, even for left handed people. Keep in mind the keys WILL become stiff over time., I purchased it for my personal use , which includes mostly working, it has good connectivity both for keyboard and mouse . I have not faced any issue with it. I have not tested its performace.", https://m.media-amazon.com/images/W/WEBP_402378-T2/images/I/41X6hey-ExL_SX300_SY300_QL70_FMwebp.jpg, https://www.amazon.in/Logitech-Wireless-mk270r-Keyboard-Mouse/dp/B00CE0EGPI/ref=sr_1_268?qid=1672903008&s=computers&sr=1-268&nB08B6XW01C, "DIGITEK \xc2\xae (DTR-200MT) (18 CM) Portable & Flexible Mini Tripod with Mobile Holder & 360 Degree Ball Head, For Smart Phones, Compact Cameras, GoPro, Maximum Operating Height: 7.87 Inch, Maximum Load Up to: 1 kgs", "Electronics | Cameras & Photography | Accessories | Tripods & Monopods | Tripod Legs, \xe2\x82\xb9349, \xe2\x82\xb99995, 65 mini tripod works with most Smartphones, GoPro, DSLR and compact cameras | High quality tripod equipped with non skid rubber feet for extra solid grip , even in a tilted position. | Digitek Portable Mini Tripod with 3 Leg Base

Didn't want to pay more than necessary when I saw these for 200/- grabbed them cause I saw some pretty good reviews and honestly they are good for the money. Love the design. The volume buttons work. Good for casual music sessions. Mic is good too., They are very good for the price point. But the build quality is just bad. I bought it because it had volume control, even high end earphones lack those nowadays. But the button enclosure feels like cheap plastic and will break easily. It has huge drivers don't get me wrong 14mm for earphones this price is no joke. The bass is also quite good. Go for it only if you have budget restraints., The quality of sound is good but it's build quality. This is the initial impression of the product., Ok ok product", "Used for more than a month. Works (HDMI, USB) well so far. Not tested the MicroSD slots., Build quality is great. I'm using this with my MacBook it works fine . While using this adapter Amazon prime videos can't play in 1080p resolution on monitor it says the devices not support hd . Other ports are working fine not a problem., I took this for my macbook m2 pro 2022 edition and it is working perfectly, all the ports are working fine till now , it's been 2 month i am using it , length of the wire is little small it could be little big and the price is also little high it could be under 900rs , then it will justify., If you bought a MacBook Air or Pro recently and wondering what to do about all the missing ports - USB, HDMI etc, this is your one stop solution. I tried on my macbook Air M2 and it works like a charm. I connected, various pen drives, disk drives and a 128 gb flash drive – all worked fine. Very reasonably priced compared to other options, yet has a fairly good look and feel. Everything working fine but it doesn't work with Macbook's HDMI when try to connect one plus TV as an extended screen (different displays on both) but works fine if used as second screen with common display. Solved my problem, I got the product on 11th August 2022. This is the initial impression.

1) Packaging – The package I received was in good condition. It had a pre wrapped plastic on the box. No complaint about packaging but one thing to note is that 'No Brand name on the packaging.' Although when you open the product, the brand name is there on the product.

2) Build – Wire length is small to my opinion. It has a metal build finish and looks premium and sturdy. Wire quality is also good but at this price should have provided braided cable.

3) I have tested this product with 3 usb ports connected – a) Mouse b) Keyboard c) External 2TB SSD. SSD does not get disconnected when all 3 usb are connected. For confirmation I did a 2 gb file transfer and No disconnections were noticed. Note : The Speed of the data transfer is low. I did 2 gb file transfer and was getting the max speed of 39MB/s with the SSD connected through the usb hub. Although when I did the same file transfer by directly connecting the SSD to the laptop port, I got speed of 111 MB/s. So if you want to do lot of file transfer better connect it directly and not through the usb hub. So far initial impression are good, let see how long it last. Sometimes not detected by MAC and quality is not that good", https://m.media-amazon.com/images/W/WEBP_402378-T2/images/I/41qTZXl3KaL. Bass is very low but not so low that it will feel bad. More of a balanced sound. If you use any app to improve audio such as wavelet it will almost feel like premium quality. Some points to note: Mic is available in both the buds but will work in only 1 bud at a time. Whichever bud you will pull from the box that only will work. But if you use only 1 bud then any one of it will work because any one of them can be used as master. You can use only one (any one of them) at a time and you can use it's mic for call, touch controls to receive or cut calls. Or else play/pause music. But this dynamic use of mic have some bug. Sometimes this change won't happens properly and mic will not work or the other bud which is inside box may have active mic started so the person you are talking to will complain about voice is not coming. Or some time may be muffled audio. Put both buds inside box and then take out again to reset it and it will work again properly. 1 time I faced error that even after putting both buds inside didn't make them off and they continued connected to mobile. I connected box to charger and the issue resolved. You can put 1 bud inside ear and other hold in hand and keep close to mouth to get superior mic quality even in streets where a lot of noise is or in the office where you need to speak in very low voice. Battery backup is almost same as claimed. You can watch movies, call for long period and listen to song whole day without the need to charge the box. If you put buds inside box in between for few minutes then you can really use it for a day or 2 easily. Overall the pods are good. I don't know this piece is damaged or my system is lagging, sound delay happens at any random. But this sounds good, good product. Worth it. Product good for music or video but bad for calling, not good as expected, after few days, left side earbud not working, looking good but not working good.... I have had Boult's wired earphones before and I loved them. But this is just way off the mark. The case is flimsy. It may look sturdy but it is light as a feather. The earphones themselves don't connect unless you take them out of the case. And even when they do, there is pretty loud voice announcing it. For someone like me who doesn't put the volume up too high, that voice is really irritating. Also I have noticed that the audio cuts out sometimes. I have no idea whether that's a connectivity issue or something else. In conclusion, just go for something else. This was a bad one by Boult. Nice product. I am not sure what to say! It's good for music but not useful for use for calls extremely non useful if you will speak anything the person other side hear anything, https://m.media-amazon.com/images/W/WEBP_402378-T1/images/I/31nIcgmP0zL. Well I was wrong.. N Im glad .. I use iem, in ear wired headphones usually.. Used sony skullcandy soundmagic k2.. M not gonna say its better then all of the above but u will be satisfied with the product.. Sound quality is awesome.. Bass is good not like in ear..but still wonderful and enough .. U cant have the effect of an in ear earphones bass quality in a cheap bt.. For that u need to spend at least 10k I think.. It has a passive sound isolation.. Nd its great.. Due to its fit and the foam half of the outer noise gets substacked just by putting it on.. Then the rest go out while the music is on.. Dual mode is good.. But don't think anyone would use the normal mode.. Cant use the phone eq on nt headphones thats a down side.. But u can use other third party eq or the eq in Spotify or saavn works.. The headphones itself might feel it could break cos all of it is made of plastic.. But feels like its a good one... And wont break .. The pads are soft it dosent hurt the head or the ear.. Used it for hours.. Been hearing from a lot of review about the sound quality of these.. But believe me most of them r giving the review after using it for the first time.. Headphone guide 101 u need to burn the drivers I mean u need to use the headphones for a couple of days to get its full potential.. And sound quality is very good.. Vocals are easily separated bass is enough.. Treble is the right amount (the way I like it) sound stage is good due to being a on ear with big dynamic driver.. And u would feel the richness of the sound cos of the brand.. A better headphone is the one which creates good and detailed sound.. Not those who are loud.. So yeah I would recommend this over boat. And one last thing.. Due to it being only a bt headphone and no aux cable is available.. The sound quality deepened on the device ur using the Bluetooth quality and the amount of sound out put it can produce.. U can charge it with ur nrmal charger if its 5v .. Do not use fast charger.. Been using it for two days now.. Need to burn them drivers more.. And will update on the sound quality.. And yeah the battery back up is really good have used it for almost 4/5 hours still 70% charge left.. It shows in the bt connectivity sec on ur phone.. At the end if ur looking for a headphone with a good premium look a well reputed brand and great sound quality do buy this without a doubt.. This r satisfactory very much.. Go for it.P. S Amazon delivery is really not up to the mark.. Even being a reputed company and all ow and another thing saw some complain about it being manufactured in china mine says manufactured in Malaysia.. Yes its a original one have registered it with harman audio.., Everything, the bass, the battery ..is superb \xf0\x9f\x91\x8c\xfa\x9f\x8f\xbbJust a big and only problem, it doesn't support dual Connectivity \xf0\x9f\x99\x81 (which is available in even Boat's below \xe2\x82\xb91000 headphones) Dual Connectivity is very much required for many, as we have to work together on smartphone & laptop simultaneously. so, again & again disconnecting from lapy the connecting to mobile is just pain. \xf0\x9f\x98\xa2So, harman please include dual Connectivity. Simply put up a similar replica for something successful but at much affordable prices.If something isn\xe2\x80\x99t an immediate hit, Amazon pulls it and moves on.Amazon otherwise is like an online marketplace where it provides a portal for various sellers to sell their product BUT with amazonbasics - Amazon is selling its own product at its own marketplace .Here it derives the benefit of eliminating any intermediate distributors or retailers & hence amazonbasics branded products are available for a lower price attracting bulk customers online.As an additional benefit, Amazonbasics products are delivered free to prime members & are covered under amazon warranty for all and hence any claim or replacement procedures are highly streamlined & immediately taken care of.ABOUT OUR PRODUCT (REQUIREMENT vs ACTUAL):xxI recently purchased a new Qualcomm 3 Qbix car charger & was looking for a cable with USB A to Micro B connector. I listed my priorities under various heads to come up with a conclusion and let us compare the actual product based upon my initial requirements:1.) DATA EXCHANGE:Since it was to be primarily used for fast mobile devices charging in car, Data exchange capability was not much of my concern. Preference though would surely have been a USB 3 but it didn\xe2\x80\x99t bother me if I could only get a USB 2.0 too.ACTUAL PRODUCT: I did try to copy a movie file just for the sake of testing data exchange and I found it to be pretty well. I did not capture any speed data but then we all know speed of data transfer also varies with the type of data being transferred. The more variety of data being transferred simultaneously the lower will be the speed.2.) LENGTH OF THE CABLE :Again since I could not afford to have a lengthy loop of cable bunched around my gear knob, I preferred to keep it short & simple hence my only lookout was upto around a meter or below.ACTUAL PRODUCT: The cable came nicely packed in a paper packet and was precisely 0.9 meters or approximately 3 feet long. The length was sufficient for me to plug-in any of the mobile devices to my car charger at the drivers or the side passenger\xe2\x80\x99s seat.3.) TANGLE FREE/ FLEXIBILITY/ STRENGTH STANDARDS:I am not particularly a fan of those stubborn braided wires which are so hard that they retain the shape in which they are bent. I wanted something that was thick yet flexible enough to acquire a circular shape when bunched.ACTUAL PRODUCT: The cable received looked exactly as shown over the site with good flexibility , reasonable thickness & a sturdy intermediate cable. The whole construction of the cable due it\xe2\x80\x99s cable size & flexibility is almost tangle-free.The associated cable was not exactly thick but can\xe2\x80\x99t be termed as thin or delicate too. It\xe2\x80\x99s not the thickest I\xe2\x80\x99ve seen but then thickest doesn\xe2\x80\x99t always means most durable. Given my application it\xe2\x80\x99s more than just suitable.The overall built & quality of the cable & insulation looks promising enough to last few years. Even if used for other than car charging it looks durable enough to last long.I had further shortlisted mansaa & an amkette cable for the same purpose but they were too long for my requirement.4.) COMPACT MOULDED CONNECTORS:Had an inclination towards moulded connectors to avoid any issues where the connectors break open exposing the terminal PCBs.ACTUAL PRODUCT : There are no complaints regarding the connectors of the actual cable. The connectors are perfectly moulded without any joints or risks of splitting open. The connector casings are further quite compact at terminals to fit in comfortably at scarce spaces.The connector ports are sturdy enough both at USB A & micro B ports. The micro B port pins lock securely onto the charging mobile devices which is quite good.No signs of loose construction.Being Gold-plated is more of a misleading & fancy term(in this case) as most of the metal ports designed today already have a corrosion resistance & nobody is going to use them in saline sea water anyways.5.) AVAILABILITY OF TIES/VELCRO STRAPS :As per my intended use in a car where compactness was of paramount importance, I expected an included cable tie or a Velcro strap would be a nice add-on to properly adjust & arrange the cable as per requirement.ACTUAL PRODUCT:

Also, the adhesive can be easily applied and removed from the device without any traces|Easy to Install: Use a dry cloth to clean the surface of your device's webcam, then remove the 3-M adhesive tape from the back of the camera cover Slide, align the lens and attach the protective cover to the lens, and firmly press for 15 seconds to achieve a strong, but non-permanent seal.", "AFF3MID2VKCRG3UPIGY40PDLKNBQ,AGYZOV76JYVNGFJ2WL62EM22Q6XQ,AGM2GCYQPORIRJYCQBKBUCD6VJA,AHKM6B5F2SLXBFKII Bhardwaj,Parvathi M.K,swaraj,Simi", "R18D9LZAYX9JSY,R2TD56H4WD69RD,R3022ERQVPT7PV,R3T0CWF358RZNJ", "Merges with the device, Ultra Thin, Smooth Sliding,Good for Privacy Concerns,Good product,RESEARCH PROPERLY BEFORE BUYING! NOT SUITABLE FOR MACBOOKS!", "PRODUCTLIRAMARK Webcam Cover SlideEVENTS DATESOrder Date - 09/04/2022Delivery Date - 11/04/2022Review Date - 05/05/2022STATUSReceived and AcceptedRATINGS4.2/5.0DESCRIPTIONUsed terms in the description --> Slider - Sliding part of webcam cover> Static Frame -\xc2\xa0 Static back frame of webcam cover> Screen Frame - The laptop's screen frameThe product is sturdy, invisible (for the mutual color theme for device and product), and well manufactured. If the device has the same matte black theme, this webcam cover can easily be merged and becomes a part of the device's body. As you can see my laptop has a matte black screen frame and astonishingly\xc2\xa0the product has merged with it. The little plastic container in the package will act as storage for the rest of the webcam covers.It is ultra-thin as described by the company with\xc2\xa0acquiring about a millimeter thickness. This thickness can cope with the windows\xc2\xa0laptops as they are having\xc2\xa0the rubber buffers on the top side of the screen frame because those buffers act as a spacer between the screen and the lower-up body/keyboard of the laptop to avoid any harm to the screen.\xc2\xa0This spacer is advantageous to the webcam cover as closing the lid\xc2\xa0will not harm the screen, screen frame, and laptop lower-up body. But, still, don't put pressure on the location where the webcam cover is installed as the thickness of the webcam cover is slightly more in the micrometers, than the rubber buffers of the laptop itself. The sliding function is very smooth, but be sure to push only the slider part and not the whole static part as it will make the grip weak over time of usage.The device can be used with any phone and monitor as they have no issue with opening and closing the lids.Now, for the ""Mac Laptop \\'\' users, it is not a product for your\xc2\xa0laptop, and never try this product for your Mac laptops. As the Mac laptops have a stunning plain glass screen that is covering the whole screen frame part and has no spacers, that is there\'s no space left after closing the laptop lid and hence upon installation of this\xc2\xa0product will damage (crack/break) the plain glass screen.Installation is easy, remove the blue tape and carefully stick the cover as a sticker, using the scale for support, or else you could stick it a little inclined. After sticking, rub your palm for heat generation and grab the screen frame from both palms and apply the ultra-light pressure and hold the position up to a good 2 to 5 minutes. And there you go for your satisfied invisible life.*Important - Even if not in use, slide it 2-5 times once a week and clean it as per your device cleaning schedule to avoid jamming due to debris or dust.Overall, it is a good product. For me, it has worked awesome. Green Signal from here.Thank You :)SUGGESTIONSTo the Manufacturer - Notice the static frame of the webcam\xc2\xa0cover, and make its edges (the edges close to the slider) smooth (rounding off or fillet), so that upon sliding the slider with a fat finger, it can easily\xc2\xa0slide over the edges of the static frame hence do not put an unnecessary force on a static frame.To the Seller - Well packagingTo the Consumer - Check for the rubber spacers/buffers provided in the laptop (like Windows laptops), if it is then you can use the webcam cover, if not (like Mac laptops), it\'s not the product for you. Even for Windows laptops, after installing a webcam cover, try not to put pressure on the webcam cover location for long. Slide it 2-5 times once a week to avoid jamming.DISCLAIMERThe review(s) and rating(s) has(ve) been made upon personal usage(s) / experiment(s) / experience(s) / perspective(s) for specific product(s) acquired / delivered.,I usually don't trust my webcam so I thought of giving this product a try. It was delivered within 3 days after placing the order. I received it on 12th June. First impressions were really good. I always had a fear that It would crack my screen when I close my laptop lid after reading the reviews but It\'s been 3.5 months and there\'s not even a single crack in my screen.\xf0\x9d\x97\x95\xf0\x9d\x98\x82\xf0\x9d\x97\x9b\xf0\x9d\x97\x9b\xf0\x9d\x97\x9b1 \xf0\x9d\x97\x9a4\xf0\x9d\x98\x82\xf0\x9d\x97\x9aef\xf0\x9d\x97\x9b9\xf0\x9d\x97\x9b6\xf0\x9d\x98\x81\xf0\x9d\x98\x8f \xf0\x9d\x9f\x9b0.\xf0\x9d\x9f\x9b1/\xf0\x9d\x9f\x9b1You will get 3 webcams covers in the package. It\'s extremely thin. So, It won't cause any issues when you close the laptop(Hp pavilion gaming used here) but It might cause issues in the case of laptops with thin screens like MacBook Air, Asus TUF, Asus ROG while closing the lid due to the pressure on the screen. At the end it\'s your choice.\xf0\x9d\x97\x94\xf0\x9d\x97\x9b1\xf0\x9d\x97\x9b5\xf0\x9d\x97\x9b2\xf0\x9d\x98\x80\xf0\x9d\x97\x9b6\xf0\x9d\x9f \xf0\x9d\x9f\x9af/\xf0\x9d\x9f\x9b1I am sorry to say that the Adhesion of this product is quite weak. It literally falls off after a week of applying it. I had to throw 2 of it as it became useless. I only had the last piece remaining.\xf0\x9d\x97\x9a6\xf0\x9d\x97\x9bcef\xf0\x9d\x97\x9b9\xf0\x9d\x98\x82\xf0\x9d\x98\x81\xf0\x9d\x97\x9b6\xf0\x9d \xf0\x9d\x97\x9b3\xf0\x9d\x97\x9bcef\xf0\x9d\x97\x9bf \xf0\x9d\x97\x94\xf0\x9d\x97\x9b1\xf0\x9d\x97\x9b5\xf0\x9d\x97\x9b2\xf0\x9d\x98\x80\xf0\x9d\x97\x9b6\xf0\x9d\x97\x9b1: Eventually I was able to find a solution for this problem.\xe2\x80\xa2 Remove the Stock Adhesion by gently applying Isopropyl alcohol.\xe2\x80\xa2 Then apply a strong Adhesive glue (I used Fevi Kwick). Apply it only on the back edges of the webcam cover. Since it\'s extremely thin, I used thin needle to apply Super Glue gently on it or else the Superglue will spill out and make a mess.\xe2\x80\xa2 Immediately you have to place it on the webcam of our laptop. And then you\'re good to go.Its been 3 months after using the Super Glue technique. Forget about about falling, It has not even moved a bit. No effect on the quality of my webcam. The cover won't interfere when you are using your webcam in meetings. And fully covers it when you want privacy. Overall, Its a good product except for the fact that it has poor adhesion.,Good product,I wish I had known this before ordering. Luckily a friend made me aware the very same day I had applied it.Apple urge people not to close their MacBook, MacBook Air or MacBook Pro, while such camera covers are applied because it can lead to cracks in the screen when closing your MacBook!!! It may also affect the ambience light sensor, but that is the lesser issue as compared to a potentially cracked screen and high repair costs.MacBooks are designed in a way that when closing no foreign object thicker than an average printer paper (0.1mm) should ever be between the screen and the body of the laptop. This item is 0.027inches thick, that is 0.6mm, six times the recommended thickness!!!If you are going to use it on your MacBook, be sure to completely remove it before closing your laptop. You can use it without worry on iMac as it\'s a desktop and doesn't get closed. You can also use it with any normal laptop where the camera isn't embedded inside the glass screen. If you have a laptop where the camera is embedded in the plastic frame around the screen it should be okay.For disappointed MacBook users like me there are two options. One is you trust Apple, who are saying their camera is hardwired to the green camera light. According to them one cannot work without the other, so even if someone hacks your camera, you will know it is on because the green light will be glowing.If you're not sure about their reliability and you still want to cover your camera, use a piece of thin tape. Apple does advice against anything which could leave adhesive residue on their screen, but frankly, if you just clean it with some screen cleanser after removing, i don't see how there could be an issue.Why am I still giving this product 3 stars? It reached in good condition, is easy to install and use, and it will still be useful to people with other laptops or desktop screens with inbuilt camera. It's not a bad product. They just need to stop advertising it for MacBooks!",https://m.media-amazon.com/images/W/WEBP_402378-T1/images/I/41Pe0z-jDSL_SX300_SY300_QL70_FMwebp.jpg,https://www.amazon.in/LIRAMARK-Webcam-Blocker-Computer-MacBook/dp/B08B0947H3/ref=sr_1_335?qid=1672903011&s=computers&sr=1-335&nB0BHYJ8CVF, "Portronics Key2 Combo Multimedia USB Wireless Keyboard and Mouse Set with 2.4 GHz Wireless Technology, Soft & Silent Button, Compact Size (Grey)", "Computers&Accessories|Accessories&Peripherals|Keyboards,Mice&InputDevices|Keyboard&MouseSets", "\xe2\x8: GHz Wireless Technology, "AHRVMPX2FGGIB5LCJFVMAH07JEHA,AFG3EU556AXTCQXSTGYD2ACM5H6Q,AHW5MLVXYWBRYXXWXGQEH27GVVPA,AGD6XZR3ZUKM: BHATIA,manohar,bendi naresh kumar,Anshu Verma,Mohammed Ahmed,Experience Japan", "R29R3M10PGKF30,R2EA2LLSJBXSC,R1AWRF1U7C7UME,R3UF710XPULBHN,R2DIUZH7Z3QB2,R1BUOT39KDHX4R,R2X9N8M30STGOI product but poor design,Amazing,Just barely serves the purpose of the wireless keyboard and mouse.,If your budget 1K – best of best,Good comfort,Very useful \xf0\x9f\x91\x8d,very compact easy to carry,It\'s really good", "Quite affordable but got a few issues–just got one usb connector that connects both mouse and keyboard. Do not read other review. Nice product, From 0 to 70 \xe2\x80\xa6, Good External Wifi Signal Provider, Superb, Awesome and easy to use, Good product", "I am using this on an old Mac Mini, since the Broadcom proprietary drivers aren't available and the replacement B43 drivers don't allow for sufficient download speeds, at least in my experience. I got this device up and running with Ubuntu 22.04 with Linux 5.15.0-56-generic. Google search for "morrownr/8821au-20210708" and use the driver on Github. I'm using the product "TP-Link AC600" btw. If you are using the other variant sold on Amazon, use lsusb and find out which network interface you are going to have to install drivers for. GIYF. I will admit, this is probably going to be hard for someone who is not generally comfortable with a shell, bash for example. But even though I had never used dkms or iw before, the Github repo along with the build tools available in the jammy repo made it easy enough to get the device working (read the Github Readme). To be sure I first got the drivers working in a local Ubuntu VM using Guest Additions to connect to the USB device directly from the guest OS, which also worked. Ultimately, I installed the OS on the host and setup the drivers using USB tethering. I then got the same download speed using this device I was previously getting on my other network interfaces on Windows and Mac, but now on Ubuntu. The device itself is a bit sensitive to the antenna direction when it comes to the impact on download speed. Have been using for about a month now without complaints. Do not go for reviews that say that it do not support kali. Me and some of my friends all are using it for Wi-Fi hacking and it works really well, it also supports monitor mode. If you are having issues in connecting it to your Kali machine then just go through the web surf a bit and you will find relevant articles on how to connect this TP link adapter to your kali machine. There is also a driver of realtek which you might need to install to make it work in your kali machine. I have given it 4 stars just because the performance is not good as the Alpha adapters which is reasonable for this range of price but in this range and for as a beginner it is the best adapter you can buy. Nice product. Working fine. My PC is now 5G Price is too high so giving 4 star, Got the Wi-Fi in one of the rooms from 0 to 70%. Has been working well since a month now. Good alternative to a repeater if only a single device needs to access the Wi-Fi from a corner. The product is very nice and have good Wifi signal. Using this for over a month now, no complain. But when it for the first time, you need to install the driver on your desktop/laptop from the TP link website to make it operational, which is not very well explained in the manual. This product is very good, I have buy this product because my laptop don't support wifi 5ghz band, in 2.5 ghz I receive 30-40Mbps speed only but my broadband plan is 150Mbps. 1. Easy to use plug and play windows 102. Good signal I am using another room from router no signal drop, I receive full signal. 3. Little bit expensive but go with this because of good signal. 4. I receive 170Mbps + download and 110Mbps upload speed on 5ghz and my broadband plan is 150Mbps. I highly recommend this product, I purchase this product for company use and this is a very good product.", https://m.media-amazon.com/images/I/21604FqmZVL_SX300_SY300_QL70_FMwebp_.jpg, [https://www.amazon.in/TP-Link-Wireless-Adapter-Archer-T2U/dp/B07P681N66/ref=sr_1_341?qid=1672903012&s=computers&sr=1-341&nB07JB2Y4SR,Classmate Octane Colour Burst-Multicolour Gel Pens \(Pack of 10\) | Gold & Silver Glitter Sparkle Pens|10 colour ink shades for art lovers and kids|Fun at home](https://www.amazon.in/TP-Link-Wireless-Adapter-Archer-T2U/dp/B07P681N66/ref=sr_1_341?qid=1672903012&s=computers&sr=1-341&nB07JB2Y4SR,Classmate Octane Colour Burst-Multicolour Gel Pens (Pack of 10) | Gold & Silver Glitter Sparkle Pens|10 colour ink shades for art lovers and kids|Fun at home)

The service centre was helpful though as they replaced my mouse in a matter of minutes with no hassle. Will edit based on how the replacement works. Edit 2 Replacement mouse working well so far. This mouse feels and looks awesome, the slight rubbery texture feels premium and the build quality is also amazing, but the clicks seem to be a little sensitive. For regular use it's amazing. Can't get but the clicker seems to be a little sensitive. For regular use it's amazing. Can't get better but for gaming, i would want a mouse with a little sturdier click, i click heavy during gaming and the mouse may take it but it remains in my head. So even for light gaming it's fine where use of click is less as compared to fps shooting games., It is an awesome upgrade for beginner level gamers, just changing mouse can actually improve your experience and gameplay. My boyfriend recommended this to me as we play Valorant together and my aim was persistently bad even though i tried so hard playing with regular Bluetooth dell mouse, changing from that to this piece was a great doing, 100% recommended if you're just starting to play anything like CSGO/Valorant or any other first person shooter game on regular basis., i purchased it on 16dec and i am writing this on 19dec and i'll be honest no other mouse can offer this much quality in this price so if you can buy it just go ahead but but there's an alternative mouse by razer almost the same price razer deathadder i guess that's the name so you better check that one if rgb is not your priority you can choose that one bye...., Go for it, Design is easy to hold and there are extra buttons on right side which i find very useful. Its size is perfect for my hand. Also this cannot be used to boot from, so its just an accessory to transfer data to and from computer in easy way, BUT one cannot boot into this like one can using USB drive.,It is very handy, speed is awesome. Working flawlessly but the build quality is very delicate, they should improve the build quality. But the main job can be done without any problem and I'm getting upto 100 Mbps speed.,,The product is good for the use,not cheap but its ok price. Also Usb 3 so its fast. And the Quality of the material is not that bad its plastic but good plastic.,Amazon sent a replacement as the first delivered cable stopped functioning in one hour.The product works. It seems USB 3.0 compliant.BUT, it is VERY Flimsy For a product that could be used multiple times and will need to be connected and detached from a 2.5-inch HDD or SSD...The plastic housing for the SATA port can be squished, and it even bends and moves a little.The cable is a foot long, but is thin and needs to be thicker.I have another USB 3.0 to SATA port adapter but it is pretty sturdy.If you are going to keep the SATA part connected always, then this product could be OK, but NOT recommended for Professionals who rely on such a cable to connect multiple drives in a day.,Its working fine with old Seagate hard disk,Okay Product. I bought them 4 or 5 years ago and there are various issues with them. Wanted to buy this Qubo camera and give it a try as this is Made in India and from the famous Hero Group. The product did live up to my expectation!!Here are my observations:Pros:- Excellent in performance.- Accurate in motion detection.- Can connect anytime from anywhere if the camera is connected to the internet.- LED turns red when there is no internet connectivity.- Crystal clear vision even in night.Cons:- Had to struggle a bit in configuring it. The usability of the app is not easy to understand. Figured out the right options to use after few trials. Hence giving 4 star rating.- The LED doesn't glow green when it is recording though the option is turned on.Keep it up Hero Group and looking forward to more such great products from your organization!!The Qubo 360 camera is great. I am able to set it up for my kittens whom I can be assured once I leave my house for some time. The best feature is the two way talk in which we can communicate via the camera itself.,Product is very easy to install as well as setup and use. It is excellent motion detection and also has person detection which is not available in this price range.,Camera quality and clarity are good. Also having excellent features. This camera was delivered on time and the tech support is also good. :)The only missing feature is that this camera lacks storage to external nvr.,I bought this model for my living room, it\xe2\x80\x99s very decent and easy to install. Good for living rooms about 12x12 ft or even bigger space. I installed it and connected to TV using coaxial cable. Volume, clarity, bass, everything is perfect. Overall value for money product.Long review - I have experience other company speakers like JBL and Sony and had decided to buy those, but this one is similar in sound quality. Treble is nice and crisp. Vocals sound nice even at higher volumes. Bass is amazing - fills entire room with that BOOM sound. Watching movies and listening to music is much better now with these speakers.Used these for about 7 days and overall experience is good.-- Sound bar (not subwoofer) - Size is big considering this is 80W, but for me this is perfect size as it matches my TV length and looks good.-- Subwoofer - Small and compact unit. Bass is amazing. Gives that boom effect in action scenes and when listening to music.-- Remote - Minimal but functional remote. Has all the required features in single click.-- Connectivity - Does not have optical SPDIF but that's ok as Coaxial option is available and mostly all TVs have Coax connectivity only. Take a look below for Bluetooth connectivity. Overall Bluetooth works very well, except when you connect certain devices with newer hardware.I have a smaller unit installed in another room and always used to watch movies on that speaker unit. But after listening to this one, I feel sound, and bass of that other unit is just very low. This one really sounds good and makes watching movies and listening to music a good experience.Note: I think the unit uses Bluetooth 4. If you have devices with new BT 5.0 drivers or hardware, when you connect such newer devices, treble and sound quality has minor issue. Not much but still you can hear it in some situations that treble, and vocals are not clear. This is not an issue when you use your mobile to connect using Bluetooth. I wanted crystal clear sound, so I have connected using coaxial cable and sound quality is amazing over wired connection.,Sound quality is average not up to the mark,<https://m.media-amazon.com/images/I/610Ba98lVML. After waiting so long the product is not delivered and i will get the refund very bad service from Amazon, Night Vision is Good sometimes person detected notification will be delayed and motion detection sometimes doesn't work other than that everything is good, The camera supports 64GB of memory card, while the online storage as mentioned in the details of 7 days rollover in India is missing., Remember... nothing is perfect. Xiaomi has already released home security cameras using other brands such as Yi. And the home security camera market is yet to be adapted in large. So, you can expect a lot of misunderstanding on how everything works together in a home security camera in general. Initial setup: It is a breeze for some, but pain for others. See the 1-star ratings if you want proof. I had trouble getting this camera recognized by its own app (Mi Home). It took about 1 hour to recognize after trying with different lighting conditions. The camera got disconnected from the app, after I switched the SSID of the router. So, I had to pair it again. This time, it took more than a day(!) of trial and error. I had to keep the camera under bright sun light in order to get recognized by the Mi Home app. Lesson learned in a hard way. Bandwidth requirement: This camera requires 24x7 connectivity with solid internet connection and with good upload bandwidth. Even if you have 100mbps connection, this camera can only be connected via wireless. So, longer the distance from the router, shorter the bandwidth. This camera hangs up, if it doesn't have enough bandwidth. If you add NAS storage, you'd need even more bandwidth between the camera and the router. The camera is very sensitive. If you set up any conflicting configurations, it'd just hang and would not record anything at all, even in the on-board SD card storage. If the camera hangs for a particular reason, you have to restart it. It is a pain to troubleshoot things when you are miles away from home in another city. Mi Home app requires almost all the permissions from your phone. But, I was able to disable most permissions except location and storage. What's more! You get ads in the app right after opening it (on the dashboard where you see the list of devices) since version 5.4.43 (released on Dec 26, 2018). I wish Xiaomi released a dedicated app for home security cameras, like other companies have done. Google Assistance isn't compatible with this camera, if you are into that sort of thing. Some other cameras from Xiaomi (not released in India) are supported, though. Once paired to the app and once you have the perfect setup (with NAS and good wireless bandwidth to / from the camera), you may become addicted to use it under different conditions, such as with total darkness. If you are technically sound and have around 10k budget, Raspberry Pi based home security is a better option! If you are on a budget and if you don't want to spend a lot of time on technical things, then, Xiaomi Mi Home Security Camera is the best home monitoring camera you can get!, Good enough! It works as it shown, Nice camera and easy to install. Only issue is motion sensor doesn't work, It's good but price is high and sometime it's not working so good can't take motion recording., Not up to mark", https://m.media-amazon.com/images/I/317cwpkk1-L_SX300_SY300_QL70_FMwebp_.jpg, https://www.amazon.in/Security-Bluetooth-Connection-Low-Light-Detection/dp/B09CYTJV3N/ref=sr_1_369?qid=1672903013&s=computers&sr=1-369&nB07GLNJC25,"ZEBRONICS Zeb-100HB 4 Ports USB Hub for Laptop, PC Computers, Plug & Play, Backward Compatible Black", Computers&Accessories|Accessories&Peripherals|USBHubs,"xe2\x82\x94", "xe2\x82\x94",34%, 3.7, "8,566", Zel 100Hb Is A Compact Usb Hub. |It Has 4 Ports And Comes With An Overall Glossy Finish. |Cable Length 1.62 Meter|Backward Compatible|Available In Black Color|Country Of Origin: China|Display Size: 3.0 Centimeters,"AFTZB04S2Z7Q6UL72EUKGZRTVB6Q, AHKUVXCYKFWABRPLWPL443YZWRSA, AFRHLDDQVRCWCMMDMWG44BGILASLQ, AEYPS70XOCZI Tiwari, A Honest Customer, Amazon Customer, rameezraj, Amrut K., Amit Mani, Reghunathan, prita", "RM008Z6AJ6V5D, RKFTTU0K1A54T, R20P3T7U9RKSGB, R1P1QHB04XGZML, R1ST7955NYDAIL, RFZ5R15WZV8SZ, and compatibility are justified the price, Okay product, Zeb 100 4ports, Not used at all, Value for money, Good, Worth full", "Good, Excellent for mouse, keyboard & p.d., I brought it for mi tv, it works well with laptop, while connection to tv, hard disk is not detected., On time delivery Nice product All ports workig, It has been purchased it has additional/external power. avg,lets get directly into the pros & cons .-say it will be a long review coz the review have to be useful for everyone who plans to buy this.Pros:-* The Price, given to this price bracket its the best one i can suggest from the built quality to the Audio quality its superior for the price 499/- (i got for this price tag)*then the Comfort, everybody complaining about the earpads i dont know why, if your going for over the ear type u have to be known that u cant wear it all day long the most expensive products also tend to warm your ears and get a little uncomfortable, so if its not preferred u can go for earphones or earbuds. as i bought multiple over the ear headphones there will be rough cloth like texture that will irritate your ears, But this One has SOFT CUSHION like material, im really comfortable with this one.*and next the Audio Quality, i have previously owned boult in-ear earphones so i know the bass quality and vocal quality, so i booked this without even thinking twice, and it has delivered what it can. the best part is im really comfortable in this one than my in-ear earphones, the sound is even better and you dont get high volume levels like those local cheap products on the markets. but the Bass and Clarity will give you some extra feel, especially the BASS.. its really engaging, if ur a Bass lover go for it.then the Quality, i know the Boult for sometime but for over the ear headphones at this price point i was little skeptical about the build quality before the delivery and it surprised me, dont think that build quality is extraordinary like sennheiser or Sony coz ur not paying that much for this, so for this price its so good, even better than the boat headphones which is slightly high in the price tag.Now Cons:- little skeptical about the Warranty, because when i gone to register this and both while i was registered my boult in-ear earphones, they didnt asked for Invoice slips and No serial number is asked, then how can they proceed if we call for the warranty claims?... but hopefully i think this will last long as seeing the quality.* Next is the Cable Quality, i didnt complaining about it, but they mentioned in amazon as its an Kevlar Cable, so i expected a lott but its a normal cable bt its Sturdy enough. i didnt check the mic on it, i make a call on this, the other person was able to understand me, but i dont know hows the quality.To Help you guys, i have metioned every aspect in detailed manner so it can helpful for people who spend their valuable money (coz every single rupee counts)..Have a Nice and Safe Shopping.

Bye\xe2\x98\xba\xef\xb8\x8f,achhi product he,Got the product delivered unharmed in 6 days.I got it for \xe2\x82\xb9499.This is the best branded product in this price range.Sound quality is pretty good considering the price.Bass is good but the loudness is a bit low, you have to listen them above the 50 level of your mobile.Clarity is very good.I bought them for online lectures and they worked great for the purpose.Ear cups are comfortable and reduces much background noise, besides they aren't known for passive noise cancellation.The wire attached to the ear cups is a bit delicate and may break if pulled forcefully so you have to handle it carefully.I have attached a pic with side by side comparison of my old Boat Rockerz 400 which I bought for \xe2\x82\xb9999 in 2018 and they lasted for a very long duration of 4 years.The Boult Audio Q2 looks a bit delicate as compared to Boat Rockerz, but don't forget there's a double price difference between them.Let's see how long it goes....Summing up this is the best product in this price segment (\xe2\x82\xb9500). Just go for it if you get the same.Noise level is so high I couldn't listen more than 5 minutes.. So I like to choose another brand please refund for this product,Quality not as expected level,I use this product for mostly in gaming and listening songs but there are no mic in it",https://m.media-amazon.com/images/I/31I0--RzGbl_SX300_SY300_QL70_FMwebp_.jpg,https://www.amazon.in/Boult-Audio-Wired-Lightweight-Comfortable/dp/B08FY4FG5X/ref=sr_1_371?qid=1672903013&s=computers&sr=1-371nB07TMCXRFV,"ESR Screen Protector Compatible with iPad Pro 11 Inch (2022/2021/2020/2018) and iPad Air 5/4 (2022/2020, 10.9 Inch), Tempered-Glass Film with Alignment Frame, Scratch Resistant, HD Clarity, 2 Pack",Computers&Accessories|Accessories&Peripherals|TabletAccessories|ScreenProtectors,"xe2\x82\xb91,234",xe: compatible with iPad Pro 11 inch (2022/2021/2020/2018), iPad Air 5 (2022, 10.9 inch), and iPad Air 4 (2020, 10.9 inch)|Powerful Protection: premium glass, tempered to the highest hardness rating, defends your screen against cracks and scratches from keys and other hard objects to keep it looking like new|Clear and Responsive: only 0.3 mm thick and ultra-transparent to ensure your touchscreen stays responsive and display remains flawless; full Face ID and Pencil support|Bubble-Free Application: alignment frame and cleaning kit ensure quick and easy bubble-free application every time|Whatxe2\x80\x99s Included: 2 tempered-glass screen protectors, instruction manual, alignment frame, and 2 cleaning kits",AG5AXAJDBTPEASPC2GUYERHSQQ,AEUQXS3YSNN5L37W71243ABWXHQ,AH20LX25TOPFVMWSSXCIDK2ING3Q,AHSLJYCXB6MF7XA7Kumar,Awesh,Amazon Customer,Prita Bhattacharya,Anish,Suyash Bajpai,Rishikesh Ghosh,Rohan",R3SZOTNLJ4B1LL,R2IMWFUUTWH8H1,R113GHLAS618M5,RH3EG6R2EK2UJ,R2HHF3YVPUJ5KJ,RJXAZXDE8B60L,R1U7NNCJT: product, set quickly on screen.,Go for it,Quality is Awesome,Seems okay,Good product,fingerprint magnet, great value for money though,Good,Simple to install and you get 2 of them, making it affordable price","It is good and fragile, simply affixed on screen. There was a little difficulty faces as guide frame supplied is not 100% according to glass but some how i fixed it successfully. And thanks to seller for supply a pair of screen guard. Packaging was also good.,It's really of good quality, I have read problems like the apple pencil doesn't work after applying this protector but I honestly didn't feel any lag. I rated 4 because one of the protectors created a bubble at a specific area and didn't get out even after trying so hard and following all the instructions properly, and I had to use another one which got applied properly without creating any bubbles,\xf0\x9f\x91\x8d\xf0\x9f\x8f\xbb\xe2\x9c\x85,I ended up wasting one tempered glass because of air bubbles that wouldn't go away. I skipped wiping with micro fibre cloth which may have led to the problem. However the other glass worked fine, I had to take off my iPad cover to enable the application, the previous one wouldn't align with the cover in place. Adhesion of the first one gave up as soon as I tried to lift and reapply, again might be attributable to the fact that I didn't get rid of the dust particles like I should have.The one that I successfully applied, works just fine.,Good product. Decent alignment.,great product, theres no such anti glare thing, also not really good for using apple pencil, i mean the surface is not paper like thats why, one more thing it gets fingerprints really fast\xe2\x80\xa6application is very easy but take care there is no dust on the ipad because if a bubble\xe2\x80\x99s formed you CANNOT correct it,Good",https://m.media-amazon.com/images/I/51VI0Vc-6XL_SX300_SY300_QL70_FMwebp_.jpg,https://www.amazon.in/ESR-iPad-Screen-Protector-Scratch-Resistant/dp/B07TMCXRFV/ref=sr_1_372?qid=1672903013&s=computers&sr=1-372nB01FSYQ2A4,boAt Rockerz 400 Bluetooth On Ear Headphones With Mic With Upto 8 Hours Playback & Soft Padded Ear Cushions(Grey/Green),"Electronics|Headphones,Earbuds&Accessories|Headphones|On-Ear",xe2\x82\xb91,399",xe2\x82\xb92,990",53%,4.1,"97,174",With 40mm Drivers get ready to immerse in HD auditory experience with super extra bass to get the day going. -----UPDATE:20/01/2018-----

It's been 5 months since I first got Boat Rockerz 400. Some of the dislikes I've mentioned earlier in my review are no more dislikes. I said the sound is more or less on a flatter side but I'm quite used to it and "I'm loving it".... :) the Second point is I said if you are an audiophile then you may not like it but I was wrong. You might ask why... Here is why:After a long gap, I visited my Father who is an audiophile. He has numerous high-end headphones but unfortunately, he got the attention of my headphone and he just wanted to try it. I said yes (I regret it :() he paired it with his device and played a song. Boy!! you got to see the grin on his face :D. He said I'm keeping it you buy another one. Poor me was forced to buy another one. A few days back I got another one :(One thing I noticed in two of my purchase is THE AUDIO CABLE IS NO GOOD. Both my audio cable had the same issue.-----

-----So the moral of the story is: Hide it from your audiophile Dad or brother.. they will unceremoniously snatch it from you. Jokes apart, people, you can't go wrong with this purchase. It's worth every square inch. Happy Shopping...END OF UPDATE-----

-----I got this product 3 days back, and I got it for Rs. 1299(lightning deal of course) This is an honest unbiased review keeping in mind the price of the product:Three days might not be a sufficient time to review this product but sorry I can't help the excitement...-----

-----Likes:1> Good built quality----- 4/5It is sturdy, for the price the build quality is great. It is not flimsy. The ear cushions are good enough.-----

-----2> Sound quality-----3.5/5If you are an audiophile this is not for you. Bass is decent nothing to go overboard(as noticed in other reviews). Bass is deep enough for the price.-----

-----3> Connectivity: pairing is easy connects like a breeze.----- 4/5----- -----4> Dual Mode- Wired and wireless: Boat rockerz 400 comes with an aux cable.If you run out of charge you could always connect the aux cable and use it as a wired headphone. (I couldn't find a substantial difference in the quality of music between wired and wireless though :)) I absolutely loved this feature. -----5/5-----

-----Battery backup: I'm impressed with the battery backup of this beast. I've been using it for 3 days for 2-3 hrs a day still its running. So i guess the 8 hr backup per charge is not a marketing gimmick I presume it's true. So far so good. will update it after a month's usage.-----

-----Dislikes:1> Sound quality is more on the flatter side. When you compare it with budget wired headphones like Sennheiser CX 180 Street II bass is not too deep. You won't get that ambience. Boat's website says:"Don't just be loud, be loud and clear", Nope... sorry I've to disappoint you on this. When it's loud it's not at all clear. A lot of distortions are there when you are loud.-----

-----2> Comfort: Believe me, it's not at all comfortable for prolonged usage. Your ear will beg you to take it off after 30-45 mins.. If you have high fortitude you can push it till 1-1.20 hrs... If you could go more than that without taking it off for a minute then you are superhuman.-----

-----3> Range: Boats says 10 meters range... In my experience, if you go beyond 5-6 meters then the voice will break. You will never ever get 10 mtrs range trust me on that. And I'm experiencing occasional breaks in the streaming nothing intrusive so far but I don't know whether it will be a problem down the line. Will let you guys know about it later if it's a problem.-----

-----4>Flimsy aux cable: I can't complain too much about the aux cable keeping the price in mind. Remember I paid only 1299 for it. But with certain devices, the aux was not working properly. Mi note 3 had issues, Mi 4 also had issues with aux. Not sure whether it's the problem with my device. But it worked flawlessly on my laptop.-----5>

-----Wafer thin service centers: Boat gives 1 yr warranty but what good is it if you can't find any service centers near you. This is a hit or miss guys...-----6> Voice

-----cancellation: I didn't find this effective. Maybe it's just me, not sure.-----

-----7> Microphone is pretty much useless. You can't make calls with this headset.-----

-----Some alternatives:(These are all wired headphones, comparing them with a wireless may not be a good idea but still, I compare it with them because Boat rockerz comes with an aux cable, and if you are looking for an alternative irrespective of wired or wireless it might be of some use to you)1>Sennheiser CX 180 Street II : I don't think Boat can beat this one's quality. The sound is incomparable- the base is deep, nice fidelity, nice ambience and for a price of 799 this is unbeatable budget wired in-ear headphone. I own 2 of this beauty. Total value for money. If you are an audiophile and are on a tight budget then I can't a better alternative than this.2> SoundMagic E10C In-Ear Headphones with Mic (Black/Gold): This is another TVFM earphone3>Sony Extra Bass MDR-XB250 On-Ear Headphones-----

-----Don't buy it:1> If you are an audiophile (obviously audiophiles will go only for wired headphones :D)2> If you intend to use it for long hours.-----

-----Buy it:1> If you are looking for a budget wireless headphone with decent built quality and performance.2> If you require a wired and wireless package in one.-----

-----Verdict: I'd give this headphone a score of 3.75/ 5If you are on a budget and you want to enjoy a hassle-free Bluetooth headphone with good performance then CLOSE YOUR EYES AND BUY THIS BEAST trust me you won't regret it you won't be disappointed. In this price range, I couldn't find any other headphone with such a performance. We don't have many options.... Do we? :P :PThe actual price is Rs. 2999 and Amazon claim they are giving 57% discount. pls don't fall for that. I would not recommend paying more than 1700 rupees for this headphone.-----

-----Note: I'm not an expert in this field. This is just a lay man's review.Thank you for reading the review and I hope this will help you with your purchase decision..My boat wired in ears were giving out after hard use and i wanted a new pair of headphones and i wanted them to be over the head types like this one. I also wanted one with both aux and bluetooth options since i would be using it for the TV, Laptop and my phone. I have fumbled with this strata of the headphone market previously and after buying good for nothing ones from motorola, i chanced upon this.Value for moneyGood bassNice sound qualityGood build, but not premiumIf you can get it below 1000 rs, then it is a very good deal,its difficult to let go of my boat headphones , i bought this on 2019 for a 1k price on sale , the bluetooth was working fine but it went off after an year , i know this would happen , and thats when the legendary aux cable comes in , ive been using it with the aux cable for almost 2 years again , but later the top headphone band broke off , i used a fevistick to stick it up , and used it , i stretched it even further but it broke again , but there is no difference in soundquality what so ever so far , its been a soldi 3 years since usage of this product , still trying to stretch it further , if it doesnt work , i may hvae to say good by to this beast of a product , and its sad to note that the current boat products on offer fail to deliver this robust quality , they've become the company that focuses on quantity over quality nowadays , evolutions aside , i gotta respect this product for what it has given me so far .,I genuinely reviewed after 2 years and it's still working but once head strip was broke i fixed it by using YouTube video overall it's very good purchase for me.,Don't think about specs you can blindly buy because it worth it,I recently purchased the boAt Rockerz 400 Bluetooth headphones. They have great sound quality and the soft padded ear cushions are very comfortable. The battery life is also impressive, with up to 8 hours of playback. Overall, I'm very happy with my purchase and would recommend them to anyone looking for a good pair of Bluetooth headphones. Under 1200 rs it is best head phone sound

Value for money, Good, Perfect monitor for editing and casual gaming", "I had an LG 27"" monitor and broke it twice while wiping with cloth.. It couldnt even take my ring figure pressure. First time I repaired it with huge cost, but second time had to throw it.. Then I bought this one, slightly smaller as I was afraid not to pay too much. LG had in-built speaker but this one does not. There is no speaker/mike. The picture quality is good. I have a Dell soundbar for audio/mic, so that is covered. The brightness is too much at 100% but I can reduce it to 40% which is good enough for me. The monitor includes power cord and HDMI Cable. It has a nice sturdy stand. The build quality is good. The Viewing angles are also good, with no glare from room lighting. Overall the picture quality is quite good. The monitor also has eye care settings. There are couple of separate screws provided in a plastic cover, so be careful while unpacking. I had no missing screws problem., I have been using for my personal and office work. It\\'s a good product when you like to splitting the screen and work simultaneously in two different windows. The experience is far great, Came with the just the OEM package slapped with invoice but the product was safe Pros 1. 24 inch screen pixels are small enough u can see it if u try but not bad 2. Ips bleed is not there but there is definitely ips glow but not that bad 3. 75 hz but meh i can't tell the difference but again i have 120 hz phone so makes no sense to buy it for 75 hz 4. colors are good movies and games pop out well 5. Comes with a HDMI cable which is neat 6. Build it good and angle of the monitor can be moved Cons 1, has like a slight yellow tint just like the redmi phone but u could get used to it 2. 75 hz is a gimmick 3. No display port which so bad 4. Ips glow is there not much but dark things will look grey 5. game mode is useless and eye blinding 6. the power cable has a adapter with it which is pretty fragile if it break ur monitor is a brick Verdict I would say don't buy this just for the 75hz it\\'s not worth it i would be looking into benq and lg monitor or go big and get a higher refresh rate monitor i wouldn't say this was a waste of money but this definitely expensive for wat it\\'s offering, Pros: 1. Good display quality 2. ?? That\\'s the end of Pros Cons: 1. WHY ON GOD\\'S GREEN EARTH THERE IS NO AUDIO JACK? !!!!! What is the use of HDMI port if user can't get VIDEO AND AUDIO both? 2. IF SOMEONE IS INVESTING 10K ON A MONITOR WHY IN 2022 ANYONE WILL NEED A VGA PORT? 3. Build quality is questionable, Entire build is made of plastic which is fine but for me monitor was always a little tilted no matter how hard I screwed the stand it was still the same. 4. AMD Freesync isn't much affective, you can still see screen tearing. 5. Stand Movement is very stiff, I almost felt like I broke it. Just bad build quality. If you are only going to use HDMI port and find a workaround for audio then alright but for someone who games on PC and console both this is not good enough. If you are willing to sacrifice little bit of Visual quality and 15Hz of refresh rate which is not noticeable at all then go for BenQ, Same price but less hassle. Or Better bump up your budget go for LG 24MK600M which goes for 13k or less but worth it,, It could have one more HDMI port, <https://m.media-amazon.com/images/I/61vMbxznwhL. Fit is little loose - I use 14"" HP Envy and this 14"" laptop sleeve keeps some space in both dimensions. You can keep the charger if it\\'s small enough but you shouldn't as it attracts scratches on laptop. See photos for more idea on fit. I found that 13"" laptop sleeve fits more to my preference. Try both once., Good product, Quality of fabric is good, If you are like me and are looking for a waterproof sleeve to protect your laptop from the rain, well, this is not for you. It may be that the lining protects from splashes, but in a scenario where you get caught in the rain, water definitely makes it\\'s way inside the case and drenches the laptop. What I like the most is how easy is to keep because of the connector. The color options are neatly wide, and I like it. I would say though it's not very smooth of you use it for color filling, it does get smudge if you double coat it. So, there you have to be careful and also you can't order just one, it has to be two set minimum to be delivered. Thats the drawback. Otherwise, it's good overall.,Eays to use for kids above 6 years,simply good,The connectors provided help to keep all the pens together. I quite impressed with packaging n box content they are USPNext comes plastic quality that is also good installation was also easy by following manual.. link for video would be more helpfulIt do have sometime connecting issue that's random..Which could be the reason this is reasonably priced..Next version should improve that rest happy with purchase,It provides excellent backup for above 4 hrs but during power cut the router restarts once again which created interruption in the internet connections for few minutes... Overall an Awesome Product,I have tested and it's working for power back-up up to 2 hrs...,Perfect for wifi usage upto 3 hrs of power backup provided. Easy to install and use,Good products,Update 2...1. Item runs 1hr 14m @1A giving 15.465Wh, runs 48m @1.5A giving 14.82Wh whereas its rated at 22.2Wh & since its april\21 made, i\21 say battery is defective & wont last me long, ordered replacement.2. Replacement runs 1h 32m @1A giving 19.39Wh, 1h 1m @1.5A giving 18.452Wh & being made in nov\20 i think this batt is alright. I\21m keeping the replacement & ending my review unless item fails catastrophically.=====Update...1. This is what ""make in India"" has become- a plethora of Indian registered companies slapping their logo & selling chinese items in India, to cash in Indian sentiments. This is a generic item sold by slapping diff brand names like zinq, quantum (available right here on amazon) & proly more. Even the boxes r exactly same... lol.2. Recharge rate is horribly slow @0.5A, so 2.2Ah will take 4.4hrs, considering losses 4.5hrs. That's why frequent power cut ppl r complaining about 1hr standby. So its basically for ppl with occasional power cuts (like me with community generator).3. Ups has to be turned ON to recharge... what? why? lame! This is another reason ppl r complaining about charging issue & since item is generic, ZINQ proly doesn't even know... lol... such a dumb thing must be printed on the center of the box itself. I myself was fooled for 6hrs thinking that its charging but it went cold so checked with power meter & wow! It didn't charge a bit.4. Had i been younger with lotza free time, i could've made one myself for \xe2\x82\x9b980+80+80+150+50 for 1.8Ah one... Gone r those fun days! So I\21m keeping it for \xe2\x82\x9b91001.* if anyl i reading my review, youtube search for ""router ups"" & lotza young ppl with free time have made such DIY.=====Damn this thing can output over 35watts of power @12v. For the 1st time something has out-specked my 35w load tester.Pros-1. Can output 3A or even more, that i could test. Great for sudden load surge.2. Very stable output 12-12.1v throughout 0-35w.3. Solid built, almost all possible connectors provided, seamless switching from AC to battery (obviously), easy to use.Cons-1. No polarity changing option for in/out. Some itemschargers do have center negative, for that i have to make my own cable.2. Since it went 3A or above, i dont think theres any overload/short circuit protection.3. Item got quite hot when run at 12v 2A for 15mins. I hope theres thermal protection.4. Item is sealed shut. However, for now, the company has taken on wireless headphones in an affordable form \xe2\x80\x94 neckband-style earphones. The headset has a flexible neckband with metal modules at the ends, short cables that lead to the earbuds, and the plastic earbuds themselves. We quite liked the yellow-and-black colour scheme of our review unit. The design is simple and the build quality is decent. The device is light at just 30g, and comfortable to wear and use for long hours at a stretch.Like earlier Realme earphones, the Realme Buds Wireless have magnets in each earbud. While they don't serve any purpose on the wired models beyond keeping the two earbuds together, the magnetic clamp serves as the power switch for the Realme Buds Wireless. Separating the buds turns the headset on, while attaching them powers it down; there is no power button, so this is the only way to control power on the headset.In theory this sounds good, but the weak magnets meant that the earphones separated easily when placed in a bag or pocket. This would turn the earphones on and automatically connect with our paired smartphone even when we didn't want it to, which was bothersome. Calls would be automatically diverted away from the smartphone's earpiece without us knowing, the battery would run down, and the phone wouldn't automatically connect to other devices such as a Bluetooth car audio system.What you do get in the sales package are three pairs of silicone ear tips, ear wings that are pre-attached to the earbuds, and a Micro-USB cable for charging. The charging port is on the underside of the right module, which also has the controls for playback, calls, and volume.The Realme Buds Wireless earphones are powered by 11.2mm drivers, with Bluetooth 5 and support for the SBC and AAC codecs. The earphones have a claimed battery life of 12 hours on a single charge, and are said to offer 100 minutes of listening time on a 10-minute charge when the battery is drained. We were able to get around 9 hours of use in our testing, while a full charge of the headset took a little under 3 hours to complete.\xf0\x9f\xa4\xa9\xf0\x9f\xa4\xa9\xf0\x9f\xa4\xa9\xf0\x9f\x94\xa5 (Realme Buds Wireless performance)The Realme Buds Wireless bring a refreshing change to the budget segment, offering a great combination of design and sound quality for the price. Also, fans of electronic music will be happy to know that the Realme Buds Wireless have been tuned with inputs from popular DJ Alan Walker, and the sound does come across as geared for this genre. the wireless earphones with use AAC Bluetooth codecs. We listened to streamed music from Spotify and YouTube Music, as well as our collection of high-resolution tracks.\xf0\x9f\x8e\xa7\xf0\x9f\x8e\x9b\xef\xb8\x8f\xf0\x9f\x8e\xb6Starting with Take Five by the Dave Brubeck Quartet, we immediately noticed that the soundstage was considerably wider and more detailed than what we're typically used to hearing from products in this price range. Some of the percussion instruments sounded crisp and well defined, although the deeper elements in the middle of the track \xe2\x80\x94 the double-bass, in particular \xe2\x80\x94 was a bit soft and not quite as distinct as we'd have liked. Still, we found the sound to be detailed and rich on the whole.Next, we listened to a bit of Indian pop with an Unplugged rendition of Amar Arshi's Kala Chasma. Apart from some gentle aggression in the low end, we also quite liked the inoffensive nature of the mids and highs, as demonstrated with the familiar vocals of the track. The sound of the Realme Buds Wireless is tuned for comfort and near-universal appeal, and sticks to that brief. We heard just about as much detail and clarity as we could have hoped for from a pair of wireless earphones that cost less than Rs. 2,000.the Realme Buds Wireless as a hands-free headset for voice calls, and results were mixed. In some cases we found that voices on the other end of the call were soft, and our callers reported too much background noise \xe2\x80\x94 a crow cawing about 20 feet away sounded as if it was coming from right next to us, for the person on the other end. On other occasions, no issues were reported, so call quality seems to be largely dependent on your surroundings and possibly the strength of your cellular signal. (Verdict)More expensive pairs of earphones such as the OnePlus Bullets Wireless 2 and 1More Stylish Dual Dynamic Driver might offer much more by way of sound quality, but the Realme Buds Wireless does a capable job for just Rs. 1,799. This is a product worth considering simply because it is everything you need for the price.This headset is built well, has decent battery life, and is very comfortable to wear. The only significant problem for us was the magnetic power switch, which often led to the earphones automatically powering on at awkward times. That aside, the Realme Buds Wireless is a pair of earphones that does exactly what it's supposed to - no more and no less \xe2\x80\x94 with unwavering consistency, and we like it for that.Pros\xe2\x9a\xab1 Looks good\xf0\x9f\x94\xa52 Light and comfortable3 Detailed, rich sound for the priceCons\xe2\x9a\xab1 Magnetic power switch is troublesome2 Inconsistent performance on voice callsRatings (out of 5)Design/ comfort: 4.0Audio quality: 3.8Battery life: 4.5Value for money: 4.8Overall: 4.0Go and purchased\xf0\x9f\x99\x82\xf0\x9f\x91\x8d,First of all if you are a Electronic/Dance and Hip/Hop Genre kind of enthusiast than your search for a good quality earphone """"STILL CONTINUES""", it's not like these earphones are worthless for these genres and cannot be listened on these, surely you can listen and enjoy it but you just could not get the vibes you get while listening those on deep base earphones.From My music listening experience from 8 Years i can tell you that the Depth and that vibrating+ Surround base effect is not in this (it surely has some thumpy bass which is required for perfect balance in every genre) but due to lack of that deep base you will definitely regret your purchase if you're a Hip/Hop & EDM lover (THE MID TONES OF MUSIC ARE A LITTLE LOW IN THIS EARPHONE WHICH ALSO RUINS A LITTLE THE EXPERIENCE OF THESE GENRE'S SONG LISTENING EXPERIENCE).THIS WANNA MAKES ME THINK EVERYTIME IS ALAN WALKER REALLY TUNED THIS???FOR TRAP & HARD DANCE GENRE IT'S GOOD BUT NOT THE BEST.I can tell you such differences because I am also using a wired earphone namely MI Earphones PRO (1799 rs) which is excellent and produces very great sound for every genre and definitely have that deep base effect!!RATHER THAN FOR THOSE GENRE'S SONG THESE EARPHONES ARE REALLY GOOD FOR EVERY OTHER GENRES !!!If You're Fine with the above listed drawbacks Then only head towards the detailed review!:::UPSIDES:::1. THE MATERIAL QUALITY IS GOOD, ITS PLASTIC BUT FEELS LIKE A SOFT SILICON LAYER IS APPLIED OVER ITS TOP LAYER (BOTH ON THE NECKBAND AS WELL AS THE WIRES OF THE EARPLUGS).2. THESE ARE EXTREMELY LIGHTWEIGHT AND DOESN'T FEELS A LIKE EXTRA LOAD ON YOUR NECK AT ALL.3. NOISE CANCELLATION IS REALLY VERY GOOD, I'M REALLY IMPRESSED.4. MIC QUALITY IS ALSO THE BEST THAT CAN BE OFFERED IN 2000 RANGE (No Complaints)5. THE EARPLUGS FIT IS GOOD (BUT I ADVICE YOU TO REMOVE THOSE REMOVABLE ANGULAR PADDINGS FOR MORE SNUG FIT) AND COMFORT IS FINE (BUT COULD BE MORE BETTER AS MY WIRED ONE'S ARE REALLY MORE COMFORTABLE AND IF YOU HAVE ALSO EXPERIENCED SOMETHING MORE COMFORTABLE THAN THIS, THEN YOU CAN ALSO COMPLAIN ABOUT IT'S COMFORT FOR LONG USE).6. THE BLUTOOTH RANGE IS REALLY GOOD (STILL WORKS IF 2 ROOMS ARE IN BETWEEN)7. THE MAGNETIC ON/OFF CONTROL IS LIKE CHERRY ON CAKE AND WORKS LIKE CHARM!(WHEN YOU SEPERATE THEM IT TAKES 3-4 SECONDS TO CONNECT WITH YOUR PHONE IF ALREADY PAIRED BEFORE AND IF PHONES BT IS ON, AND IF YOU ATTACH THEM TOGETHER THEY GO TO STANDBY MODE AND GOES OFF IF NOT OPENED AGAIN WITHIN 5 MINUTES, IT'S REALLY GOOD THAT YOU'RE GETTING THIS MAGNETICFUNCTION IN THIS PRICE!!)8. SOUND CAN GO REALLY LOUD BUT I PREFER TO USE IT ON 60-70 %. MICRO USB CABLE + 2 PAIR OF EXTRA EARTIPS (SMALL & LARGE) ARE PROVIDED IN BOX (MEDIUM IS PRE-APPLIED AND IS PERFECT

Made of Good Quality Cloth materials. 3-4 zip chain compartments including laptop one. plenty of space. From inside waterproof material used. Stitching is good. Although to be keep on mind is that even it is made for 15inch laptop this wont fit with some old generation laptops or any gaming laptops coz they are thick so only office/normal laptop from current generation will fit easily as they are slim, The product is good quality as it can easily carry my laptop with charger and headphone. I was looking for such bag since long and the blue color is really appealing. The cloth material I liked because it is water repellent, so need not worry about little rain as well. The smaller pocket can easily hold wallet / mouse or any small goodies. Overall, I liked this product. Thanks!! Tabelito, Product quality is good. Easy to carry 14-15 inches laptop with charger. Bag having two small pocket where you can carry small things. Fabric is awesome and blue color looks more attractive. Superb stitching and finishing. It has a trolley bag support trap as well. Great for every day office bag and also for 1-2 days business trip., <https://m.media-amazon.com/images/I/71WqT8CoY6L. SY88.jpg, 1st> of all within Rs 300 I got this loot deal. My buying price 1100 for 15 inch I am writing this comment after 15 days with hard uses. One more thing I used one more 12 inch pad more than 6 month which one more britten screen to portronic 15 but that one not so smooth but both of them worthy and good., nice product at this range, Product is good overall but after a month I am struggling to erase the screen which was not the problem earlier when I recieved the product. After pressing erase button for 2-3 times, I am able to get the clear screen which is quite frustrating and I think this might be a battery issue and if it is then company should work on that. Also this erase button wipes out everything at once so no scope of making mistake, you cannot erase any particular info on screen, the complete screen erases at once. Otherwise it's very handy, saves lot of paper for rough work and a good product in this range when compared to other ruffpads., ok for remainder, Good one. It should have pen holder, First impressions are awesome. hope it work well for one year

The coverage never dropped and was mostly consistent. However it suddenly developed some snag and stopped connecting to the internet. Apparently the Ethernet port got damaged somehow. I tried calling TP Link service center numbers and realised how bad their service is. It's the first time in my life that a router has broken and that too after just over a year's usage. And to make it worse there's dismal after sales service. I tried to buy a replacement from tp link but that router came with problems as the connection wasn't stable. I think I'll finally look towards other router makers and avoid tlink product until maybe they start caring more for their costumers. Hopefully I'll find a good maker ., Good Router, After researching lot I settled on TP link A6, I was looking for better range router, this Router really worth the price. Dual band, guest wifi. I upgraded from tenda n301, and performance is really good. Range for 5Gz is not that good as 2.5Gz but which is accepted and no other routers in this range can provide better than this., I was using Tenda AC 10 router (since 2019) for 100Mbps connection from Local ISP (Mach1 Broadband, Mumbai). Most of devices (5 Mobiles, 4 Laptops, 1 Firestick) at my home work on 5Ghz except 1 CCTV camera. Range of Tenda AC 10 was good and used Digisol AC750 repeater for farthest room of my 2 BHK home. In recent lightning strike in Mumbai, power adapter of Tenda AC10 got burned out and performance issues crept in with replacement adapter. I was searching for router with good range and speed within my budget. I tried 2 routers (Mercusys AC1900 MR50G & TP Archer C80 AC1900) before this. Both Routers didn't meet my expectation. Range and speed of these 2 routers were poor than my earlier Tenda AC10. Amazon accepted returns without a single question. Thumbs up to Amazon. After some more research, I zeroed on TP link Archer A6 & C6. As per comparison on TP link website both are identical routers. After doing some more research on blogs and reviews, I found that Archer A6 is the latest model and had slightly better processor (both from Qualcomm). Hence purchased Archer A6. Feature of Onemesh is added advantage for adding onemesh repeaters in future. Separate Wifi SSID (with same strength on both 2.4 & 5 Ghz) as unnamed wifi can be seen on wifi analyser, as per TP link support page, this is dedicated wifi link for Onemesh repeaters. Now for router, Router is same as Tenda AC10 for coverage, it can not cover farthest room in 2BHK on 5Ghz. 2.4 Ghz band can cover 2BHK house, but speed is around 30 Mbps on 100 Mbps plan. However, speed on Archer A6 is better than Tenda AC10. I'm getting 90 Mbps upload and download consistently on devices 5~15 feet apart in 5Ghz. TP Link Archer A6 is better than costlier AC1900 routers. Just for info, I received US version (v2) of router instead of EU version mentioned on TP Link India website. Hence, firmware on TP Link India website will not match with device firmware. However, this device has auto update option directly from Internet. Also, router can be managed by TP-Link Tether app remotely (on internet even though not connected on same wifi) by login using TP link account on both router and Tether app. By trying so many routers, i understood that 5Ghz range will be week even with costliest router. Instead of using Digisol AC750 repeater, i installed my old Tenda AC10 in repeater mode for 5Ghz (2.4 Ghz disabled). Now my complete home is covered by 5Ghz signal. In the farthest room i receive download & upload speed of around 75 Mbps. I also tried old TP link Archer C50 which i had purchased when abroad, performance is not good in terms of speed and range as it lacks Gigabit ports, Beam-forming & MU-MIMO. My ISP has connected my link on Gigabit port of their switch in my society. However, cabling is only 2 pair CAT 5e which supports max 100 Mbps (full duplex). I will try to get cabling changed to either 4 Pair CAT 5E or CAT6 from ISP and check the performance. I will update review after cabling change. So in the nutshell i would recommend to go for router with Gigabit ports, Beam-forming & MU-MIMO even if your internet speed is less than 100Mbps as it is future proof. TP Lnk Archer A6 is good router meeting all requirement within the budget. Hope this review is useful in search of good future-proof router.-----

-----Edit 1: My ISP tried to replace my connection to FTTH and this router was connected to Fiber ONU using Gigabit Port. It worked only for 15 mins. Max speed was 230 Mbps. ISP was not able to resolve the FTTH issue and changed cable to 4 Pair CAT-5e, which supports Gigabit transmission. Now net speed is around 160 Mbps. My internet plan is 100 Mbps. I'm happy with the speed. I have asked ISP to change my connection to FTTH at last. Tenda AC10 is now working as wired repeater connected on gigabit port of Archer A6 using CAT5e cable. Now complete home received stable wifi of 160 Mbps on 5Ghz band. I will update once again when FTTH connection is successful. Good product till now 1 month, I am very Satisfied., I am really satisfied with this product as earlier my phone is keep getting wifi disconnected and I used to reconnect it and the same way VPN is keep getting reconnecting in my laptop hence my teams call used to disconnect during the meeting.. Now I am happy with this product where my vpn is not reconnecting even internet goes down and if any flatuations in the network as well.. Finally i am not seeing any issue with this router.. Best used for backup or archive drives. I've been using this since 2021 July and it has been quite a helpful one. I can also put my internal drives and make it external, making it easy for me to access my files, format my drive or use it for some other purposes. And Orico products are really sturdy and well finished products. Its worth buying the product, very easy to connect the HDD in the case just slide the cover and insert the disk, plug the cable and you are ready. Speed is also very good. The case is quite good in connectivity and transfer speed but the case body is made up of low quality plastic. It is advisable to go for a data case. I have been using this for couple of days and I am finally writing a review for this item. It works perfectly fine. I connected my 10 years old laptop hdd through it and I am getting about 75 to 80 MBps (Mega Bytes) read/write speed. Previously I purchased a "Sata Cable" which promised USB 3.0 but that did not give me more than 900KBps. So this time I made my choice and got this thing. It works fine and easy to install. Price is little high, I have been using this mouse since 2019, and I have to say, logitech built quality is second to none. I have throwed, and bashed this mouse on my table during my gaming sessions, yet this mouse still survives. Even the rubberised grips are still there. Go for it without any hesitation. For those having button issues, I have so far, replaced my left click and middle click button. I started developing these issues after 2 years. It's a simple soldering job to fix it. You can get replacement switches from tanotis. Now they work as good as new., So I've been using this mouse for quite a long time and believe this is the best mouse so far I've ever used. But the problem is with the cable, as another customer said the cable quality is not good the outer portion of cable from usb and from mouse side coming out and the inside wires can be visible. Even though mouse runs good but this is not good for long term usage. Other than this is pretty good mouse we have. At close to 150g, it is ridiculously heavy for fast-paced gaming. For chill RPG titles it'll do fine, but if you wanna play something like Apex Legends on this, forget it. The shape of the mouse is super comfortable, only mouse I've owned that didn't give me any wrist pain even after 4-5 hours continuous usage. Cable quality is what you expect, like it's not even braided. Since, it's an older generation mouse, it doesn't have the double-clicking issue Logitech is infamous for. After all that, I would say in 2022, just don't buy it, it's too old to justify spending any money on. You know and love Logitech. This is one of their best products. I'd say this is hands down my favorite budget/gaming mouse. It's nice and comfy, works properly, and also has multiple buttons to assign them to various actions, which is not just limited to games, you can assign them to windows actions as well. Have been using this for the last 2 years and I have absolutely no complaints, although my brother thinks that it looks like a beetle :)", https://m.media-amazon.com/images/W/WEBP_402378-T1/images/I/31nlfC1Yn7L. It was totally beaten up and inside the batteries of the keyboard had come loose although I could just pop it back in no problem. Thankfully it works fine, I tested all the keys and they are functional so let's get to the meat of the subject, or paneer if you're vegetarian: I think this keyboard's performance will vary according to your use case. For me the primary objective was to get an android compatible keyboard since I had shifted the majority of my workload from my laptop to my tablet. I checked the internet and settled on this little guy because of the glowing reviews and from my friend who had the ink variant of the keyboard. I bought it along with the Logitech Pebble M350 wireless mouse since it came in a bundle and honestly I don't regret it. Both of them fit very well into my work type and they've made my life a lot more easier. This is of course a bluetooth keyboard and it does not have any wireless dongles hidden away in the chase (I checked). The keyboard has no backlighting as expected from a wireless keyboard that runs on regular pen torch batteries, and from my friends experience this battery will last you a long time. The major feature of this wireless keyboard over the other brands in the market is the ability to switch between 3 bluetooth capable devices with the press of a button. Now I personally thought that I wouldn't be using this feature all that much since I was planning on using this keyboard for my android tablet. But then I realised that, I could set up my laptop as a second device and switch between my tablet and laptop without any issues making it easier to type out papers on my laptop and responding to texts, emails on my android tablet at the same time. Nowadays I can't stop using this feature since I have my phone, tablet and laptop paired to this keyboard and my productivity has become much more efficient. It is honestly very neat. The keys are rounded which is much more pleasant to type on than let's say square keys, and the slight inclination of the keyboard serves as good angle that reduces finger fatigue while typing. This comes with no wrist rest so people who have had hand injuries should either look for another keyboard or buy the wrist rest separately. The keys are membrane keys and they feel a bit stiff in my honest opinion, but nonetheless it has a good feedback and the typing experience is very comfortable. It does not have a number pad as you might have seen from the product images, so if you are someone that crunches a lot of numbers in excel you might want to skip this keyboard. The latency is quite low from my perspective, I don't think they have that crispy Logitech Lightspeed tech built into it though, but you won't be using this for gaming, and if you are planning to then please don't. This keyboard performs horribly in gaming, and I mean it's terrible. This is a keyboard targeted at people who do a lot of typing across multiple devices and it is built with portability in mind. If I am ambitious enough I can probably stuff this keyboard into my pocket, because of how small it is. Like my friends say I have small hands, well this keyboard was probably designed for a rat because my hands are huge compared to this keyboard. Sometimes while I am resting my hand on the homerow my ring finger accidentally presses one of the mushy media buttons at the top and everything I am doing goes into stasis. But that is more of a me problem than a problem with this keyboard. It does come with arrow keys which is very surprising. They actually managed to squeeze it in. I mean that's pretty much it for this keyboard. Don't buy it for Rs.3k I suggest waiting for a discount because this thing is certainly not worth that much. I would say this is like a Rs.1.4K keyboard but that's just my opinion. If you are buying this for the android experience then I suggest buying it bundled with the mouse. Because both of them kind of complete each other. With that being said I'm going to conclude my review. Mouse came turned on. Apart from that no issues discovered till now, it going good. It's one of the best budget keyboards I have ever used.. the membrane keys are very soft and easy to click. It's not lift off weight easy on the fingers it's been around 1yr since I bought this keyboard and I am using it ever since no issues so far and I am highly satisfied with my purchase definitely gonna recommend it. Very good typing experience so far, <https://m.media-amazon.com/images/I/61lIMl3tS4L. SY88.jpg>, Cons: No Caps Lock indicator Height isn't adjustable No backlight, The key travel is very very less, please keep that in mind. Otherwise a decent product at the price range., I bought this in combination with a Logitech Pebble M350 Bluetooth Mouse for the sole purpose of using it with my iPad. It has made my tasks easier and with recent iPadOS updates, there are tons of shortcuts that make iPad experience more productive. Since I was going for a retro-looking device, I chose Sand color. Makes me nostalgic about the old school computer devices that had similar finish. Connectivity is fast. You just switch it on and it's connected to your primary device in a matter of seconds, even less. They keys are not silent but at the same time not loud enough to disturb your environment. You can connect upto 3 devices and switch between them seamlessly with the push of a button. I'm also using the setup for gaming. Will maybe update later about that experience. Final Comments: Ergonomic, economic, portable and lovely! Recommend buy for all who need to get work done fast.. This Keyboard is awesome . It has a flawless connectivity and a great size get me need to get work done faster, this requires a wireless, a nice & pleasant connectivity and a great size for portability . It's easy to use. Print quality is also good. Scanning is easy and it's image is fine. Canon Product quality is good to say.,Shipment received in time on 25 th Sept. Due to lack of time i could test the product recently. It is working fine. Wi Fi set up could not perform successfully, i shall try again shortly. Other function are working satisfactory. Only worried is that the cost of its Ink Cartridges.,Printing photo's ar totally not clear,Pros:1) The Best / only wifi all in one printer in the range of 5k with ink saver (so called).2) Low usage required & low maintenance: Thought of buying ink tank but learnt from friends that it's suitable for heavy printing and when they didn't use it for a while repairs needed. Hence decided to go for inkjet with low cost maintenance. This doesn't require daily print like ink tanks.3) product is solid built and no issues observed so far. Many long term reviews also confirmed flawless working for years so decided this model.4) Print quality: Black is very good but colour is average. Does the job for kids school project purpose.5) Easy setup : It's very easy to setup if you are techy. Setting up WiFi took little bit of time (an hour). I hate reading manuals and it was first time with a printer at home.6) Wi-Fi printing via mobile is a breeze with Canon Selphy app. Easy photo editor by canon is also quite useful /handy.Cons:1) Black is good but Colour is pretty average. Like I said good enough for home /students purpose.2) Not happy with cartidges supplied by Canon. They seem to fill only half or less for demo purpose. It gave around 100 pages for black and 15-20 pages of color with lowest quality settings (where in they claim 250 Black and 100 color). Both cartridges were almost empty and mobile app started showing the same.2) Ink cartridges cost & yield: The cost cartridges seems to be increasing (when I was purchasing this it was around 500 for black but now it's around 600) and I had no faith on the yield based on what I have got with stock cartidges. It's not worth buying cartidges so go for refill.3) We only find CL 57S Which is small. Where is CL 57 (large size) ? Sound is decent and loud. However as it doesn't have it's own volume manager and only controls the systems volume, I have to keep the PC volume to 1% and still have to reduce volumes individually on apps and browser. SO somewhat of an inconvenience for me as I don't listen to things in loud volumes.Mic works fine however it s not exactly adjustable. Solid core surrounded by a spring so you have to bend it but it slowly goes back to an extent and the movement is limited.Cable is covered by very thick coating and seems durable, however, it is not free from interference. If your phone is near the cable you will hear the interference in the headphones.The light on the mic is static and does not indicate the 'mute' status. Can be turned off alongside with other RGB lights on the headphone.You can hear some whine when some software is trying to access the mic and nothing is playing in the headphones.,1. 7.1 is Just Awesome2. The Software Is Very Good3. comfort Is Just Excellent, Not that Good noise cancelling4. I bought it for 1600 and in that price u can't get this type of product5. If u have 2k budget try to get boat im300 it will give better comfort and noise cancellation.,The product is nice. For the price, it has good features. It is a bit heavy tho. The ears heat up easily and you can start sweating easily.,The product is as displayed and is really well built. But the upper part is of metal which adds to it premium-ness makes it heavy. Someone who only uses AirPods or other TWS will find it difficult to adjust. The wire is long and braided and the controller works great too. No need for any external drivers to use the control in mobile devices as well. Works absolutely fine with OTG without compromising noise cancellation.Overall a great deal for \xe2\x82\xb91299/-,Early reviewLiked:Looks are greatWire goodSound good bass good treble goodMic level is goodInterface acceptableCan hear sound going from left to right when enemy runningWorks on my mobile with otg good sound makes me happyDisliked:Fake add that it's 7.1 there was no demo either how it becomes 7.1 like there should be an audio file to demo 7.1 or some sort of test to prove so actually it's just a more organized stereo headset.... But it's OK for this price like many other I know.... Real 7.1 will be Dam expensive and can't be sure how human ear will respond to that technique.... At this stage I am still not convinced that is even possible in the headset anyway...Microphone isnt steady and irritates keeps on going below lip levelMust have Been detachable atleast,please dont search for light in mic as its not in the white modelone gets confused upon watching videosPeople complain earpain but they don't understand it isn't heavy or tight but the deep loud bass causes earpain which they don't adjust.Buy it.,Great sound. An impressive tablet for Android (at last), All good but minor bugs just don't upgrade it to 13.0.6. . New update details given, good tablet", "first i would like to comment on the tab market of India. the most peculiar thing I have seen in India is, when a particular product is aimed towards students or education suddenly corporations go out of their way to milk money and under deliver as much as possible. it is exactly opposite to how students are given access to technology in the USA. you watch the prices of chromebooks, tablets, back to school offers in the US and compare them to India and it feels extremely unbalanced. after the pandemic there was a huge surge in the tab market and tier 1 brands started delivering garbage for 20000 rupees. snapdragon 400, old mediatek, 4gb ram, abysmal non ips screen for 20k just to mint money and take advantage of pandemic scenario and the circumstances of students. THIS TABLET BRINGS THE REVOLUTION. I am no student, but bought this for day to day use and I am an user of the normal big bezel 7th gen iPad, so my review will be comparative in nature. also i bought this at 23000 rupees so my judgements will be in accordance to the price I paid. 1. if you are planning to buy an iPad, just buy it considering 64gb is enough for you and you use it for normie scenarios. you do day to day stuff you will be satisfied with your iPad with its everlasting updates. this tablet if compared spec vs spec give a good challenge to the iPad FOR 23K RUPEES. even for 27k it is fine. 2. build is fine although I put a tempered glass on the 1st day itself. back is plastic but sides are metal and the back gets quite smudgy. 3. the IPS screen is really good, there is no backlight bleeding, no dead pixels as you can see in the picture with the dark background. I am used to OLED screens on phones so at first blacks may disappoint but OLED is impossible at this price. the screen is better than my 7th gen iPad's display. it is brighter, has more punchy colours, blacks are darker. on top of that 120hz panel, hdr certification, dolby vision support makes it great for content consumption. it would be a great device for xbox cloud gaming with the xbox controller attached to it. display is the part of the device with which you interact the most and display is the highest point of this tablet. 4. snapdragon 860 is fine in a market where older mediateks and lower midrange snapdragons are dumped into the market. hence I say if you don't want this just buy an iPad but don't buy any other android tablet at 20-30k price point. all are trash. 860 was fine with all those games which rule the market today. it has less pixels to push than in a phone and the bigger surface area helps in better heat dissipation so gaming is effortless. 5. i can't comment on how the battery will serve me in the long run but for now i don't see any drain or backup issues with content consumption or gaming. it has a 22.5 watt charger in the box although it does support 33 watt charging. the bigger battery takes some time to charge with the inbox charger but my iPad takes even longer with its trash charger and it has a bigger battery and apple devices are extremely picky with chargers. 6. the camera is okayish, just like most tablet cameras. the iPad has even worse cameras. for document scanning it should be fine but other than that it is not much useful. it is still better than what samsung and lenovo gives in 25k range tablets. 7. the second highest point of this tablet is its quad speakers. they are loud. have depth. are not sibilant and have second highest point of this contest is the quad speakers. they are loud, have depth, are not sibilant and have brilliant stereo separation and soundstage. they are louder and punchier than those normal non ultrabook thiccc laptops which cost 40-50k. they will hit you as a massive surprise. i did not at all expect such good speakers. they seriously outmatch those cheapo 700Rs boat, goat, mivi generic speakers in terms of distortion at max volumes, separation and low end. of course those cheap speakers would be louder and more shrill but it is about quality vs quantity. coming to the cons-1. was it courage or something else that xiaomi couldn't find a place for a 3.5mm jack. not even a dongle in the box. they should seriously stop copying apple's wrong habits and instead copy their good habits like long device support via updates. although I mitigated the issue by using portable dongle DACs like shanling ua1, ibasso dc03....etc which i generally use with even my phones and my PC coz they are way better than on board audio of most devices except some devices like some LG phones with quad dac. i am an audio enthusiast so i spend money on such products and you need not. although it works with my old MI A2 dongle just fine. 2. for 23000 rupees I don't expect the pen and people who are expecting a pen with 23k tablet should really open their eyes and look the disaster also know as Indian tablet market and its offerings but for 27k they could just offer a bundle where you pay 1k-2k rupees more and get the pen as an add on. 3. the accessory market might not be that vibrant. already there are no unofficial cases available from good brands. there is one from nillkin here on amazon and the seller has the audacity to price it at 5000 rupees LOL. the official xiaomi folio case is magnetic slap on at the back and i don't trust those type of cases. one more issue that I would like to point out is that xiaomi lately has a tendency to creep up prices by 500-1000 rupees within a month or two by doing the good old ""GST BRO"". so if it ever reaches 28-29k for the 128gb version just close your eyes and buy an iPad with card discounts. so, in a nut shell for 23K it is was no brainer, but even for 27K it is a really good deal considering what its competitors are. hope this was helpful. I have been using the Mi Pad 5 for over a month now, and am only glad that I didn't spend more on an iPad. Once the retail-therapy phase of the device wears off, what remains is the user experience. While it is true for both devices, I find that I'm more at ease with the Mi pad 5 for the sheer look and feel of the content I watch in it. I also spend a lot of time reading books and illustrated designs (PDFs) and I often found myself amazed (almost chuffed) over how good the content looked. That display gets the accolades for a reason. The Mi Pad 5 largely meets my expectations and when people see this tablet, the immediate comparison they make is how much it resembles the iPad (a gross generalisation). So, here's my take on Apple's iPad (9th Gen) vs. Xiaomi Pad 5. If you have an Apple device already, and are especially looking to expand on the productivity element from the tablet, you need to stick to the iPad. Not just because it is going to regulate the standard, but you will definitely miss out on the features that eco-system offers. So, buy the iPad if you are not concerned about the price-tag are looking at designing with the Apple pencil and are familiar with, or going to use Procreate are making an investment with this purchase and will not be back in the market for a new tablet anytime soon. intend to use the tablet for presentations and want to take no chances with the device have a clear purpose for the 'Sidecar' feature - if you don't use it despite buying the iPad, you are missing out. I engage in a lot of official video-conferences and are prone to moving about and may accidentally go out of frame. The iPad has a feature that addresses this to an extent. are not expecting substantially higher results than the Mi Pad 5 from the in-built camera in general. have a proclivity towards the Apple design, their decisions and are generally happy with the software choices Apple makes for you. don't really care about features beyond a rigid list of activities you are certain the iPad is able to do; and that this list is unlikely to change in the near future. looking for a reliable product that will receive Software support for a long period of time. are expecting the device to be used by responsible adults who are careful with the tablet are unaffected by hefty repair costs should the glass crack or the rear panel be dented. have a need to use touch ID. On the other hand, buy the Mi pad 5 if you are looking at gaming on a plethora of titles that are on the Google PlayStore and perhaps not found elsewhere. don't care much about the stock iOS cookie-cutter experience and think customization is the only way you'll truly be happy with the tablet you use. want the best quality of video and photo capture from a tablet - meaning better video calls and video capture. This doesn't mean the camera will replace the phone you already have, but the Pad 5 is a tool that goes the extra-mile of taking good quality images, scanning documents and allows edits on its large screen. value video-quality from the Mi Pad camera than the AI that drives the face-tracking function iPad offers. want the most of the audio experience, higher audio quality, clarity and richness. are expecting rich colour depth, HDR quality video experience and will be spending more than 50% of your time on the tablet watching videos. don't like limitations imposed on you, as with the software you use (sideload APKs), rooting, Custom Firmware, overclocking, etc. If you do any or all of these, forget about the iPad. are mostly going to use it as a fun device to watch movies on or consume audio-visual media are not expecting to pay an arm and a leg (comparatively) to fix a broken screen or a damaged back panel. are okay without a fingerprint scanner and is okay with FaceID, PIN or Pattern for security. At the end of the day, you as a user of the tablet spend most of your time looking at the glorious screen of the tablet and interacting with what inside the device; not the logo at the back. The tablet is totally fine but sometimes is bucked out there is so many bugs bugs glitches I have contact to Xiaomi they will try to fix it. One req don't upgraded after you buy don't have to do 13.0.6 . After the update not a single Google application is running on floating window and while split screen there is so many Black patches around the bar white bar sometimes. nice tablet you can go with it. And if you are thinking about productivity multimedia go for it because most mostly as student do presentation word Excel taken notes and all the things and handle easily were by this tablet and I am using it for games and other purposes it handle it quite nicely but you have to wait for Android 1 because Android 12l is good for tablet. New update is here. So the new Android 12 update is here unfortunately is not Android 12 l but is working fine all the bugs has been fixed few minor bugs are there but it's totally refined from the past and system is working great 120 hertz now looks amazing because animation bugs has been fixed and battery life is been fixed is now working more than 10 hours fortunately video playback and for day to day task you can go easily 2 to 3 days because I am doing PPT Excel sheet and other documentation it's work totally fine and yeah that's the new update and go for xiaomi back 5. About pencil So I bought xiaomi pencil for 6000 and if I say latency has been improved but if you don't have the budget of 6000 go for another shopping site which name after f cart yeah \xf0\x9f\x99\x82 and you can buy it's f (smart buy) pencil for 1500 rupees it works fine too and you don't have to spend 6000 you can go with the 1500 just you will not have those key features like taking screenshots and write something on it or double tap to note down... over all i am satisfied with this tablet, "https://m.media-amazon.com/images/I/31jUKdJdJHL.SX300_SX300_0L70_FMwebp.jpg, "https://www.amazon.in/Snapdragon-Resolution-Refresh-27-81Cm-Display/dp/B09XXZX0C1/ref=sr_1_437?qid=1672903017&s=computers&sr=1-437\NB083T5G5PM,Sennheiser CX 80S in-Ear Wired Headphones with in-line One-Button Smart Remote with Microphone Black," Electronics|Headphones, Earbuds & Accessories|Headphones|In-Ear", "\xe2\x82\xb91,490", "\xe2\x82\xb91,990", "25%, 4.1, "98, 250", "Uncompressed and balanced Sennheiser sound for a unique listening experience|Call & music management via smart remote. The review is for Sennheiser 275 S earphone but items for comparison are:1.) Sennheiser HD 202 II over the ear headphone ,2.) Sennheiser CX 275 S In earphone3.) Sony MDR-XB50AP in ear Extra Bass earphones Just for an introduction i would like to mention, I am a dire fan for flagship Electronic goods & manages to fulfill my passion for the ""Taste of quality"" from time to time. Now let's begin.. When you start looking for earphones or headphones, Sennheiser is definitely a brand worth to look for and rightly so, The brand has acquired a great reputation of producing some top notch quality gears in its segment .I too ,started my quest to purchase some of the best sounding earphones within reasonable limits of purchasing power & excluding those insanely pricey ones.Read some very good reviews of the Sennheiser HD 202 II Professional Over-Ear Headphone from my fellow amazonians and bought it.Found it to be reasonably good but having certain drawbacks(may refer my review of HD202 at amazon) which were not upto my taste.Next ,Unsettled , I went to purchase these Sennheiser CX 275 S in earphones and here are my observations:DESIGN & CONSTRUCTION : Looks & feels delicate to hold with its extremely thin wires and if you are casual in handling frequently, then in the long run,its sure to fail.b.) Wires which are around 1.2 m in expanse are not tangle free and keep getting into random knots each time you get to use it.c.) Comes with 3 different sized earpieces to snug fit different ear-anatomies and provides decent sound isolation but not the best.d.) Inconvincing design of the earpiece globes as the bottom tail piece below the earpiece was not large enough to grip with fingers to comfortably fit or adjust the earpieces in the ears and each time you had to twist the spherical globes to snug fit.e.) Comes with a gold plated L-shaped additional adapter for better fitment to laptops etcf.) Comes with a small pouch , which for the most part was a useless accessory for me. A case or box would have been more a more elegant option. Squeezing the whole earphone into the li'll pouch everytime..naah !! feels primitive..! but then its my own two pieces.SOUND QUALITY & PERFORMANCE:xxThe sound quality is crisp & clear , with clear mids and crisp pitches, bass was okayish but leaves you craving for more every time you plug it-in to watch some movie or NATGEO documentaries.The lack of an adequate bass may even get unsettling sometimes.The frequency response as per specs was 17 to 23000 Hz against 4 to 24000 Hz of Sony MDR-XB50AP.Just to quote Sony's bass could get really deep & low with its 12mm drivers and neodymium magnets. For purists sennheiser does its job quite honestly but in general as for sony a little make-up won't hurt LOL.Sound quality is maintained till the maximum volume though it felt slightly that the mids succumbed to pitches at the apex.VERDICT : Lack of a decent bass & extremely fragile design is unacceptable at a price range of 1600 bucks *For me ""Not worth it"".DETAILS & COMPARISON :xxI happened to test the quality & performance of all the 3 renowned Sennheiser HD 202 II over the ear headphone, Sennheiser CX 275 S In earphone & lastly Sony MDR-XB50AP in ear Extra Bass earphones.BASS :xxThe extra bass at sony may feel out of place at rare instances but never feels Cheap, redundant or unpleasant to the ears. It's a quality refined timbre bass & not some low quality stuff. HD 202 bass was ok but then it had other issues with sound leaking from the pads and disturbing others.SOUND QUALITY :xxxxxxxxxxxxxxxxxxxxxxxxxxxxxxxxExcellent on all 3 but Sony a bit appealing with its phenomenal immersive bass.BUILD & DESIGN :xxxxxxxxxxxxxxxxxxxxxxxxxxxxxxxxAgain Sony>>Senn.HD 202 > Senn.CX 275S .Sony's wire were tangle free, earphone pieces felt indestructible, noise isolation was Ultimate>>Senn.HD 202 > Senn.CX 275S.The fragile design of the wires around Mic. In senn.CX 275 may itself be a let alone discarding feature for many.1.) Senn.HD 202 II might be good for gamers and watching from a distance with its long cord if leaking sound to outside world is not an issue.Bass is anytime better than Senn.CX 275 S but not as mesmerising as Sony.Sound quality though is very good,crisp and clear.2.) Senn.CX 275 S might be good for purists but even with its balanced Highs and mids..Serious lack of bass keeps you longing for more ..especially if you are more into movies,games and documentaries than music.Moreover its extremely fragile & always tangling thin wires is a constant annoying feature.3.) Sony MDR XB50AP gets the most evident and refined high quality deep bass with crisp high and quality mids.Its indestructible unique design offers the best noise isolation of all and comes with the most sturdy tangle free wires.Do not consider higher bass as an adulteration to pure music.Its a quality bass with frequency response as low as 4 to 24000 Hz.adds a mesmerizing essence to the quality of sound which is absent on other two.Probably like a Super amoled with extra vivid colors that look more punchy & full of life.Anyways at the end of the day its your call.keep listening.,NOTE:@ There are thousands of reviews for this product, but surprisingly there's hardly any review explaining its performance in long run and comparing this earphones with similar ones available in market.@ I am using these earphones since last one year and in the meantime I also happen to use JBL C100SI and Sennhesiers CX180, so I would be comparing all these 3 earphones in this review.@ You get a "" L "" shaped connector in these earphones, so note that.I am dividing this review in several subtopics directly stating my user experience and stating which is the Best earphone in that subtopic,BUILT QUALITY :-----\x20x97\x8f boAt - Flat cables which is tangle free in true sense. Metal housing holds up good, but colour sheds off after 5-6 months. Perfect ""L"" shaped connector which is apt for using with laptops while resting.\x20x97\x8f JBL - Small round cables, shredding off after 7-8 months of moderate usage. Plastic housing doing great so far.Connector is bent, but not in perfect ""L"" shape, so its quite pain to use while resting.\x20x97\x8f Sennheiser - Small round cables, holding up good after 1 year of rough use. Plastic housing has become slick, as rubber coating on it has shredded off. Perfect ""L"" shaped connector which is apt for using with laptops while resting.\x20x97\x8f WINNER- boAt 225 \x20x97\x8f COMFORT :-----\x20x97\x8f boAt - comfortable enough when used while in upright position. These are VERY UNCOMFORTABLE when you use them while resting on couch or bed for watching movies or so. Has very long earphone head.\x20x97\x8f JBL - Comfortable enough in upright position. Slightly uncomfortable using while resting, as these have offset opening.\x20x97\x8f Sennheisers - Comfortable in both the position. These are apt for long duration usage.\x20x97\x8f WINNER - sennheisers cx180 \x20x97\x8f LOUDNESS :-----CX180 > boAt 225 > JBL C5100SI\x20x97\x8f boAt - tends to distort above 75% level of volume.\x20x97\x8f JBL - Crystal clear even at full volume, but has least sound level in all of three.\x20x97\x8f Sennheisers - tends to distort above 75% level of volume, but has greater sound level of all.\x20x97\x8f WINNER - sennheisers cx180 \x20x97\x8f SOUND QUALITY (Bass, mids & lows) :-----I noticed that all of them have almost same Mids & lows, which are strong & Crisp. But bass levels are different.\x20x97\x8f boAt - has average bass, I am very disappointed with it, since these earphones are marketed as bassheads.\x20x97\x8f JBL - has least bass of all, I felt treble is high in these.\x20x97\x8f Sennheisers - ton of bass and when used proper eartips, its just a treat for bass lovers.\x20x97\x8f WINNER - sennheisers cx180 \x20x97\x8f SOUND QUALITY OVER CALL :-----\x20x97\x8f boAt - I noticed in early few months, quality over call was great, but started to deplete after 5-6 months. But its still good, not as good as new. Noise cancellation is good and noticeable by person on other side.\x20x97\x8f JBL - its quite average and has maintained the quality over a year now.\x20x97\x8f Sennheisers - their NO microphone, lol :PNOTE: boAt & JBL both's mics works with android and iOS perfectly.\x20x97\x8f WINNER - boAt 225 \x20x97\x8f CUSTOMER CARE :-----\x20x97\x8f boAt - 1 Year warranty. Had no issues

till date, so didn't got chance to check it. But some of my friends who ran into issue had mixed experiences.\xe2\x97\x8f JBL : 1 Year warranty. Had issue with one ear piece and was replaced within 2 weeks after contacting nearest service center.\xe2\x97\x8f Sennheisers : 2 Years warranty. I had 2 of these and one pair stopped working after a year and half, was replaced immediately within a week after contacting nearest service center.NOTE: I first contacted the company via mail with my product details and I was given all the required details for service. I would suggest this to all.\xe2\x97\x8f\xe2\x97\x8f WINNER : sennheiser cx180 \xe2\x97\x8f\xe2\x97\x8fCONNECTIVITY :-----All the earphones have 3.5mm connector and works perfectly with both android and iOS devices.VERDICT :-----I don't think I need to explain anything else now, since I mentioned all the points of all these earphones. To sum up, I would say boAt 225 are good, if you are going to use the mic alot and not going to use these earphones while resting on couch for watching movies. If you want mic and even want to watch movies resting, then go for JBL CS100SI. But if you want the earphones only for watching the movies and listening to songs like me, then certainly go for Sennheisers cx180.Hope this review helps you make sound decision.",https://m.media-amazon.com/images/W/WEBP_402378-T2/images/I/31VnhITYb+L_SY300_SX300_.jpg,https://www.amazon.in/Sennheiser-CX-80s-Ear-Earphone/dp/B083T5G5PM/ref=sr_1_438?qid=1672903017&s=computers&sr=1-438\nB08BHVPTM2C,HB Plus Folding Height Adjustable Aluminum Foldable Portable Adjustment Desktop Laptop Holder Riser Stand,Computers&Accessories|Accessories&Peripherals|LaptopAccessories|Lapdesks,\xe2\x82\xb9398,""\xe2\x82\xb91,9+ Plus Laptop Ergonomic Stand Or Laptop Stands For Office Desk Improves Your Posture Scientifically Designed To Help You Balance You\xe2\x80\x99s Sitting Posture Keeping Your Back Straight, Neck Relaxed And Wrists Natural Even After Long Work Hours|HB Plus The Aluminium Laptop Stand Or Metal Laptop Stand Or Foldable Laptop Stand Or Better Known As A Aluminum Laptop Stand Provides 6-Speed Adjustable Height, Adjust To Comfortable Operating Angle And Height Based On Your Actual Need. Nice Product & Highly Recommended.,Good quality and looks beautiful... I will surely recommend,(After using it for 3 weeks). I use Samsung M51, few months back my USB Cable was torn, so I wasn't able to fast charge. It took a decade to charge from 20-90%. Samsung original cable was too pricey and too flimsy, so I was searching for something durable. While browsing through the product page I was skeptical to place an order, as the company claimed too many features in such a low price. Keeping the negative thoughts aside I ordered it anyhow. The product was delivered well in advance, which made me happy.I unboxed and plugged in the cable, to my surprise the cable delivered everything that the company claimed. The ends have aluminum casing which makes it durable and away from regular wear and tear, it has LED indicator on both ends which turns on when the charger is plugged to the phone. Also, the box that it comes with has a secret code that you need to scratch to reveal which helps to check its authenticity.It easily fast charges my phone in an hour. Overall, I'm very happy with the product.I highly recommend this cable to anyone who needs a fast charging Type C to C cable.Will update this review if any change is observed.",https://m.media-amazon.com/images/W/WEBP_402378-T1/images/I/41gzmbiIgI_L_SY300_SX300_QL70_FMwebp_.jpg,https://www.amazon.in/oraimo-Charging-Syncing-Indicator-Compatible/dp/B08B86CDHL1/ref=sr_1_440?qid=1672903017&s=computers&sr=1-440\nB01NBX5RSB,HP 65W AC Laptops Charger Adapter 4.5mm for HP Pavilion Black (Without Power Cable),Computers&Accessories|Accessories&Peripherals|LaptopAccessories|LaptopChargers&PowerSupplies,\xe2\x82\xbf Input: 100 ~ 240V 50~60Hz, DC Output: 19.5V 3.33A 65W,HP INDIA WARRANTY|This Package Includes Adapter/ HP User Guide/ HP Genuinity Check Manual|Compatible with: HP Pavilion TouchSmart 15, HP Pavilion TouchSmart 15t, Hp

I organized it using insulated thin metal tie cable. But when i open it to add more cables or remove cable, it was broken and not looks good. Also i was afraid that tightening the tie cable may cur the wire since it was so thin and insulation is also very thin. But after i use this, it looks so neat and it is easy to remove or add more cable whenever required. adhesion of wellgrow is good. Overall, i like this product I suggest dont to precisely cut the wellgrow. Add some 50-70% of extra length which will allow to add more cables in future if needed, All was good, but I received 6 pieces instead of 7. Since I have used 1 already, I'm not going to return it. Just requesting the sellers to deliver as promised. Other than that, the2 product is great, and works great., Not only WFH setup, but also if you're dealing with a lot of wires, this is the way to go., Good quality, Good quantity and quality, sticks tightly and easy to strap. Helpful for keeping wires organized at work table (laptop charger , mobile charges etc), I had to bind together variable number of wires at different places and this worked great without any wastage., Useful to organize wire . Little expensive but I don't have time to find it in my locality and quality is also good., These are strong and better than plastic tags which you normally use to keep wires in order. Accurate to my usb apparatus. Good value Till now i had purchased about 20 cables both micro and c type for myself and my family appreciated, good value, now I had purchased about 20 cables both micro and c type for myself and my family in this last one year. Its all because this brand wins my trust by providing great quality with reasonable price, na, tested with 2.4 amps charger and phone. gives full 2.4 amps power to phone. the cable LOOKS thick and it has nice texture. despite that, i am sure it is not very durable. the usb connectors are extremely sturdy and they dont bend or flex. the wire will break before the connector does!! warning: usb micro connector has a strong hook. be careful while plugging and unplugging, or you may damage your device. very cheap and usable cable for 120 rs, Super power, Nice product., In this price this is the best one", https://m.media-amazon.com/images/I/41gEqSHngYL_SX300_SY300_OL70_FMwebp.jpg, https://m.media-amazon.com/images/W/WEBP_402378-T2/images/I/711gqvR0cIL_SY88.jpg, Brought it for my 3 years old nephew, he is just in love with these camel colours., Good to use and handling color with boc, I purchased this for my 5 year old who does not like to stop drawing. The range of colours covers all tones desirable. She has been in love with it since the day it arrived. I couldn't resist myself from using this set (of course, when she was away\x0f\x9f\x98\x83). The colours are smooth and bright, blends very well. It is good for any types of portraits, even those with bold colours., Easy to use, Good product but easily breaking in pieces when applying more pressure, Good\", https://m.media-amazon.com/images/W/WEBP_402378-T2/images/I/31filqqY7-L_SX300_SY300_OL70_FMwebp.jpg, https://www.amazon.in/Camel-Oil-Pastel-Reusable-Plastic/dp/B00LY12TH6/ref=sr_1_448?qid=1672903017&s=computers&sr=1-448\nB09RWZRCPI, \"boAt Type C A750 Stress Resistant, Tangle-free, Sturdy Flat Cable with 6.5A Fast Charging & 480Mbps Data Transmission, 10000+ Bends Lifespan and Extended 1.5m Length(Rebellious Black)\", Computers&Accessories|Accessories&Peripherals|Cables&Accessories|Cables|USBCables,\xe2\x82\xb99399,\xe2\x82\xbaAt Type C A750 cable is compatible with smartphones, tablets, PC peripherals, Bluetooth speakers, power banks and all other devices with Type-C ports.|It ensures 6.5A fast charging for all the latest charging protocols and data transmissions with rapid sync at 480 Mbps|The convenient flat cable design makes it tangle free, sturdy and invincible against external damage.|Its ultra-durable PVC housing shell housing and extended tail protection makes it last longer to give a 10000+ Bends Lifespan.|boAt's Type C A750 cable offers a perfect 1.5 meters in length for smooth & hassle-free user experience.|2 years warranty from the date of purchase.\", \"AFJYK4FXVGRSTSLGVUE5JGB2NVA, AEVJIJSEUXPBRKQ2PB4JNBUTFRA, AGRLDCA7VJZZTV4GUIODVQ3DTHA, AEUDATTJUCKFI sebi, Anand k., Rahul Pandita, Fazil Mohamed, Steve, Shivasunhith, Varun Kumar, Advaid Haridas\", \"RMEKYV7XWTWKV, R1PYVXH6MGUQLU, R3FUT08S34HBHW, R2X57Q7030Q9DG, REPXGC5R2LG85, R399JBQZ8JKDKC, R1N2RQSGT0EZ. speed is not guaranteed!, Exactly as advertised, Excellent warp charge cable, Nice, Amazing cable, Best fast charging cable, Really a good cable, Recommend\", \"Yeap this cable support 65w fast charging tested on my 65w brick of realme 7 pro.. Cable and pins quality looks good. Since i couldnt find original cable for 65w charger of realme i was searching for long time for a good one... Charging speed depends on number of factors and only in best condition it will go above 50 watts and the brand only claims that 65 watts fast charge if only you use the brand's inbox charger . For me personally I tested out at multiple occassion using it for a month or two I never got speed above 38 watt and i tested it with the cable that I received from the box and it also gave me the same speed so buy carefully if you're conditions are good and you get speed more tha 50watss then only you should buy it or you should go with 3A/4A cables as they are cheaper and more durable braided cables, The cable supports fast charging (I'm using a OnePlus 65W charger) as advertised. If it could have been round and braided instead of flat ribbon cable, that would make it more durable. In my experience, braided cables are easy to wrap and store when not in use and they dont get frayed easily. My cable stopped fast charging after two months of usage but warranty support was excellent, I submitted the cable at a nearby centre and a new cable was shipped within 3 days. I've been using Boat Cables for about 6 years now (a cable from a Moto G4 phone is still with me and in use) and will stick to them., Got the original one, but there are fake cables being sold, so beware. It warp charges as it supports 6A power supply. The cable is long and sturdy compared to the typical OnePlus cable in the box. The price of original OnePlus cable is 890 mrp but this i got for 400 and is not unlike other third party wires. Definitely worth it. \x0f\x9f\x91\x8d\x0f\x9f\x8f\xbb, Best in price segment and durable material tangle free alsi, Amazon send me a used product but the cable is super and support fast charging and the quality is also good but they sent me a used product by others if not it's super product and 3 year's of warranty on it just buy it, Very good quality fast charging cable, getting good quick charging through laptop also. Flat cable design makes it more durable., I have a OnePlus 7t with 30 Watts charge, My original wire had been destroyed few years ago and was searching for a cable with 6v-5a for fast charging, I had buyed many wires but the phone was not charging as fast as 5he original one. product,its good, but micro usb doesn't fit my phone,good and useful item, it is very best cable,good,2 in 1 Charging Cable.,Sturdy cable overall,Nice & Best Charger Cabel", "Product is good , and also it's strudiness .But no fast charging in this cable , it's normally charging . I love it because it's supported in micro usb , or type c . Over all good .Pros / advantage :- -1) 1.5 meter wire 2) more durable3) supported dual mode type c , micro usbCons / disadvantages:- normal charging , not fast charging,Though it is braided, but it is not strong like boAt. But it's okay to use it. Supports turbocharging.,Working well after months of use. Only thing is that if there is slight pressure, the C -type adapter will come off from the micro usb head. So better to see that the cable is not stretched when using the C type adapter. Otherwise working fine and very convenient for me since i usually have a phone with C type charging and a small Tab with micro USB charging when i travel. I need to carry only one cable now with my powerbank. Will recommend.,Best cable,good,Both Micro USB & Type C mobile connector's are getting charge.Good Decision to purchase this product.,Cable is a good fibre braided with good length.The connector also has a tight fit, sometimes you have to apply a bit force to remove(ig it'll wear off after usage).In comparison, boat has a better quality i would say if u get that in offer as it has metal braided cable and better quality microusb pin.,I like the product bcuz it's help me to charge both phone Type C & Micro Cabel",https://m.media-amazon.com/images/W/WEBP_402378-T2/images/I/31x3IUfMnel_SX300_SY300_QL70_FMwebp_.jpg,https://www.amazon.in/Ambrane-ABDC-10-Charging-Transmission-Compatible/dp/B09CMP1SC8/ref=sr_1_454?qid=1672903017&s=computers&sr=1-454\nB099SD8PRP, "Lenovo 130 Wireless Compact Mouse, 1K DPI Optical sensor, 2.4GHz Wireless NanoUSB, 10m range, 3button(left,right,scroll) upto 3M left/right clicks, 10 month battery, Ambidextrous, Ergonomic GY51C12380", "Computers&Accessories|Accessories&Peripherals|Keyboards,Mice&InputDevices|Mice", "\xe2\x82\xb9579, \"Compact Mouse that's built for You: The Lenovo 130 Wireless Compact Mouse, designed with your convenience in mind. Only cons is 1st time connection is Lil messy. Once it connected no need to look back, Value for money (bought it for around 1300/- on sale), quick & easy to install & good coverage., bought this as wifi was not working in my room due to placement of router. was very doubtful to buy as it was pricey as per my view but once you buy you can take it with you when you move or shift so it's a forever product. strength of wifi is so good now i can watch lectures. just install app. you can also add or remove people who uses it. very manageable., I bought this as a backup extender. Setting it up was a breeze but I faced a silly self-inflicted issue. I entered wrong WiFi password during setup but setup completed as if the connection to the router was successful. When I tried to browse, it showed ""no internet"" connection between the extender and the router. It took me some time to troubleshoot and correct the password. Ideally, the setup process should have highlighted the error and stopped the setup process showing the connection to the router was not successful, it would have saved me some headache to troubleshoot. Extender Coverage: I use the extender to reach a corner of the house about 45ft away from the router where I get sporadic and weak signal (5MBPS). I locate the extender about 30ft away from the router to extend the network and now I get a connection of 20MBPS. It is enough for my work. Speed Test Results: > At the time of testing, my laptop recorded a speed of 90MBPS next to the router. > At the point where I located the extender (30ft away), when directly connected to the router, the laptop recorded a speed of 30MBPS. > At the same point when connected to the extender, the laptop recorded a speed of 27MBPS, only 10% drop (not so bad). 15 feet away from the extender without direct line of sight, the laptop recorded 21MBPS+. Overall, I am satisfied with its performance., <https://m.media-amazon.com/images/I/613f3cGFTwL. SY88.jpg>, Good for home use but its Range is like till one room only it can extend, not much, but good one, like my router is in middle passage in my home but its range doesn't come out much without extender, when i started using extender it pulls the Range till this specific room, if your room is one after the other then it won't go till last room., Extends my wifi signals and does its job very effectively. The battery life is too good if used without LEDs. With LEDs it will last around 2.5 to 3 hours only. Without LED more than 5 hours for sure. Don't expect too much bass and overall sound quality is good for what one is paying. Justifies its price. Initially I was using JBL G0 (version 1) but surely I can say JBL was way too better with bass than this one but obviously JBL was double the price. Go for it if u want a decent sound quality with fancy led lights. overall 4 star. PS- The size is actually larger than what it feels in the pictures., It's good for home purpose kids to entertain music and light effect but not for party or something like that, Such a best product at this price but little disappointed as in photos and description they said memory card slot is there but when I got this product, memory card slot was not there but still I like this product and specially lighting effect and good bass sound, Sound is no doubt good. bluetooth range is short... battery life is not up to the mark. Led light is too good., I would have rated it 5 star but 1 sudden night it really made a chaos! It was uncontrollable, not switching off, made horrific noise out of the blue. I kept it outside whole night so that the battery drained out and next day it was functional. I think that was a software glitch, anyway it didn't appear again for sake!, Good but battery drain pretty fast..., Volume is less, Nice products", <https://m.media->

It seems to work fine till date. Sometimes it hangs and I have to restart it but compared to previous ones it is fine. Not 100% reliable but the customer service and replacement has been good. Would recommend the product if you have a backup mouse with you as it is not completely reliable. Update 2: The replacement mouse broke within 2 days. It stopped working completely and the mouse cursor doesn't even move. Asked for a refund but they are sending me another mouse after testing it for a week. I am losing hope. Update 1: I contacted their WhatsApp customer service number, they arranged for a replacement immediately and I received it after a week. I had to use an old mouse in the mean time. I used to trust offbeat products but I am greatly disappointed as this mouse broke just after two weeks. The mouse pointer moves erratically on it's own. The return window closed two days ago and I can't return this broken garbage. I will file a complaint to consumer court if I am not refunded., Good, I use apple's magic mouse regularly which is a superior one for obvious reasons (stylist design, it supports gestures, battery backup is unparallel). This offbeat mouse is almost as per in terms of ergonomics and design. We can not expect this mouse to support gestures (at this price point and innovation) but does the job well. The good part is, you have dual modes of connecting, dogle and Bluetooth. Decorative lights are a plus. I tested this mouse connecting to MacBook and works all well. For battery and charging, I am not able to comment yet as not used for long term. Overall a happy buy... :), Good battery life, Adjustable DPI works well, easy to use & switch devices, Bluetooth is sorted, RGB has low illumination. Hence, appreciate it.Packaging: Not Good. The box was tempered, torn and damaged.Product: Ordered Black, received brown. Didn't replace as the Color didn't matter much. Issue is with the seller though.Performance: The pen of good. Robust, feels cheap however, looking at the price not to complain. Writes smooth.For anyone who wants to enter into fountain pens, can start with this as it does the job.Edited: Have been using this pen for over 3 days now, I am facing issue of nib dryness. If I don't use the pen for sometime. The pen doesn't write at all. I have to wet the nib or do something or the other in order to make it start writing. It writes great when it starts writing. But the initial pick up is really bad. I have a platinum preppy too. It's a better option to go with if the budget is tight. However, there we have good writing but bad looks.,Few points I have been reading about this pen which I would like to answer. (Compared with two other pens- Parker Vector and Luxor V5)1. Grip Read in couple of reviews regarding the thick grip and the "curve" at the grip which makes it awkward to hold. Honestly, have not felt so at all. The grip is pretty medium, larger than Parker Vector and comparable to the Luxor V5. It wont create any problems holding it. I am an average 5'10 and people of same build, hand and finger size wont be any problem. Also on Parker Vector the metal body starts to feel slippery due to metal, small grip and feels tiresome after writing couple of pages. Been nice to hold the Elegante and feel firm in hand, it makes one feel like holding a pen with substance :) .2. Nib and feeder: It says Fine on the nib and it is comparable to the Luxor V5 0.5 and Parker Fine nib. Few claim it is 0.7 / medium kinds. Its all about the pressure on puts when writing it. I just touch the nib on paper and rest the pen does, so would say- it is Fine. It is way too smoother and fluent than Parker which felt a bit rough. Parker Fine nibs give a feedback making it bit of a dragging experience. However on Elegante the nib just flows and slides over the paper. It is not only the nib but also the feeder which ensures the nib slides. The feeder ensures that there is even flow of ink through out the writing experience. The writing it leaves is slightly wet and not dry, personally i prefer that over the dry and dragging. This ensures that one gets to write about 6 pages i.e 12 sides without a refill.3. Plastic construction and feel in hand: The cap is made of brass(as they say). The cap has a ""matte"" finish, not a glossy one. The clip and top is glossy. Gives a fair enough good contrast to add some ""looks"" to it when taking it out of the pocket :D . The pen itself- very much plastic. If I try to weigh both the cap and pen separately, roughly they feel of same weight, it is that light weight (just a feel factor how I felt). However this does not mean it is a cheap construction. It has fallen from 2 floors down and did not crack anywhere, so would say its good strong plastic. It makes one feel pretty solid holding it. The size if compared to other two is larger. It rests pretty well in between my thumb and index finger(which parker does not, Luxor does) , hence never needed to put the clip on the rear. Without the clip it is very much balanced (Parker and Luxor both feel well balanced without the cap placed on top) , with clip Elegante and Parker feel a bit -top heavy.4. Ink filling: Personally always been a fan of eyedroppers(good old school days) , however this comes with the standard piston filling(as seen in the photo by Hari). When I immersed the nib in the pen and pulled the piston it just filled half. Had to dip the whole nib till the grip when it got filled. In parker just dipping the top nib was sufficient. For Luxor pulling the whole top part out and then refuel it seemed very tedious. Some other reviews I read people have tried removing the piston converter and used it as eyedropper!!! Few said it worked , few said it leaked. Need to substantiate it. Not sure and hence wont try this out to spoil such a nice piece. If anyone has tried would love to hear your experience.5. Writing after 3 weeks: For Luxor, it works immediately! Even after 6 months it worked like magic. For Parker bit of dipping, or couple of splashing out and it starts. For Elegante it did not start immediately. From school days used to have an Airmail (unfortunately misplaced it when i shifted) it used to work like a beauty even after 3 weeks. Elegante on this aspect did not fair so well. However, how many of us are not going to use their Pen for 3 weeks, always something to write, sign or pen down :) . It worked fairly after a break of one week.6. Colour: Personally the ""looks"" of a pen hardly matter to me. Its the balance in hand and the nib which are the real heart and soul. We pay crazy on high class pens just for the looks. For few people this matters more- individual choice and nothing against it. Parker gives a good classy look, Luxor makes one feel more of a student than a person with authority or executive. Elegante would be a mix of both and middle of both. Neither a college going look nor an Executive look. On looks it does fair enough justice- The cap and two metal rings is all that makes it stand apart. Would have loved if they would have made more colours than Maroon, Black and Blue. Nonetheless these colours are the royal colours and pretty good than what Reynolds have- bright designs which are more for school going kids to attract them. This does enough for me.7. Spare Nibs and feeder: Not sure if there are spare nibs available online. I am at a location which is 100s of km away from any civilization in a jungle or a desert and only way is to order online (thankfully speed post delivers faster than couriers :lticaptd:) . After using this nib, I would personally not place any other nib. I am pretty happy about it. (always good habit to have spare nibs, dont know when one drops it and needs to change).8. Recommended for: Its a must for student. At this price range where one is still studying and not earning, this sounds a good buy, though not the best as Luxor beats this is VFM. Parker, would never recommend it for students. If someone wants to carry it for exams- carry 2 atleast, all due to the limited piston converter capacity. Luxor- would be best. If you are an executive sitting in a board of meetings where you want to make a statement by what you carry then there are many other alternatives. This is fair on looks and pleasure for writing :) :) :) .9. Value for Money: For a standard person like me or a student, Luxor beats Elegante and Parker. However for a fountain pen- This is an excellent VFM :)Well, this sums up my experience after using it. Anyone has anything more to add to this or share their side we all would love to hear it,\xe2\x98\x85 First of all, it came in a really bad condition. The package was almost flattened. All thanks to the people connected with the transition and delivery. Thank God it doesn't have any dent.\xe2\x98\x85 Secondly, it is probably a used product. Because it came with the smell of ink in it out of the box.\xe2\x98\x85 Thirdly, the brand claims that it is having a fine nib, but probably according to the European standards. I am a Pilot lover, so I know what fine nib is. This is medium sized nib at its best according to the standards of Pilot. Using a pen with fine nib is like having a perfect orgasm. You remember the experience for a long time. The handwriting also becomes better. That's lacking in this pen.* Thankfully it doesn't squirt ink every now and then like most of the other cheap fountain pens. I had two Wingsungs. Those were unbearably squirty.\xe2\x98\x85 Fourthly, the grip is average.\xe2\x98\x85 Fifthly, if you are a beginner, you may go for it, as it will obviously let you get used to the fountain pens. You may use it as a day to day pen.BUT DON'T STICK WITH THIS ONE ONLY. EXPLORE THE WORLD OF PILOT IF YOU HAVE THE BUDGET. TRUST ME, YOU WON'T LOOK BACK TO A PEN LIKE THIS. I WAS GIFTED A PILOT CROCODILE FINE NIB BY MY MOM. I WANT TO KEEP MY MEMORIES WITH THIS PEN SAFE. SO I DON'T USUALLY USE THAT. THAT'S WHY I'VE BOUGHT THIS ONE.\xe2\x98\x85 Lastly and most importantly, a suggestion to the buyers, to make your pen experience ergonomic, please don't put the cap on the backside. Open the cap, keep it aside and unleash your writing...very nice pen., it's really amazing very smooth writing.thank you seller & amazon.,Its not for speedy writing, if you are use for signature its cutting off character,..., Some time spread over ink. And some time character cutting.... Cheap plastic product but at a 200 good for beginners.I've been using this pen for about 3monthspros:Build quality for this price is amazinggold Nib looks amazingcons:Nib comes out easily,Just that the neck area of the pen was little broad for me to get used to ..Guys I have started using fountain pens again a few months back. I had used all types of fountain pens during my school days like COLLEGE brand eye droppers, Camlin, Parker (made in USA), Hero (China made). Recently I am using Platinum Preppy which is very smooth and excellent pen and yes expected since it is Japan made. This the Camlin Elegante is our very own Made in India pen. It makes us proud. Just superb pen. Very smooth. It is actually a no nonsense pen. Only thing...since I had read a few negative reviews about this...I am using it with PILOT BLUE ink. I don't know whether ink quality is further improving its performance or what? Whatever it may be....This pen with Pilot ink combination rocks...just superb experience of writing with THE FOUNTAIN PEN. Extremely easy to use", "I bought this item in August 2022, and the delivery and packaging was as good and sturdy as I've come to expect from Amazon. Using the printer from my Macbook is a breeze over wifi, although printing over wifi from Android requires some poorly designed app from Canon and has no direct support. The only couple of issues I faced with this printer were during setup. 1. Scanning the qr code for the setup guide didn't actually lead to much of a guide, rather a boilerplate page. I would only much later find out the way from that page to the actual guide. Canon could do a better job of surfacing the online guide, as the image clarity in the included hard copy is quite poor. 2. Installation of cartridges seemed to take forever - I must have removed and re-inserted them almost 5 times before they were properly detected. No error messages showed up, and I didn't know if I had recieved a faulty product, or if I was doing something wrong. 3. Never having owned a printer, and always using either copy shops or the huge laser printers at work, I ended up making a mistake in setting up the paper tray, leading to a jam at the first print itself. Thankfully it was straightforward to open up the printer from the back side and remove the torn pieces. Canon could do a better job of demonstrating how to set up the paper sheets - clearer access to the online guide might've helped here. Except for the these minor concerns in setup, I'm enjoying using this printer surprisingly, since printers (alongside projectors) are usually the worst items ever developed by the electronics industry. I've used all the features so far - print (colored, double sided), scan and copy and not faced any issues with quality, wifi or the cartridges. < Information on the number of color and black-and-white sheets from the initial set of cartridges to be added when I run out>, good scanner & printer, Installation procedure is very simple and priter quality is high. I had a Xerox copier, but istallation of scanner option could not complete., If you are purchasing it for your home use, don't look any further. It has got all the functions you'll find in a 20-30k worth printers. All in one includes print, scan, copy and fax as well, Colour, adf, duplex printing, wifi. You download the app in ur phone and give print commands via mobile itself. Only two issue that I faced, firstly the print quality(which I'll speak to the service center) and secondly is the total quantity of color prints. I have only taken out couple of color printouts bad already the level of ink is 90%. I guess I'll have to purchase a larger cartridge.,Very good printer. Sometimes back to back printing cases paper blockage. But overall very happy,gud printer but printing cost is expensive. in this price range features are very nice.,I got this printer ion 02Nov2022, After 15days of usage ..I'm unable to print as it is showing Color & black ink is low ..i have print less than 50pages ...and in description they told that 400pages yield which is totally wrong.,Canon E4570.This was launched as a successor for E4270 (I searched everywhere but couldn't find a credible source to explain the differences between the two). I researched extensively before purchase to find a printer which will fullfil the following criteria for me - wifi enabled (so that we can print with smartphone without opening the laptop), clear color print (decent for child's homework, photo quality not required) and cheap to run. E4270 seem to fit all the criteria, so I ordered this. Even the canon authorised showroom didn't have E4570 in stock, so ordered the E4570 off Amazon.Summary - fullfills top two criteria. Though is a little expensive if you do more than the occasional print.Delivery was 3 days earlier than the delivery date shown on Amazon, so that was great. It was just the printer box, with no outer packing. The box was sealed with cello tape, and not sealed, so I suspect it had been opened at some point. Thankfully, all the components were there, and the seal on the printer and cartridges were intact, so i was ok with the delivery.Setup was smooth on both my smartphone and laptop over wifi. I never had to use the usb cable. Setup was through the canon app on phone and the canon website (link for both given in manual), which guides step by step on how to setup. I did not face any challenges and the setup and printing has been smooth from all devices.Color prints are a bit faded on plain paper (75gsm). This might be a function of the paper and not the printer. The black&white prints are crisp and sharp. The print speed is decent.The only negative is the amount of ink consumption. While the box says 180 color prints and 300 b&w, both my cartridges are showing at 80% after 4 color print and around 30 b&w. Specially for color prints, the printer tends to drop the cartridge level by a notch after just 2-3 prints. I suspect the color cartridge will not last longer that 30-40 full color pages. Refilling the cartridges a few times is of course an option, but it is messy and requires practice. This is fine for me as I need color prints very rarely.A special mention for the ADF and duplex printing. Both the features are extremely useful. Duplex printing is especially unique in this price range, and comes in very handy while printing larger documents.Overall, I am happy with my purchase after couple of weeks of usage. I will update the review if I run into any issues.",https://m.media-amazon.com/images/W/WEBP_402378-T1/images/I/31AZelC8URL_SX300_SY300_QL70_FMwebp_.jpg,https://www.amazon.in/Canon-E4570-Efficient-Printing-Compatible/dp/B09F52694W/ref=sr_1_485?qid=1672903019&s=computers&sr=1-485&nB0B25LQQPC,"Crucial P3 500GB PCIe 3.0 3D NAND NVMe M.2 SSD, up to 3500MB/s - CT500P3SSD8",Computers&Accessories|Components|InternalSolidStateDrives,"\\xe2\\x82\\xb93,307","\\xe2\\x82\\xb96,100",read/write speeds up to 3500/3000MB/s|Spacious storage up to 4TB|Solid Gen3 performance. Boot time has reduced from few minutes to 15 sec. Running performance is very much improved. Just go for it. Only concern is , I dont see the screw with this SSD to fix it in laptop.,Does not come with a screwdriver, had to buy a separate tool kit just for this simple installation, other than that everything else is perfect. Great speeds and performance, did a little benchmark using crystaldiskmark and I've gotten good scores overall.NOTE: that I recommend using momentum caching provided exclusively by crucial firmware/software which allows you to boost your overall performance of your SSD at the cost of more ram usage, and if you are using momentum caching make sure to ONLY use it if you have a laptop with a battery backup or If a PC than a UPS since I've seen data loss and corruption happening due to abrupt power lost and data files getting corrupted and lost forever if you were in the middle of something. I liked the laptop and carries out my normal daily task with ease. Booting is quite fast and infact automatic boot once you lift the upper panel. Quite fast and snappy no lags with good audio quality. The only complain is all the ports are on the left hand side of the laptop that makes it inconvenient. Also one more missing element is type c port. Overall a decent product., Works well, and no issues. Got the warranty registered with Lenovo to match the purchase date. The laptop speed is fast. Battery backup is fine. So far no signs of over-heating. The screen resolution is good. The initial default setting of brightness was too high, however a darker theme is easier on the eyes. Overall reading comfort is good. Windows 11 and lifetime MS office apps are good/as expected. This is a good laptop for students, home use activities, DIY, etc... The MacAfee LiveSafe offer popup of rs 199 was good for a years protection. The Two year default lenovo warrant is as advertised. The Sound is loud from the speakers. Keyboard quality if good. Upgradability from 8GM to 12GB/DIMM max is good to have for future. The 512GB SSD is fast. Can be upgraded to a TB in future. Overall quality is good, nothing to complain about. Did not need any installation support., Value of money, One RAM module is soldered down. so matching 8gb ram sticks can't be installed. Good choice for 32-35k budget. Windows 11 is a pain point., Being an IT person i was hesitant to go for it but ultimately bought it and it was right decision. Laptop is good for normal home use., Battery 3 - 4hr coming, Excellent product....great experience...., Battery power 3 h", <https://m.media-amazon.com/images/I/41PnIUzyYML. There are no options to filter your choices based on the parameters that matter. It is easy to fall into the trap of an ongoing deal and end up buying something that falls short of what you need. In this review I will answer your questions about the PIGEON AMAZE PLUS 1.5L ELECTRIC KETTLE.1. Can I trust the reviews for this ad? Are they genuine?Probably yes. But know that the seller lists several types of PIGEON Kettles in the same ad. Unless the review refers to this particular model – you could well end up seeing a review of a product and buying a different one. The ratings are also an aggregated avg. There could be 10 repeating review of the product you are different one. The ratings are also an aggregated mix. There could be 10 negative review of the product you are seeing and 10 positives for the other products. The page will show you a neutral review. That's the game sellers are playing these days – to avoid negative reviews. I have posted a picture of the stove I am referring to in this review.

2. WATTAGE: Important because this tells how quickly the water will heat up. This one is 1500W – meaning that you can switch it on ... brush your teeth and find the water is boiled. Great time saving !! My earlier one was 900W and it used to take 10–15 minutes of patient waiting. The gas stove boiled water faster. This one takes about 3–4 mins to heat 2 mugs of coffee.

3. CABLE LENGTH: Most of these kettle makers skimp on the cable length. I have purchased kettles to find they have only a 2-foot long cable ... and I had to return them. This one has cable length of 22" (slightly more than one meter) – which allows a comfortable distance between the kettle and the plug.

4. CONNECTOR: This one uses a 6A plug – which is most common in India. Be careful because from >1500W onwards, most kettles use a 16A plug and that is not always available at the place where you want to place the kettle. Strictly speaking, it should have a 16A plug, but then this is kept on for short intervals only.

5. CAPACITY: 1.7 litres as mentioned – though I could not see markings for max and min levels. This is good enough to make 4–5 decent sized mugs of coffee.

6. COOKING OTHER STUFF: The ad says only water – but I see no reason why you cannot heat Maggi etc. Maybe you can. But avoid milk as the expanding effect will cause spills and this can have adverse effects.

7. LOOKS: Quite okay for the price. It will not make your kitchen look bad – and neither will it enhance the looks. This is the most common look that an electric kettle can have.

8. PERFORMANCE: I have used for 2 days only. No complaints so far. There is a 1-year guarantee card accompanying the product.

9. HANDLE: Very convenient feel when you lift it from the heating cradle. Does not feel very heavy even if there is a full 1.7L of water.

10. NEGATIVES: This is a steel jug. The outside will automatically heat up. If you are used to a plastic outside in your previous kettle, you need to be a little careful.

VERDICT – "BUY" (at the time of writing this review, this costs less than Rs 700. I have seen that sellers tend to inflate prices as they get my positive reviews – therefore I am also mentioning the price range based on which I gave this product a 5 star review). The body is very lightweight and doesn't feel sturdy. Does the job of heating water fast and that's it. Cord length could be a little longer. The plastic parts doesn't feel sturdy. The top cap has a smaller dia so a man's hand has a trouble fitting it inside the container during cleaning and can easily cut our hands. Overall it's okay. Its quality was not too much good, light quality product but according to price it's okay. Easy to use product & good for save time. Good product for boiling water. Shock proof. So no worries. Hahaha, Cattle bass fitting not currently. Good product. Go for it. Amazing product."

Product is good if you need to heat water not milk. Initially there were no issue in Auto cut but last week it stopped working. Overall in this price range i will say Yes for this., Very useful. My needs are fulfilled. Thank you., Good product, Product looks good but Boiling milk in this kettle burns the base of the kettle it becomes full black and brown , And eggs don't get boiled in a single go ., Nice product, After 2 months of usage, some issues have come up. Once it gets to the boiling point, it should automatically switch off but it keeps on bubbling till it is switched off manually. Next is that the water vapors and heat can be felt through the kettle on/off switch which I believe is dangerous. We ordered this trusting Prestige to be of high quality but it doesn't satisfy the purpose., After using only one month kettle on /off switch is not working and red light is also not working. Some times it's boiling time is too fast and some times too slow., This kettle works good but difficult to clean .", https://m.media-amazon.com/images/W/WEBP_402378-T1/images/I/41J3yWKhnxL.SX300_SX300_QL70_FMwebp.jpg, https://www.amazon.in/Prestige-PKGSS-Electric-Kettle-Stainless/dp/B00NW4UWN6/ref=sr_1_22?qid=1672923591&s=kitchen&sr=1-22&nB01NCVJMKX, "SHOPTHOSHOP Electric Lint Remover, Best Lint Shaver for Clothes, Lint Remover for Woolen Clothes , Lint Remover for Sweaters", "Home&Kitchen|Kitchen&HomeAppliances|Vacuum,Cleaning&Ironing|Irons,Steamers&Accessories|LintShavers", takes off the lint from fabric suitable for sweaters, woollens, blanket . It is not a gimmick but an actual working machine. it gives new life to the winter clothes which were of no use due to heavy lint all around. Using this small machine you can remove lint and see the difference. I used it on 2-3 clothes and am very happy with the result. Let me describe the pros and cons: Pros: 1. Very easy to use 2. Removes any kind of lint 3. it also removes lint that is not visible i.e. of the same color which gives rough look to the cloth making it look older. so your clothes look a bit like the new ones. 4. lint is collected in a container that is easy to clean Cons: 1. The process is very very slow. you need to move the machine on the cloth surface a number of times. 2. the build quality is plasticky like cheap toys. it may break if fallen on a hard surface. 3. the cable length is very small. The plug comes off the socket easily. you need to sit very close to the socket making it a bit difficult to use sometimes. 4. the lint collector comes off very often 5. the rotor blades make a weird noise as if they are going to break. 6. the BIGGEST PROBLEM is that you need to sit for prolonged periods to make your clothes lint-free which strains your neck badly and if you are suffering from cervical then forget it. you will use it once and will never touch it again. however, you can make an arrangement to hang the clothes on a wall hanger and remove lint by keeping your neck straight. other than that it is a good product and can be tried. Thanks, product is good overall, working fine but the seller should pack it more carefully as i received the upper detachable part in a broken condition as it is non replaceable makes it more difficult for the customer, but coming to the working part the product quality is good, works fine and removes everything easily. a must buy product for winter., I have used a similar product earlier but this one works better and size is also very effective, using is very ergonomic and like I said, does the job well. Come with a small brush to brush off small residue on the fabric. Would recommend buying this. Delivery and packaging was good too., Easy to clean easy to use. Does the job. Received the product fast and in perfect condition. There is a leaflet inside promising 6month warranty. If it provides that it's the perfect product for this price., This is very product it cleans all lint from my woolen clothes but it have 1d like store area is very less and slim it have problem for cleaning store area and the product is very good, This is very good. Life save in winters to remove lint from your costly winter wear. I have used it on some heavy lint area in my inner wear and it's really removed the lints and now I can wear my inner again., product is so satisfying and easy to use that a child can remove lint from his clothes. product overall is satisfying expect the the compartment where lint get consolidated it gets loose in every movement, Product is good and solve the lint problem very effectively so go for it", https://m.media-amazon.com/images/W/WEBP_402378-T1/images/I/51MWh9t3Z2L.SX300_SX300_QL70_FMwebp.jpg,

Water gets heating within 5 mins and you have to open half tap for continuous flow of hot water. Sufficient for bucket bathing and the good part is heating indication. One thing is missing in the geyser is Temp control, but overall Best in this price range (3 ltrs)., The product was delivered on time and as promised by Amazon. Upon receiving the water heater, I received a text from Havells for the installation of the product. The installation process was smooth apart from the fact that one needs to purchase a 16A three-pin socket (wall plug not included with the water heater). There are no installation charges and my only gripe with the water heater is no plug!! The water heats up very quickly (5 mins approx.) and retains temperature for good 4 hours. Light indicators show heat stages (Heating or Heated) Even though one will find many alternatives at better prices additional costs for installation and accessories should be taken into account. Bonus marks for getting the design correct., It's compact yet efficient. Does its job well. I expected a bit quicker heating though. Installation guy came the very next day. All the accessories required was provided in the package., But light is not working not within 2 weeks, Easy to install. Value for money., Its a good product in terms of usability, easy to use All in all its a great Instant geyser product with this price range. Installation was easy and it's 2x80x99s meets our expectations I would recommend this product to purchase., Easy installation. Purchased for kitchen. This is, without any doubt the best purchase I've ever made. If you have polyester, polyester+cotton, acrylic, acrylic+wool or acrylic+polyester clothes you know that after sometime (maybe years, could be months) they will start to pill. Pilling is those small round blobs on the cloth: make the item look old and haggard, as if they've hand me downs. Well, this product will reset it back to its original look and feel. It's crazy how good it works, on socks, sweaters, mufflers, caps, gloves, fleece jackets, fleece pants, anything that has artificial fibre composition. Don't but the one with battery because you'll be restricted to the capacity of the battery and when it degrades the product is useless - corded is the way to go for me. Five stars without a doubt. Easy to use and very useful product. I am very happy. Made Plastic could have been better. Good product, Works really well... Removes lint in one go. Good to use. First time user. And regardless of which brand name is stamped on them, they look like clones of each other. It was therefore with some excitement that I bought this Havells model that had at least three novel features: an auto-cut-off facility, a temperature control knob, and a protective plastic cover for that part of the heater users could come into accidental contact with. But quite a bit of my excitement drained away when the heater arrived. I couldn't use it straightaway because it has a cord that's barely a metre long, and it just couldn't reach the 16A socket it needs to be plugged into. Such heavy-duty sockets are normally positioned high in most bathrooms, so that they are easily accessible to any storage water-heaters that may be installed. Havells should have made allowances for this and added at least another foot-and-a-half to the cord length. For a large-scale manufacturer, this extra length would have made little difference to the production cost. The product, anyway, is priced a couple of hundred Rupees more than other 1500W heaters (the MRP being even higher, at Rs1000).In my case, therefore, the heater had to be 'accessorized' before it could be used: I had to buy a stool that would raise the the bucket off the floor, and thus compensate for the shortness of the cord. And no, it can't be any stool lying around in your home: it has to be a stool of a certain height, about 14 inches for me. Any taller, and the bucket can't be accommodated under the tap; any shorter, and you begin cursing Havells again for their miserliness with the cord. The stool took two days to arrive, and I 'inaugurated' the heater a full four days after it was delivered. Thank God my old immersion heater was still usable, in spite of its heavily calcified condition. There is yet another problem with this heater: though it helpfully allows you to choose between three temperature settings, you don't know what value each setting corresponds to. What does 'high' temperature mean -- 60 degrees Celsius? Seventy? I found out the hard way when I set the temperature high, and the heater wouldn't switch itself off for 15 minutes, which is five minutes longer than the time my old heater takes to heat up some 20 litres of water. And by then, the water had turned scaldingly hot. I tried the 'medium' setting the next day, and again had the nasty experience of having to deal with extra hot water. Perhaps the right setting is 'low' then. I'm not sure. Neither the product literature that came with the heater nor the Havells website has any information that will help you choose the right setting, and stop you burning yourself. So both the innovative features of this heater that made me buy it -- the variable heat setting and the auto-cut-off-- ultimately turned out to be quite useless. I still have to depend on my instinct, and on my experience with my old 'featureless' heater, and manually turn the heater off when I think it's done its job. I have a question for other users of this product, or for the manufacturer: can the temperature be set to in-between values, something between 'low' and 'medium', for instance. The way the controlling knob is marked, with several lines between the presets, suggests this is possible. Or maybe that's yet another 'useless' feature of this fancy heater. More trial-and-error? But should such a basic piece of equipment be so difficult to use? Update After a week's use of this heater, I'd like to add a word of caution for the benefit of other buyers and users. Since the heater has its own indicator light, which switches off at the set temperature, you may forget to switch the socket switch off, particularly if the switch is away from the socket, as in some contemporary bathrooms that have all switches bunched together at the bathroom door. If you forget to switch the socket off, and, in the meantime, have removed the heater from the bucket, it will begin to heat up again once the temperature has fallen below the set value. This dry-heating will damage both the heater and wall, if you've hung the heater up. But, more significantly, it will also be extremely hazardous if your body is wet, and there's no one around to switch the socket off for you. This happened to me twice. Call me dumb, if you want to, but please be careful. The product is good and does its work. I didn't find any use of the thermostat feature as though it turns off automatically the low temper in itself is very hot. It take just 5 to 7 mins to get the water be bath ready. Further the product says that ilthe rod should not touch the bucket but the product handle is made in such a way that it touches, but that causes no trouble. It's not shock proof so don't check temperature of water with it turned on.,Product received with some scratchesDon't know how inside package product gets scratchesOther than that all is okay product is goodAnd it's shock proof for extra safety but no recommended to touch water,Value for money,Product is good & satisfactory, one minor issue the cord is little too hard.,Its working as expected. no issues found till now but i have observed the red light is not coming fully. i could see only partial red light is visible. overall best product,nice,This product is very good and easy to use but its plug is of 16 amps which should have been of 6 amps",https://m.media-amazon.com/images/I/31f1PimoFpL_SX300_SY300_0L70_FMwebp.jpg,https://www.amazon.in/Havells-Immersion-HB15-1500-White/dp/B0882TJT2R/ref=sr_1_48_mod_primary_new?_qid=1672923592&s=kitchen&sbo=RZvf%2F%2FHxDF%2B05021pAnSA%3D%3D&sr=1-48&nB08BK1K598K, "AGARO LR2007 Lint Remover, Rechargeable, for Woolen Sweaters, Blankets, Jackets, Burr Remover, Pill Remover From Carpets, Curtains", "Home&Kitchen|Kitchen&HomeAppliances|Vacuum,Cleaning&Ironing|Irons,Steamers&Accessories|LintShavers", 'removes fabric fluff, fuzz, bobbles, pills, burr or roye from all types of garments, fabrics and restores to a fresh look|5W motor with 6500 RPM ensures quick and smooth removal of lints|3 leaf stainless steel blades eliminates the lint smoothly and prevents the fabric from getting damaged|Rechargeable lithium ion battery gives 60 minutes of cordless use with 1 hours of recharge|The smart safety features ensures the device to work only once the steel mesh cover is properly and tightly fitted to avoid injury',"AHR537KLQY7CNKPQSL3SFUGQFYQ,AEWMRBC2Q3TOCF30Z7VTXRXKVOTTQ,AFTBMFB3LZBJXYM733IX6RA4Y32Q,AHKH DU6SJT2ATWBI Kumari,Abhijeet Singh,Mukul,palak,Amrit,Amit Chawlani,ANKIT VERMA,R M KATIYAR","R1EU51LVE60B7C,R18PRS0IFU4R7M,R19E4QY5JWKDD,R3KJZPFPCU10HY,R7IC04YHLBUXZ,R103ABBLOBUA0Q,R3U5F3UJMK0D: product, removes lint efficiently.,Good product. review, Good & easy to use., Good and portable, Motor Like unusual Noise, Better product with value for money., Nice product from havells, Very easy to use and portable those looking for small room this is best to buy, it's good choice", "Value for money Heat power good One loss point that is temperature control bottom not added, My 88 year old mother finds it effective and easy to use., It's tiny and easily warms up the room .. portable... It will stop if we turn the knob close to minus or if there is fluctuations in the current, else it's fine., Hi Team, Seller I would like to bring to notice that the while operating "" there is very irritating noise that is not very good while working. Not up to the mark Havells with such brand figure has failed miserably to justify the same . And not good for deep cleaning. I tried to clean mattresses and sofa but dusts were there., Too early to write the review but working good so far, Likes:- Handy, easy to use, comparatively light- Cleans extremely well due to strong suction power.- looks good. Good clean design.- power cord is very long.- easy to store, doesn't take up much space Dislikes:- heated up quite a lot within 2 minutes (not even 5 minutes after cleaning an upholstered stool and foot rug). Had to switch off and let it cool. So obviously not something that can be used at a stretch to clean all your upholstery etc. like other (more expensive) vacuum cleaners- no flexible hose with the more expensive version with extension stick. When one has paid much more, providing the small flexible hose which is meant for cleaning inaccessible areas like underneath sofas, ceilings etc, was something i expected. I'm sure the hose itself is pretty inexpensive. They could easily have provided it at no extra cost. If one needs that hose, one needs to buy the less expensive unit (again!) just to get the hose as it's not even available for sale separately.- manual is hopelessly inadequate, had to look up YouTube videos.- no soft brush provided for cleaning the filter.- does not come in Amazon packaging even though it's fulfilled by Amazon. It's just the Agaro box, think is closed by openable flaps, not even sealed. So we cannot be sure if it's a returned defective product or brand new one.- No quality check sticker or anything assuring that the product has been checked before packing. On a YouTube video, there was a sticker at the joint of dust connector and main body, on mine there is no sticker, just slight sticky residue. So it's been removed by someone. Not sure if it's a returned product (again as there is no seals on the box). I don't want to return this as i already had returned one box that was filthy with oil stains and had opened from the bottom (flaps had come apart), none of the attachments etc were sealed in their plastic cover packets.- Quite loud. Reading the reviews i thought it would be less noisy, but it's not.- No blower function (other brands in this range have). Would have been great to have this.- Only 3 attachments (floor / carpet brush, multipurpose brush, crevice nozzle) (other brands in this range have many more.- an extra filter would have been a good gesture to include.- not very light. If one wants to clean high surfaces like sides of ceiling or ceiling fans etc, one needs to lift it and hold in hand while cleaning. Very difficult to do especially for ladies (or at least me, a middle-aged lady). Again, here the flexible hose if provided, would have been handy. Someone could hold the vacuum cleaner while using the hose to clean high areas. All in all, reasonably happy with this purchase - as it is a supplementary one to my existing 35+ year old Eureka Forbes vacuum cleaner which is still going strong, as the upholstery cleaning attachments for that model got lost. I do feel strongly though that the price could have been reduced considering all the above pros and cons., Compact size, It is a light duty, light usage and a limited application area equipment. Not for effective & complete usage., It's a good vacuum, good suction and easy to clean up. However the suction sound is quite loud. Nevertheless it's a good machine. Does the job well., The product works well. It just heats up after using for 15 mins.", https://m.media-amazon.com/images/W/WEBP_402378-T1/images/I/411YmCXFA7L. SX300 SY300 QL70 FMwebp .jpg,

Was quite sceptical before buying it after reading all these mixed reviews but glad i did. Smoothens out the creases from dresses, coats, woollens and any fabric which is otherwise non iron-able. Of course, you can't expect it to crease out the cotton shirts but It is a very handy product, especially if you are travelling. Also, the steam sanitises the clothes making them odour free. The water tank is small and needs to be re-filled again after about 2 clothes but bigger tank would have made it heavy and difficult to operate.Overall, good purchase.,Loving this product while using,It does the job pretty well.The cons according to me are 1. You cannot use it with clothes placed on horizontal flat surfaces. Because the water doesn't reach the outlet in the tank if the tank is half empty. The alternative is that the dress has to be hanged to a cloth hanger and then use the steamer.2. Be careful while steaming as it may burn the skin. Keep you palm at a safe distance while steaming the dress. This may be an issue when you try to steam the sleeves of the garment and also for flowing dresses.3. Not all fabrics can be completely wrinkle free.4. It sometimes leaves more steam and water at times leaving your garment with wet patches. The garment feels wet after using the steamer.5. You have to keep filling the tank twice for using it on one top.,Easy to use, sturdy, and does the job, only thing is that it takes time to cool, rest of all good,Its an amazing product and easy to use. Just hang the cloth somewhere and start using this.,Great product..easy to carry..foldable...and results great,An average product but the cost is too high as it doesn't completely satisfy your purpose.",https://m.media-amazon.com/images/W/WEBP_402378-T2/images/I/31lsgYDJNkL_SX300_SY300_QL70_FMwebp_.jpg,https://www.amazon.in/PHILIPS-Handheld-Garment-STH3000-20/dp/B08TM71L54/ref=sr_1_77?qid=1672923593&s=kitchen&sr=1-77&nB0BPBXNQQI, "Room Heater Warmer Wall-Outlet 400 Watts Electric Handy Room Heater (Room Heaters Home for Bedroom, Reading Books, Work, bathrooms, Rooms, Offices, Home Offices, 2022", "Home&Kitchen|Heating,Cooling&AirQuality|RoomHeaters|ElectricHeaters", "\xe2\x82\x999799", "\xe2\x82\x99 Heating :- Ceramic heating element creates energy efficient warmth quickly in 3 seconds.|Overheat protection : PTC ceramic element is self-regulating With the design of over-heat protection for thermal control|Adjustable Temperature & Silent :- Adjustable thermostat control monitors the temperature around you for optimal heating|Energy efficient and Portable :- Ceramic heating element for energy-efficient operation|Compact Design :- It's compact enough to take anywhere,Great for the camper or give it to the kids for their college dorm rooms.", "AH7ZFAWQV5VTWQHLXZYDGFNDJGQ,AHFM667GXVFT3AUJA3PYCTQNTQR,AHVMXVFXD52BW23VR6LGK6ZVYLQ,AFY4TSX2F5VE4VZI Ranjan Singh,Eswar Babu,Gaurav Choudhary,Vinay kumar,Placeholder,imti,Satyanarain,Sanjay", "RZ06XGE3P1DX,R3RCHNNZ1GVHBL,R32VH8C2WKSPO,RHPUY1L6EN7BY,RIVPXD585W for small rooms,Better,Good quality,Nice product,Good product,Potable room heater,Room heater is useful,Good Heater", "If u have to heat a small room you can definitely use this heater but people need to be near it to feel the heat.,Product is nice and better only when you are close to it. Quite noisy, but not much, not at the level where your land lord will come down and tell you to keep the noise down.2. Lock is good and easy to clean.3. Plastic quality is good.4. Handy and easy too use.5. Do not make it grind or blend for more than a minute in a single stretch, the motor will start smoking.,I have a small kitchen, so this is just perfect for me as it requires very less space on my countertop. Using it for the last 2 weeks and I am happy with its grinding capacity, design and blending performance so far. I prefer making small batches of homemade spices and baby food cereals so it's a very good option for me. It is a good choice for powdering small quantities of spices. It comes with 2 blades- one for grinding and the other for extraction. The extraction blade is suitable for making smoothies.,To start with, the look is very stylish and trendy! I use it for smoothies, milkshakes everyday...it is very convenient for everyday use since its very quick, for portion size use, cleaning is also very simple..Lock mechanism is amazing, and grinding technology is fascinating, just fix rotate and it starts grinding!..only disadvantage is the noise it makes while initial grinding,The product is quite nice and very compact. Firstly I faced issue while starting the Nutri blender as it didn't start on its own, I need to hold it tightly then it started to run. Otherwise the product is good overall.,It is good for grinding and blending for small quantities.It is easy to use .Cleaning is also easy .It is best for making juices,smoothies and all types of chutneys. I do my cooking my cooking work fast with the help of this product as it takes less time to chop .I recommended this product,Product size is small but product quality is not good I used this product for 3 months and problems have arrived soon. For installation we had to call the customer service of Crompton where in they registered the request and they provide the third-party installation team number for the specific area where in we have to call for installation, they picked up the call registered the installation request and updated us they will call us back in 5 minutes to confirm the installation time but there was no call back for two days and when we called back many times they don\'t even bother to pick up the call but they were promptly disconnecting the call. Company needs to check the credibility of service provider and take appropriate action otherwise brand popularity will go for a toss. Hope company takes appropriate action.,Pathetic installation service from Crompton. Had to call them multiple times before assigning a mechanic . The mechanic who came had 0 knowledge about installation or the machine. Worried what they would provide in case of breakdown or machine malfunction. Would suggest users to think about the cons before purchase. Product is average nothing too exceptional to write about. Will suit you good enough not excellent.,Is Good To use but What i Observed is that Its heats The water at 80\xE2\x84\x83 Only ~Not~ more than its not that Hot but Its Good If Heat and Ready to bath. .. Has a rubberised platform so that it doesnt move much when in motion.Works as expectedThis is more convenient in comparison to the handheld chopper which breaks easily. Borosil chopper has 2 year warranty as well so thats a plus.Will update as i use it more,Warranty bill card not available inside the package,Didn\'t get the whisking blade. Amazon has only the option to return the product. The product is good hence I only want the whisking blade sent to me.,Finally, i found the right box among muiltple amazon parcels I received and my neighbour handed over to me and it is perfectly working borosil electric chopper which is must have.,I was looking for a durable and best chopper. Borosil make best products. I am using other borosil electronics for years and they are just great.This copper chop the veggies within 5 sec and outcome is just awesome. Go for it without any second thought.,I liked this product. Chops even ginger in seconds.Made my cooking easier. The vegetables are chopped in even small sizes and can be added to chila or Paratha or even dosa flour for healthy diet for children.If you plan to buy one, go for it.,Very nice product but not everyday use for small family.Good for big family for every day use,Cooking doesn\'t take much an effort but prep times do. Must try it,Good product,Just improve quality and working is very good.,It works really good, it's been a month now using this boiler and it works fine till date. Things to make note of: 1) When you boil keeping all 7 eggs at a time, there're chances of slight breaking of 1 or 2 eggs which in my case but works fine if you try with 6 or 5 or lesser no. 2) The wire is short so you'll need to have plug point nearer to the base or use a stool. 3) The boiled eggs are slight softer(whites) than the usual eggs that are boiled on stove but you'll get accustomed to it. 4) Can be used only to boil eggs and frying directly is not working. 5) Measuring cup is provided and can be used to measure water for soft, medium or hard boiling of eggs,https://m.media-amazon.com/images/W/WEBP_402378-T2/images/I/71-aTgWx3dL_SY88.jpg,It's very convenient to boil the eggs. Good for everyday use. Only problem is the wire is very very short, just 1ft, it makes bit tricky to use, as you need to put something below so that the plug could reach the socket, atleast they should have provided 1mtr length wire.Cleaning is easy but as it has air openings at bottom you need to carefully wash it.",https://m.media-amazon.com/images/W/WEBP_402378-T2/images/I/31-RWRWJZOL_SX300_SY300_QL70_FMwebp_.jpg,https://www.amazon.in/Simxen-Electric-Automatic-Steaming-Multicolour/dp/B07H3WDC4X/ref=sr_1_83?qid=1672923595&s=kitchen&sr=1-83&nB09ZTZ9N30,Amazon Basics 2000/1000 Watt Room Heater with Adjustable Thermostat (ISI certified, White color, Ideal for small to medium room/area)","Home&Kitchen|Heating,Cooling&AirQuality|RoomHeaters|FanHeaters","xe2xb91,049","xe2xb91,049",goodbye to the worries about dealing with the cold weather with the Amazon Basics Electric Room Heater|Ideal for small to medium-size rooms|Two Knobs - one for Heat mode (1000W or 2000W) another for thermostat for temperature control.|Equipped with 2 heat modes, 1000 watts and 2000 watts|Turbo fan motor evenly distributes heat in the room|Compact and lightweight room heater can be placed anywhere in the house|Plastic fire-retardant body and metal grill that contains copper ensure safety while in use|Ultra quiet in operation, Inbuilt thermostat for safety","AFWHK4LKZHJJVZKD23JDBSMYCTWA,AG4YW402PIYELIEF7RIWELPR2IQ,AG7KEHOTRQWYCFBB3Y0YWNEEKOWA,AG4VHCBBGV55FALI Hussain,Hanamant Waddar,Raju Pandey,Akash sachan,Mohamed Jarjees Ali,Radheshyam Tripathy,Satheesh,Kunal goindbhai dhedhi","R3VGVVQLQT97ML,R1Y56E8635Y7QD,RT5YXKE0NNQ8F,R2GEEMC0X545J5,R3KWBN590DP471,R3JEC32DYAIG6W,R1VD5AUGPRP07I good \xf0\x9f\x91\x8d,Good...,Good Product,Satisfied,Good for small room,Unsure,Not bad,Don't bye it....","It's working,Good,Good Product \xf0\x9f\x91\x8d,Nice product,Cant use for long hours. I went with the trust on Bosch brand name and am extremely satisfied with the product. I have been using it daily, sometimes multiple times in a day for past month during lockdown period. I hope this will help others. Mixer includes +capacity -1 Mixer body 1 Plastic blender jar 1500ml + fruit filter, 1 Wet grinding jar 1500 ml 1 Dry grinding jar 1000 ml 1 Chutney grinding jar 400 ml 1 extra Pounding Blade 1 Spatula Build and overall appearance 1. The mixer-grinder 1000 watt motor is extremely powerful. I have used it to grind both dry & wet ingredients such as garam masala, idli/dosa mix, Chana dal paste, Poppy seeds paste, coconut chutney, dry rice and urad dal powder, ginger garlic paste, ice, etc. I regularly blend and make milk shakes, lassis etc and have found it to very fast and convenient. 2. Does the job fast within few seconds/minutes depending on the amount and type of ingredients you are working with. 3. Body is good looking, sturdy, well balanced and easy to wipe clean. 4. The vacuum feet are quite secure and give a true hands free experience. 5. Overload protector for added safety helps if you overload the mixer by mistake. 6. The jars also are easy to use and quite well-built Jars & Blades 1. The jars are metal with removable stainless steel blades. 2. Chutney jar blade is fixed. 3. An extra blade is provided for stone pounding affect. 4. A spatula cum blade changer is provided. 5. The Jar lids are made of transparent plastic. 6. Each lid has a small top cap which can be removed to add liquids/materials while grinding/blending. 7. Each lid has rubber gaskets. This gives a completely leak proof experience while grinding/blending. These gaskets are very easy to remove and attach. 8. All Jars have 4 fibre clasps to close the jars. 9. In the blender jar a juicer attachment has been provided \xe2\x80\x93 this is the only thing I have not used, hence I cannot review the performance of this attachment. 10. Blender can be used without the juicer sieve, and works fine. 11. In wet blender a flow-breaker is provided Sound is high, but that is to be expected in a powerful 1000 watt machine. Do \xe2\x80\x99s & Don \xe2\x80\x99t I feel if we follow certain guidelines we can best out of the product 1. Do not overload 2. Do not use for more than a minute without giving a little rest. 3. When turning the speed knobs \xe2\x80\x93 don't turn all at once from 0 to max. You will see that it works better if you turn knobs slowly, staying at each speed for a few seconds. Actually for most things low to medium speed is enough. The machine is really powerful. 4. When grinding large amount of ingredients the jar can heat up (not the machine) so give a little rest in between. 5. For wet grinding \xe2\x80\x93 use cold water to grind \xe2\x80\x93 that way the jar will never heat up. 6. DO NOT grind hot ingredients. Many people have complained about the rubber gaskets melting \xe2\x80\x93 that can only have happened if hot food are being blended or ground. Bring food to room temp and then grind.7. Wash the jar, gasket, jars immediately using a sponge and liquid detergent so that the shine of the jar remains intact.8. Always remove and wash the gasket to avoid unhygienic conditions as food can get under the gaskets.9. In the wet blender remove the flow breaker by sliding it off and wash it separately as food particles can get stuck behind it.10. To remove fine particles when dry grinding don't use a spoon to avoid scratches to the jar. You can use your hand and a brush (used for this purpose only).11. This is an expensive piece of equipment \xe2\x80\x93 In my house only I & my husband use it. We do not allow children or household help/cooks to use it. This way the machine will not be misused.12. If you mixer does not work \xe2\x80\x93 please check the overload protector button on the underside of the machine. Remove some of the ingredients and try again.13. Take care while handling jar lids and lid tops \xe2\x80\x93 Although they appear quite well made, I cannot say if they will break when dropped. Pros:1. The machine is very powerful and delivers what it promises.2. It is easy to use and gives truly hands free experience.3. Easy to clean.4. Grinds and blends everything.5. Leak-proof lids.6. Takes very little time to grind.7. The motor does not heat up even easily.8. The overload protector works perfectly. Cons:1. Guarantee & Manual – The Manual has to be downloaded from the Amazon website. The Amazon payment is the guarantee. There is no separate guarantee card provided. I had to call Amazon to understand the situation regarding the guarantee card.2. Delivery – The mixer-grinder came in a box but there was no special Styrofoam padding. This was a big minus for me.3. A couple of extra lid clasps should be provided \xe2\x80\x93 one of my lid clasps was loose, it is working fine at the moment, but as a backup company should provide these.4. As the jars are pretty large, for smaller amount of products it is a little difficult. I wish the smallest chutney jar was usable for both dry & wet grinding rather than only wet.5. The jars do have screws heads on the inner side \xe2\x80\x93 but this is not a big deal \xe2\x80\x93 and can be cleaned quite easily. Review after using for few months Pros: The lock feature is really good for hands free usage. Grinds very fast. Say, half cup soaked urud dal can be ground to paste in less than 4 minutes. Juicer is good, extraction is good for the juicy fruits. Good design and takes less space in kitchen. Cons: Noise is there for the power it grinds. But anyway not that high as mentioned in some reviews which I read before my purchase. Steel jars get heated up quickly. So I used to refrigerate the soaked rice or dals to balance the heat. Just need to be careful while cleaning as there are some sharp edges which could hurt a little. (wet grinding jar) Tips– clean the jars immediately after use to make the cleaning easy with sponge. So that jars won't lose its shine \xf0\x9f\x99\x82,I bought this Bosch mixer on 2020 and the motor is not working I have to buy another mixer what is the use of putting such a big amount in it. it worked only for 2 years. it was only for household purpose i purchased. very much disappointed with a brand. Showed to their mechanical he said motor is burnt from inside ., True to its name the Bosch Mixer Grinder is a great machine to have in your kitchen. However the locks of the cap have given away and cleaning it is a challenge. NA, This is a very good product overall. The dosa/idli and other such batters come out excellent. The motor is powerful and can handle any mixing and grinding needs. The only unsatisfactory thing about this is the juicer. It works well with slightly watery fruits like citrus, oranges, watermelon, etc. But the moment it comes to fruits and vegetables with a lower water content, the juicer fails at extracting anything. The juicer is basically another blender jar with a mesh attachment to sieve out the pulp. There is no option of being able to push the fruits closer to the blender blade which makes it difficult to crush them. All in all an excellent product as long as you stick to the citrus juices. I was a happy customer of Sujata for the past 10 years and Bosch was a good option. Good design, powerful motor , worth for the price i bought (5500 in offer), It has a powerful motor, does grinding pretty fast. Compact size. Lid lock clip very useful. Priced high. Juicer function is not much useful.", https://m.media-amazon.com/images/W/WEBP_402378-T1/images/I/51bVSwHFA1L_SV300_SX300_QL70_FMwebp_.jpg, https://www.amazon.in/Bosch-TrueMixx-Pro-Grinder-Watt-MGM8842MIN/dp/B07MKMFKPG/ref=sr_1_92?qid=1672923595&s=kitchen&sr=1-92&nB0949FPSFY, "Bulfyss Stainless Steel Digital Kitchen Weighing Scale & Food Weight Machine for Diet, Nutrition, Health, Fitness, Baking & Cooking (5Kgs, Stainless Steel, 2 Years Warranty)", Home & Kitchen | Kitchen & Home Appliances | Small Kitchen Appliances | Digital Kitchen Scales, \xe2\x82\x99, "WEIGHT]: Made with 4 Japanese-precision sensors, this digital kitchen scale will give you accurate weight every single time. Product seems good. The batteries packed separately inside leaked. Wonderful, but ... Good but it's plastic, Good for now. Awesome product, Value for money, ONE IN A MILLION", "Just received, as of now looks good in this price range. Will use it for few months and update the review. Batteries have leaked inside the packing. Had to put new ones, Wonderful scale, means great look, good accuracy, very lightweight and skinny and easy to store, and very easy to clean. So far so good, BUT: The 'durable 304 stainless steel construction' is just a half true promise. Only the top plate is obviously some metal but the body is also obviously plastic. Would not even mind about this little deviation between promise and reality, we all know how marketing messages have to be read, but the durable stainless steel top plate fell apart from the remaining plastic part of the machine after not even 4 months of use. Seems it was simply somehow glued on top (with 4 glue strips), and the glue doesn't work anymore due to whatever reason (didn't remove it, it just fell apart during vertical storage, just so after only 4 months of use). Weighting still works when I press the metal plate correctly back on top but as soon as I store it, the plate separates itself again from the other part. Assembling that thing again and again for every single use is a pain i.t.a. and not what I expected. That's why I give finally another brand a chance, after I complete my review. This time no more durable stainless steel construction wanted ... let me try a different construction, which is even some hundreds of bucks cheaper than this thing here (both prices 60% reduced today). If it keeps 5 months without breaking, it's a good deal compared to this one, isn't it?, Plastic, The product I received is good. Just started using it. Will update in the future about its pros and cons. Easy to use, Good product, It is referred to me by my friend who is using it for months and he is very much sure about the accuracy of this and then he referred to me very value for money", https://m.media-amazon.com/images/W/WEBP_402378-T1/images/I/51o10VswrGS_SV445_SX342_QL70_FMwebp_.jpg, https://www.amazon.in/Bulfyss-Stainless-Weighing-Nutrition-Warrantv/dp/R0Q49FPSFY/ref=sr_1_93?qid=1672923595&s=kitchen&sr=1-93&nR08F47T4X5 "WR 18 Pcs – 3

And in December 2022 one rod has stopped. I have complaint to Maharaja customer care, they refused to change the rod free of cost. They are saying that rod is not under warranty. Only Box is under warranty. Maharaja is a cheater company., The concern first, base of the heater is made of plastic and plastic base needs to be screwed with the metallic heater body with 2 screws. Since heater body is metallic, tall and has weight, the connection with plastic base doesn't feel robust/durable enough as it shakes when touched. SY88. jpg, You can go for it , however you should be knowing that it consumes a lot of electricity, you can buy it if you live in Punjab as upto 300 units are free ..hehe, I had it earlier and bought it again. It helps to keep the place really warm, Very good product in winter for kids and much more, All electric devices are prone to damages and faults, but it should be possible to be repaired. Unfortunately this product doesn't have that option and my purchase went for a complete waste., First things first It's not bad heater and it provides plenty of warmth. However, the unit I received had one major, or rather fatal, issue. Current was passing through its entire body, be it the front grill or the area near the handle in the back. You can't hold it without getting an electric shock when it's running. If you have to turn the knob or simply move it from one position to another, you would need to unplug it from the power source first. Otherwise it can be fatal. If you use it in the night, you have to keep it out of your reach otherwise if you wake up at night to drinking water or anything else, you might accidentally touch it and die. Homes with children needs to be extra protective. Now I am not sure whether this fault is only in my unit or a general problem with these type of heaters. I have requested a replacement, let's see how the replacement unit works. I'll update the review accordingly., in my heater one rod is not working then i call the bajaj customer care number it is given in pamphlet then a person came from bajaj and my issue solved", https://m.media-amazon.com/images/W/WEBP_402378-T2/images/I/41WyoT08raL.  ~~~~~Before my review, I will let you know which one should you buy. An oil heater is best that you can buy, but that is worth spending for places where the weather will be colder for more than 3 months and well below 10 deg. For normal winter uses, I recommend buying Convection type heaters with fan and Thermostat. Please avoid conduction based ones (They can consume less power, cheap but they are very slow, plus burns oxygen). Also note, whichever you buy make sure it has a Thermostat setting!Product Review:~~~~~This product from USHA is a convection type room heater, and I have listed the below features and information.\xe2\x99\xa6 Twin Blade fan\xe2\x99\xa6 Thermostat built-in (Like AC, will turn on/off as per temp changes)\xe2\x99\xa6 1000W/2000W operation (2000W means faster heating)\xe2\x99\xa6 Fan only mode for normal table fan type! (Can't adjust speed/ ON-OFF)\xe2\x99\xa6 Power LED when it operates\xe2\x99\xa6 Fan noise is high and a bit annoying if your room is very calm\xe2\x99\xa6 15A Power plug and 1m cord length\xe2\x99\xa6 Retracting stand to elevate height about 2 inches\xe2\x99\xa6 1 year warranty for the productThe room heater uses a powerful fan to spread the heat. No Swing option, very directional. You must position it correctly and securely. The Thermostat option is good to have, and I suggest buyers to buy with thermostat, as this will help reduce your EB bills, as well as give comfortable weather inside. The thermostat is not very accurate, like in Air conditioners but works. The user manual gives clear information about using it.How to set up?~~~~~\xe2\x99\xa0 Power on, select 1000w/2000w (The switch is not easy to operate)\xe2\x99\xa0 Set to thermostat switch to MAX (Anti-clockwise)\xe2\x99\xa0 Let the heater run till you feel comfortable (Warm inside)\xe2\x99\xa0 Reduce the thermostat slowly till the point where the unit turns off\xe2\x99\xa0 Leave that setting undisturbed and let the heater ON till morning--> Note, if you have mistakenly set it wrongly, turn-off and turn-on. Once again follow the same step above.I use this for my sleeping room which is about 12x12 size.In Bangalore, it is about 20-21 deg at night and can drop low in another few weeks, and it took about 20-30 minutes to bring it 26-27 deg with 1000w in almost closed room. Please note, if your place has a room temperature (Not outside temp) well below and it not exposed to sunlight, then it will take a long time to reach comfortable temperature. In such cases only use 2000 W setting. It does not burn oxygen but reduces relative humidity which can cause dryness, so keeping a bucket or a better a tray of water will help. But you must keep your window slightly open, never use it on a closed room.5A or 15A?
 ~~~~~I see this as a main problem, as in many of our houses, we only have 15A for Washing machines and AC socket which is not easily reachable. This unit can only be plugged into 15A socket. The reason is, when you operate a 230v, unit with 5A socket, you can only draw a maximum of 1150 Watts (230v x 5A) from that socket. However, since this unit operates also at 2000W, it requires 15A, as that could only provide up to ~3000W (230v x 15A) like ACs, etc. However, you can safely use this unit from a normal 5A socket ONLY IF YOU ARE USING AT 1000W ALWAYS. Just buy a 5A to 15A converter socket and use this. Do not worry, it will work just fine, but never use 2000W though (If you house has MCB Tripper, then it's much safe).Tips:~~~~> Always keep some space from all 4 sides of the heater unit>> First try with fan unit for 10 minutes before using for heater (Using after a long storage )>> Keep a window slightly open for fresh air>> Air can feel dry after sometime, can cause nose irritation and dryness. Room must be ventilated, adding water tray can helpDrawbacks:~~~~~1. Fan noise, sometimes unbearable in a calm room2. Average Build quality and finishingFinal words:~~~~~I recommend this product, a cheap and effective unit for a small to medium size rooms and it does not burn oxygen, but makes dry air which can easily be overcome. The prices could drop around 1700/- sometimes, so please check price before buying. Thanks for reading this, if you have any doubts, comment below.,On first Day , I had faced some minor problem in this product but day after that day till now it working with no minor and major issues. We use it moderately for just 3-4 hrs in day.It was working fine for 18 days. However,on 19th day i.e on 16Jan22 night, after around half an hour of running it suddenly started making '\khad,khad,khad...' sound and all its coil were red hot. Since we were awake, I just switched off the power from main switch. It could have resulted into burning or fire, if I would have delayed for few more seconds.When I picked up the heater in hand, it looked some part was loosened inside Then on the next day, on 17th Jan 22, I lodged a complaint with Usha customer some part was loosened inside. then on the next day, on 17th Jan 22, I lodged a complaint with usha customer care, na di was told the technician will visit within 48hrs. However, no one came in 48 hrs. So I called up the technician on the number shared to me by Usha on 19th. After that technician visited me. Upon checking he found that out of 2 fans, one fan has loosened completely and fallen inside, that is why it was making sound and coils were getting too much heated. I was relaxed that it's not a big problem and would be fixed quickly. But to my surprise, the plastic coupler to which the fan was screwed, is not able to hold the screw tightly. There was a problem with the coupler. What kind of quality it is that within few days of usage screw automatically loosened and coupler not able to hold it anymore? Adding to my surprise, the technician was not having the new coupler for replacement. He said he will check tomorrow and come back if part is available. But he didn't come back. When I called next day, he said part is not available and has informed the company, but can't say when it will be available. So I called Usha customer care again, and they said "yes technician has reported part is not available" na due are forwarding your request to service team to arrange the part asap. Since then I have been calling Usha Customer care as well technician everyday and both are throwing the ball on each other. Usha customer care is worst saying everytime that they are forwarding the request to concerned department and as soon as the part is available it will be replaced. I asked them how many days it may take as I can't keep on waiting for a month, they just said they can't say when it would be available. Since it is too cold nowadays, and heater is not working what is the use of purchasing this Usha heater. If they will replace it after a month, winter would have already passed by then. This is a worst after sale service from big brand like Usha, and it was not expected from Usha. If they don't have the basic parts available with the service center, what is the use of sending technician empty handed? From now on, I will never recommend Usha to anyone, and if any Usha representative is reading this post, I request to them to service my heater asap. Thanks, Go ahead

Room was closed.I retirmed it. Bought Black+Decker 11 fin which is too fast and surpass this bajaj 13fin.,Bajaj name in itself a guarantee of excellence. A very product. Heats up the house in no time. Like a boon to elderly people like us,This is my review after 3 days of usage. Firstly I feel I got a used product as the packing was already unpacked inside the box and normally with a brand new unused oil heater, on first usage you get a smell as the oil and fins heat up for first time. This did not happen for me. Anyways I just thought to see if all is good and hope it performs.The heater has very very slow heating. You need to run it at max thermostat and with full load 2500 or 2900 W and even then it will take very long to feel the warmth. I was able to touch the fins for a second even after operating it for more than an hour without cutting off. Thermostat cut off works but quite below max and then it wont heat up as it gets cut off and on.For such type of heater the room should have just one entry and that should not keep opening often. If you have doors opening every now and then, it will not keep room warm.Over all for the price it has I didn\'t feel like its worth to operate it when it has so slow heating.,This clearly is one of the best oil heater out there at a very good price. In offline i was getting 13 fin model for 12k to 13k, but here at Amazon i got it at Rs. 9799. This is very silent and heats up the room in 20 to 30 min.,Really worth for the money spent. Easy to use and can be moved to other rooms without any difficulty. The performance is good.,The product is good but the desired product was not delivered,I am happy with my decision to buy this heater. Room gets warm and comfy .,The radiator works very well even in the cold Kullu weather. Has 2 heat settings and when you\xe2\x80\x99ve turned it on for a while, you can turn the heat settings off and the fan will still blow warm air. Very effective and doesn\xe2\x80\x99t give you headache like the rod heaters do. Has auto cutoff as well.",<https://m.media->

OBSERVATIONS &

PROS Device has high suction power and can be cleaned easily with a bagless design where dust collects in a chamber, and you can empty it in the dustbin. 1. No hassles of cleaning and replacing bags. 2. Components are high quality, such as the telescopic extension is metallic, though it's also a con for this attachment. Even plastic components are of good quality. 3. Device easily moves around owing to its big and smooth wheels. You don't need to pull it by force. 4. Default flexible pipe itself is long and has an integrated brush that can also be retracted. It's a highly useful attachment considering it's attached to a primary flexible pipe and is easily available for use. 5. Each attachment here is multipurpose. When you open the package, you feel like very few attachments are provided, but when you start exploring, you discover that all attachments are multipurpose. (details below) 6. Attachments are easy snap fit and remove (ActiveLock in the company's terminology). Once you insert the attachments, it click locks and can be removed by a press of a button or release lever. 7. Both the turbo brush and multi-nozzle have flexible neck and wheels on the bottom for easy movement and effective cleaning. 8. Dust collector can be opened with one press and has removable filters attached to it. These filters can be washed once in a while to prevent clogging. 9. The Main unit has H13 filter system to filter fine dust, dust mites, etc., and is equivalent to HEPA 13, as per the company. This filter is accessible from the backside for cleaning purposes. 10. Device obviously makes sound but is not in the range of causing irritation to the ears. It's in the bearable

range. CON: OBSERVATIONS &

CONS Telescopic extension is metallic and heavy. So, it's a bit of trouble to use for longer durations, especially when you are trying to clean ceilings. 2. Reduction of suction power is via a bypass valve built into the flexible pipe and has no way to reduce the power of the machine to reduce suction. So effectively, this valve makes cleaner suck in air from in between to reduce suction at the end, but then consumes the same amount of power. If there had been a control mechanism to reduce power, it would also save electricity. 3. Device comes with a 16amp top but its 2-pin, so if you are going to use it with modular power sockets with self closing mechanism for holes, it will be a trouble to plug it in everytime. 4. I miss the blower system in this cleaner, which is handy at times (was there in my previous cleaner). They could have easily implemented it. For the cons reducing 1 star, but its definitely a 4-star device. Attachments Flexible pipe comes with an integrated brush, and you can easily retract it back onto the pipe- Multipurpose nozzle has a button to increase its suction power, and with one press, it goes nearer to the floor- Turbo brush nozzle sweeps the floor or mattress with rotating bristles along the length, and if you want to turn off the rotation of the brush, there is a button to lock it- Main unit has a system on the back and bottom side to attach the multi-clean and turbo brush nozzle primarily for easy sweep or for storage purposes. FINAL

VERDICT bagless vacuum cleaner is a hassle-free device and requires very less maintenance but it comes at a cost, and if you are willing to stretch your budget, it's definitely worth it. I have had no any issues so far in the past 1 year, when using it regularly. This is a nice bag less vacuum cleaner with a rotating brush that does a great job of cleaning. It also comes with good set of accessories. I found it also cheaper to order it online compared to the Philips addresses them were. 1. It comes with a two pin 15 ampere plug and you need to buy an adapter to use with normal 5 ampere plugs in the house. I was afraid to use the adapter thinking that it may heat with the use but had no issues with heating of the adapter or the plugs in the wall during 15-20 minutes of cleaning each room in the house. I do not see a point in having that plug. 2. During the use one just pulls it along but it has no handle to lift the machine. I believe that one can use the handle of the dust canister to lift the machine but I am afraid that repeated lifting like this will break the click-on mechanism so ended up lifting the machine as a whole all the time while moving the machine without the hose. As I mentioned earlier these are not deal breaker but enough to take one star off and can have the star back if Philips addresses the issues on this great little machine. Suction power is good suitable for cleaning carpet, window curtains, floors and carpets. Cleaning the dust container is also very easy. Only concern I have is, if some length power cord is not pulled out from machine, the power wire that still remains inside the machine is getting heat from suction motor, after using the machine for nearly 1 hour and I pulled out the cord that was in the machine, it was actually little hot to touch not sure if it is safe for the live power cord to warm up like this. Would have been even better, if this had blower functionality also. Good product, Cord length and Suction power is satisfactory, Good quality, heavy noise, This is the first vacuum cleaner purchase for me and I can say that I am a happy customer. I bought this back in August '22 and it is serving me well. It comes with attachments that are convenient and reach high places, it has three modes of cleaning (tiled floors, carpets and sofas) and with pets in the house it has made my life that much easier. Thank you Phillips for a good product and thank you Amazon for a smooth transaction. Well-built, top-notch quality, suction power is too high. https://m.media-amazon.com/images/I/41x0Dop2T5L_SX300_SY300_QL70_FMwebp_.jpg, https://www.amazon.in/Philips-PowerPro-FC9352-01-Compact/dp/B072J83V9W/ref=sr_1_146?qid=1672923597&s=kitchen&sr=1-146&nB09MTLG4TP, "SAIELLIN Electric Lint Remover for Clothes Fabric Shaver Lint Shaver for Woolen Clothes Blanket Jackets Stainless Steel Blades, Clothes and Furniture Lint Roller for Fabrics Portable Lint Shavers (White Orange)", "Home&Kitchen|Kitchen&HomeAppliances|Vacuum,Cleaning&Ironing|Irons,Steamers&Accessories|LintShavers", "\: Remover for Clothes and bubble remover for clothes with a powerful motor (5W Rated Power) to work at high speed. |Elegant & Ergonomic Design|x90Ergonomic design, the pilling remover for clothes has an easy-grip handle which offers users a comfortable experience. |Easy to Use and Clean|x91This fabric remover shaver is corded and easy to use at anytime and anywhere. The installation process is easy, and the product is very reliable. The 4-level safety feature ensures that the water heater is safe to use and prevents accidental scalding. The water heater heats the water quickly, and the temperature can be adjusted to suit my needs. The only problem I am facing is with the indicator. Ideally, the red light shows that the water is getting heated, and it turns off when the water is heated enough. But in my unit, it's vice versa. The green indicator is working as red, and the red indicator is green., it is worth buying. It works well, First of all packaging was poor. Secondly Crompton says it is good for family of 3 members bath bucket but for that waiting is too long. Go for higher rated geyser from Crompton., Installation is not hard. Instruction book is given. Only lacking point is warranty card is sign n seal. Warranty card is valueless, Works just fine, but I must say it is useful more for kitchen purpose, and in bathroom if u don't use shower, cuz after running for a couple of seconds the temp. Of the water drops, heating is not that effective being instant. If anyone wants to take hot shower must go of geysers with larger storage capacity., The packaging was good and intact. No connecting pipes were inside. The power cable was very short. That made things bit difficult. I bought a 3m lengthy connecting hose for cold and hot water supply. I installed it myself and registered online on Crompton site. If you have drill machine or if you can borrow it, it just takes two holes to complete the installation. Working well and makes hot water in 2mins. Do not connect using any extension box unless it is rated for 3000w. Otherwise the wires will melt. Better always try to connect directly with the socket., Very useful product, <https://m.media-amazon.com/images/I/618IzmljN5L. They did not bother to call us. The pipe provided are of very low quality. One of the pipe is already broken. They have sent a youtube link, that's the great support we got from the manufacturer, It is pleasure to clean without noise and stress., This product from Eureka Forbes is very good. It lives up to the name Eureka Forbes have made in Vacuum Cleaner market. Good Suction power. Easy power control. Cord length is also good with convenient button to roll it. Sufficient accessories which covers almost every area. Good Filters. Works on normal sockets which isn't the case in some high power vacuum cleaner. Demo for the product provided by Ms. Priya was also good. Use of all the accessories was clearly explained and other necessary details to operate the product was clearly explained too. This model does provide clean air over a reasonable sized space if the windows and doors are kept closed., Great product with a capability to reduce dust by approximately 3/4 e.g. if atmosphere pm2.5 is 300ppm, it will be reduced to upto 75ppm inside room, only if minimum ventilation is provided to take care the CO2 we generate. In my case, I have found in my area that the ambient has CO2 at ~410 ppm. If we open one window door to only by 5mm clearance, the CO2 is being maintained from 500 to 600 ppm with 2 adults inside the room, based on wind velocity and direction. This adjustment 5mm clearance was achieved measuring with ""calibrated stand alone CO2 cum PM 1.0, 2.5, 10 measurement meter"" One more example with above ventilation arrangement, the machine is in auto and ambient air pm2.5 at 198ppm, room also at 198 ppm, the fan speed reached medium (sound audible), it took some time to reach 85ppm and then it took 1min from 85 ppm to 68 ppm, now fan speed changed to low speed in Auto (sound is inaudible), this ppm starts increasing gradually to 85ppm in 1.5 minutes, now fan speed increases to medium again and the cycle repeats as long as outside pm 2.5 is 198ppm. Similarly the fan speed (so it's sound) can be very high if ambient pollution is very high. It needs external cleaning of it's HEPA filter every month based on pollution. The sensor may need cleaning every 3 months for accurate readings (if sensor mal functions, it is to be cleaned first and check before taking to any service center). It has a simple filter element with spare availability and capable to give atleast 3 times the specified life, if we clean the HEPA filter element externally with vacuum cleaner regularly. It does not have ozone producing UV rays or ion generators, which if not properly designed (specified to customer's not worry) may pollute the air with ozone. It has particulate count PM 2.5 meter which is very accurate, in addition it change display colour according to pollution zones to know the condition of air in the room (The readings were authenticated with above calibrated stand alone meter CO2, PM1.0, PM2.5 and PM10). We have to keep it on Auto to facilitate to change flow /speed based on pollution level (it's temperature and humidity meters are also useful). Update...

24.04.22 (still under warranty) : It developed some abnormal sound just audible , when we go near to it (like kitch, kitch, kitch..) at lowest speed. Doubt was on loosening of bottom locknut of fan and sound is ruled out from fan bearings, this diagnosis also strengthened by the observation that the above sound disappeared, when it is made upside down. Bottom cover opened , side covers opened , the bottom grill was moved down by lifting lock with columns and it was found that the button lock nut was in slightly loose condition as anticipated. The abnormal sound and mild vibration problems are resolved after tightening the nut (with 13mm tubular spanner already available with me), holding the fan (nut is a self locking type) and assembled back , But opening of side covers is a tricky and risky job (some locks may be broken, use hand gloves to protect hands from sharp edges , they may open in jerky motion). I have made some top grill locks bottom side open by cutting (modification) so that I can open the panels easily in future. However another Mi Air purifier 2S is working almost continuously without any problem from last 3 years. Update: 02.07.22 High abnormal sound observed. This time I want send it to service center , but while lifting some material flied off from grill. So, when I run it upside down many foreign material came out like some bodies of flying ants , their wings and one baby lizard. Now again it is working normal., Actually there is no need of any smart features for an air filter. in practicality we just plug and use it. Yes air quality is improving. But it does not reduce any Allergic issues., Really liked the product, i like how it shows the current AQI, has a auto mode, night mode that is super helpful with a baby, The air purifier is 4/5 - is quiet, filters well and quickly. Will wait and watch for long term reliability, plus the replacement filters are expensive But the seller shipped an item in an open box, turned out to be a used product. Filter says 90% remaining, meaning it had been used to a good extent earlier. Not sure why 'second hand' items are sold as 'new', WORKS WELL SINCE 5 MONTHS. MORE COMMENTS WILL BE UPDATED SOONER., I like because the performance is good and effective very easy to install, It works well but pollution level indicator is not reliable and keeps changing number very quickly in wide range so in night you can't use night mode", https://m.media-amazon.com/images/W/WEBP_402378-T2/images/I/41Mktp5hVIL_SX300_SY300_QL70_FMwebp_.jpg, https://www.amazon.in/Mi-Purifier-Filter-Smart-Connectivity/dp/B0811VCG5L/ref=sr_1_182?gclid=1672923600&s=kitchen&sr=1-182&nB07FXLC2G2, "Tata Swach Bulb 6000-Litre Cartridge, 1 Piece, White, Hollow Fiber Membrane", Home & Kitchen | Kitchen & Home Appliances | Water Purifiers & Accessories | Water Filters & Purifiers, \xe2\x82\x969698, Power Indicator: Indicated purifying power level of the Tata Swach bulb and signals when to replace it | Advanced auto shut-off mechanism: Stops flow of water once the purifying power of the bulb is exhausted | Tata Swach bulb works on patented TSRF technology; The technology removes harmful bacteria and viruses from water and makes it safe to drink | Included Components: Main Unit, User Manual; Warranty Description: Warranty: 6 Months", "AHDISL5G65X3FMRD2D2ARNX0NYEQ, AFYN7CPGK0FGIEEDC6I6CFJBKVA, AG5HPY5JX3T2DV3RHEJLE26ASMOA, AG27F7XSXLAU4JPI Thakur, NAGESWARA RAO BONKURU, Premlata Sinha, MD NAWAJ SHARIF, Gopichand pawar, Amazon Customer, neelima, nineteenatre", "R3EJ8Q3TPMSQR3, R1LN1C5CM8PCGA, R3KY2YE1O4VRG3, R3VPNP1BWBPU1, R2MIYHSE2VT4HJ, R2GSMFZARPURF8, RLE0SHQW0X02M, I of the product is faulty, 5 Star \xe2\xad\x90, Best, Easy to install, Nice, Best filter", "Everything was good. I like it, I bought this for my dadi as our room is on top floor & its very cold here. It is working fine till now & it's power consumption is also less than 100w heater, i observed less unit usage from this 750w heater, Very bad product. The coil is of bad quality....broke within two days of use, Excellent hot with 5 amp socket. But works fine. Would have loved if it had extra bowl for that extra blade. Hectic to change blade into another bowl for using the extra blade. [Suggestion: One inverted jar would be nice too.] The juicer has the loose locking system, all others have good locking systems. Some plastic from mesh was cut when using it, that needs better alignment. Overall worth the purchase. Even with the excess noise. Also the screw tightener for changing blades broke after 3-5 changes of blades. But that is not big deal. It would have been better to have durable nut tightener., Recommend to buy this good quality attachments and powerful 750 watt motor. Not less than bosh grinder at less price., I had purchased Active 1 kw earlier from Amazon but the item being imbalanced was returned for replacement. The replacement piece received has the same defect which was returned for good. Expensive product, Handy, better to buy normal iron box, Inefficient and time-consuming., Water tank is too small, Wrinkle free and easy to handle, works very well, Just ok", "Product is very handy but the water capacity is too low! Disappointed with the product's pricing considering its wattage and usage time. You can't iron more than 2 clothes before water refill. Since the mouth area is not that much, you'll need to move it so many times slowly on the whole cloth. Steam amount is fine but design is such that you can't press it hardly on to the cloth during ironing. So overall do keep in mind before buying that it's only for emergency & travel purpose for de-wrinkling already ironed clothes., Good product. Does what it says. Though the water tank could have been bigger., better to buy normal iron box, Takes a lot of time and is not very easy to use. You will need to use the conventional iron even after using this steamer for most of the clothes. Works only for the synthetic fabrics. It's better to stick to the conventional iron., Hiii the water tank is too small and can only use for one shirt or T shirt, so plz concentrate on this also, Absolutely good. Easy to handle and flexible movement. It took me less than 5 mins to iron Kurti. Advice to users - please follow the instructions carefully, have some patience and it works great. Negative - Water chamber is very small and it takes 1 full tank to iron 1 shirt/1 kurti., The Product is good, unfortunately it came without a manual. I had to figure out where the water tank was and use it. Otherwise the product works well., Very low water storage is what put me off. Otherwise its just ok. Does the job. I mostly use it to make whipped coffee but I've also used it for mixing protein powder in milk and frothing milk / creamer for coffee. It is incredible effective for exclusively liquid substances like milk and creamer; I realized this after over-frothing my creamer one morning to the point of pure foam lol. After that I kept it in mind and I know to only do it for a short amount of time. Super easy to use, versatile in what it can be used for (as far as liquids go), and tbh it just looks really cute on the coffee-making section of my counter. The stand is a hugeeee plus, I definitely wouldn't purchase an alternative option without one. It gets the job done for whipped coffee. I also use this product to blend my matcha powder and my turmeric-cinnamon-ginger-coconut milk powder lattes. This frother takes out all the lumps and bumps. Because the resulting blend is smooth, it does not waste the ingredients like stirring with a spoon. So, so great! It has made my favorites even more practical and delicious. I have not found anything about this product that I do not like. I would recommend this product to others and have already done so. Get it! You will be pleased. It is the best Coffee Beater., I really liked this coffee frother. With its help I am making Cappuccino Latte at home easily. Easy to clean also., This oratech coffee frother makes coffee game easier and fun. After using it for a week. I'm sharing its pros and cons Pros: 1. Frothing milk for coffee is easier and fun with Oratech Coffee Beater. 2. Material quality is good. 3. It is portable so you can use it anywhere. 4. It is small so you can keep it anywhere. Cons: 1. Frothing heavy liquid is tough. My overall feeling about this product is it you are coffee lover and you want to make foamy coffee. It is best for you. Best quality product. That operation is a little difficult to explain to an elderly person over phone)Improvement required: Temperature setting mechanism- digital display is badly missed!Currently, there is no mechanism to know the temperature which is being set by rotating the temperature setting knob. You simply have to guess initially and then wait and do trial and error as the temperature starts increasing slowly. It's a slow process and you can't get the right temperature in one go!Digital display of temperature setting may be added.This is a general problem- I didn't find digital display in any brand. This can easily become a differentiating feature.This will be particularly very useful for elderly people.In today's time when electronics is everywhere, missing out on implementing digital control of temperature appears to be sheer lack of initiative.Quick suggestion:slightly bigger size is better with oil based heaters.,Works good for me in Himachal. If not for that this product would have had real good rating. I received a slightly defective piece where indicators where not working. I initially raised an issue about it but there was no immediate support for that. As filter was working fine and we didn't require indicators, we didn't bother to follow up. After several days the service guy came and fixed it. First time when the service guy came there was no one. So he came again and got it fixed. For immediate support, its better to reach out to local authorised dealer or service , as going through the official support delays the process. So considering all these I feel product is decent.,Free services are limited. If we change the filter during the free services, we will be charged. Filter is not free of charge during the free services.,Product is good but the service is worst till i experienced .if your staying in rural areas and your planing to buy this than i will say don't prefer because I have called minimum 20 times to the Custer care they always saying that they will send the service person but even no one is calling you to response .If your product is in service period the service person even don't lift your call and say the answer .Once the lady has called me and asked some details after she say it is not come under there area and she will forward it after i think five days has been completed and i called her back she replied rudely and saying i told you this is not come under there area and i asked her atleast give me my area service person number .She gave me atleast and i called the service person and he replied he didn't recieve any complaint id so raise a complaint on service request then he will come .I am frustrated and take my product and went to Guntur to repair it . Previously i done a service with the company servicemen he put a cap on the nozzle of the water pump so it stopped working and it all damaged. They told me you have to replace the pump it cost around 3000 . I have it installed in the bedroom, about 300 sq ft so well within the advertised max room space. While using the purifier the room is kept closed to minimize pollution addition.Build Quality :-The purifier is sturdy in its built and aesthetically pleasing. It has a large front grill that acts as the air inlet, and an arched back that has a larger grill for filtered air outlet. The arc helps the air to be released vertically upwards and hence does not add to direct cooling for anyone sitting in front. This helps the filters use in winter which is the main season where it is required. The top of the filter has a dark panel with touch sensitive buttons and a decent sized circular LED screen. The 4 buttons are - Power, Night Mode, Fan Speed, and Child Lock.Setup :-The air purifier is shipped with its parts packed separately. Thus on unboxing the same has to be setup for use. The setup is pretty straightforward. The main filter units front can be released and the individual filters aligned in order on the central space. The installation order of the filter is as followsFirst -> HEPA Filter. (The same has indication on top to correct installation. You can also go with keeping the Phillips Branding on the top left Corner)Second -> Active Carbon Filter. (The same has indication on top to correct installation. You can also go with keeping the Phillips Branding on the top left Corner)Third -> Pre Filter. This one actually clips in place and is used to filter out the larger dust / impurities so that it does not clog the other main filters.Thus the filtering order is Pre Filter -> Carbon Filter -> HEPA filterWorking :-The air purifier can be set to different modes. One of them being the automatic mode that automates the purifier working thanks to the inbuilt air quality sensor. The pollution level sensed regulates the fan speed accordingly. 4 levels are programmed and are indicated on the small circular LED screen by means of circular rings of different colors - Blue (Min), Violet, Pink, Red (Max). Red level would put the fan in maximum speed and blue would turn off the filter automatically.If you are not a fan of the automatic mode, you can use the fan speed button to move through the option of different fan speed/modes. They areFan Speed 1 - Indicated by 1 on the screenFan Speed 2 - Indicated by 2 on the screenFan Speed 3 - Indicated by 3 on the ScreenAutomatic Mode - Indicated by A on the ScreenAllergen Mode - This can be only added on top of Automatic Mode. It essentially bumps up the speed a bit on all the different color levels. This is to suit the sensitive people as this improves the air filtration rate.Turbo Mode - Indicated by T on the Screen. This puts the fan in the maximum speed possibleThats pretty much the major functioning of the air purifier. Additionally the filter has an automatic/forced night mode. The purifier automatically detects the lighting in the room and once it senses low to no light it automatically goes into night mode. The same can be forced by pressing the night mode button the purifier. What this does is that if the filter is in automatic mode, the fan speed is reduced on all the levels so as to minimize the noise.Summary :-So as to summarize my review and add my view here, the filter works pretty well for the use case i have. On regular winter pollution days its able to keep the air quality in control, even when working in automatic mode its able to go down from Red levels to Blue. Switching on an off intermittently as per the air quality levels. On drastic pollution days it has a tough time managing the air quality in automatic mode and i have to force it in turbo mode to get the air quality in control. If not too much of an air change is happening in the room throughout the filter is able to get the air quality to a much acceptable levels.The air quality indicator is a great value add on to the product. Much that is missing in similar priced competitors.I am little disappointed in the night mode working as it compensates air quality over noise. I believe the purifiers task is to ensure that the air quality in room is as good as possible. By reducing the fan speed to reduce noise works ok on normal pollution days, but is totally useless in any thing even a little worse (when i dont want to use turbo mode just yet)Durability of the filters has been decent. I have used it all through the winters last year and intermittently the summer this year but am yet to get an indication to change the HEPA or the Carbon Filter. On yes that reminds me the Air purifier would automatically sense and indicate when a filter needs to be replaced by displaying an error code on the screen. It even does that for the pre-filter which does not have to be replaced but just cleaned/washed. That i have received 3-4 times this past year.Overall i still strongly recommend this product-Good performance with a decent price which has been slashed a good amount from when it launched.,Good product,The product does not stand out notably, but it probably does the work it is supposed to. It is too late now to return this product and try another make.,Over all good product.bEasy to install,Well designed product. Yet, to experience filter replacement and, consequently, the recurring cost.,The product is working nicely and worth buying product.,Writing after almost 1.5 years all pros n cons Everything is good only problem is i live in delhi and hepa filter will cost you around 2000 and it took only 6-8 months it become totally black few advice1. Dont run it near kitchen it will catch all carbon n pores will b blocked.2. If you live in delhi check it after every month clean with vacume cleaners.3. Seal your doors most dirt & mosquito come from there open windows only that too seal them and put anti dust and mosquito net on them.4. Run it all day as when u turn it iff after 1 hour your room will be as dirty as ut was.5. You can clean pre filter only don't clean carbon and hepa filter.6. Being and indian if your hepa filter become black get some jot water put some detergent and dip it inside all dust and carbon will come out and use it again haha its paper but its so hard you can wash it 4-5 times keep it under sun light for 4-5 hours.7. Sometimes u get error of F0 clean all three filter with vacume or brush (careful while cleaning with brush that dust is dangerous can cause problems so wear mask) after cleaning hold ur finger on child lock to reset and it will start working8. Bhai delhi m pollution bhot h so family k lie monthly 300rs padta h filter mother wife bachy pura din gher p rhty h so its a must buy to protect them.9. Update fan speed got slow down10. Power consumption- on 1st- 23 watt, 2nd- 33 watt, 3rd 40 watt, max 50 watt best is keep it on automatic mode when room will be clean power consumption will reduced to 23watt and whole night it work in power efficient mode11. Do not left your room door or window open it will continue to be red room should be closed,Room is still dusty not much functional", https://m.media-amazon.com/images/W/WEBP_402378-

It is very light so easily tumbles down. wire cord is very short. Heating is good. It is not strong and sturdy but made of plastic outerbody which will break if it falls down.,More than a week,im using this product.Pros:compact,easy to use,portable,good built quality.Cons:Light weight,No manual control over saftey switch,takes time to heat a small room,small cable length.Conclusion:If you are looking for a gud loking compact heater you can buy it.If you are expecting high skip it.,I like the product design & quality..I'm using in my room.. It takes 15 to20 min to reduce the room temperature... I will recommend this product.,The only positive about this device is its price. Otherwise, all it has is negative.The heater is very light weight, but that's a negative coz it's too light to trust it to work safely. A device working at such high temperature require some weight to have stability so that weay feel confident that it won't topple. The manufacture has given a safe switch at the bottom of the device, but the device remains at high temp for sometime even after being off.The material body material feels very cheap and doesn't give confidence that it would last long though the PTC heating element may last long.There is nothing to prevent entry of dust and fiber into the heater, that may lead to a fire in the long run if fibres accumulate inside.Also, without any dust filter the heating plates will get blocked very very soon.The switch on the backside to switch off and on also appears to be of the cheapest quality.There is not temperature control in this heater....so once you start it it will run continuously so can't be used as overnight heater in your bedroom.So I would suggest, it would be better to go for slightly costly heaters which have temp control and better quality.,As abious amazon delivery service is awesome received this product in 2 days.Build - Built qiality is amazing dint expect this, Metal frame and smooth plastic finish, light weight to carry and portable.The best part I liked about it, it never took time to heat, just switch it on and it started blowing heat and it easily heats the room withing minutes. But bare oin mind it takes 220V power.All I can say is, its the best product in this price. You will not regret buying it.,The Heater is effective, easy to use , and very compact. Work is good, I like it very much.,Av very low quality heater without any temperature control. It burned my switchboard. It's been 1 month and just had to wash the first filter once and works very nicely....everyone in the house is breathing nicely and clearly, Monitors the pm level in the Air exactly. When I installed it in the kitchen, the pm level went up as soon as the cooking started and the purifier automatically switched to higher speed and brought it down. During KARTHIGY, when everyone was cracking crackers the PM level went up in the purifier indicating increase in air pollutants, Great product, no issues and work very efficiently, Easy to install, no noise. I ordered one more basket in black but unfortunately the finish of the product on the inside wasn't smooth. I wanted to store washed laundry in the second one but the basket's interior didn't have a smooth finish - had scratches and plastic sticking out that could damage delicate clothes. I returned the second one. I am deducting a star because my second purchase experience wasn't good. I might buy the same product again in the hope that I get a product of the same quality as my first purchase. Update after ordering the basket for the third time - The third basket's rim was bent so I couldn't fit the lid but the baskets finish was perfect. Yes, the steam is somewhat better than Philips as the user has used Philips also but as compared it should have been price competitive.Well – yes, it is able to remove crease from Jeans and even T-Shirt.We prefer stiff shirts for office wear so no good for Formals or Casual Shirts neither that good for pants.The water filler should have been round shape being a conical shape it does not give idea as to what level the water has been filled.Based on the water container it can steam 2 to 3 clothes at a time. Also, after 2 to 3 clothes the hand get pain. So, you cannot steam more garments.Also, you need some kind of support at the back – just hanging on the Hanger is not enough. The Manufacturer should have given a though on this and could have added an accessory either free of cost or at additional charge.Well so – If I get more information I will update, and change based on the same.,Good not best,I like the product but the only drawback i found is:A) according to the water capacity tank, in just about 5 min of usage you have to refill. So that way for each cloth you have to refill the tank.B) it's quite heavy. So i don't recommend this for long use. If you want to steam 1-2 clothes than its fine. Also the cloth must not be hung up above your height other wise it will be painful for you to hold this heavy steamer above causing more pain .My tip is that place the steamer on a table & after pressing on the steam button once the steam gets coming out you can hold your clothes & swiftly move in front of the steam (2 inches away) that way you will save yourself from the pain of holding it. Also pls use a plastic hanger & never steam over a metal surface :),<https://m.media-amazon.com/images/I/81Cp+L1+vIL. SY88.jpg>,It is a nice product but only reason I gave 4 star is that it becomes too heavy when it is held with water filled in the bottle.,It's only 2 days we used this product. However it's awsome and really a great worker when it comes to ironing. It's effortless and very quick.,If you want to purchase a steamer, go for it. It weights around 850gm without 250ml water, so the only concern is weight and how long u can hold it in your hand during steaming process. Otherwise performance wise this is by far the best machine available. Quality and finishing of the product are also very good. The drained water is same as tank water just with higher TDS). The water taste varies according to the level of TDS you choose very low TDS will give a good taste to water but at a loss of the mineral content of water which I will not recommend. The default TDS after purification is set somewhere between 80-100 (drinking water should have TDS below 300)MANUFACTURER REVIEW|RATING 2/51)The manufacturer of this product is Eureka Forbes I am giving a rate of 2/5 because the product that is now installed at my home is a replaced product because the first product that I received was a defective one. The drain pipe would not stop draining water even when the tank was full, I asked the technician to check it and he said the valve is defective so I received a DEFECTIVE PRODUCT OUT OF THE BOX! I ordered for a replacement on Amazon which they processed and I got another one in which the led lights were displaced I don't know it happened during transport or it is some manufacturing defect I would have been disappointed for the second time but I observed it and reported to the technician who replaced the led lights to their original position so that the led indicators were now visible outside. The replaced product's valve is functional and now operating without any hassle!SERVICE REVIEW0/5Don't expect to have a very comfortable installation experience its going to be a heartache. The reasons are1. The people Eureka Forbes has employed as technicians are thieves, I am saying this because Aquasure Delight comes with INTEGRATED DIVERTER VALVE, this is a stainless steel structure that is fitted to water outlet coming from the wall so that it can act as converter to be joined to the Aquaguard inlet! as I hadn't opened the package when it arrived! (because some or many of the companies void the warranty of you open the box containing the product, mostly electrical items that need installation like TV's Washing machines) Taking the precaution I didn't open the box so I was unaware that DIVERTER is included in the package! The technician after fitting the diverter charged Rs 200 saying that he fitted that from his side and diverter is not included in the package. i came to know this when I opened the package of the replaced product and found THE DIVERTER INCLUDED ALONG and confronted him but he defended saying some purifiers have diverter in them and some don't. I still have to confirm this with Eureka Forbes!2) The pre filter doesn't come included in the package so the technicians sell it to you at higher prices, My technician sold it to me at Rs 950 which is available at Amazon at Rs 750 but then if had ordered it from Amazon I have to install it by myself. I don't have a drill etc so I had to pay him Rs 950 so loss of Rs 400 on the technician. My opinion on this is that Eureka Forbes SHOULD SELL WATER PURIFIERA WITH PRE FILTER even though it raises the cost of the product by Rs 700 to Rs 800PLATFORM REVIEW!2/5The platform in which I bought is of course Amazon I am giving it a rating of 2/5 because I received a defective product the first time and Amazon refused to replace it because installation request was not raised by Amazon (Amazon never raises an installation request unlike Flipkart which raises an installation request from its side, which actually makes your life easy as in case if you receive a defective product which you notice after installation Flipkart directly consults with the technician and may even resend him to verify the authenticity of the problem) For installation you have to call the Eureka Forbes toll free number and raise an installation request, so Amazon representative was demanding an INSTALLATION REPORT, a video or photo proof of the problem, now how could I make that thief of a technician to write an installation report and about taking a photo or video I got the water purifier uninstalled as soon as I found it defective to put it up for replacement but I didn't know replacement request has these many hassles as it was my first time replacing an electronic product!SUMMARY1) PRODUCT IS GOOD FOR THE MENTIONED PRICE!2)AQUASURE COMES WITH ""INTEGRATED DIVERTER VALVE"" A STAINLESS STEEL DEVICE THAT IS ATTACHED TO YOUR WATER OUTLET AND THE AQUAGUARD, DON'T LET YOUR TECHNICIAN CHARGE YOU FOR IT.3) THE TECHNICIAN WILL OVERCHARGE YOU FOR PRE FILTER BE READY FOR THAT.4) TECHNICIANS ARE CUNNING AND MOSTLY THIEVES SO BE SHARP AROUND THEM.5) MAKE SURE PRODUCT IS NOT DEFECTIVE IF IT IS AMAZON IS GOING TO GIVE YOU A HARD TIME REPLACING IT.6) AMAZON WILL NOT RAISE AN INSTALLATION REQUEST YOU HAVE TO RAISE IT BY YOURSELF BY CALLING EUREKA FORBES CUSTOMER CARE!OVERALL VERDICT- 2.5/5,if your family in 4 members you have choice eureka Forbes delight R0+UV+TDS this product is very effective and efficient. Agua guard provides installation within 24 hours of delivery. before the installation had TDS level is 125, and after the installation had TDS level is 62. Nice product by Aquaguard, water taste is also sweet.,This is very good water purifier but I see service guy for installation seems in hurry. He just installed and went off. He did not show how much is TDS, how to adjust it. Don't buy this product on Amazon. Buy it from local stores if possible.,I purchased this product on a heavy Festival discount. There was problem initially after installation due to defective water holding knob. I reported this issue and immediately replacement was arranged. Although I had to wait for about two weeks. The Serviceman came and installed another piece. Since then it is working excellently. In all, the best part was that the services were good and responsive.,Amazon part of the business was smooth.Delivery done within timelines. Payments, exchange, cashback all done hassle free.Eureka Forbes another story.For installation I had to call them daily for 7 days.Finally on escalation and on hold with Eureka Forbes customer service for close to 90 minutes, installation was done.Eureka Forbes now calls me every other day to force this review.My main reason for writing this review.,I got the Purifier installed and before that I was having Bisleri water (reason why I have so many bottles which thankful came handy). The Deliver and Installation was smooth. After installation the agent mentioned to let the filter fill up completely and then throw away all the 1st batch of filtered water

since it's the 1st time filtration process so it will basically cleanse it overall. So I decided to let it full up and once it was full, I turned off the switch so no more water comes in. I used the empty 2L Bislery bottles to fill up the 1st batch of filtered water which as shown in the image which is around 6L as Mentioned by the Company. After I emptied the Filter to its last drop, I turned on the filter with another set of Empty bottles at the waste pipe side. It took quite a while to fill up the tank fully but as it did it filled up almost 13.2 L worth of bottles as seen in the image. This is roughly 220% or more than twice the amount of filtered water. Now the company claims 60% water saved in comparison to other RO+UV filters and I have no knowledge of how much water wastage they do. But I think it's a bit much regardless. For every ~6L of purified water, it wastes ~13L. My total water TDS is ~470. Filtered water TDS is ~86. And the waste water TDS is ~640. Maybe it's because of the TDS levels due to which it wastes as much water as it does and it's possible that the amount might vary for different TDS levels at source. But I recommend to have the waste water collected and used for something else if possible rather than just letting it drain down. 13L almost everyday wasted is 390L per month and this is considering you only filter 6L of water per day. I'll redo this once more to see if there's any difference in values. This is just to keep the potential buyers informed. I like speed to fill water less wastage. I like Tds adjuster and easy to install. I don't like internal plastic body though I believe it's steel.. need confirmation. Overall good product we are satisfied having it installed from 3-4 weeks, Deserve a 5 star on product. However, ran into a problem when it comes to installation. The technicians of the servicing centre at my local area gave me a huge problem by delaying the installation. At last one technician came forward.", <https://m.media-amazon.com/images/I/31Anei7Di0L. Though it is also by far the most expensive, it is value for money considering the following pros: 1. Functionality: It has only two touch buttons which integrate all the functions like Units of weight & volume, multiple tare & weigh with overload indication, and off/on; It can give volume indications for water and milk, two of the most frequently used liquids, while other liquids can be also measured if a glass of water is calibrated for a certain volume, say 100 ml and same is marked on the glass; The plastic food grade bowl fits snugly on the scale and also doubles up as a cover when the scale is not in use. 2. Durability: Because of its squat oblong shape and sure footing, the scale won't topple. Also, since bowl fits snugly on the scale upside down when the scale is not being used, it prevents dust from entering the display and buttons; material is tough plastic with a recessed top which seats the bowl firmly and there is no exposed space for ingress of any spilt liquid, With all this, there's a one year warranty extendable to two years, which speaks about the confidence of the manufacturers in their own design. 3. Battery Life: The device has an auto power off and a digital display which consumes very less power. Hence battery is likely to last longer. I only encountered two cons: 1. Scale is very sensitive and takes some time to settle. 2. The display backlight goes away after some time and the lcd reading is difficult to read in bright ambient light. Overall, this device serves my purpose of practical diet management very efficiently and effectively and am sure it will grow on me. Recommended if you want to get much more utility and efficiency at a slightly higher price. Little to adjust all time, Ok. There can be an improvement in the sponge quality, since while using the blower the same gets sucked in the steel tub. Further if the company can provide a video on how to effectively use the product it would be great and also how to avoid pressure on the motor since the hose pipe bends while using the product., nice product. i liked suction power but on right side extra blowing out apart from blower side. i don't why? and steel body build quality is too low. if small particles touch it'll get dent. it's ok over all product is good. ok ok, The suction power of the vacuum cleaner is really good only drawback is that after using it for some time I observed that the suction hose is leaking the air which is making a whistling sound. I tried reaching out the customer service and they informed me that the whistling sound when using the blower mode is quite normal. The outer container is made of steel and is of good quality. When I received the product I observed a dent in the body., Bought recently and initial usage is quite good. It's convenient and easy to use. Performs well on floors, mattress and sofas. I use my blender almost every day. But the construction of the blender is such that the food often falls below the blades and I am constantly readjusting the ingredients to get the ingredients blended. It can take a considerable amount of time and a lot of patience. But this immersion blender can puree fruits and vegetables in less than 2 minutes and do it evenly and consistently. It is easy to use and lightweight. Cleaning consists of removing the shaft with the blades and handwashing it. You can wipe off the handle with a damp cloth and stick both in a drawer. can't make sure the coffee is fresh. Mind that using instant coffee powder or using coffee mixed with chicory can lead to disaster, both for the machine and your stomach respectively. You can also go for Lavazza. But, it makes a hole in your wallet deeper than the Mariana Trench.2. Only use good quality bottled/can water.3. Maintain a good cleaning discipline4. In case you've used hard/tap water, immediately do a descaling. Refer your instruction manual.5. Always tamp your ground in the filter. You must apply about 30 pounds of force. This is about 13 kg of force. Hold the force for about 6 seconds and slowly rotate the tamper before removing it. Make sure the filter lock is up when doing thisAs you can see, this is a real espresso maker. It produces crema provided that you use fresh and the correct coffee. For me, it produced about 4 mm crema for a double shot. This is good for a steam driven machine. Note that this is a steam driven machine. You can never get the finish of coffee joints, because they use dual boilers powered by thermoblock pumps. Although the tastes would be similar, provided you use the correct beans.Please look at the pics to see the finish. The cirrus clouds like crema was from coffee powder a week old. The brown and rich crema is from that organic coffee powder I've just bought. Can you notice the finish being directly proportional to the freshness? This applies even to taste. The white crema cup tasted a bit bitter and left a bitter taste in my mouth. The brown crema cup tasted like coffee at its best, leaving a crisp and nutty taste. Also, after I did some research, I came to know that an espresso must have three layers. A bitter crema, a sweet middle and a nutty acidic bottom. You must mix these before drinking to have the best shot. If you see the glass picture I've attached, you can clearly see those layers.OVERALL, THIS IS A GREAT ESPRESSO MACHINE FOR A BEGINNER. IT MAKES GREAT ESPRESSO AND IT IS ECONOMICAL TOO. AS I SAID, IF YOU TREAT THE MACHINE WELL, THE MACHINE WOULD TREAT YOUR CUP OF JOE WELL.,Being a coffee enthusiast, the product fits in my requirement.Easy to use. Time taken is reasonable. Adjustment of intensity works well.Frothing tool is very good... though i prefer black coffee, frothing helps getting a perfect creamy coffee for my guests.,Nice product,The coffee strength nob is a mythBut itne paise me itna is good,Very happy with the machine, works fine and easy to operate, unfortunately it wasn't packed very well buy the seller so the plastic spoon that came with the machine was broken, everything was packed in the original box with only one tape to secure the box.,It makes the whole process of making coffee more difficult. Also was shocked to know this is not covered under Amazon's return policy. My bad I didn't check and now I am stuck with this. Easy to carry just a small suggestion that it should have left and right wind blower also instead of only up and down. Best product not saying it in this range but I have used others also this is the best till date. Even some time we use it as heat massager also as wind flow is awesome so sometime for back pain or knees it's a perfect product. Anyone of buying for the first time or buying for a better experience will recommend to go for this. Its almost 60 days of usage now. And yes easy to clean also. I have a dog and she also enjoys it...,I got a 15 month old used heater, not a new one.The fan is making a too much noise. It is a defective or a damaged piece.I got it on 18th Dec 2022. When I try to request a replacement I am told the return window is closed.If Amazon / Seller is sending a 15 month old used defective product should they at least not have the responsibility to at least get it replaced.,I have been using ptc heaters for a few years now and have been happy with their performance and longevity(usha & orpat).So decided to buy one more this year - saw this one had the highest rating. Bought it. Saw that its basically made by bajaj.Anyway, its good looking and all seemed fine. But i started noticing a flaw with the thermostat. Normally, there is always a hysteresis in the thermostat dial - it turns on at one point and turns off a little further back. But this one was turning On and OFF at exactly the same point. Then i started observing that if the thermostat was on , it simply remained on. If it was off, it remained off. Tried it multiple times and realised that the thermostat doesnt work. So finally returned it.Overall power consumption is as expected - around 1.4KW at low and 2KW at high.,Good,Very nice product.....,good for a room of small size upto 150 sqft, warms rooms within an hour and takes about 2 for a room of 200 sqft. its really light weight and silent in operation. has different settings for fan speed and hot/cold air. the only drawback is that it wont work for a big room or hall area. overall a good product .",https://m.media-amazon.com/images/W/WEBP_402378-T2/imaqes/I/41nYar0Z9fL. I had a question regarding water dripping bt the company was prompt to send salesman and resolve my queries. Also a tip that I have heard from alot of technician and sounds logical to increase the life of ur machine is to use filter was. Tap water has alot of impurities and gets stuck and reduces the life of iron. I have seen that myself with my other steam iron as it leaves small dust particles on the waterstorage area. So do that will solve leaking issues if u ought to have any,Wanted a heavy steam iron. This works very well. Lots of steam and easily irons out clothes. Very easy on fabrics too so you are able to use the high steam setting to remove out wrinkles on clothes without worrying about the fabric setting too much.,,Easy to Use and All types of Clothes,Nice it\`s did it\`s purpose nicely. Cleans almost 90% of your mess inside the car. Highly recommended., Pros: look and feel, easy to hold and handle, Cord length, useful led light during night, normal suction power but good enough for general use Cons: noise is bit loud, suction power could be better, Good, Hmm, Strudy design, quality accessories, reputed brand. I have seen some car vacuum cleaners especially the low cost one's where dust comes out of machine due to poor locking mechanism, so ofcourse you don't want the dust to be falling back when the sole purpose is to remove it!!! You get what you pay for, I have home vacuum clear from same company with has a good suction and does the job well, I wanted a battery pluggable cleaner where I can use it anywhere. Believe me no vacuum cleaner is good enough for heavily soiled cars, so if you are expecting a commercial level cleaning the don't buy any. Car vacuum cleaner is a portable device which gives decent satisfaction but not a perfect, I have seen some people who do not take out mats and just shove the cleaner in it and say it's not good. Mats need to be take out which actually collects big dust and derbies, this poor small machine can't handle a 100% cleaning on that. If the car is heavily soiled the you must get it cleaned at a professional cleaner then start using the small one. I found this to be doing the job when compared to my house vacuum cleaner. One thing I observed was the wires was getting hot and has a soft component which makes it even thinner when it's hit but I think I can handle the job, accessories quality is good and fir and finishe is good. I did not seen any dust seeping through the compartment and it was well contained in the dust chamber. Suction is decent and you can give almost a clean and tidy look to your car with this machine, again a professional grade cleaners can do a good job which cost nothing less than 15K. I would say worth a buy it used delligently by not expecting too much. I only hope if the company can provide a bag to carry it for the price or find one in your own which can fit your needs., Perfect", https://m.media-amazon.com/images/W/WEBP_402378-T1/images/I/41LZEy8e9DL_SX300_SY300_QL70_FMwebp_.jpg, https://www.amazon.in/Eureka-Forbes-Vacuum-Cleaner-Washable/dp/B08L12N5H1/ref=sr_1_295?gclid=1672923607&s=kitchen&sr=1-295%2B07GWTWFS2, "KENT 16025 Sandwich Grill 700W | Non-Toxic Ceramic Coating | Automatic Temperature Cut-off with LED Indicator | Adjustable Height Control, Metallic Silver, Standard", "Home&Kitchen|Kitchen&HomeAppliances|SmallKitchenAppliances|SandwichMakers", "\xe2\x82\xb91,699", "\xe2\x82\xac and sleek looking modern appliance, KENT Sandwich Grill is perfect for a healthy and tasty quick snack|It is multi-functional and helps you grill, toast, roast and even make multi-layered sandwiches with great ease|The appliance has non-toxic ceramic coating that uses less oil or butter and ensures easy flipping as nothing sticks to the surface|The ceramic coating also makes the grill easy to clean|With its ergonomic handle, you don't have to concern about the safety|KENT Sandwich Grill's adjustable height lets you easily cook various sizes of snacks|The automatic temperature cut-off turns off the appliance once your dish is cooked", "AEY6PEMQ7DII44WSUSC67JEWDE3A, AFMVVM2AXA3WHTC23D2ZQH4YUTZA, AEQGRU6X2E3PF60HP7HL7ZVTHOTQ, AEB4KX3FFG2DE2Q: GROVER, -, deshraj s., Ankisha Mishra, NITIN, Jai goyal", "RXPUKJKEHY256, R1DXJ48GMFWOZD, R24RXWIR7PL4IW, R12KBR8IKSS7J2, R1MJZTN0DNDU71, R1MUCAZHGYK1RB, R2KJM0QA350C7I, I for grill sandwich cord length is too short, Decent product, has some old flaws, Good \xf0\x9f\x91\x8d, Every home should have this, Weak body material, but overall good product, Good one with a small issue., Trusted brand, Nice product but cord length had to be replaced.. very short", "Good quality but cord is too short .it is ok for sandwiches., Value for money product, does what it promises. Saw this and love iBell as an upcoming Indian brand (own an electrical sander too), so didn't think twice and got this. Don't regret it one bit!! Pros are the 3 interchangeable plates for different ourposes. Grill one is just fantastic to hear all kinds of sandwiches and rolls and other food. All the plates are easily removable and washable too. Only con that i saw to this was the latch wasn't properly latching while making a heavily loaded sandwich in the sandwich maker. Otherwise it's a top of the range product in comparison with other big brands!, All the 3 functionalities works pretty well. Only thing is it should have had auto switch off feature. Nevertheless it is a very good product and worth the money. Sandwich also gets made fast., I ordered vguard removable plates sandwich maker, but it came in faulty. Since it was white, and therefore a very unappetising sight now, I needed a new one. Packaging: The design of packaging was perfect - stiff corrugated sandwich board box, foam profiled panels stuck on board for bottom and top, board wrapping around the glass kettle, the whole unit inside a thick ply cover. Frankly, this sort of packaging is more common in high end audio equipment. 5 * plus for the packaging design. Size: This is a small machine - and will make about 600 ml of coffee - sufficient for 2 mugs in one go. If you need a larger volume - look elsewhere. Body and finish: The plastic body is well made - the matte finish looks good. The bottom metal plate is seamless and black - will have to wait and see when spots appear. The kettle is good quality glass, and though no branding is present, feels thick enough to withstand minor washing bumps. The filter bucket and the holder with the flow control spring is OK - hopefully the spring and washer - which are fixed - will last. The lid moves smoothly and the hinges and the sprinkler also look sturdy. Switch is firm. Function: It worked very well on the first use. I had used an extra coffee filter paper on top of the nylon filter bucket. The flow was smooth. Coffee liquor starts weak, and then picks up strength. The drip stops well with the removal of the kettle - and though the manual cautiously states a 10 sec gap for drip stop, I did not find any leakage on longer removal. Overall: Very satisfied with my new coffee maker. Recommend buying., Product doesn't work within a month, Easy to use, and it turned out better than I expected it to be for the price.,Just Magnificent. Saves lot of time.,The plastic quality for this product is poor. It feels like a toy. I had bought a Amazon basics air fryer it had great build quality comparing to this Amazon basics product,If you try to find a replacement part it costs twice its value,its cheap and breakable. Was to be Delivered on Thursday 08/12/22 but arrived early on Monday 05/12/22 at 10 am. Quite satisfied with the Delivery, Packaging, Condition of the item and also Happy with the early arrival. Along with the Vacuum we received a basic Instruction Manual and Warranty Card. The Invoice was missing from the parcel, so it had to be downloaded from Amazon. To Register your Warranty, you require to scan the Bar Code on the Invoice and WhatsApp the details. Without any delay, excitedly we got to assemble the unit which was a fairly easy task, took approximately 10 minutes, which I guess is ok for the first time while getting familiar with all various attachments etc. First impressions, the Vacuum itself looks sturdy built wise, but some attachments could be a little stronger. Especially, the extension pipes could be Stainless Steel same as the Drum and Telescopic in feature / operation. The main Vacuuming head attachment used for floor / hard surfaces could also be Stainless Steel as it gets used the most and gets banged around quite a bit, would extend its life. It's a 2 pin plug, instead of a 3 pin which could have been better with a surge protector fuse. The cord is of decent length, quite impressed with the quality of the cord. Also, the cord, which has no autowind and cannot be inserted within the body of the unit, after use can be rested on top of the Drum in a winding fashion, it kinda works and does keep in place without being a nuisance. Hose, same solution. The 2 side Latches are reasonably strong. Wheels are easy to install / insert and work fine. It would be absolutely fantastic if the various attachments could be stored / latched to the main unit while not in use, storage wise but can understand the limitations in this regard. First demo was for the Vacuum. Noise average (not too loud or unbearable), reasonable with any other domestic Vacuum of similar power. Inside the lid, the dust bag clings on to its inlet, would be better if it could be secured / locked with a clip. In Vacuum (suction) mode the air gets forced out of the Blower outlet, this outlet is directed on the opposite side of the unit and is directed straight onto the floor level. Now imagine, if you had not yet cleaned that part of the room and that dust gets thrown around or blown onto the already cleaned surfaces, it would be an unending job like a dog chasing its tail. If this outlet had a removable or having the ability to rotate something like a flap or adjustable Ac vents like in cars, then it could direct the blown out air upwards while Vacuuming the surfaces and this could have been of great design sense. Suction is at par with as described or claimed in the adverts, nothing too exciting but definitely not disappointing, does the job which is important. Then, follows the demo for the Blower. This feature should technically be equally as strong as the Vacuum, because the force of the air sucked in while Vacuuming is supposedly the same force leaving the Blower outlet. To make things interesting, there are fish gill like 2 vents on either sides of the Lid. These vents are the fixed kind, cannot be closed or opened. One of the vent very faintly can be felt taking-in air, while the other vent blows out air at a significant force. This particular phenomena I am bewildered with, cause as I understand the escaping rate of air through this vent will weaken the force supposed to leave the Blower outlet. So make of it what you will. Still does the job, if you're looking at blowing leaves or scaring the neighbours pet. Finally, the demo for the Wet. Performance is at par with as described or claimed in the adverts and as other customers have described in their video demonstrations, again nothing too exciting but definitely not disappointing, does the job which is important. May need to dry mop even after using the Wet function. In closing Definitely do purchase it, use it often as required and also helps keeping fit, Do not allow dust to settle on your Vacuum Blower. Also ordered extra: i) American Micronic Replacement Dust Bag for AMI-VCD21-1600WDX & AMI-VCD15-1600WDX ii) RODAK 35 MM Mattress and Upholstery Nozzle for Vacuum Cleaner Wet and Dry Cleaning, EU Import, It have the best suction power among the wet and dry vacuum cleaner, even better than some of the dry vacuum cleaners. I bought this for my mother in-law. She likes it for being easy to use. It's simple and easy to connect and remove dust covers and pipes, Extension pipes are little loose though. It's easy to clean those cat hairs now. And don't have to worry about accidentally sucking the water from the floor, because it's Wet and dry vacuum cleaner. Hope the customer care is a good one in case of any needs arise. They send me already opened package, but not used I think. They could have send us a fresh unopened perfectly sealed package. No complaints until now. I liked the reusable dust cover feature, also it's easy to connect it inside. Easy to handle, don't have too much weight. It would have been better if there was an auto winding of power cables with a switch. This is a domestic beast.... great suction. Only thing that should have been there is speed control. Noise level is high, but with such suction is ok. As long as it cleans it all without me to redo it again and again, I am ok... Rest how it will stay with time will be something to see. It is very easy to clean as the suction power is great \xf0\x9f\x91\x8d very powerful machine indeed, I have been looking for a good vacuum cleaner for a long time now. I recently came across this and read the reviews etc. Some were good and some were bad. But at the same time I couldn't find any better specifications in any of the other vacuum cleaners in this price segment so I finally bought it. It came in a big Amazon box well packed and secured. Unboxed and it was as perfect as in the stock images. Here is the list for you to understand the pros and cons as easily as possible: \xe2\x81\xa0-\xe2\x81\xa0) \xe2\x80\xa2 Very Good quality steel and plastic build \xf0\x9f\x92\xaf\xe2\x80\xa2 The suction (28kpa) is really really good even with the thick carpets etc \xf0\x9f\x92\xaf\xe2\x80\xa2 The wheels are really good too, They move effortlessly \xf0\x9f\x92\xaf\xe2\x80\xa2 You get a lot of accessories to clean different surfaces and they're good quality \xf0\x9f\x92\xaf\xe2\x80\xa2 The blower function is really powerful \xf0\x9f\x92\xaf\xe2\x80\xa2 The bag inside, which collects the dust & dirt is big and can be cleaned & Washed easily \xf0\x9f\x92\xaf\xe2\x80\xa2 The noise level isn't much. Its okay, Not loud \xf0\x9f\x92\xaf\xe2\x80\xa2 The cord length is 5mtrs which is enough \xf0\x9f\x92\xaf\xe2\x80\xa2 The overheating protection is Good \xf0\x9f\x92\xaf\xe2\x80\xa2 All the Accessories can be stored at the given spaces on the base \xf0\x9f\x92\xaf Cons: \xe2\x80\xa2 The only thing that I think should be improved is the locking mechanism of the extension pipes. They are good and fit well but if its a carpet or some other mats you're cleaning you need to tighten it well otherwise it loosens and needs to be tightened again and again. \xf0\x9f\x92\xaf Overall a 10/10 Product which fits all your needs, Wet and Dry [Cleaning of course; \xe2\x81\xa0)]. Better than any other Vacuum cleaners in under 10k price range. Go for it \xf0\x9f\x92\xaf (P.s I've tried some other Vacuum cleaners too which are in the 6k and above range but this is the all in one OP Vacuum Cleaner \xf0\x9f\x92\xaf), Good suction with great built quality, Good durability, good suction power and quality product, Vacuum cleaner is very fine, suction power is quite good, drying power is also just OK, noise level is high as I expected. Overall performance is good.", "Nice product, low noise and good suction power in price range, received damaged packet and without hose pipe, but over all product is good worth of money, Received the product on time. Have used it once to clean and its easy to use , works well. The heating concern mentioned by prior reviewers is apt however don't a damper for a purchase at this price. It's a decent product in the affordable category. The floor attachment Particularly works very well. It is light weight and so cleaning lower end of ceiling fans was easy. The suction power when using sofa attachment is quite good in cleaning dust stuck in stitching corners. Overall, if you want to spend minimally and get all relevant attachments and your usage is for a 1 bed or a smaller sized apartment, this product is a good start., , Carpet bohot ache se clean nhi kar paata, baaki normal cleaning ache se kar deta he., Got this vacuum cleaner after a lot of research and it has been a good choice till now. I wanted a handheld vacuum cleaner for both car and home cleaning purposes. My primary requirements were cleaning my car and gaming chairs/sofas. A car vacuum cleaner only wouldn't have suited the purpose. Also, I wanted a power-plugged vacuum cleaner as the one with a battery can be used only for a certain amount of time, and there is a long charging period of wait. This product ticks all the requirements. It has a 5m power cable that is long enough to use comfortably. The suction power is good at 16kpa, unlike the 6kpa of most battery-powered cleaners. Noise is okay, I mean it isn't so much to disturb someone until and unless someone is really allergic to noise. It has several components that helped clean my car and even my fabric gaming chair. And I was also able to see a visible difference in the window meshes. Yes, it gets heated after several minutes of usage, but I could use it with a wait of 2-3 minutes each time. Its weight is ample for horizontal and downwards usage. I haven't used the stick provided, and I think it might be a little bit difficult to use it upwards on walls if I need to use it continuously for 10 minutes or more. I had to be sure that the accessories were available after purchase, such as the filter, which I was able to confirm with customer care. It's a good buy. Let's see in the long run. It's made in China. The company provides 6 months of an extended warranty if a review is given and shared with them. This is a bit weird requirement to go ahead with. However, this isn't a sponsored review and is based on hardly a month's usage. Some photos are attached for help., Nice product, but the filter strain was torn in one place, it needed to repair. But otherwise satisfactory. Build quality is very deplorable, they are just forcing the buyers to give 5 star by any means to give better service and warranty assistance by a card inside the box, this seems really threatening. But overall working of this machine is somehow ok. I would rather suggest if you have options to not choose it, then go for that option., Good for surface cleaning, build quality is not adequate but good to have at this price, <https://m.media-amazon.com/images/I/81ix5q8WwL. As much as I was excited for the use of the product, it did not prove to be as useful. The sealing side does not heat enough for a packet to be sealed well. The cutter side works fine. Very handy and durable product., This is VERY strong, so while that is good for certain things, it can also be a little difficult to vacuum as the it sucks in the surface, making it difficult to glide along the surface. Also, it does heat quickly so you have to keep pausing. however, overall for this price, it's quite an amazing buy., A good product that cleans dust from upholstery and floors. Variety of attachments help for different surface cleaning. Good suction capacity. Long cord makes it more useful since you can reach greater distances from the plug point. Only reason for 4 stars overall is that when using it, some dust comes out from the collection compartment. The closing seal could be made more firm so that there is no air leakage out., Easy to suction the spider nest on the wall and other corner dust., Great product. Let me start with why I went for ""Instant Geyser"" instead of ""Storage Geyser"". -Storage geyser's have a tank to store water and heat it.-For example a 10litre storage geyser fills up the 10 litre tank and then heats the water.-As it has to heat high volume (10 lts) of water it takes time of about 5 to 10 minutes-Instant geyser's on the other hand heat water instantly within 1 to 3 minutes-However the catch is they don't have a huge capacity tank which means at a given instant it has only small volume (depending on tank capacity) of hot water Now who should opt for ""Instant Geyser"" and who should opt for ""Storage Geyser"" is the question ?- If you like to have a ""Shower Bath"" for which you require more than 10 litres of hot water continuously then you should go for ""Storage Geyser"" since storage geyser of capacity more than 10lts will store 10lts of hot water and provide it to you as soon as you turn on the shower without any pauses-Instead if we consider ""Instant Geyser"" of 3lts capacity for shower bath, it can't provide you 10lts of hot water continuously because for every 3lts it takes time to heat water again-Hence for a shower bath better to go for ""Storage Geysers""-If you like to have a ""Bathtub Bath"" then instant geyser's are good to go because-Consider using a bathtub, a bathtub generally is of capacity 350lts-If you even use a ""Storage Geyser"" of high capacity as much as 25lts, still you will have 14 pauses of 5 to 10 minutes each-Because at one shot this storage geyser can provide you only 25lts of hot water continuously and then you will have to wait for 5-10mins for the next 25lts to heat-So to fill the entire bath tub, you need to have 14 times 25lts of hot water = 350lts-So the total wait time would be 14 times 7mins (on an average) = 98mins-In this scenario of ""Bathtub bath"" it's better to go for instant geysers since they provide hot water almost instantly and even though there will be pauses for every 3lts of hot water still the pauses being very small you'll have a bathtub full of water with enough amount of heat/hotness Then you might ask what should we consider for ""Bucket Bath"" ?-Both ""Storage geysers of 15lts or above"" and ""Instant geysers of 3lts or above"" are good to go-Just choose based on: Price, Time taken to heat (instant takes less time), Energy consumption (instant consumes less) Now coming to ""Havells 3lts Instant Geyser of 4.5KW"" , why I bought this ? -Havells is a great brand-I wanted to have it for ""Bathtub Bath""-4.5KW heats 3lts of water in just 30 to 50 seconds What I liked about this product:-I have been testing it from a week and it is really assuam as it is heating 3lts of water in just 45seconds (I have used a timer to note that)-The installation was totally free, however remember you will be charged if there is any ""Plumbing Work"" to be done.-No need to buy any extra accessories like pipes, everything is provided in the box, you just need to buy a 16amp plug which would be less than 100rs-As soon as the product was delivered by amazon, I got a message from havells saying they have registered my installation request and the very next day the instalaltion was done, thanks a lot Havells (This might differ for you based on your location, I live in hyderabad)-I really like havells customer service-The geyser comes with 2 years of warrenty for the whole and 5yrs of warrenty on the tank-It has ""Auto Cutoff"" feature to stop further heating or wastage of electricity if you forgot to switch off (however please switch it off once done because eventhough it has auto cutoff, still once the water in the tank cools down it will again start heating and the cycle repeats)-It shows color indication: ""Blue when its heating"" and ""Orange when it has done heating"" (Have a look at the pictures I have attached)Note:-Go for the 4.5kw model if you want hot water instantly in 30 to 50seconds, the 3kw model might take 2 to 5mins to heat 3lts of water-Make sure it is 4.5kw model because I see reviews from other customers who say the ""Mustard"" colored geyser is not 4.5kw but 3kw (better go for white and blue color to be sure),Very nice product,Good product,4.5KW rated heater is able to heat water in minutes and maintain that temperature for continuous flow of hot water. Good product,Great product at great price.,Value for money and instantly warm water comes in just 2min,Havella water heater,Water heats up in 45-60 secs depending on the weather.This review is after using this water heater continuously for 10-12 days in December, in Kolkata, with one of the days being extremely windy and lowest temperature at 14-15 degree Celsius (during afternoon/ early evening hours). On the coldest day so far, it took around 1min & 10-15seconds to heat up completely.If you don't have chronic pain, or arthritis, or this is not going to be used for very old people, whereby really hot water is required for bathing, I think it can work perfectly for winters with lowest temperatures upto 9-10 degrees, because I have chronic pain and use this to get really hot water and for a shower, not using a bucket, and it's manageable.Obviously can't be compared to steaming hot showers using a storage geyser, but this heats quite quickly, so can be used in the shower even with the low capacity.For that same reason, it can be used for multiple people, because by the time one person leaves the bathroom and the next enters, you'll have fully hot water, only of lesser quantity, so if you don't live someplace cold, or don't need very hot water but mildly hot water, this can be used for multiple people as well.Installation support was also good.No cons, only that if Havells introduces a 5l instant heater in the 4.5kW range, then that would be a game changer and might give storage geysers a run for their money because this is perfect for anyone who doesn't have their own home and might need to move around, because it's compact, and provides instant hot water.",https://m.media-amazon.com/images/W/WEBP_402378-T2/images/I/31991seDfcl_SY300_SX300_QL70_FMwebp.jpg,https://www.amazon.in/Havells-Instanio-3-Litre-Instant-Geyser/dp/B078JF6X9B/ref=sr_1_347?qid=1672923610&s=kitchen&sr=1-347 nB08CGW4GYR,"Milk Frother, Immersion Blender Cordless Foam Maker USB Rechargeable Small Mixer Handheld with 2 Stainless Whisks\ref\abc\8cWisker for Stirring 3-Speed Adjustable Mini Frother for Cappuccino Latte Coffee Egg",Home&Kitchen|Kitchen&HomeAppliances|SmallKitchenAppliances|HandBlenders,\xe2\x82\xb9375,\xe2\x82\xb9999,62 To Get Creamy Froth With Great Power: The immersion blender Equipped with an innovative, super premium motor, the must-have handheld foam maker gives long-lasting and reliable performance. I must say area of improvement would be selling details need to be update. Build quality area off improvement and the battery charging indicator as well should also show how much battery is remaining that feature is also missing, in the variant I received.Can purchase this product and can give it try for me it's working doing the job.,I ordered black one but get a white. Build is not good as I think. Easy to clean.It is indeed a good product the only thing that can be improved is speed adjustment buttons as it starts directly at the full speed you can reduce the speed but it should be in an increasing order (Speed Button),The power adjusting buttons are great.Froths in only two minutes. One charge can hold up to 12 times od frothing! Totally worth the price!!,I ordered this product for beating coffee, but this product is also best for mashing eggs, lassi making and other kitchen works also. Simply insert two AA batteries and you are good to go – best results with Duracell. Attractive and secure packaging. Express delivery. Very satisfied!, First hand experience with this product is quite good. It does the task with ease. Will use this product more than 1 month then will edit this review. But for now the product is simply amazing at this price range., It was working well and suddenly after four months it stopped working. At first i thought I needed new batteries but even with new batteries it's not working just in 4 months i haven't even used it completely for 30 days in the 4 months I've had it., Great product and easy to use, hoping I will not face any issues as mentioned in some comments., Easy to use, The quality and speed of the product are just amazing... I thought it was costly but it's worth the money.... blindly go with this.. thank u so much, Product is good till now I have used it 3-4 times but still to use more and if anything goes wrong have to check their customer service.. Just feels a little heavy., It is easy to use and wrinkle free and happy for using first time. Thank you Amazon., Good product, First of all I really like the color of this iron. This is so cute to hold and use it. I was little worried about the performance but I tried this on daily basis for good 5 days so far and the cloths are really neat and wrinkle free. I feel this is little bulky as compared to the iron that I used from my friends in the past but otherwise this is a good travel iron. Now I don't have to worry about ironing lots of cloths before travelling to somewhere., 2 level steam adjustment allows better control to obtain optimal results and Easy refill large 1.8 ltr water tank suitable for long steaming sessions and Powerful 2000watt all aluminium heating element for fast even heating and Double anti-dry design for comprehensive heat & damage protection, I'm really satisfied the product., This steamer works like magic. I just used hanger for cloths and used it. Very useful for fast instant ironing. Need to press button for steam. All you need is little patience. Do it slowly. Wall on background helps. Don't put hands on opposite sides of clothes, it's temperate is high., The results are evident. All your bulky clothes can be ironed pretty easily with this. A small amount of water is enough to iron a blazer or even a lehenga. The efforts have become minimal. It is a modern day treat to have this at your home. The price when compared to others is kept minimum. The warranty is pretty much handy extra six months, I used it for the first time in my life. And, wow, it just worked like any normal iron!  than I expected!, Good, Good product, Great durability and original products, Very Nice !, Good product, Good, Good product", "Pros:1) Looking at the picture, I thought it would just be the blender with some cap to cover the blade. Turns out the ""cap"" was actually a pretty nice container to blend small amounts of anything. The container itself seems of great quality, has measurements on the side, and also comes with a lid so that nothing splatters outside when you're using the blender.2) There is also a holder with some nails if you wanna mount the blender on a wall.3) The blender itself is amazing to hold, looks great, and is pretty easy to use.4)

 The blender can even stand on its own if you have to leave it and attend to something else. If you place it vertically, you can leave it as it is.Cons:1) After over 15 seconds of continuous blending (that is, if I'm not just pulsing it but continuously blending), there is this smell of some sort that starts to come from the blender. I'm not sure if that's a sign of overheating, or if it's normal.2) There's this groove right above the blade, and every time I'm done washing, there's always a little residue that was hiding in that groove which always comes out a few seconds after I'm done washing, and I always have to go back to clean that. So that's a small inconvenience. But it's overall great, and I'd highly recommend getting this

After cleaning off the lint, clothes looked good as new., This lint remover is just too good...very easy to use and easy to clean...it removes the lint completely and gives a fresh look to the clothes., Absolutely love the product, very useful. No gimmicks, I like it when the product does what it says. The brush at the back is just cherry, highly recommended. Blessing for winter clothing, it does work on any kind of cloth which has lint/fuzz on it, Super, Works well as designed. Cord free allows flexibility. But, the lint collector is a bit small requiring frequent emptying. Also, the collector could have been transparent to allow easy view. It maintains fixed temperature enabling fermentation process. I gave one star less because it does not have any handles so holding the apparatus can be tricky as it has this smooth surface so it might slip off from hands. You have to be very careful while holding and handling this curd maker, if they give side handles and auto-cut off feature then it would be best., Package arrived in good condition. Now need to contact company for warranty, Good product to settle hassle free yogurt. Only thing is it should automatically cut of power once yogurt is ready. Else yogurt tastes amazing., Got the product, looks good... checking now, I am writing this review after using the product for three weeks. I have chosen this as \'Agaro\' Brand seems to be more trustworthy and has 1.5 years warranty (1 year +6 months extra after registering) Good Things - It works as expected. For my taste and local weather conditions, it takes nearly 6 hours. This will vary based on individual taste and local weather conditions. Very light weight. Cleaning is easy and there is no problem even if there is a bit of spill. Not So Good Things - Quantity is not 1.2 liters, it is few ml more than 1 liter. Plastic covers are delicate and there is chance of them getting damaged while cleaning. In my opinion manufacturer should have a provided a optional spare set of covers. Considering the cost, build quality is sufficient (as it is Made in China) Length of the wire is 94cms and usually requires an extension, Good product, Good product, It\'s just amazing. This sentence is enough to comment for this unique thing. The quality is good just for the looks however the fins are very thin and unable to produce the same heat with same power as Bajaj. Although I am comparing it with Bajaj 13 fins still the room size was 12x10ft and borosil heater really struggled to even put the room to a comfortable temperature. With Bajaj it was done within half hour however borosil took even 2 hrs and still we were feeling uncomfortable. The fan placement is low and it doesn't converts that much heat for faster heater even with max settings. Please check both physically if possible, Bajaj is on a heavier side and fins are of good quality. Though I received 2 defective Bajaj heater (physical dent on body) from clouddtail, I have again ordered the same. Hope this time it turns out to be good. No company is providing the details of the oil quality used in their product. Good luck., I have used bajaj oil filled heater before. This feels more sturdy. I think havells and borosil make the best quality oil filled heater in terms of sturdiness and finish. Although it's a simple assembly but still I wanted to buy a good brand as it draws a lot of power and I was concerned about safety. It makes the room warm quickly. Based on the power mode you choose. It will make the room dry. I have seen people using water vaporiser alongside but on low power I haven't felt too try in 1-2 hours of use. Overall, since it was borosil, I expected an even more beautiful look but since it works well I am happy. Easily 1.5-2 k costlier than its peers., Using 3rd Party off-brand blowers for years, I finally took the leap and bought the 13 fin Volcano from Borosil. It has transformed the way with its reliability and efficiency. Packaging: The item was secured and packed very well with amazon packaging along with the original Borosil Packaging. Assembly: Using the provided guidebook was easy to understand. The unit comes as assembled but you have to attach the castor wheels which was pretty easy. Then all was left was to plug it in. Usage: The heater warmed up the 20ftx20ft room with relative ease. It has 3 power levels for the fan attached usage. The heater warmed up the 201x201 room with relative ease. It has 3 power levels for the fan attached and a temperature regulator. The heater takes 5-6 minutes to heat up and bring the room up to temperature. Looks: The product looks very well and the black fin structure helps meld well with any decor you have in your room. Additionally, the two-year warranty and the safety features make it a must-buy product for winters. 9/10 would buy again. Did not give the expected result. Ordered this OFR a month ago and have had used it since then. It is a powerful product to warm up the room pretty quickly. Although the first few minutes are slow but then it picks up the pace and evenly heats up the entire room. It is quite and doesn't even vibrate. I already own an OTG and an egg boiler and now the OFR. Borosil has stood up to the mark providing good quality appliances at a decent price tag.", <https://m.media-amazon.com/images/I/41qgrzjPySL. As it was small tank if u need to get bucket water1. On geyser and wait till water gets heated (2-3mins) ON TAP and fill bucket with hot water.2. OFF TAP and wait for another round of water heating then again fill bucket and leave the tap ON untill bucket filled with warm water.3. If u need more hot water repeat steps 1 & 2.Cons:-1. One need to purchase inlet & outlet pipes which costs around 400 as this was not provided by orient.Writing review after 20+ days usage., Heater is so slow as compare to Bajaj heater ... currently i purchased this 1 but it's not good, I have ordered two of them . Installed in bathroom as well . There is a trick to use it in bathroom. Either turn tap really slowly or by turning on tap at full speed. Whenever the the water get cold again switch of the tap , after 3 to 5 minutes again on and fill. Just this compromise you have to make in place of storage geysers., Product body fitting is average. Be prepared to spend another 600-700 R's. on installation pipes, 16A plug and installation charges. No installation plate with geyser. To be mounted on screws. No safety valve supplied with geyser. Overall average product. Better go for Havells which comes with all accessories., Easy to install. Temperature controller is not available with this product..Till date working good., https://m.media-amazon.com/images/W/WEBP_402378-T1/images/I/51IzGND7eL_SX300_SY300_QL70_FMwebp_.jpg, Ordered on 7th feb 2021. Received as per delivery date. On opening found that the unit is wrapped with plastic and found water droplets. Maybe they tested the product before delivery. So better to understand the feature before using it. Just switch it on and wait for 1-2 min. it will start supplying hot water . As i told this is not a Storage geyser like 5-25 Ltr. It comes with 3lts capacity only with 3KVA. So once the set temperature reach . Then Open the Hot water TAP in normal/Slow running speed .So that it will continue supplying Hot water/ warm water. If the Hot water Tap will be fully opened with full speed then this instant water water will not get sufficient time to warm the water. Please ensure you check with LG installation service team before hand., Product is good and no issues with Cooling or any other functionality. The installation was expensive, Amazon installation says 1199 + Tax, but the total installation cost is 1199 + Tax + Stand Cost + others = 2651. Also, the copper wire was missing and the LG installation person told that I need to contact Amazon and they will reimburse, I called Amazon customer care and they said they will reimburse upto 3000, the wire costed me some 3300. Amazon reimbursement is in form of Amazon Pay balance, so I actually ended up paying CASH as below to the LG installation. Installation Cost - 2651 Wire Cost - 3300 Total - 5951 Amazon should look into why copper wires are missing from packages, it seems to be a regular issue as installation guys were aware of it even before opening the package, it is unnecessary issue and headache for customer buying from amazon., Good, Noisy at full speed fan mode, but quiet enough at medium to low fan speed. Hence, Not satisfied. give the address where we can buy it offline/online also what's the warranty of this product (mention it)., Good, It's easy to use., Installation is difficult if you don't or can't understand the fitting procedure, but once you do, A-Okay, and super easy. IMPORTANT : Lasts me well over 3 months, but i recommend changing it after you think the flow of water has slowed down a lot, OR you think the water tastes funny. For the last few days of its life, the water will not be completely pure, and it won't completely stop. This filter has a good water flow rate, for a family of four, it disperses enough water, fast, within 30 minutes you'll have several liters of water to drink. Also, the main thing about this is it is CHEMICAL FREE! - it also filters out VIRUSES! (take a look at WHO recommendation. If you fold a cloth ten times over, and pour water over it, it can filter out cholera virus) I would recommend this to all home owners. Since i got this cartridge delivery, i didn't need to run to the store., Really liked the product.... But amazon packing is really made me disappointed... Really broken a trust on Amazon.... Filter kits were completely separated from the box cause the external box was too small and made the filter kits squeeze completely... I just pulled the filter kits to get it's normal size... Needs continuous of temp and water flow to keep it under control.,Easy to install. Highly recommended,Excellent quality,Very frauding","3Kw huge consumption.rest is ok.and control is only by flow of water so you cannot set temperature and wastage of water is little more,I have been using it since February 2022.Here are some points where it failed my expectations.1. The temperature doesn't remains constant not we can set it at a particular temp.2. The water flow is very restricted and takes more than 30 mins to fill the bucket of 15L completelyWhere as the geyser we used earlier (bought from a local shop) could be set at a particular temp as we can adjust in stove. And the water flow was also comparatively more faster than this.,This instant electric water tap is awesome. This tap working properly by this seller. Packaging is aware and complete with user manual also. I liked it. Must purchase the product from this seller.,Very good product as expected,Lack of mannual temp control.,,Loved it. I'm using it for cleaning my car. It comes with charging cable, user manual and multiple cleaning brushes. Charging capacity is awesome. Suction power is very good. Easily catch dust particles inside car. It is best value for money. Thank you Amazon., This is probably the most portable and useful vacuum cleaner that I have come across. Compact and portable, it's cordless and hassle free. Great suction power and it is so convenient to use. It's vacuum and blower both. Its is easy to clean so it requires no maintenance., It is exactly what I needed, a sturdy, simple, small, and smart vacuum machine. It has great suction power. Wish it had little bit bigger storage box., Blower leaks air and if it to be used efficiently, vacuum cleaning: averagely they should have designed it like a tunnel. Use it as vacuum cleaner, remove the filter and accessories to be used a blower in reverse., I really like our portable cordless vacuum cleaner. It's handy, lightweight, and easy to use. It's great for quick clean-ups and does a good job on our cars, floors etc. I had it for a few weeks now and it's still going strong.", <https://m.media-amazon.com/images/I/41R4IgGsMal. The length of the power cord is not sufficient., Easy to prepare sandwiches of any thick., It is a very good product. Decent cord length. The grill marks on my sandwiches and panini come out excellent. Value for money is good, considering I bought this for INR 999, it's totally worth the spent. You can make one sandwich / panini at a time, but I only cook for myself so, I don't find any issue with that. But again, it depends on the size of the sandwich. Go for it., Very Nice product, ideal for small kitchen needs.. Very Light weight.. 1000w power capacity get heated very quickly... I say only one drawback powercord length is really very small, it should be longer atleast 1.5 metre to 2 metre would be ideal... Wish the Handle of the roller was easy to use, We have a beagle dog so we have extensive use of lint rollers in the household. Have been using the 3M, but its very expensive if you consume 4 to 5 rollers every month. So thought of trying this one as i though how bad can a lint roller be. The stickiness of the glue paper was good enough to remove the dog hair, but the quality of the handle is really bad. It did not even last 2 days. So ended up using a wooden stick or long pencils for the job. If the makers had spent some more on making a good handle even if the cost would have been Rs 25 higher, then it could have been a great product especially for those households which have pets as they need it more frequently. So yeah.,Very good kettle and big in size,Cord length is good,It is very robust in temperature control. That is to say on and off manual and automatic off. Regarding cord, it is 1500 watts kettle which is on the top of ordinary Indian domestic non power 6A plug. They have given one meter quality wire with 6A plug. This means if your home wiring can stand 1500 watts on ordinary non power plug you can use it in any socket anywhere. Still new to french press coffee, so I used South Indian filter coffee for the past few weeks and could instantly feel the difference between a cup of freshly pressed coffee and one of instant coffee, although I have been advised to try grinding my own beans for optimum enjoyment. I seep my grounds for around 3-4 minutes after heating the press for around a minute or so with hot water and am amazed at how heat-resistant the glass is, I would however still advise taking precautions. The markings inside also provide a great measurement of how many cups I would end up making. Not only have i used it for making coffee, but also to froth milk and to make tea. Attaching photos of a coffee i made using this french press with a layer of frothed milk. Ngl, one of the favorite purchases my family made, am thoroughly pleased and highly recommend it to anyone.,Time saving coffee/filter.,Been using this for many months now and it\\'s great. Love that it has line measurements. We wanted to have a non electric one which we can easily carry for outdoor and this one fits aptly to our requirements. Just add the coffee powder and hot water. After a while when we press the central pipe, coffee comes out. The nozzle makes it convenient to pour it a cup.For this price in great India sale, I think it\\'s worth. and easy to use,Product is fulfilling the purpose for which it was purchased.,Good product, not easy to clean,Does the job very well,Very nice sandwich maker,Good quality and received on time,Good Product i Recommend,decent grill","Purchased this last month. It's good as working fine for me. Size is bit small but you can easily toast 2 normal breads at one go. Just make sure you fill same amount of stuff in both sandwich so that both gets heat properly from both side. Cord is bit small but it's good if you have plug near your kitchen. At first use it smells like wire is burning but after next usage that smell will not appear. Cleaning of the product is bit difficult as you can't wash directly under tap. You need to use clean cloth with wetted with water. You can use some liquid soap but make sure it gets cleaned with clean cloth. Apply some butter or ghee on both side of bread before making sandwiches else it will stick to your plates in grill.,Overall good.,It is Ok but does not look sturdy enough.The top and lower heaters are not parallel if the sandwich is a little thick.A little better design would have avoided this problem,Makes the breads go crunchy from soft.

10/10 would recommend.,Very nice easy to use except there is no temperature control knob . I like my sandwich more crisper,Quality is good and easy to use , received in 24 hours,Product is Good i post review after 4 months from purchaseSufficient for 3 to 4 family memberI suggest go it,easy to use and easy to clean.not bad at all.2 issues:1. the hook is on one side so if your sandwich is a bit bulky, then the upper half may be tilted and loose on one side.2. the hook is also flimsy so there is a risk of breaking.",https://m.media-amazon.com/images/W/WEBP_402378-11/images/I/51IMz58igdL_SX300_SY300_QL70_FMwebp.jpg,https://www.amazon.in/Borosil-Prime-BGRILLPS11-Grill-Sandwich/dp/B07JZSG42Y/ref=sr_1_437?qid=1672923613&s=kitchen&sr=1-437\nB08YRMBK9R,Candes 10 Litre Perfecto 5 Star Rated Automatic Instant Storage Electric Water Heater with Special Metal Body Anti Rust Coating With Installation Kit, 2KW Geyser

Filling it once gives me around 3 nights full of cool vapour at around 50% setting. No complaints in using it for a week. Auto-cutoff works are advertised. Usage is fairly simple and straightforward. Noiseless operation. A very minor observation: Tank is filled upside down and water is vapourised by a transducer in the bottom unit. This is fine, but there's no mechanism to hold the tank and bottom unit together, tank stands atop the bottom unit just like that. If you've little kids who'll topple the tank this can be a concern. SY88.jpg, This one can purify water upto 30-40 litre per hour only if your water has tds below 500.(my water supply - borewell & municipal supply)The water tastes preety decent and light(maybe due to extraction of minerals through multiple filtration). Better than the one water you get in the water supplier for 5 rs coin.If your water tds is above 600, than the machine starts to malfunction.By malfunction i mean, their will be weird thumping sound like some stone got stuck inside the water purifier.The other problem you may find is less water purification (maybe less than 2 litte per hour) and the water taste like cough syrup., Nice, little bit of noise while running, Worst product, https://m.media-amazon.com/images/W/WEBP_402378-T2/images/I/51+mfKzPlOL. Cooks fast rotis and all depends on practice .I cooked methi parathes too and we're good . I found parathes was much good in roti maker.i am lazy it's me and my husband here for two persons rotis making I found its much easy . It should have in each kitchen.. if you have atta maker also than making rotis are not much hurdle . For roti maker dough must be soft and atta maker makes soft dough too so must have both than your rotis will be good.,I like the product,For one person it was hard to make dough, pressing and cooking. Now by this chapati maker everything become easy,Extremely good value formoney, clear instructions, and easy to use.,Good for making parathas more than rotis.,It's an excellent product.
